THE IMPROVED
EMPIRE STATE STOVE.

THIS justly celebrated COOKING STOVE having been improved in every way it could be to make its operations more complete, and its plates beautifully ornamented—no expense, time or trouble having been spared to make this the most complete Cooking Stove ever brought before the public—the subscriber feels assured in warranting the IMPROVED EMPIRE STATE superior to any stove in the market, as hundreds can testify who have used them for the past year.

This Stove has a very LARGE OVEN, which makes it desirable on account of doing more cooking with the same amount of fuel than can be done in any other stove. The flues are large, which ensures a good draft in all cases. The castings are very heavy and smooth, and those parts that come next the fire are extra thick, making it very durable. It is adapted to the use of either coal or wood, and we warrant them to operate as well with one as the other. We furnish them with the very best apparatus; and, altogether, it is the MOST DURABLE, ECONOMICAL and CONVENIENT COOKING STOVE ever made—complete in every respect. We ask the attention of all persons intending to purchase a new, or exchange their old stove, to an examination of the Improved Empire State.

We have also on hand a variety of other Cooking Stoves, called the "Banner," "Belle of the Valley," "King of the Valley," "Bay State," "Magnolia Saxon," "Pearl of Troy," &c.; with a large lot of PARLOR STOVES, such as the Revere Air-Tight, Star, Revere Parlor Cook, Lady Franklin, for Wood or Coal; Shop, Office and Air-Tight Stoves, of different sizes and prices for either wood or coal.

Also an extensive assortment of HOUSEKEEPING GOODS; Wooden, Willow, Glass, Britannia, Japan, Tin, Hard, Enamel, and Brass Ware; Copper, Cast Iron, and Chain Pumps; Window-Shads, Table Oil-cloths, &c.

All the above goods will be sold lower than can be bought elsewhere in this vicinity.
HIRAM JONES, 61 Market street,
s27 Portsmouth, N. H.

WHAT-CHEER STOVE.
THE WHAT-CHEER COAL COOKING
STOVE, of which the above cut is a true representation, now offered for sale by the subscribers, is acknowledged by all who have examined it to be the best and most economical Coal Stove ever offered to the public.

The castings are heavy, smooth, and very handsome. The Broiling apparatus is a great improvement over all other Stoves, being constructed in such a manner as to prevent the steam from escaping into the room when cooking.

All persons wishing to purchase a COAL COOKING STOVE, are respectfully requested to call and examine the same. Every Stove warranted to work well, or no sale.

We have also a large assortment of COOKING, PARLOR and STORE STOVES, &c.—for sale cheap for Cash at our Store,
Corner of State and Water streets,
s27 ANDERSON & EMERY.

The Bay State Stove,
FOR WOOD OR COAL.

THE subscriber, in offering this favorite Stove to the public, the present season, would state that a new covered Broiling Apparatus has been added, the oven enlarged for burning anthracite coal, and the Stove otherwise improved—and is now put into the market as in the world. The castings are heavier, more beautiful and durable; the stove has a larger oven, will bake better and with less fuel, than any other stove in use.

These stoves are made from pure metal and are not liable to crack; and will finish every stove with the best of apparatus—Copper Boiler, &c., and warrant them a year; and if any part proves defective it will be made good without charge.

Persons wishing to obtain a good Stove, will do well to buy a BAY STATE. They have been in operation in this city for four years past, and have given perfect satisfaction. For sale at the Store of the subscriber, where may be found a large assortment of COOKING, PARLOR AND OFFICE STOVES, TIN WARE, FUNNEL, &c. for sale cheap for cash. E. A. STEVENS.

HEAVEN OUR HOME.

My father's home! my childhood's home!
Sweet words, that ever bring
A chain of recollections fond
That round my heartstrings cling.

Again the loved ones gather round
The hearthstone, as of yore;
A joyous band, well linked in love,
Together sport once more.

A father's voice! a father's smile!
Fond memory will recall—
His mild reproof when any grieved—
His look of love for all!

My father's house! 'tis still the same—
But ah! how changed are we!
Around one parent knee!

But ah, we have a father's house
That death can never change,
Prepared by Jesus, for us, where
No sorrows ever range.

And in "Our Father's house" we'll meet,
Through grace that He has given,
Where, in His presence, there will be
Fulness of joy—in Heaven.

Portsmouth, Oct. 1852. S. A. C.

A GIANT FLOWER.

A Philadelphia correspondent gives the Boston Journal a description of the "Victoria Regina," the celebrated South American Lily, which is now in bloom in that city, and he declares is "the most magnificent specimen of vegetation that earth or water ever produced."

The plant is enclosed in a small crystal palace, and springs from a tank of tepid water, of about eighty feet in circumference, in an atmosphere of 85 deg. Fahrenheit. The leaves of the plant are circular, six feet and a half in diameter. The more healthy ones are slightly curved at the edges, and are capable of floating a child of seventy or eighty pounds weight over the surface of the water, thus presenting the appearance of a fairy bark guided by some nymph across the waves.

This plant has been in flower more than sixteen months, and besides one blossom fully open, it has two buds just ready to burst their calyxes, and others perceptible beneath the surface of the water. The flower is of a pinkish white, somewhat resembling our common white lily in form, with innumerable stamens of a deeper pink sending forth a delicious odor, like that of melons or pine-apples. The flower, when fully expanded, is about a foot in diameter; opens one day, and closes and shrivels the next. The stem reaching to it, as well as those of the leaves, is thickly set with sharp thorns, which render it somewhat formidable to pluck. The tank in which it is growing, cost $5000!

SALE OF LAND IN VIRGINIA.—A gentleman from Massachusetts purchased, a few days ago, the farm of Joseph Neill, near Newtown, Frederick county, Va., containing 125 acres, chiefly slate, at $5000, or 56 per acre.

PUNCTUALITY IN RAILROADS.—In the Glasgow Small Debt Court, Sir George Boswell has recovered £5 14s 8d. from the Edinburg and Glasgow Railway Company, for their neglect of punctuality.

AUSTRALIA.—The following extract from the London correspondence of the New York Commercial will be read with interest:

"The news from Australia mentioned by the last packet is attracting great attention, and its confirmation is looked for with extreme interest. The advices reach, as you have already been informed, to the 1st of July, and the accounts from Sydney embraced a statement that intelligence had just been received there, by steamer from Port Philip, that the produce of the Mt. Alexander mines during the preceding three weeks had averaged a sum nearly equal to $2,000,000 per week, and that the amount was steadily increasing. The previous accounts, which reached to the 29th of May, had led to the anticipation that extraordinary results would soon be reported in consequence of the setting in of the rainy season, which would furnish the long desired supply of water, but it was scarcely hoped that they could be such as have now arrived. There is, therefore, some hesitation in receiving them implicitly, and it is for this reason that further particulars are anxiously desired.

Meanwhile, however, a collateral evidence of their probability is furnished by the non-arrival of vessels, the inference being that the attractions of the mines have been such as to defeat all attempts to retain or to procure crews. Under these circumstances, looking at the accumulation that must be going on, it is to be inferred that when the means of communication are better established we may expect to receive remittances to an enormous amount, and in that case some very remarkable effects can hardly fail to be produced in all our markets."

LARGE CROP.—Mr. Crosby Clements, of Kenduskeag, Me., a young enterprising farmer, has raised this season on less than three acres of land, seven hundred bushels of clean, healthy, and handsome potatoes, of the variety known as the "Jackson." They sell in the Bangor market for 55 cents a bushel.

PORTSMOUTH:
TUESDAY, OCTOBER 12, 1852.

CUBA.

Our government has a difficult task to perform in regard to Cuba. The present administration has found it so, and so must the next, of whatever party or whatever individuals it may be composed.

On the one hand, we have a treaty with Old Spain, and friendly commercial relations, which bind us to keep the peace, and forbid us to suffer any armed vessels or bands to be fitted out on our shores or in our ports, to invade a territory with whose government we profess to be at peace.

On the other, many of our people, and perhaps an increasing number, look with a favorable eye on plans to revolutionize Cuba, and finally to annex it, after the manner of Texas. It is true that there are greater difficulties in the case of Cuba than of Texas—but the prize is richer,—and in a lottery of this kind, where the prize is very rich, people will venture, even though the odds be fearful.

There is a willingness, aye, and a readiness, too, to enlist, even as privates, in an unlawful and apparently forlorn expedition against Cuba, though warned by the capture and death of their predecessors, and though aware to some extent, of the great military force of the Spanish government for the protection of that colony.

At first view, this willingness seems wonderful; and so it would be, if there were no other facts in the case, than the discomfiture of Lopes, and the apparent union of every body in Cuba to repel invasion. But there are other facts that do not always meet the eye; and they go with the rest to make up the case.

One class in Havana are all united, to be sure, in suppressing insurrection and in repelling invasion. These are the natives of Old Spain, not over forty thousand in number.—Among these are the Governor, Collectors, all the officers of the Customs, and all civil officers, rulers and judges whatever, from the highest to the lowest. Among them also are all the military officers. Many of these are poor nobles, sent out from the mother country to govern the colony, and make their own fortunes. This class, however, does not comprise one twentieth part of the people on the Island.

Another class are the Creoles. These are of Spanish descent, but born on the Island; and by a hateful and foolish national pride in Spain, mingled with a suicidal hauteur toward her own colonies, none of them can hold an office of any honor or emolument.—These are the planters, the merchants, the business men of all sorts. Many of them are rich. They and their families amount, it is said, to five thousand souls. Schools in Cuba are not satisfactory to them; and thousands of them have visited this country from time to time, to derive benefit from our schools.—Hundreds have been highly educated among us. The influence of our institutions, habits, and modes of thinking, are felt, and produce their effect on this great mass of mind.—Among these people, in Havana, and among a portion of them in our cities, the seeds of restlessness and consequent revolution are sown, thick and deep. Some have sprung up, and been cut down—but others will spring up and take their places, and double their numbers.

Probably it is impossible to crush the vitality out of this class,—they will, ultimately bear rule there—and they are in favor of being annexed to us. Many of them are kept down by fear,—many more by interest—but their wishes are for a better government and they see our government, with all its faults, to be better than theirs.

Besides and below all these, are 600, 000 slaves, of whom it is enough to say that their condition is more abject than the slaves of our southern states.

The consideration of these facts is important to a right understanding of Cuban matters, whether we consider the state of the Island, or our own duty toward both Cuba and Spain.

The following is copied from the New York Courier:

FROM HAVANA.—We have given our readers from time to time full accounts of the condition of things in the island of Cuba, according to the reports of those who have great facilities for obtaining information on the subject; but it is only just to say, that from sources equally reliable in every respect, we learn that the present movements of the disaffected in Cuba, and the counter movements of the government, are greatly exaggerated in the prevalent reports, and in the published correspondence from Havana.

Our informants are an English merchant of wealth and the highest respectability, who has lived for fifteen years in Havana, and an American planter of similar position and standing who has resided yet longer in the island, and whose family is one of some distinction here. From both these gentlemen, who have recently arrived from Havana, but who left it at different times, we receive assurances that the excitement is insignificant in comparison with what it is represented to be, and that the measures adopted by the government are not very extraordinary, although more severe than they were under the rule of Gen. Concha; and both assured us that the exaggeration was the work of busy patriots of the creole party, whose object it is to provoke another and more successful invasion from this country, or to create a spirit out of which trouble may arise which would breed a war between the United States and Cuba.

We give these reports as we give others, as rumors of the day, and not upon our own responsibility; but we must say that this view of the case,—in spite of the arrests and the garroting of the printer of the La Voz—agrees more nearly with our own conclusions drawn from previous observation. It is rarely that a month passes in Cuba without arrests, imprisonments, banishments and condemnation to death in contumaciam for political offences.

The most serious reason for apprehending trouble in connection with these affairs in Cuba, is the extremely rigorous policy pursued by the Captain General towards American vessels in the port of Havana. Indignities like that which has just been offered to the Crescent City, detailed under our telegraphic head, in preventing all communication by her with the shore, are totally unjustifiable, and cannot be followed up without arousing a spirit of retaliation most unfavorable to the preservation of that neutrality upon which depends the tenure of Cuba to the Spanish Crown.

BISHOP DOANE'S TRIAL.—The House of Bishops, sitting as a Court at Camden, for the trial of the Bishop of New Jersey upon the presentment made by the Bishops of Maine, Virginia and Ohio, was opened on the 8th, at Camden, N. J. Bishop Hopkins took the chair. Eighteen out of the twenty-eight Bishops were present, viz: the Right Rev. Drs. Burgess, Chase of New Hampshire, Hopkins, Eastburn, Doane, Potter, Lee, Whittingham, Meade, Johns, Green, McIlvaine, Otey, Upfold, Kemper, McCoskry, De Lancey and Smith.

The three in italics, being the prosecutors, and the accused, will not sit in the case, of course. The House after organizing, adjourned to meet on the 9th, at Burlington.

FLORIDA ELECTION is claimed by both parties on partial returns. It is of no use to give the figures, yet. We can make nothing of them without more returns.

☞ The Boston Pathfinder is to be united with the Carpet Bag, under the control of the publisher of the Pathfinder.

ELECTIONS.—State Elections in Pennsylvania, Ohio and Indiana, take place to-day. Their results will afford some indication of the prospects of the Presidential election next month.

FROM THE BAY.—Schooner Diligent, Capt. Bailey, arrived on Tuesday afternoon, and schooner Martha & Susan, Capt. Somes, arrived yesterday from the Bay of St. Lawrence. Capt. Bailey left a steamer and two cutters at Port Hood, who would be likely to annoy the Americans considerably this month. Capt. Somers reports that the steamer Devastation came out of the Bay on the 28th ult. The Cyrens S. Colby got ashore on Cascumpee Bar on the 23d ult. She was reported to be full of water; but nothing further has been heard from her.—Gloucester Telegraph.

We cannot help thinking that the British are very happy in their selection of names of vessels. What could be a more appropriate name for a war steamer than Devastation? Her present errand is to seize a few defenceless fishermen, and so to alarm the rest, that they will only catch half fares.

They had another fine name for a smuggler, the schooner Mischief, which sunk on our coast a while ago. Appropriate name, and fit end of her career.

WEBSTER BOYS IN BOSTON.—A meeting of the Young Men, not voters, was held at Boylston Market Building on Saturday evening, to make arrangements for a Grand Webster Torch Light Procession on Wednesday evening next.

It is expected that the processionists will turn out eight hundred strong. Already five hundred torches have been ordered. Large delegations from Cambridge, Charlestown, Roxbury, &c., are expected to participate with the Boston Boys in this novel demonstration. One merchant, it is said, has consented to supply the oil for the torches, and already the lads have a fund of about one hundred dollars. Their music and transparencies will cost about $150.

The funds were gathered in a few hours, and the clubs are to unite and have a grand chowder on the common, or in the hall of the Worcester depot. As their Scott brethren had a repast which they called a "hasty plate of soup, and that slice of Graham bread," the Webster men, believing themselves to be in good health, intend to have a substantial chowder, and a rich haunch of venison.

MEETING IN CHARLESTOWN.—On Sunday evening, M. Hale Smith, Esq., gave a lecture at the City Hall, Charlestown, upon the Influence of the Maine Liquor Law upon Temperance and morality. The audience notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather, was very large. The lecture was exceedingly interesting, and was listened to with profound attention. It is a little singular that a notice was given that Mr. Smith would give a lecture in City Hall, and another that Mr. Stevens of Maine, would speak in the same place and at the same time, in favor of the law. It arose from a misunderstanding. Mr. Stevens spoke in Rev. Mr. Bain's church.—Boston Chronicle.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

Reported for the Daily Morning Chronicle.

Court of Common Pleas—Rockingham Co.

SEPTEMBER TERM, 1852.

MONDAY, OCTOBER 11th.

The following Jurors were returned to serve this week.

FIRST JURY—FOURTH WEEK.

John G. Gilman, Exeter, Foreman;
Jonathan Martin, Candia;
Samuel Martin, Chester;
Winthrop F. Prescott, Deerfield;
Samuel Dow, Epping;
Daniel Watts, Londonderry;
Henry Burleigh, New Market;
James C. Hill, Northwood;
John Hills, Nottingham;
Jeremiah C. Carr, Joseph Green, Portsmouth;
John A. Hazelton, Chester.

SECOND JURY—FOURTH WEEK.

Stephen B. Fittz, Candia;
Lewis A. Ladd, Deerfield;
Isaiah Herrick, Derry;
Prescott Chase, Epping;
Lucien B. Roby, Exeter;
David Philbrick, Jr., Hampton;
John B. Young, Londonderry;
Ebenezer B. Wiggin, New Market;
George T. Sherburne, Northwood;
Samuel S. Dame, Nottingham;
Sam'l P. Wiggin, Joseph Amazeen, Portsmo.

The trial of the case Gordon vs. Clifford & als., was suspended on account of the indisposition of Mr. Wells, one of Piff's Counsel. The Court were occupied throughout the day in the calling of the docket.

The Court will probably rise during the week.

☞ Hon. John S. Wells, of Exeter, is announced to speak this evening in the Temple, before the Portsmouth Granite Club, who invite the democracy to rally en masse, and be roused by his stirring eloquence.

We understand, however, that Mr. Wells was quite unwell yesterday,—which circumstance may occasion a postponement.

☞ We understand that Mr. Remick, inspector of timber at the Navy Yard, has resigned his place, on account of ill-health—and among the applicants for it, Mr. Stimson, the old incumbent, is named and highly recommended by many of our citizens.

WHIGS IN BOSTON.—The harmony of the whig party in Boston is of that kind which is not understood; that is to say, it seems to be a discord. The regular nomination whigs, for Scott & Graham, held two meetings in Faneuil Hall the last week, and were addressed by distinguished men from Louisiana, Virginia and New York.

On the other hand, Webster flags abound, and float over the city; and the Webster boys are to have a torch light procession, as detailed in another paragraph.

☞ Reuben Hayes, Jr., Esq., of Madbury, has been appointed Clerk of the Strafford County Courts, in place of John H. Smith, Esq., who was killed by the collision on the Boston, Concord & Montreal Railroad.

FIRE.—On Saturday evening a Dry House connected with the Woolen Factory of Nicholas V. Whitehouse, at the 'Gonic village in Rochester, was partially destroyed. The contents, of wool, was mostly saved. Loss from $600 to $800.

ANOTHER VICTIM.—Mr. Richard B. Cater of Dover, who was wounded in the railroad accident at Meredith, died in Dover, Sunday morning. We understand that his Father has employed legal counsel to commence an action against the Road for damages.

FATAL DUEL AT LEXINGTON, KY.—We learn that a duel was fought at Lexington near 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon, between Mr. Benj. Johnson, of that place, and Mr. White, of Woodford Co. They fought with double barrel shot guns at forty paces, and Mr. White fell dead at the first fire.—Louisville Courier, Oct. 6.

This, we suppose, is the satisfaction of gentlemen.

NAVAL AFFAIRS.—U. S. sloop-of-war Vandalia, Commander W. H. Gardner, went to sea from New York 8th, bound to Philadelphia.

U. S. frigate Saranac, from Philadelphia for Brazil, went to sea 8th, at noon.

At Charlestown Navy Yard orders have been received to "fit out" the battle-ship of the line Vermont immediately. It is understood that this ship is to be put in readiness for sea, to be used in cases of emergency like the recent trouble on the fishery question.

At the same yard, the propeller John Hancock is to be enlarged. Ten feet of her bows is to be cut off, and a new and proportionate one constructed. She is to be cut in two in the middle, and thirty feet is to be built in, making her that much longer, her width to be regulated accordingly. The cost of enlarging and remodeling the Hancock will be nearly or quite equal to the amount required to construct a new vessel.

The ships Albany and Decatur are undergoing repairs under orders, and are both to be put in readiness for sea as soon as possible.

The New Orleans Picayune announces that the Navy Department has appointed Capt. Latimer of the navy, Majors Chase, Barnard and Beangarde, a Board of Commissioners to examine the mouth of the Mississippi river, with a view of opening a channel into the Gulf.

A Board of Naval Engineers is now in session at the Gosport Navy Yard, for the examination of candidates for admission and promotion in that branch of the service. The Board is composed of Chief Engineers Wm. P. Williamson, B. Martin and B. F. Isherwood.

City Ordinances—No. 30.

AN ORDINANCE prescribing the duty of the City Marshal and Assistant Marshals, with regard to Pedlars.

Be it Ordained by the City Council of the City of Portsmouth.

SECTION 1. It shall be the duty of the City Marshal and the Assistant Marshals to require of every pedlar who shall come into this city for the purpose of selling or exposing for sale any goods, wares or merchandise, or of any person who shall occupy a store, shop or residence, for the purpose of selling or exposing for sale any goods, wares or merchandise, in the city, for a less time than one year, to show the license which he is required to obtain from the Clerk of the Court of Common Pleas, in accordance with the laws of this State.

SECTION 2. If any person shall refuse to show his license, or if it shall appear that he has not obtained a license, the City Marshal shall enter a complaint before the Justice of the Police Court, who shall cause the offender to be arrested and prosecuted in accordance with the provisions of the laws of this State.

LATEST NEWS!

THREE DAYS LATER FROM EUROPE.

ARRIVAL OF THE FRANKLIN.

Conspiracies to Assassinate Louis Napoleon—Rise in Cotton—Fall in Breadstuffs.

The steamship Franklin with three days later intelligence from Europe, arrived at her dock, New York, at nine o'clock yesterday morning, with 134 passengers and $180,000 in specie.

The Cotton market closed firm with an advance of one-eighth, the sales on Thursday being 8000 bales.

The Flour market was dull, and 3d to 6d lower. Wheat had declined 1d to 2d per 70 lbs. Indian Corn was firm, with a fair demand.

Sales of cotton at Liverpool, on Wednesday, 12,000 bales.

At London money was more in demand and the market tightening.

It was expected that the Empire would be declared on the 15th inst.

The Paris journals are principally occupied with chronicling the progress of the President through the northern departments. At Grenoble and Vigneon, and Marseilles, the President was received with most extravagant outward demonstrations of joy. Beneath all this popular rejoicing, however, there are plain indications of secret dislike and hatred to his rule. This is proved by the discovery of a well-planned conspiracy to assassinate the President at Marseilles, where a formidable infernal machine placed in a house on a street through which Louis Napoleon was to pass next day, was seized by the police. The machine was composed of 250 gun-barrels, loaded with 1500 bullets, besides 4 blunderbusses, similarly charged with grape shot. This battery, if fired during the passing of the cortege, would have completely swept away the President and attendants; many of the conspirators were arrested. The plot, concocted by a secret society, had long been watched by the police.

FROM CALIFORNIA.

New Orleans, Oct. 11.—The steamship El Dorado, from Navy Bay, arrived at this port this morning. The El Dorado's advices are two weeks later. The California markets were steady, and prices nominally as on 1st inst. The importations from the Atlantic States continued light.

FLORIDA ELECTION.—Savannah, Oct. 10.—The Democrats have without doubt carried their Governor, Member of Congress, and Legislature of Florida.

SHIP STRUCK BY LIGHTNING.—New York, Oct. 11.—The ship Maise, of Queenstown, was struck by lightning off Malta, and completely destroyed. Fourteen lives were lost, which comprised the crew and two passengers.

Steamer Sir John Harvey, for Halifax, returned to Boston, on Sunday noon in consequence of a leak being discovered around her packing box. She had anchored below through Saturday night in consequence of a dense fog, and had gone but a few miles in the bay when Capt. True judged it prudent to return.

The anchorage and the return both speak well for the caution of the captain, and the safety of passengers who confide themselves to his care.

MONEY.—The Boston Chronicle's Review of the week, says:

"We have experienced a slight rise in the price of money during the week, and a decline in the market value of Stocks generally. Within two days past, a favorable reaction has taken place, and stocks have partially recovered the position of last week.

LOANS TO AUSTRIA AND TURKEY.—Among the recent features of the London Money Market, are two large loans for account of foreign government. The first a loan of 80,000 florins for account of Austria, bearing five per cent. interest, which has been taken by English Capitalists. The other is a loan of £2,000,000 for account of the Turkish Government, being the first loan ever negotiated among Christian nations for that country: but the offer is favorably received by the Capitalists of London.

COIN IN NEW YORK.—The coin in the New York banks has been reduced by late exports to Europe. $26,000,000 have been sent abroad since 1st January.

LAW.—Peleg W. Chandler, City Solicitor of Boston, has given the opinion that the private estates of the citizens of Boston are liable for debts lawfully contracted by the city—and whenever judgment is rendered against the said city, on account of any such debt, the execution may be levied upon the property of any inhabitant. Mr. Webster concurs in the opinion.

We find the above paragraph in the New Bedford Evening Standard, without credit, but not claimed as original. We republish it for the purpose of asking whence it came, and whether it is true. It will be important information if it is true.

THE FRANKFORT LIQUOR CASE.—At the present session of the Supreme Judicial Court, in Penobscot county, Me., Judge Hathaway read the opinion of the Court in the famous conspiracy case, tried at Belfast last fall, which grew out of the seizure of liquors on board the steamer Boston, lying at the wharf at Frankfort. McNally and others resisted the officer, and there was a serious conflict on board the boat, in which the officer and persons aiding him were much injured. The opinion is in favor of the legality of the warrant upon which the officers acted, and the exceptions were overruled.—Boston Courier.

The above decision goes very far towards sustaining the Maine Law in all its length and breadth. The decision is contrary to our own previous opinion: and must strengthen the operation of the law.

PATENT AIR WARMING & VENTILATING

FURNCEES.

THESE FURNACES have been thoroughly tested in all parts of the country, and are now admitted to be the BEST in the world.
The subscriber, Sole Agent for the sale of this CELEBRATED FURNACE, in the County of Rockingham, has, during the past three years erected a number of them in this City, to the entire satisfaction of those for whom they were erected.
He is now fully prepared to erect in both public and private buildings, every variety of warming and ventilating apparatus, at prices as low as can be done in any part of the country, and would respectfully call the attention of those interested, and those contemplating the erection of Furnaces this Autumn, to the fact, that they can be erected at a LESS PRICE during the warm season, than after cold weather commences.

LEISURE THOUGHTS.

Friend—my "Leisure Thoughts" come buy,
They'll meet thine own in every line;
To test the truth, I'd have you try—
Bend once thine ear to strains of mine.

THE subscriber has a few more volumes of "LEISURE THOUGHTS IN PROSE AND VERSE," from the press of Charles W. Brewster, Esq., which he offers for sale. A true likeness of the Author, recently taken on stone, by John H. Bufford, Esq., Boston, from a Daguerreotype, is now attached to the work, which may enhance the value of the volume in the estimation of friends who care to have this token of memory, as the author is about filling his sails for another clime.
For sale at the Bookstores of J. S. Harvey, and J. H. Head, Exchange Buildings, and by the Author. Price only 87½ cts.

CIRCULATING LIBRARY.

NOW IS THE TIME TO READ.

JOHN S. HARVEY, 7 Exchange Buildings, would respectfully inform the citizens of Portsmouth, that he has recently added a large number of the most valuable Works to his Exchange Circulating Library, which now contains about 2500 Volumes of Histories, Voyages, Travels, Biographies, Novels and Romances. New Works and popular Publications added as soon as published, offering great inducements for persons to become yearly subscribers at $2.50 per year, or 81 per quarter. Non-subscribers, for duodecimos 6 cts.; octavos 10 cts., per week.
A New Catalogue of the Library just published and ready for distribution. Subscribers and patronage solicited. o6

SINGULAR DISCOVERY.—We learn, says the Baltimore County Whig, from a gentleman recently from Calvert County, the following singular incident: A week or so ago a heavy rain washed down the bank on the side of the street which leads to the public warehouse, in the village of Lower Marlborough, in that county, exposing to view a large number of tar barrels, lying in every position, as if thrown in hurriedly. Some of the tar is said to be still good for use. The barrels are very short and broad, very different, from any that have been in use for a long time.

The first impression was, naturally, that the tar had been stored in this place in the late war with Great Britain, when the British were ascending the Patuxent on their way to Bladensburg. But it must have been deposited there at a much earlier period, for Mr. Robert Ison, an old gentleman who has resided in Lower Marlborough since many years before the war, says that it has certainly not been placed there within his recollection—and his memory of past events is very clear.

A TOO "HASTY PLATE OF SOUP."—A few days since, a lady residing in South Boston, having occasion to visit the city on a shopping excursion, left her family in charge of her servant named Biddy, with the particular injunction to serve up a good dish of soup by the time of her return, and to mind and put in the vegetables which she had assorted out for the purpose. After the lady had departed, Biddy, with her accustomed degree of activity, proceeded with all due diligence to serve up the hasty plate of soup, and had nearly gathered together the various ingredients which suffice to make up such a compound, when the door bell rang, and in was brought a quantity of quinces sent by the lady of the house for preserving purposes. But Biddy concluded that they must be some of the vegetables which she had been directed to put into the soup—so in they went, she in the meantime observing that "it would be a fine flavor they would be after giving to the soup." The scene that ensued on the return of the lady may, as the romance writers say, "better be imagined than described."—Transcript.

THE IMPROVED

EMPIRE STATE STOVE.

THIS justly celebrated COOKING STOVE having been improved in every way it could be to make its operations more complete, and its plates beautifully ornamented—no expense, time or trouble having been spared to make this the most complete Cooking Stove ever brought before the public—the subscriber feels assured in warranting the IMPROVED EMPIRE STATE superior to any stove in the market, as hundreds can testify who have used them for the past year.

This Stove has a very LARGE OVEN, which makes it desirable on account of doing more cooking with the same amount of fuel than can be done in any other stove. The flues are large, which ensures a good draft in all cases. The castings are very heavy and smooth, and those parts that come next the fire are extra thick, making it very durable. It is adapted to the use of either coal or wood, and we warrant them to operate as well with one as the other. We furnish them with the very best apparatus; and, altogether, it is the MOST DURABLE, ECONOMICAL and CONVENIENT COOKING STOVE ever made—complete in every respect. We ask the attention of all persons intending to purchase a new, or exchange their old stove, to an examination of the Improved Empire State.

We have also on hand a variety of other Cooking Stoves, called the "Banner," "Belle of the States," "King of the States," "Bay State," "Algerio Saxon," "Pearl of the Ocean," &c.; with a large lot of PARLOR STOVES, such as the Revere Air-Tight, Star, Revere Parlor Cook, Lady Franklin, for Wood or Coal; Shop, Office and Air-Tight Stoves, of different sizes and prices for either wood or coal.

Also an extensive assortment of HOUSEKEEPING GOODS; Wooden, Willow, Glass, Britannia, Japan, Tin, Hard, Enamel, and Brass Ware; Copper, Cast Iron, and Chain Pumps; Window-Shade, Table Oil-cloths, &c.

All the above goods will be sold lower than can be bought elsewhere in this vicinity.

HIRAM JONES, 61 Market street,

s27 Portsmouth, N. H.

WHAT-CHEER STOVE.

THE WHAT-CHEER COAL COOKING STOVE, of which the above cut is a true representation, is now offered for sale to the subscribers, is acknowledged by all who have examined it to be the best and most economical Coal Stove ever offered to the public.

The castings are heavy, smooth, and very handsome. The Broiling apparatus is a great improvement over all other Stoves, being constructed in such a manner as to prevent the steam from escaping into the room when cooking.

All persons wishing to purchase a COAL COOKING STOVE, are respectfully requested to call and examine the same. Every Stove warranted to work well, or no sale.

We have also a large assortment of COOKING, PARLOR and SHOP STOVES, &c.—for sale cheap for Cash at our Store,

Corner of State and Water streets,

a27 ANDERSON & EMERY.

The Bay State Stove,

FOR WOOD OR COAL.

THE subscriber, in offering this favorite Stove to the public, the present season, would state that a new covered Broiling Apparatus has been added, the flues enlarged for burning anthracite coal, and the Stove otherwise improved—and is now put into the market as

THE MOST PERFECT COOK STOVE in the world. The castings are heavier, more beautiful and durable; the oven has a larger oven, will bake better and with less fuel, than any other stove in use.

These stoves are made from pure metal and are not liable to crack; and we furnish every stove with the best of apparatus—Copper Boiler, &c., and warrant them a year; and if any part proves defective it will be made good without charge.

Persons wishing to obtain a good Stove, will do well to buy a BAY STATE. They have been in operation in this city for four years past, and have given perfect satisfaction. For sale at the Store of the subscriber, where may be found a large assortment of COOKING, PARLOR AND OFFICE STOVES, TIN WARE, FUNNEL, &c. for sale cheap for cash. E. A. STEVENS.

LIQUOR CASES.—We do not think it worth while to fill our paper with them. In Boston, most of the cases result in discharging the prisoners. In other parts of the State they are generally fined.

The Boston Daily Advertiser mentions that the case against Parah Stevens, on a complaint for an alleged sale of liquor at the Tremont House, was decided in the Police Court on Saturday. A witness named Remo testified that he saw somebody call at the bar for brandy, and pay money, while another man behind the counter poured something into a tumbler from a bottle. The man behind the counter was not Stevens, nor could he be proved an agent or clerk of his. Judge Russell in giving his opinion said:

"The defendant might well complain that no evidence had been given to identify the clerk, who was said to have sold the liquor.—It was possible that this particular sale had been made by a boarder, and if so, Mr. Stevens was not liable. It was probable that it had been made by a waiter, or a porter, not acting in his usual employment, but merely accommodating a customer. And, in that case, Mr. S. would not be liable; for such a person would not be his agent to sell liquor. Nor could Mr. Stevens prove this defence, if it was true; for he could not know for what sale he was arraigned."

The defendant, Stevens, was accordingly discharged.

We had supposed the Tremont House was licensed. The reader will see from the above specimen, what difficulties stand in the way of a legal proof, in cases where no real doubt exists about the matter.

Since writing the above, we have read a full report from the Boston Chronicle, in which it appears that Parker, the former keeper of the Tremont, was licensed before the liquor law passed; and that he transferred the license to Stevens with the tavern, after the law passed. At this latter period the Mayor and Aldermen renewed the license to Stevens. This latter act in our view is wholly illegal, unconstitutional and void. But the judge, (as judges often do if they can,) dodged the law question, and threw the case out of Court for want of evidence. He says:

"It was not necessary to decide whether a license was valid, if given after the passage of the Act of 1852, and before it went into operation; nor whether this license was proper in form. Before this question could be raised, the facts of the case must be proved beyond a reasonable doubt."

The Chronicle praises Mayor Seaver and the Aldermen for granting licences, in these terms:

"The city of Boston owes it to Mr. Seaver, that blood has not been shed in Boston. The law came upon men in an hour. The business of years was to be swept away in a day; capital invested at call of the arts, medicine and religion, and its security guaranteed by the honor of the State, was exposed to wanton destruction. Men would have resisted that law—and the blood of many men would have paid the price of the experiment."

THE GARDINER CLAIM.—The Select Committee of the House of Representatives have closed their labors on this claim, and made their report. Their unanimous decision is, that Gardiner's claim, on which the Commissioners awarded to him $428,750, was sustained by false testimony and forged papers, and is a naked fraud upon the Treasury of the United States; and that Thomas Corwin, who was counsel for Gardiner and others, resigned all concern with the case before he accepted the office of Secretary of the Treasury, and that there is no evidence tending to prove that he had any knowledge that the claim was fraudulent, or that false testimony was produced.

The report is signed by Mr. Preston King, of New York, and Mr. Howard, of Texas, Democrats, and by Mr. Chapman, of Connecticut, a Whig. Mr. Goodrich, of Massachusetts, and Mr. Johnson, of Tennessee, were absent.

A telegraphic despatch from Baltimore, reports that Secretary Corwin is prepared to refund the entire amount received by him for his interest in this claim, if the transaction should be proved fraudulent.

THE GOOD OLD TIMES.—The old landmarks are fast disappearing. Upon "Dorchester Heights" that was, now "Telegraph Hill," South Boston, the last traces have been effaced within a few days, of the fortifications thrown up by the spirited volunteers of the city during the late war,—successors and memorials as these works were of those whose menacing looks determined the British to evacuate the town of Boston in 1776, when Washington marched in, triumphant. The ground is now a fine promenade and park for the people of South Boston, affording, as it does from its commanding position, a good view of the "beautiful harbor, studded and gemmed with so many islands."—To-Day.

DAILY Morning Chronicle.

PORTSMOUTH:
WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 13, 1852.

THE FRANKFORT CONSPIRACY CASE.—We gave, in yesterday's Chronicle, a paragraph from the Boston Courier, stating that the celebrated Frankfort Liquor Case was decided in favor of sustaining the Maine Law.—To-day we see a report of the case from the Bangor Courier, from which we copy a paragraph or two.

The indictment charges defendants with conspiracy to commit an assault and battery on a Deputy Sheriff to prevent his doing his duty.

Officers should have reasonable protection when acting in discharge of duty. When the process is void there is no justification of the officer; when voidable for irregularity or mistake he is protected by his precept.

A steamboat or vessel moored at a wharf is a place as much as is a shop standing upon a wharf. It may be stationed there and used for the same purposes as the shop. The language of the statute is, "any store, shop, warehouse, or other building, or place in said city or town," evidently intended to include all places in the city or town in which the mischief intended to be remedied could exist.

It was decided that the warrant need not be sealed—but it was sealed with a wafer, which would have been enough, if the statute had required a seal.

Penalty for conspiracy to injure another, is not exceeding three years in the State Prison, or not more than $1000 fine, and imprisonment in County Jail, not exceeding one year.

Now that the law is vindicated, we trust that the penalty will be made as light as possible by the Court, it being quite sufficient in this case to establish the meaning of the law, and to arrive at a practical course of procedure.

GEN. SCOTT arrived at Tiffiin, Ohio, on Saturday, entering while a smart shower was falling,—nevertheless a torch-light procession was formed, including a car full of ladies, and a crowd escorted him to the hotel. On Monday morning he left for Sandusky, where he arrived in the evening.

PRIVATE PROPERTY LIABLE.—The decision of Messrs. Chandler and Webster, in regard to public debt in the city of Boston, is that the City Debt is a bond with a Mortgage on all the Corporate Property, and behind that on all the real property in the city. The same principle must apply to all public debts.

VIGOROUS OLD AGE.—Mr. Dudley Hardy, of Winter street, who is almost daily seen at his profession, as wood-sawer, in the vicinity of the Eastern Railroad depot, is now in his eighty-first year. Yesterday between sunrise and three o'clock, the old gentleman sawed and handled two cords of wood, more than half of which was hard wood. This was done without extra effort, and without knowing that any one was noticing his industry. For more than forty years he had the reputation of accomplishing more work in a day with his saw, than any other man in this section.—Newburyport Herald.

MONS. PETIN—NARROW ESCAPE!—This gentleman, with his comrades, descended about two miles outside of Long Island, in the Ocean. After clinging to the net-work of the balloon about an hour, they were seen and taken off by a lifeboat from Southampton—having narrowly escaped with their lives. They went at the rate of 70 miles an hour, by a northwesterly current.—New Haven Register.

The Legislature of North Carolina met in special session on Monday last, pursuant to a call by the Governor, and was duly organized for business. John Baxter (Whig) was elected Speaker of the House of Commons, and Weldon N. Edwards (Dem.) Speaker of the Senate. The object of this special session is to re-district the State according to the new Congressional apportionment.

IMMIGRATION.—One of the most prolific sources of influx of foreigners into the U. S., is the money earned here by the young and middle aged immigrants and sent home to their native country to enable their parents and relatives also to emigrate. Thousands of dollars are in this way sent out of the country.—In Pittsburg, Pa., we see it stated, the hired girls have thus sent across the water $35,000 for this purpose within the last six months. It is often asked by many, who wonder at the cause, how is it that so many squalid Irish, as we see among us every year, find means to get across the water with perhaps half a dozen young and helpless children. This explains it.

NAVAL.—The U. S. sloop of war Vandalia arrived at Philadelphia navy yard Monday morning, from New York, for dockage and repairs.

THE FRIGATE MISSISSIPPI.—The frigate Mississippi is not to be sent to Havana, but will, as intended from the first, join the squadron for Japan. She is ready to sail at a moment's notice, and is only awaiting final orders from the Government, and the arrival of the Princeton, which is to join the expedition.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 11.—Com. Ballard has arrived to take command of the naval station at this port.

REDUCTION OF FARE.—The fare from Boston to New York by the Stonington route is reduced to two dollars.

A convict in the Auburn State Prison escaped the other day by disguising himself in the dress of the warden, Mr. Titus, who was absent on an electioneering tour to secure the nomination of an intimate friend for Congress.

The African Repository states that the expedition appointed to sail from Baltimore to Liberia, on the 1st of November, will probably leave on Saturday, the 30th inst., in which case the vessel will touch at and sail from Norfolk on Monday or Tuesday following. About three hundred applications have been made for passage, nearly all of which come from free born persons, principally from Virginia and North Carolina. Another vessel will sail from Wilmington, N C., about the 1st of November: upwards of one hundred persons have applied for passage to that port; and on the 1st of December, a third expedition will sail from New Orleans.

SCHOOL TAX IN BALTIMORE COUNTY.—On Wednesday last, the people of Baltimore county voted on the question whether an increase of four cents on the $100 should be levied for the maintenance of the public schools, the regular tax of four cents heretofore levied having been found inadequate for that purpose. The vote resulted in a large majority in favor of the increase—being 1,666 for, and 406 against it.

FATAL RAILROAD ACCIDENT.—On Saturday forenoon a lad, eight years of age, son of William Armstrong, while holding his car to one of the rails of the Old Colony track, in Washington village, (it is supposed to hear the rumbling of distant trains,) was struck in the head and instantly killed.

A STRANGER APPROACHING.—M. J. P. Pirsson, announces through the New York Tribune, that he discovered on Tuesday evening last, near the pole star, a comet approaching the earth rapidly. Mr. P. says there is no doubt that it will be visible without the aid of a glass in the course of a few days.

NO FLATTERY.—The Boston Pilot says—"The Whig party contains as many radicals as the Democratic party, only the two sets of radicals are of a somewhat different stripe. The Democratic radicals are street rowdies, the Whig radicals are sleek hypocrites."

A LARGE PEAR.—Mr. Josiah Brittan of this city, showed us a Catillac Pear, which measured 15 1-2 inches in circumference and weighed 26 ounces. It is one of three, all of about equal size, borne on a small tree which fruited this year for the first time.—Worcester Spy.

A SINGULAR AND FATAL MISTAKE.—The Dayton, Ohio, Gazette, relates a singular circumstance. Mr. Robbins and a boy, while out hunting, discovered what at first they supposed to be a grey squirrel, just beyond a pile of logs in the distance. On closer examination, they concluded it must be a ground hog, and Robbins fired at the object. On reaching the spot, what was his horror to find that he had shot a man through the head!

It appeared that a pedlar of jewelry, who wore a skin cap, had seated himself beside the logs, so that his cap was just visible, and was in the act of counting his money. The motion of his grey skin cap deceived the hunter. The unfortunate stranger lived but a short time.

A census of Iowa, taken by the state, is now nearly completed. It shows a population of over 259,000, and an increase of 50,000 since 1850.

A census has just been taken of Augusta, Geo., which shows a population of 14,072. Whites 7998, slaves 6030, free persons of color 243.

A few days since, says the Bridgeport Standard, we referred to the death of a lad named Patrick O'Rourke, who fell from a tree while attempting to secure a paper balloon. The father of the boy took his loss so much to heart, that he has since been in a state of derangement. On Saturday he cut down the tree, (a fine maple) in the vain hope of finding his lost son. He had nearly killed the tree before his intentions were discovered. After it had fallen, the poor man searched among the branches, calling for "Patrick."

AN INCIDENT FOR THE NEXT EDITION OF "UNCLE TOM'S CABIN."—A negro woman belonging to Geo. M. Garrison, of Polk Co., Miss., killed four of her children by cutting their throats while they were asleep, on the night of 2d ult. and then killed herself by cutting her own throat.

Her master knows of no cause for the horrid act, unless it be that she heard him speak of selling her and two of her children and keeping the others.

STRANGE.—The Washington Republic tells of a man in that city whose skull has a wonderful power of resistance, if it be not indeed the thickest cranium that ever was heard of in these diggings. He has been seen to take a hard burnt and perfect brick and break it into three pieces, by butting his head with great apparent force against it.

One of the recant biographies of Wellington says the Duke has received in gratuities and pensions, from the aristocratic government of Great Britain, upwards of $15,000,000; and all his relatives, to a remote degree, have been liberally titled, placed, and pensioned.

POTATOES.—Accounts from all parts of the country state that the crop of potatoes is very large and fine, and, in almost all cases, free from rot. They are very cheap in the upper country—being sold at prices which the farmers say "don't begin to pay."

TRIAL OF BISHOP DOANE.—The proceedings of the Court of Bishops, in the case of Bishop Doane, were continued at Burlington, N. J., on Friday. The house determined to proceed no further in relation to the new presentment until after the session of the New Jersey Convention.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—Charles Beard, a watchman in the employ of the Lowell Bleachery, was killed about 5 o'clock on Saturday morning, by being caught by his clothes on a shaft, and whirled around till life was extinct. Mr. Beard was about 23 years old, and from Lebanon, N. H.

REV. EDWARD BEECHER, D. D., of Boston, it is said has been invited to the Presidency of Cleveland (Ohio) University.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

Reported for the Daily Morning Chronicle.

Court of Common Pleas—Rockingham Co.

SEPTEMBER TERM, 1852.

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 12th.

The Jurors were discharged in the forenoon without any case being presented to them.—The Court were engaged throughout the day in the calling of the docket and disposing of many cases therein.

The whole number of new entries in the civil docket for this term are 269.

The docket is encumbered with a large number of cases, which if disposed of at the present rate of Jury trials, bid fair to remain for some time before they will be off the docket.

At half past 1 P. M., the Court adjourned sine die.

LAUNCH.—To-day at about 11 o'clock, from the yard of Samuel Badger Esq.—a fine ship of about 600 tons called the "Fleetwood." She is intended for the Calcutta trade, and is owned by Messrs. Johnson, Sewall & Co., of Boston, and Capt. Frank Dale of Gloucester, who will command her.

LIGHT WANTED.—On Monday evening, as Mr. Elijah Seavey was wheeling a load of furniture in State street, he was run down by a horse and chaise which came round the corner of Fleet street. Mr. S. was somewhat battered, his wheelbarrow shattered, his load widely scattered. It was too dark for the driver to observe any object. Where's the gas?

EVENING SCHOOL.—The Free Evening School is to open on Monday evening next, at the Camenum.

MUSIC AND DRAWING.—Lovers and patrons of the fine arts in Portsmouth will be pleased to see by an advertisement in this morning's Chronicle, that Mr. Moses has reversed or postponed his purpose to leave our city, and will not only give instruction in Music this season as usual, but also commence giving lessons in Drawing.

ICE TO THE PACIFIC.—The fine packet ship George Raynes, cleared from Boston on Monday for San Francisco, having on board upwards of nine hundred tons of ice, being the largest cargo ever shipped round Cape Horn or Cape of Good Hope. She takes out 52 passengers, among them Mr. Albert Fernald and lady of this city.

U. S. CIRCUIT COURT.

The Circuit Court of the United States for the District of New Hampshire, commenced its October session in Exeter, on Friday morning last.

Present—Hon. Benjamin R. Curtis, Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States, Presiding Judge; Hon. Matthew Harvey, District Judge; Wm. W. Stickney, Esq., District Attorney; Samuel Garfield, Marshal for the District of N. H.

Judge Curtis's charge to the Grand Jury was mainly an instruction that the Fugitive Slave Law of 1850 was a valid, constitutional statute, and had any infringement of its provisions, within this district, come under their notice, they were bound by their oath to take cognizance of it. The Constitution gives every person the right to a trial by jury, and the fugitive he said, has that right, by the Constitution, in the State from which he has fled.

He also referred to the laws making the slave trade piracy, to the passenger ship law, and to the new steamboat law, lately passed by the Congress of the United States.

The News Letter says,

"The charge was delivered with Judge Curtis's customary deliberation and clearness, and was listened to with great attention by all present.

There was no great amount of business before the Court. There were no trials. The actions were all continued, and the Court adjourned on Saturday forenoon."

GEN. PIERCE'S REMARKS

AT THE N. H. STATE AGRICULTURAL FAIR.

General Pierce said that a speech from him would be out of place; and if it were otherwise, he would not mar the fine effect of what had been so appropriately and eloquently said by the gentleman who had just resumed his seat, by following with any crude remarks of his own. He hoped that the address would be printed, and find a place in the dwelling of every farmer.

This had been one of the bright, pleasant days, which now and then cast their radiance over our pathway—dispelling the rigid expression from the brow of care—animating with a rich glow whatever meets the eye, and quickening within us all the sources of innocent enjoyment. He had, in common with this vast audience, felt its power; and the satisfaction it had brought, was at that moment alloyed only by the regret that such holidays, when practical improvement, delightful relaxation and genial sympathy were so happily blended, were not of more frequent occurrence.

The exhibition was in all respects worthy of the State, the preparation and arrangement highly honorable to the gentlemen to whose hands they had been committed—and to this county, so distinguished for the grandeur of its mountains, the beauty of its lake scenery, and the intelligence, industry and probity of its sturdy population.

More than his would not be expected of him under existing circumstances. He came to see, and hear, and enjoy—not to speak; he must ask his friends to excuse him—expressing only the hope that the reflection of "the smile of the Great Spirit" might never be cast upon a population less prosperous and happy.

HEAVY VERDICT.

PORTLAND, Oct. 12.—In the suit of F. O. J. Smith vs. the Portland Gas Light Company, a verdict has been returned for the plaintiff of fifty thousand and four hundred dollars, and costs of court.

FLORIDA ELECTION.

CHARLESTON, Oct. 12.—The returns from Florida continue favorable to the Democrats.

GEN. SCOTT.

BUFFALO, Oct. 12.—Gen. Scott has arrived here on his return from his Western tour.

DEMOCRATIC MOVEMENTS IN NEW YORK.—New York Oct. 12.—The Democratic torch light procession last evening was an immense affair, there being not less than 4000 in the ranks. A meeting was also held in the Park, which was addressed by Gen. Waldbridge, Mr. Blackman, Mr. Cochran, Mr. Phillips, and others. The number present at this meeting was estimated at 10,000, while some place it at 20,000.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 11.—The steamship Pampero, hence for San Juan, Nic., full of passengers, sprung aleak, and the water gained so rapidly upon her that she was very near sinking. She however managed to get back to this port.

CALIFORNIA NEWS, to 16th September.—The steamer Golden Gate left San Francisco for Panama with two millions in gold dust.

A further movement had been made by the miners against the Chinese, and a public meeting had been called at Jamestown. The steamers Columbia and S. S. Lewis had been libeled for excess of passengers.

Later dates had been received from Sandwich Islands. The epidemic at Honolulu had given a serious check to business. The Government had promulgated a reciprocity treaty with the United States.

Advices from Valparaiso report Chilian affairs promising. A new monetary system had been established, which gives great satisfaction. Government had sent $200,000 to London to purchase a steamer.

FROM TURKS' ISLAND.—The Royal Gazette notices the arrival at the city of Santo Domingo, from the United States, on the 23d August, of Colonels Fergusson and Pickett, to enter into preliminarics for the introduction into Santo Domingo of 4,000 or 5,000 American immigrants.

On the 6th ult., an attempt was made by a foreigner named Monclair, to assassinate or otherwise injure, President Forth. The individual was committed to jail.

The Gazette of the 8th, has the following: "We understand that the American brig Alfonso, which arrived on Thursday last from St. Martins, had on board the last of the Salt Crop (about 2000 bushels) remaining on that Island, they having had the heavy rains at St. Martins last year which were experienced at these islands."

RESCUE OF THE CREW OF SHIP GEORGE HOWLAND.—A letter from Mr. Shubael P. Edwards, second officer of the ship Susan, Howland, of New Bedford, dated at Payata, Sept. 11, states that a short time previous, they touched at the Island of Albemaria, one of the Gallipagos group, where they found five of the crew of the George Howland, of New Bedford, which with three others succeeded in escaping from the convicts at the time of the capture of the George Howland, as before stated. They had been five months upon the island, subsisting upon terrapin and water only. Three of the number died, including the steward and cabin boy of the ship, and a Spanish seaman. The survivors were taken on board the Susan. Their names are William Maxfield, William Tillinson, and Alfred Peabody, American seamen, and Jose Francis, boat steerer, and the cook, both Portuguese.

LOCOMOTIVE IN UPPER CANADA.—On Tuesday last, the first locomotive ever seen in Upper Canada was put in motion on the Northern Railroad, which is to run from Toronto to Lake Huron. The locomotive was made in Portland, Maine.

NOT BAD TO TAKE.—In the case of Goodyear vs. Day, Mr. Webster, as Goodyear's counsel, received a retainer of $10,000 the day he took his seat at the table to argue the case.

DINNER TO MR. LAWRENCE.—At a meeting of Merchants, held last Friday, in Boston, it was determined to tender to the Hon. Abbott Lawrence a public dinner, on his arrival from England. A committee was chosen to make all necessary arrangements.

SKINNING OLD APPLE TREES.

"We last year at this time, made some remarks upon the subject of stripping the bark from those old apple trees which, while possessing a fair share of vigor seem nevertheless to be laide-bound, and do not bear fruit as a good apple tree should. Stripping the bark from the trunk about this time of the year, when it will strip easily, has been recommended by some as a good remedy, being careful in the operation not to disturb the albumen, or sap-wood that is forming.

"We believe we mentioned that some experiments were made last summer—one of them on an apple tree belonging to John May, Esq., and the other by our old friend Smith, the "venerable hatter" of Winthrop.—The tree operated upon by Mr. May, had not borne any for many years, if it ever had. The bark was stripped off the trunk, the albumen hardened into new bark, and now the tree has an abundance of little apples upon it. The other, by Mr. Smith, was the large limb of a large old tree. In this case new bark was formed, and at the present time has an abundance of small apples upon it.

"How often or how far will it do to carry this removal of old bark from apple trees is yet a matter of experiment. But, in the few instances that we have heard of or seen, it has been productive of good to them. The trees operated upon were all old and barren trees, and had bark upon them as thick as the pelt of a rhinoceros."

The above is from the Maine Farmer, and brings to recollection some of our first experiments in horticulture, but at the same time reminds us strongly of Pope's experiment with the dog. He had heard that if approached by a dog, he had only to turn his back towards him, stoop down, throw the tails of his coat over his shoulders, and that the dog would immediately retire. In his particular experiment, however, the charm did not work, and his nether garments were the sufferers. So was it with our skinning of trees as per above recipe. We tried it the longest day in the year, 21st June, and observed all the necessary cautions. All the trees it is true did not die, but some did, and others in their immediate neighborhood whose bark was cleansed with alkalies, have ever surpassed them in quality, particularly in the quality of fruit bearing.—Working Farmer.

NOTICE TO GROCERS.

ON Account of the unexpected demand for Mrs. SMITH'S KILN-DRIED YEAST. I have been unable to offer it to the trade to any extent, but now having made arrangements for a constant supply, I am prepared to supply Grocers and others with any quantity, by the dozen or otherwise.

THIS YEAST has been thoroughly tested by housekeepers most experienced in such matters, who, without exception, pronounce it the BEST. MOST CONVENIENT, and RELIABLE ARTICLE ever introduced for raising bread;—far surpassing even the best hop yeast.

GROCERS in this town, Manchester, and many other places, are now selling large quantities every week.

D. D. GARLAND,

General Agent, Concord, N. H.

☞ ORDERS solicited from Grocers and others, which will be promptly attended to on very favorable terms.

THE IMPROVED

EMPIRE STATE STOVE.

THIS justly celebrated COOKING STOVE having been improved in every way it could be to make its operations more complete, and its plates beautifully ornamented—no expense, time or trouble having been spared to make this the most complete Cooking Stove ever brought before the public—the subscriber feels assured in warranting the IMPROVED EMPIRE STATE as superior to any stove in the market, as hundreds can testify who have used them for the past year.

This Stove has a very LARGE OVEN, which makes it desirable on account of doing more cooking with the same amount of fuel than can be done in any other stove. The fires are large, which ensures a good draft in all cases. The castings are very heavy and smooth, and those parts that come next the fire are extra thick, making it very durable. It is adapted to the use of either coal or wood, and we warrant them to operate as well with one as the other. We furnish them with the very best appanatus; and, altogether, it is the MOST DURABLE, ECONOMICAL and CONVENIENT COOKING STOVE ever made—complete in every respect. We ask the attention of all persons intending to purchase a new, or exchange their old stove, to an examination of the Improved Empire State.

We have also on hand a variety of other Cooking Stoves, called the "Banner," "Belle of the States," "King of the States," "Bay State," "Anglo Saxon," "Pearl of Troy," &c.; with a large lot of PARLOR STOVES, such as the Revere, Air-Tight, Star, Revere Parlor Cook, Lady Franklin, for Wood or Coal; Shop, Office and Air-Tight Stoves, of different sizes and prices for either wood or coal.

Also an extensive assortment of HOUSEKEEPING GOODS; Wooden, Willow, Glass, Britannia, Japan, Tin, Hard, Enamel, and Brass Ware; Copper, Cast Iron, and Chain Pumps; Window-Shads, Table Oil-cloths, &c.

All the above goods will be sold lower than can be bought elsewhere in this vicinity.

HIRAM JONES, 61 Market street,
s27 Portsmouth, N. H.

WHAT-CHEER STOVE.

THE WHAT-CHEER COAL COOKING STOVE, of which the above cut is a true representation, now offered for sale by the subscribers, is acknowledged by all who have examined it to be the best and most economical Coal Stove ever offered to the public.

The castings are heavy, smooth, and very handsome. The Broiling apparatus is a great improvement over all other Stoves, being constructed in such a manner as to prevent the steam from escaping into the room when cooking.

All persons wishing to purchase a COAL COOKING STOVE are respectfully requested to call and examine the same. Every Stove warranted to work well, or no sale.

We have also a large assortment of COOKING, PARLOR and STORE STOVES, &c.—for sale cheap for Cash at our Store.

Corner of State and Water streets,
s27 ANDERSON & EMERY.

The Bay State Stove,

FOR WOOD OR COAL.

THE subscriber, in offering this favorite Stove to the public, the present season, would state that a new covered Broiling Apparatus has been added, the fluture in burning anthracite coal, and the Stove otherwise improved—and is now put into the market as

THE MOST PERFECT COOK STOVE in the world. The castings are heavier, more beautiful and durable; the oven has a larger oven, will bake better and with less fuel, than any other stove in use.

These stoves are made from pure metal and are not liable to crack; and we furnish every stove with the best of apparatus—Copper Boiler, &c., and warrant them a year; and if any part proves defective it will be made good without charge.

Persons wishing to obtain a good Stove, will do well to buy a BAY STATE. They have been in operation in this city for four years past, and have given perfect satisfaction. For sale at the Store of the subscriber, where may be found a large assortment of COOKING, PARLOR AND OFFICE STOVES, TIN WARE, FUNNELS, &c. for sale cheap for cash. E. A. STEVENS.

A HUMOROUS LETTER.

Away up in the "Northern Country," between New York and the Canada line, there are several gentlemen living on estates owned by themselves. A friend of one of the gentlemen wrote to him from New York city, making inquiries, with a view to "emigration" if the news received was agreeable. The reply was as follows:

———, ———, 1852.

Dear Sir:—Yours of the 20th is received, and I hasten to give you the information desired for the benefit of your friend, as follows:

The soil—when you can get at it—is composed principally of conglomerate, viz. a mixture of muck, moss, decayed fern leaves, paving stones, and snow.

The face of the country—when not covered with snow—is covered with a growth of hemlock, tamarack, spruce, and timber, except those portions which the enterprise of former years has attempted to clear—these are covered with stumps of rocks, fallen trees, alder bushes and brambles.

The fruits are various, comprising most of the species found in high latitudes, such as choke berries, moose berries, whortle berries, and the black raspberry—the latter in great abundance and perfection.

Among the game is to be found the domestic fowl, the swallow, crow and blue jay, and in midsummer the nighthawk and screechowl.

The animals hunted for their fur are the cat, the chip monk, the stray dogs. Those chiefly esteemed for their flesh, are the muskrat, skunk and woodchuck.

The fishes embrace a great variety, from the tadpole to the bull pout. The sucker is salted down for winter use.

The principal articles for consumption are pork, white beans, apple sauce and rye whiskey.

The principal articles of import are dried apples, buffalo coats, tea, tobacco, cotton cloth, molasses, bogus cigars and spoiled oysters.

The articles of export are few, being only such things as they don't want themselves.—The principal are, convicts to Auburn and Sing Sing prisons, and emigrants to California.

The chief productions are white-headed children, which in time grow to be lumber-men, pedlars, deacons, squires, politicians and rogues.

Their means of getting a living are ingenious and varied—the most ostensible, however, is dickering, at which they are very expert; swapping horses, trading cattle, and getting boot.

Their principal business is an impertinent interference in other people's affairs, to the entire neglect of their own; exaggerating evil reports, throwing obstacles in the way of public improvements, talking politics, and doing chores. The young leave the parental roof at a tender age, and commence on their own hook, peddling pop-corn, gingerbread and molasses candy.

Their chief amusements, in winter, are keeping up a fire, watching the weather, going to funerals, whittling, and breaking steers—in summer these are varied by getting out manure, hoeing corn, acting as scare-crows, and getting 'down sick,' eating green apples.

The climate is a cross between Lapland and Siberia, not quite so cold as the one, and a good deal colder than the other, but healthy. The principal diseases are lame stomach, delirium tremens, and 'folks is sick.'

The articles of luxury most esteemed are, salt codfish, dried pumpkins, and woolen gowns.

The articles of furniture are a cook-stove, mop-pail, and wash dish.

Their farming implements consist of an axe, a saw, a log chain, generally hooked, and a jack-knife.

Their education is confined to writing their names, guessing of hogs, and making axe helves.

Their moral and religious ideas are vague and loose. They generally live to a green old age, and die as green as they lived.

Their places of resort are the platforms of railroad depots, bar-rooms, justices' courts and public and private offices, where they have no business.

Their habits are predatory and migratory.

If your friend is a bachelor, it may be interesting to him to know, that the females (with a few exceptions) have no front teeth, but their eye teeth are cut early, and are sharp and well developed.

If there are any points not touched upon, likely to influence him in the choice of a residence, I hope you will have no hesitation in asking further enlightenment.

Yours, ever, &c.

STAMMERING WIT—"COOL AS A CUCUMBER."—Stammering, says Coleridge, is sometimes the cause of a pun. Some one was mentioning in Lamb's presence the cold-heartedness of the Duke of Cumberland, in restraining the Duchess from rushing up to the embrace of her son, whom she had not seen for a considerable time, and insisting on her receiving him in state. "How horribly cold it was," said the narrator. "Yes," said Lamb, in his stuttering way, "but you know he is the Duke of Cu-cum-ber-land."

DAILY
Morning Chronicle.
PORTSMOUTH:
THURSDAY, OCTOBER 14, 1852.

THE MEXICAN PRESIDENCY.

All the careful readers of newspapers are aware of a report which was circulated some time ago, stating that Gen. Scott was invited, when in the City of Mexico, to assume the government of that country, and that he was offered a large sum of money if he would do so. The other day when he was at Sandusky, Ohio, a gentleman alluded to the story, in public; to which General Scott made a reply.

"In relation to the Mexican offer, he said—The proposition was not made by the Government, as he had been represented, but by private citizens—men of wealth and prominence. The offer was a bonus of $1,000,000, and a salary of $15,000 per annum—five responsible persons to become securities in any bank in New York he might name. They expected and hoped annexation would be brought about in this way, but he (Scott) loved his home. He was also opposed to the annexation of Mexico, with its heterogenous and degraded population, to the United States. He spurned the offer, and came back to die on his own soil."

The General had a right to his own opinions about annexation—and his love of country is not questioned. But we look upon the annexation of all Mexico to this country, and its admission into this Union, as quite probable, and not very far distant. And qualified, as we suppose he was, to be a military governor, we are not sure that it would not have been better both for him and for Mexico, had he accepted the offer.

COMMERCIAL NEWS FROM ENGLAND.—The London money market is quiet, but steady. Consols varied only one-eighth of one per cent. for a week. The Liverpool Cotton Market of October 2 was active, and a large business done at a partial advance of one-eighth of a penny. Sales for the week 96,000 bales. Stock of Cotton at Liverpool 529,000 bales. In the Liverpool Corn Market, no change in Breadstuffs, business moderate. In Provisions, Pork, Beef and Lard unchanged.

We have the authority of the commanding officer at Fort Independence for saying that there is no truth in the statement about ten men attempting to desert, and of course the report of the mode of punishment in having their head shaved was also false.—Boston Post.

In this case, then, somebody deliberately fabricated a whole-cloth lie—for what purpose, or with what motive, it is difficult to say.

☞ Davis's Pickle Manufactory, in Purchase-street, Boston, was burnt on Tuesday night, and an Irishman named Michael O'Shea, was killed by the falling of a wall. His age was 29.

FARES TO NEW YORK LOWER STILL.—The other lines having followed the example of the Stonington, and reduced the cabin fare from Boston to $2, the latter on Tuesday went a peg lower, and carried on its passengers for $1 50.

☞ Gen. Frank Pierce was in Boston yesterday.

STRIKE FOR HIGHER WAGES—OUTRAGES AND ASSAULTS.—In New York on Monday, some 1500 or 2000 laborers on vessels—riggers, stevedores, 'long-shoremen,' &c.—struck for higher wages, which demand being refused by the majority of their employers, they proceeded in various strong squads to a large number of vessels at different piers, and by sheer force compelled such of their fellow-workmen as had not joined them to quit work. In many instances, especially where a disposition to resist was manifested, gross outrages were committed on the persons of those who would not "cave in," and such officers of vessels as endeavored to protect their workmen were severely maltreated, and, in some cases, plundered of their watches, purses, &c. The police were applied to, but no assistance was obtained from them.—Boston Courier.

SCHOOL BOY KILLED.—An inquest was held at Portland on Monday, over the body of a lad who deceased on Sunday. The lad was knocked down upon a pile of bricks on Friday, and abused by another boy at the school house. He soon after commenced vomiting, and continued to grow worse until death ensued. The verdict was that his death was caused by some sudden blow, or from apoplexy, fear, or some kind of mental excitement.

A RESURRECTIONIST KILLED.—About two o'clock on Sunday morning, Mr. Jacob Swein, the Sexton of the new City Burial Ground, was awakened by a man in his employ, and told that some one was in the grave yard and engaged in digging up bodies. Mr. S. taking his gun, went out, and saw three persons, one of whom advanced towards him with a knife in his hand. Mr. S. immediately raised his gun and fired, with so much certainty as to kill the body-snatcher dead in his track.—The other two instantly fled, leaving a horse and wagon, and the implements used for digging up the graves, behind them.—Cincinnati Commercial.

Matthew Hale Smith will lecture in New Bedford on Tuesday evening, upon the New Liquor Law, on its influence on Temperance, Business, and the Public Virtue.

A NOVEL PROPOSITION.—Ald. Sturtevant presented a petition in the Board of Aldermen, last evening, from John N. Genin, hatter, asking for permission to construct an oriental bridge, single arch, across Broadway, from the sidewalk in front of St. Paul's Church, to that in front of his store, No. 214. The structure to be called Genin's Bridge, and built at his expense, for the accommodation of pedestrians. This project the petitioner claims is for such, in view of that crossing being the most dangerous in Broadway.—Accompanying the petition, was a plan of the proposed bridge, a very handsome picture.—Upon the bridge ladies and gentlemen are represented as crossing at their leisure, while beneath it, as may occasionally be seen, are quite a number of pedestrians, endeavoring to cross through a pool of mud, and one unfortunate individual is pictured as being run over by an omnibus. The dimensions of the bridge are as follows:—16 feet from lower part of bridge to the ground; width of bridge 5 feet 6 inches; width of stairs, 3 feet 9 inches. The petition was referred to the Committee on streets.—N. Y. Cour. and Enquirer.

HAVANA.—The New York Express says, in relation to the affair of the Cornelia at Havana:

"The affair of the Cornelia is full of provocations, but it has two sides to it. That vessel clearly violated the laws of Spain by having on board a man named Hearkness, without a passport, which he was bound to have, and which the captain of the vessel was bound to see he had. The excuse of the captain is, that Hearkness concealed himself on board, and that he did not know of the concealment. Now while in equity this excuse, if maintained by proof, probably would, as it did, acquit the captain, the law of Cuba was not the less violated; and nations are never in the habit of permitting their laws to be violated with impunity."

A despatch from Washington says that the most prompt and decided measures have been taken by our government in reference to the late Cuban outrage, and, should the reports prove true, ample satisfaction will be demanded and enforced. It is stated that a special agent will be despatched to the scene of outrage.

INTERESTING BAPTISMAL CEREMONY.—The ordinance of baptism was administered on Monday forenoon by Rev. Dr. Young, at his church in Summer street, Boston. The Herald states that seven children were baptized, and what added much to the interest of the ceremony, was the fact that the water used by the pastor was sent to him from the river Jordan, by the late lamented Lieut. Dale, of the U. S. Exploring Expedition. Mr. Young opened the seal of the bottle containing the water, in the presence of the congregation and children, and made some exceedingly appropriate and interesting remarks on the occasion.

NAUMKEAG COTTON MILL.—The Salem Cotton Corporation are introducing gas into their spacious Mill; last week the weaving room was lighted with gas of their own manufacture, and as fast as the fixtures can be arranged, other rooms will be lighted in the same manner, till the entire building is thus illuminated.

Mr. Thomas Jameson, an old and well known citizen of Lowell, who has been about two years in California, reached home on Friday morning last, sick of the Isthmus fever, and died on Monday night. He lost his trunk, (containing it is supposed money and valuables to considerable amount,) on his way home.

ONE OF THE CONSTANT ONES.—Mr. Wm. Chenery, a watchman on the Middlesex Corporation, has watched seventeen hundred and twenty-four successive days, up to Saturday night last—being nearly five years of uninterrupted labor at the same post of duty.—Lowell Journal.

MADAME BOCARME.—Those readers who recollect the sad fate of the Count de Bocarme, (who was executed in Belgium for the murder of his near relative) will be interested in the allusion to his widow, who was scarcely less guilty than himself. A Paris date of Sept. 6, in the Courier d' Etats Unis, says:

"Madame de Bocarme is yet before the public. The sale of her property, and her disputes with her family are spoken of with considerable interest. The offer at auction, however, of her chateau attracted but little attention (80,000 francs being the highest sum offered) except from such persons as were curious to have a near a view of Madame de Bocarme, (Lydia Fouguies) who herself advised with regard to the sale. A distant connection has demanded the appointment of a guardian for the lady, as her foolish enormous expenses have of late become quite alarming."

THE CALIFORNIA SCHOOL MISTRESS.—A year or two ago a party of about one hundred and twenty persons started from St. Louis over the plains for California. Among the number were several Methodist ministers, accompanied by their wives and children.—There was also a young lady who had been teaching school for some time before, and she felt that she could be of some use in planting education among the children of the gold diggers; so she paid her two hundred dollars, the price charged for the journey in a covered wagon, with every comfort provided for her on the way. Her brother, before she started, offered her fifteen hundred dollars to set up a milliner's shop there, but she stuck to her love of teaching, and refusing that sum, applied her own hard earnings, all she had, to carry out her purpose.

Upon arriving at Sacramento, she commenced teaching a school at 100 dollars a month, and made fifty more a month besides, by giving lessons to families. She saved a thousand of it, most of which she sent home to her father, and at the end of the year she married a respectable merchant from Boston, then doing business in California, worth about thirty thousand dollars.

A thief entered the depot at Auburn Dale on Friday night, and, after ransacking the premises, laid down on a bench and went to sleep, where he was found in the morning and secured.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

FATAL TERMINATION.—The Messenger states that Hallet Baker, the pilot of the U. S. surveying schooner Gallatin, accidentally shot in our harbor as stated in the Chronicle, expired on Monday night. A post mortem examination was held upon the body yesterday, when it it was found that the ball had passed completely through. The deceased was about 45 years of age, belonged to East Falmouth, Ms., where he has left a wife and children to mourn his sad fate. His wife was sent for and arrived in time to witness his death.

MARINE LIST.—It is very seldom that we have so large a fleet of freighting vessels in our harbor, as gathered there yesterday, a long string of which we report in our Marine News. A great number often find shelter here from rough weather

THE PEAK FAMILY.—We are happy to learn that this family, as Vocalists and Swiss Bell Ringers will soon visit this city. They have been travelling in the Middle and Western States, giving entertainments to crowded houses. The press speaks of them in high terms of commendation. Wonderful must be the effect of listening to the charms of fifty six Bells harmoniously commingling with voices and instrumental accompaniment!

TEMPERANCE CONVENTION.—A Convention of Temperance Men is notified in our columns, to take place in New Market next Tuesday, for the purpose of consultation on the proposed liquor law, which is to be brought before the people under singular circumstances. The callers of the meeting desire to secure a concert of action.

THE FOREIGN NEWS.

Steamship America brings dates from Liverpool to Oct. 2, at half past eleven o'clock, A. M.

The West Indian mail steamer La Plata arrived at Southampton on Wednesday the 28th, with dates from Chagres to the 8th. She had on freight one million three hundred and seventy-four thousand seven hundred and sixty-six dollars, of which $339,217 were on account of the Mexican dividends. The La Plata has on board three ponies, a present from the President of Mexico to the Prince of Wales, besides some presents to the Queen, in charge of Col. Shaffino.

There have been two arrivals from Australia with gold, but no later accounts.

Violent gales have raged in the English and Irish channels during the week, and have caused much destruction of shipping. The only American reported is the Emporium, from America, which went ashore on the coast of Northumberland. Crew and passengers, including three females, saved.

Alderman Challis, M. P., is chosen lord mayor of London, for the next year. A report by Lord Shaftesbury is published regarding Bethlehem Hospital for the insane, and discloses horrible treatment of the inmates.

Sir Thomas Mitchell, of Australia, has brought out a new mode of propulsion for steamers. It is called the Bomerang propeller, Mackintosh, the India rubber patentee, advertises a paint of nucous caoutchouc for ships' bottoms, which by lessening resistance increases the speed two knots an hour.

William Crafts, the Boston fugitive, writes a long article in the Morning Advertiser in reply to some strictures in Dickens's Household Words on slavery. It seems that among the chief patrons of Crafts and his wife in England are Lady Byron, and her daughter Lady Lovelace.

[This does not look much like the Georgia story, that Ellen Crafts had entered the service of an American gentleman, who was to deliver her back to the happy home of her master in Georgia.]

FRANCE.—The most important French news is Louis Napoleon's incipient Empire, soon to be full blown:—and his journey through the republic! His reception at Toulon, Avignon, and Marseilles, was enthusiastic. He was met and congratulated by the envoys of Piedmont, Naples and the Pope.

The Gazette de Breslau says that the emperor of Austria has demanded the hand of the Princess Vasa, and that the emperor of Russia is using his influence to win over the same lady for Prince Adelbert, of Bavaria, brother to the king of Greece. This, however, is discredited in Paris.

On laying the foundation of the new Bourse, at Marseilles, Louis Napoleon said he hoped that the prosperity of the port would contribute towards the realization of the emperor's grand idea, that the Mediterranean shall be a French lake. The idea is not disconnected in public rumors from the hint recently thrown out in a government paper, that when a few more steamers are launched, England will be called to show by what title she holds Gibraltar and the Ionian Isles.

The Spanish Government has ordered honors to be rendered to the memory of the late Duke of Wellington. Gen. Castanos, who served under Wellington, is just dead, aged 95, and will be buried with national solemnity.

DARTMOUTH COLLEGE.—The United Literary Societies of Dartmouth College, have invited the Hon. Daniel Webster to deliver their Commencement Oration, with the Hon. Edward Everett as substitute. Oliver Wendell Holmes, Esq. of Boston, has been invited to deliver the Poem; H. W. Lonfifellow, Esq. substitute.

In Prussia they have been fining a Post Office clerk for endeavoring to discover the contents of a letter, by looking too closely into the envelope.

MUSICAL ENTERTAINMENT,
BY THE PEAK FAMILY,
AS VOCALISTS
AND SWISS BELL RINGERS,
AT THE TEMPLE, PORTSMOUTH,
THURSDAY EVENING, Oct. 21.

THE Vocal Performances of this Family, with the Chime of fifty-six Bells, and a heavy Instrumental Accompaniment, are highly pleasing and instructive, exhibiting the perfection to which the beautiful science of Music can be carried by close application and persevering industry.

The beauty and splendor of the entertainment consists in the harmonious commingling of the voice with the bells—a feature entirely new in this country, and original with Mr. Peak. The effect in the choruses is most powerful, calling forth the loudest applause wherever it has been witnessed.

Doors open at 7 o'clock. To commence at ½ of 8.

TICKETS 15 cts., to be obtained at the stores of Wm. R. Preston and Jos. Hevan Thacher.

LATEST NEWS!

STATE ELECTIONS.

PENNSYLVANIA ELECTION.

Philadelphia, Oct. 13th.—The returns from the interior indicate the election of George W. Woodward, Dem. as Judge of the Supreme Court, by about 10,000 majority.

MEMBERS OF CONGRESS ELECTED.

1st Dist. Thomas B. Florence, Dem.;
2d " Joseph R. Chandler, Whig;
3d " John Robbins, Jr., Dem.;
4th " William H. Witt, Dem.;
5th " John McNair, Dem.;
7th " —— Bridges, Dem.;
12th " Hendrick A. Muhlenburg, Dem.;

In this city, Gilpin, Whig, is elected Mayor by over 5000 majority.

Philadelphia City and County elects a whig Sheriff. A balance of the city and county officers are Democrats.

The Whigs gain a State Senator in Schuylkill County, which gives them that branch of the Legislature.

The State is believed, by even the Whigs themselves to have gone Democratic by at least 12,000 majority.

OHIO ELECTION.

Few returns received; telegraph not in working order.

INDIANA ELECTION.

Indianopolis, Oct. 12th.—The few returns received indicate the re-election of Joseph A. Wright, Dem., for Governor. A majority of Congressmen, it also believed, will be Democratic.

LATER FROM CALIFORNIA.

ARRIVAL OF THE STEAMSHIP ILLINOIS.

The steamship Illinois arrived at New York at 4 o'clock yesterday morning. She brings the California mails of the 16th Sept., $1,600,000 in gold dust on freight, and 284 passengers.

The news has been anticipated by the El Dorado at New Orleans.

The cholera has re-appeared in California, and the mortality on the plains, and in some cases on shipboard has been appalling.

Business generally was animated, and trade of all kinds in a healthy condition.

FROM THE SANDWICH ISLANDS.—Accounts from the Sandwich Islands to the 7th of Aug., state that the epidemic fever, still continued, and nearly every foreigner has been down with it. Business has been suspended, the labor on the public reservoir had been stopped, and the notice "sick" was posted on almost every door. The deaths, however, were very few.

The British bark Thetis arrived at Honolulu July 21st, with a second cargo of Coolies, one hundred in number, contracted for by planters and others at the Islands.

DEATH OF JOHN L. STEPHENS.

New York, Oct. 13.—John L. Stephens, the well known traveller in Central America, and Vice President of the Panama Railroad Co., died in this city last evening.

COMMODORE PERRY AND THE STEAM FRIGATE POWHATTAN SENT TO HAVANA.—New York Oct. 13. —The Times learns, from a source entitled to confidence, that orders have been received from Washington directing the immediate departure of the steam frigate Powhattan, Capt. Murvine, for Havana, to join the Cyane, which went to sea Sunday evening last.

The Powhattan will be made ready with all possible dispatch, and will probably leave on Saturday. She will take out Commodore Perry, who goes to Havana principally for the purpose of inquiring into recent transactions involving the rights and interests of the United States. Judge Concklin, Minister to Mexico, will go out in the Powhattan.

THE JAPAN EPEDITION.—New York, Oct. 13.—The Japan expedition will rendezvous at Annapolis. Orders have also been given to fit up the Vermont, Macedonian, and a sloop-of-war, which are intended to join the Japan expedition.

INDIGNATION MEETING.—New York, 13th. There is to be a meeting at the Broadway House to-night, to give expression to the public resentment at the recent outrages inflicted by the Cuban authorities on the American vessels and citizens.

The great balloon called "Erin-go-brah," which was to have been lately sent up at the Pavilion Gardens, went off by itself, without a pilot, ascended a good distance and burst with a loud report.

THE ROGER WILLIAMS

COOKING STOVE,

FOR WOOD OR COAL.

TO ALL IN WANT OF COOK STOVES.—As there can be but one best kind of Cooking Stove, and that having been satisfactorily proved to be the Roger Williams, by the working of some twenty-seven hundred now in use in New England,—the subscriber now offers for sale 6 sizes of this beautiful pattern for wood or coal. It is believed that this stove combines all the useful improvements that skill can invent, and is by far the most perfect cooking stove ever sold in Portsmouth.

And although its price is somewhat higher than some stoves offered in this market of late. it is believed to be much the cheapest in the end. It is a beautiful model, with fine smooth Providence castings, fitted together in the most substantial manner. Every stove is warranted for twelve months, and if its operation is not satisfactory,the money will be refunded.

Also for sale, a variety of PARLOR, OFFICE and SHOP STOVES, which are offered low

LEECHES.

A correspondent of the New York Times, writing from Constantinople, gives the following information:

It is not more than from forty to fifty years that leeches have been in extensive use for the abstraction of blood from the human body, and for many years the supply from the ponds of each country was sufficient for the wants of the population. But as the use of them increased, superseding so often the lancet and cupping, the leech traders turned their attention to procuring them from foreign countries.

Twenty-five years since, all who could afford it in America, used the "French," leech, because it would draw twice or thrice as much blood. But none the less a large portion of the leeches exported from France, have been brought thither from other countries on the Mediterranean.

Leeches for Western Europe and America are now obtained from Morocco, Algiers, and Tunis,—from Hungary, (which sends, one year with another, 120,000 pounds of leeches annually,) from Russia, and from Persia even. A trader brought, last winter, without hardly any loss by the perishing of the leeches, fifteen hundred pounds of leeches from the latter country. They froze solid as he was passing the lofty mountains, near Erzroom, but thawed into life again.

The obstacle to bringing leeches from great distances, has been, that they were so liable to perish, and needed so much care and attention on the voyage. However great the loss and the consequent rise in price, there seems no limit to the price that the sick are willing to pay for them. Fifty cents is often paid for a single leech in our country towns. And in Peru, in South America, leeches (brought, perhaps, from Persia,) have been sold for three to five dollars a piece.

The product of the leech fisheries in Turkey is at present annually greater than that of any other country. One reason among others, for this result, is the want of cultivation, and the amount of undrained lands in consequence one sparsely inhabited country, and the facilities allowed to the Europeans who follow the business and have the protection of the local authorities. The product of the last three years has been about 180,000 pounds annually, worth at the place of exportation eight dollars a pound, or $1,440,000 each year.

In a pound of small leeches there are from two hundred and fifty to four hundred leeches. A pound of large leeches contain half that proportion. There are probably from 50,000,000 to 60,000,000 of leeches annually exported from Turkey. They are sent chiefly to Trieste, Marseilles, and London, and some to America direct. The price varies greatly at these ports, according to the supply. The prices current of Marseilles as regularly include the price of leeches, as of wheat and wool.

THE IMPROVED

EMPIRE STATE STOVE.

THIS justly celebrated COOKING STOVE having been improved in every way it could be to make its operations more complete, and its plates beautifully ornamented—no expense, time or trouble having been spared to make this the most complete Cooking Stove brought before the public—the subscriber feels assured in warranting the IMPROVED EMPIRE STATE superior to any stove in the market, as hundreds can testify who have used them for the past year.

This Stove has a very LARGE OVEN, which makes it desirable on account of doing more cooking with the same amount of fuel than can be done in any other stove. The fires are large, which ensures a good draft in all cases. The castings are very heavy and smooth, and those parts that come next the fire are extra thick, making it very durable. It is adapted to the use of either coal or wood, and we warrant them to operate as well with one as the other. We furnish them with the very best appurtenances altogether, it is the MOST DURABLE, ECONOMICAL and CONVENIENT COOKING STOVE ever made—complete in every respect. We ask the attention of all persons intending to purchase a new, or exchange their old stove, to an examination of the Improved Empire State.

We have also on hand a variety of other Cooking Stoves, called the "Banner," "Belle of the States," "King of the States," "Bay State," "Anglo Saxon," "Pearl of Troy," &c.; with a large lot of PARLOR STOVES, such as the Revere Air-Tight, Star, Revere Parlor Cook, Lady Franklin, for Wood or Coal; Shop, Office and Air-Tight Stoves, of different sizes and prices for either wood or coal.

Also an extensive assortment of HOUSEKEEPING GOODS; Wooden, Willow, Glass, Britannia, Japan, Tin, Hard, Enamel, and Brass Ware; Copper, Cast Iron, and Chasin Pumps; Window-Shads, Table Oil-cloths, &c.

All the above goods will be sold lower than can be bought elsewhere in this vicinity.

WHAT-CHEER STOVE.

THE WHAT-CHEER COAL COOKING STOVE, of which the above cut is a true representation, now offered for sale by the subscribers, is acknowledged by all who have examined it to be the best and most economical Coal Stove ever offered to the public.

The castings are heavy, smooth, and very handsome. The Broiling apparatus is a great improvement over all other Stoves being constructed in such a manner as to prevent the steam from escaping into the room when broiling.

All persons wishing to purchase a COAL COOKING STOVE, are respectfully requested to call and examine the same. Every Stove warranted to work well, or no sale.

We have also a large assortment of COOKING, PARLOR and STORE STOVES, &c.—for sale cheap for Cash at our Store.

Corner of State and Water streets,
s27 ANDERSON & EMERY.

The Bay State Stove,

FOR WOOD OR COAL.

THE subscriber, in offering this favorite Stove to the public, the present season, would state that a new covered broiling apparatus has been added, the flues enlarged for burning anthracite coal, and the Stove otherwise improved—and is now put into the market as in the world. The castings are heavier, more beautiful and durable; the stove has a larger oven, will bake better and with less fuel, than any other stove in use.

These Stoves are made from pure metal and are not liable to crack; and we furnish every stove with the best of apparatus—Copper Boiler, &c., and warrant them a year; and if any part proves defective it will be made good without charge.

Persons wishing to obtain a good Stove, will do well to buy a BAY STATE. They have been in operation in this city for four years past, and have given perfect satisfaction. For sale at the Store of the subscriber, where may be found a large assortment of COOKING, PARLOR AND OFFICE STOVES, TIN WARE, FUNNEL, &c. for sale cheap for cash. E. A. STEVENS.

PRESIDENTIAL ELECTIONS.

We copy from the New York Herald the following statement of the electoral votes given to the various candidates for President and Vice President of the United States, since the adoption of the Constitution. It should be observed that at the first four elections the colleges of electors were required to vote for two persons, the highest of whom should be President, and the next highest Vice President. In consequence of the equal vote between Jefferson and Burr, in 1800, the Constitution was amended so as to require the President and Vice President to be voted for separately, as at present.

1789—FIRST TERM.

Ten States, entitled to 73 votes.

George Washington	69	George Clinton	3
John Adams	34	Samuel Huntingdon	2
John Jay	9	John Milton	1
Robert Harrison	6	James Armstrong	1
John Rutledge	6	Edward Telfair	1
John Hancock	4	Benjamin Lincoln	1

George Washington was unanimously elected President. New York, Rhode Island and North Carolina not having at the above time ratified the Constitution, chose no electors.—Two votes of Virginia and two of Maryland were not given.

1792—SECOND TERM.

Fifteen States, entitled to 135 votes.

George Washington	132	Thomas Jefferson	4
John Adams	77	Aaron Burr	1
George Clinton	50

George Washington was unanimously elected President, and John Adams, by a plurality of votes, Vice President. Two votes of Maryland and one of South Carolina were not given.

1796—THIRD TERM.

Sixteen States, entitled to 138 votes.

John Adams	71	John Jay	5
Thomas Jefferson	68	James Iredell	3
Thomas Pickney	59	Samuel Johnson	2
Aaron Burr	30	George Washington	2
Samuel Adams	15	J. Henry	2
Oliver Ellsworth	11	Charles C. Pinckney	1
George Clinton	7

John Adams was elected President, and Thomas Jefferson, Vice President. During this administration was passed the famous "Alien and Sedition Acts.

1800—FOURTH TERM.

Sixteen States, entitled to 138 votes.

Thomas Jefferson	73	Charles C. Pinckney	64
Aaron Burr	73	John Jay	1
John Adams	65

No choice by the people. The House of Representatives, after balloting six days, on the thirty-sixth ballot elected Thomas Jefferson President. Aaron Burr was of course elected Vice President. Maryland voted for Burr on the first ballotings, and finally decided the Presidency on the thirty-sixth ballot for Mr. Jefferson.

1804—FIFTH TERM.

Seventeen States, entitled to 176 votes.

CONSTITUTION ALTERED.

President.	Vice President.
Thomas Jefferson	162	George Clinton	162
George Pinckney	14	Rufus King	14

1808—SIXTH TERM.

Seventeen States, entitled to 176 votes.

James Madison	122	George Clinton	113
C. C. Pickney	47	Rufus King	47
George Clinton	6	John Langdon	9
		James Madison	3
		James Monroe	3

One of the votes of Kentucky not given.

1812—SEVENTH TERM.

Eighteen States, entitled to 218 votes.

James Madison	128	Elbridge Gerry	131
De Witt Clinton	89	Jared Ingersoll	86

One of the votes of Ohio not given.

1815—EIGHTH TERM.

Nineteen States, entitled to 221 votes.

James Monroe	183	D. D. Tompkins	183
Rufus King	34	John E. Howard	22
		James Ross	5
		John Marshall	4
		Robert G. Harper	3

Three votes of Maryland and one of the votes of Delaware not given.

1820—NINTH TERM.

Twenty-four States, entitled to 232 votes.

James Monroe	231	D. D. Tompkins	218
J. Q. Adams	1	Richard Stockton	8
		Daniel Rodney	4
		Robert G Harper	1
		Richard Rush	1

1824—TENTH TERM.

Twenty-four States, entitled to 261 votes.

Andrew Jackson	99	John C. Calhoun	183
John Q. Adams	84	Nathan Sanford	80
W. H. Crawford	41	Nathaniel Macon	24
Henry Clay	37	Andrew Jackson	13
		Martin Van Buren	9
		Henry Clay	2

No choice by the people for President. The House of Representatives elected John Q. Adams. One of the votes of Rhode Island for Vice President blank.

1828—ELEVENTH TERM.

Twenty-four States, entitled to 261 votes.

Andrew Jackson	178	John C. Calhoun	171
John Q. Adams	83	Richard Rush	82
		William Smith	7

1832—TWELFTH TERM.

Twenty-four States, entitled to 288 votes.

Andrew Jackson	219	M. Van Buren	189
Henry Clay	48	John Sergeant	49
John Floyd	11	William Wilkins	30
William Wirt	7	Henry Lee	11
		Amos Eilmaker	7

Two of the votes of Maryland were not given; vacancies.

1836—THIRTEENTH TERM.

Twenty-six States, entitled to 294 votes.

M. Van Buren	170	R. M Johnson	147
W. H. Harrison	73	Francis Granger	87
Hugh L. White	26	John Tyler	47
Willie P. Mangum	11	William Smith	23
Daniel Webster	14

R. M. Johnson being tied, the election went to the Senate, where he received 33 votes; Granger 16—3 absent.

1840—FOURTEENTH TERM.

Twenty-six States, entitled to 294 votes.

W. H. Harrison	234	John Tyler	234
M. Van Buren	60	R. M. Johnson	48
		L. W. Tazewell	11
		James K. Polk	1

Gen. Harrison died in office, and was succeeded by John Tyler, April 4, 1841.

1844—FIFTEENTH TERM.

Twenty-six States, entitled to 275 votes.

James K. Polk	170	George M. Dallas	170
Henry Clay	105	Theo. Frelinghuysen	105
		L. W. Tazewell	11
		J. Polk	1

1848—SIXTEENTH TERM.

Thirty States, entitled to 290 votes.

Zachary Taylor	163	Millard Fillmore	163
Lewis Cass	127	William O. Butler	127

Gen. Taylor died in office, and was succeeded by Millard Fillmore, July, 1850.

Martin Van Buren received 291,678 votes in 19 States.

1852—SEVENTEENTH TERM.

Thirty-one States, entitled to 296 votes.

DAILY Morning Chronicle.

PORTSMOUTH:

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 15, 1852.

CUBAN MEETING.

A meeting of 800 Cubans was held in New York City on Monday evening last. Senor Hernandez was chairman, and made an address, in which he stated that the object of the meeting was, to establish a Junta, which is to take the direction of all fillibustering movements, which are to end in revolutionizing and annexing Cuba to the United States.

The election for a member to represent the resident Cubans of New York in the Supreme Revolutionary Junta was then proceeded with, and Senor De Jose E. Hernandez was chosen on the first ballot, having received 51 out of 88 votes.

Signor Melin made a speech, and prefaced his remarks by saying that he once believed that liberty in Cuba was not ripe, and though it were so, that there was not a man worthy of garnering the grain.

He said among other things:

"Let us persevere, let us persevere in this holy cause, and ours will be heaven; Cuba will be ours!

Representatives of the Cubans resident in the land of Washington, and also members of the Revolutionary Liberating Junta of Cuba, in the United States! fulfil your holy mission as Franklin and Lafayette fulfilled theirs. In your hands are the destinies of the Country. You could hardly realize a more beautiful dream. The fate also of half a million of Cubans is vested in you. Illustrious members! Do not confound the most sublime idealism; do not confound the country, before God, with the most abject materialism; do not descend to the mire of transactions with the tyrants,—to the most disgraceful mire of the Oligarchs and Dictators; save unhappy Cuba, and be placed side by side with the father of Liberty, and then—only then, shall you go down to posterity doubly consecrated by the baptismal font, for our coming generations, bringing their children to be made Christians, will give them, for appellations, your immortal names!"

Speeches were made by several other gentlemen and the exercises were continued with much enthusiasm until after midnight. After the adjournment of the meeting the delegates folded their new Cuban flag about Senor Hernandez, representative elect, formed in procession and escorted him to his house, cheering enthusiastically on the way for the independence of Cuba.

The Public Cuban Revolutionary Liberating Junta in the United States, as the organization is termed, consists of the following gentlemen, all of whom have been condemned to death or imprisonment by the Spanish Government: Senores Golcouria, Valente, Betancourt, Arango and Hernandez.

BANNERS.

"We hang our Banner on the outer wall," is an old quotation, which could never be more fitly applied to any time than to the present electioneering campaign. The Boston Times of yesterday says:

"We this day fling another new and splendid flag to the breeze—being the third which we have displayed for the Democratic cause this season. The elements may dash away as they will at this, but we mean to let it fly until Pierce and King be chosen."

And the Times is not alone. Scott and Graham flags are spread in Boston; and the display of Webster bunting is lavish and extravagant all over that rich city. The idea of having a flag fly till certain men are chosen, in spite of elements, is a great one—but some such storms as have been, both atmospheric and popular, would blow the candidates and the flag and the idea all away together. Nevertheless the flags and banners are very gay and lively in appearance—and we shall be sorry to lose sight of them. We have four political flags here; viz., two democratic, one whig, one free soil; all for the Union. Dover sports five; Kittery one or two in sight from here; and no town is too obscure, and no party too poor to spread a few yards of striped bunting, to cheer the hearts of one set of men and strike terror into the hearts of another.—There are probably tens of thousands of them spread over the country.

ACCIDENT FROM BLASTING ROCKS.—The Bangor Whig states that as men were engaged in blasting a ledge in that city on Tuesday afternoon, two or three boys ran down the street towards the ledge, and were struck by the falling rocks. One of the boys, aged nine years, was struck on the head by a large fragment of the ledge, and he died in the evening.—Another was seriously injured in the hip, and another reported injured. The boys were so eager to see the blast, on hearing the horn blown, that they rushed on to destruction against warnings and efforts to stop them.

RAISINS.—The first cargo of Malaga fruit for the season arrived in Boston on Wednesday morning, per bark Mary, and the fruit is not so large as common, but bright and plump. It was sold yesterday, at auction, by John Tyler.

BRIBERY.—The New York Herald publishes a letter from Williams & Lockhart of London, in which was enclosed a Bank of England note for fifty pounds sterling. The letter desires the Herald to oppose Gen. Wallbridge, who is the democratic candidate for Congress in the third district of New York. The Herald spurns the bribe, and speaks favorably of Mr. Wallbridge. Geo. Thompson is named in the letter—and the Herald sees in the whole affair an abolition plot, in which it connects Ex-Gov. Seward & Co.—and makes out on the whole, quite an interesting case.—The editor of the Herald promises to give the £50 to some benevolent object.

SPLENDID ORGAN.—A new organ manufactured by Messrs. Stevens & Co., of Cambridge, has just been set up in the Rev. Mr. Ellis' Church in Charlestown, Mass. The instrument has three banks of keys, and contains 1,800 pipes. Owing to the construction of the organ loft, the shape of the case is nearly square, being seventeen feet high by sixteen and a half wide, and eleven feet deep. The swell is placed in the ceiling above the organ, by which necessary arrangement it is deprived of a considerable portion of its power.

The cost of the instrument was $3000. This organ is one of peculiar richness of tone. Its compass is from C. C. to G. alto. The full force of all the organ is tremendous and grand, at the same time that it is characterized by an admirable blending of the different parts.

DR. BUSHNELL.—The North Church in Hartford, Conn., has withdrawn from the Hartford North Consociation. This is the church of which Rev. Dr. Bushnell is pastor; and it is understood that the church is unanimous in its action in favor of the pastor, who is accused of heresy, but had been acquitted once by a vote of seventeen to three. He was, it seems, about to be tried again, when his church withdrew. The Consociation, in reply, Resolve, That we have heard with surprise and regret the communication from the North Church of Hartford, notifying us that they have withdrawn from this Consociation, and that the action of said church, especially if, as it seems to be the case, it was taken for the purpose of screening their pastor from an expected trial before this body, is in our view irregular, discourteous, and eminently unhappy in its tendency.

☞ Rev. John Pierpont declines the free soil nomination in the fifth district in Massachusetts, for member of Congress. We believe he has not so declined before, when he has been nominated—probably because he has formerly seen no prospect of being elected—but under the new circumstances of the present day he sees his own election possible, and therefore declines.

BANGOR.—Notwithstanding the great emigration to California from that city during a few years past, the Whig states that probably there never was a season in Bangor, when there were more or greater public and private improvements in building, in the cultivation of land and the planting of gardens, &c., than the present season.

☞ Rev. Matthew Hale Smith, Esq., is lecturing in Charlestown, New Bedford and Cambridge, Mass., against the liquor law.—He is to lecture in Cambridge, next Sunday evening. His lecture is spoken of as able, argumentative and popular. He is certainly a man of varied talent.

WHO'S JENKINS?—The Manchester Mirror is desirous to know who the Mr. Jenkins is, that figures in the nomination of the Webster ticket for the Presidency. Perhaps he may be a great man—but people this way know nothing about him.

☞ The Manchester Daily and Weekly Mirror, and job printing establishment, is to be sold at Auction by the proprietors, on Tuesday, the 19th instant.

WEBSTER MOVEMENTS.—The Webster men of New York have nominated an electoral ticket. The electors at large are Frederick B. Backus of Rochester, and B. Davis Noxon of Syracuse. Several thousand names had been obtained, pledged to vote for Mr. Webster, before the ticket was formed.

One Hundred Guns were fired on Boston Common yesterday at 12 o'clock, in honor of the New York Webster electoral ticket.

It was reported on Wednesday afternoon that Mr. Webster was dangerously sick with the diarrhœa, at Marshfield.—Boston Post.

☞ Gen. Scott was at Niagara on the 13th, and left for Rochester via Lockport.

A Ten Hour Convention is to be held in Fitchburg, Mass., during the present week.

GENEROUS.—Engine company No. 2, of Chelsea, have voted $100 to Mr. Estee, the injured fireman.

Francisco and Rosa Madiai of Florence, at the age of fifty years, have been condemned for reading the gospel, to four years at the galleys. Their Prince has rejected their appeal for mercy.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

Reported for the Daily Morning Chronicle.

City Council—Oct. 14.

In the board of Aldermen, a petition was received from Rev. Daniel Austin, asking privilege of erecting a gas lamp over his front gate, in Court street, and requesting the city to accept the same as one of the city lamps. The number and location of the street lamps being established, the petitioner was allowed to withdraw his petition.

Bills passed for the payment of the fire department, City Clerk, School Houses, Highways, Watchmen and Printing.

Voted, That the Marshal be directed to enforce the resolution passed October 7th, respecting the division fence between the land of Charles Robinson, Esq., and the Court House yard, which required the closing of the gate and preventing the use of the city land. Adjourned.

VALUABLE POLITICAL TABLE.—On our first page to day, is a political table, of much interest to all who like to look back over the political field and see what has been done in all our presidential elections. The table is a work of some care and labor. We copy it from the New York Herald.

EVENING SCHOOL.—The opening of the Free Evening School will be postponed until further notice, on account of the Cameneum being engaged for another purpose.

☞ Mr. John T. Swift, Esq., of Cambridge, Mass., will address the Free Democracy at the Temple in this city, next Tuesday evening, the 19th inst.

INGENIOUS.—Yesterday we saw in the window of Mr. Supply Ham & Son's shop a watch guard composed of the various tools, in miniature, used by machinists, consisting of a vice, the jaws of which were one-quarter of an inch long, a jam (screw) plate, hammer, callipers, square, &c., all in working order, and made of finely tempered steel. It was made by Mr. Geo. Foss, a machinist at the Steam Factory, while recovering from a fever, and evinces great skill and ingenuity.

SINGULAR.—We were shown a lock of hair a few days since, measuring two feet in length, clipped from the head of a woman nearly eighty years of age, a resident of this city. It was of a beautiful dark brown color, very glossy, and contained not a single grey spear. There are many younger misses who would envy such locks.

TWO TRAINS AND A HALF.—It will be seen, by a notice in this mornings Chronicle, that the first morning train from this city on the Concord Railroad is not to run through—but only to New Market, after this week.

WOODBURY LIGHT GUARDS.—This company will visit Newburyport and Amesbury to-day. They leave for Newburyport in the quarter to 11 o'clock train, to be absent two days.

WAKING UP.—A large number of Democrats paraded our streets last evening, accompanied by a drum and fife, and cheering most vociferously for their late victories. A similar band was out the evening previous.

FOR LIVERPOOL.—The steamship Canada, Capt. Lang, sailed from Boston on Wednesday for Liverpool, via Halifax, with twenty-nine passengers for the former and forty-one for the latter port. She carries out $320,000 in American gold. Among the passengers is the Rev. Solomon Peck, D. D., bearer of despatches.

CALIFORNIA PARAGRAPHS.

The overland immigration was coming in very rapidly, and generally in good health.—Great complaints were made respecting the manner in which the agents of the relief train were acting towards them. They would give no relief except in certain cases, and charged exorbitant prices for everything, such as ten cents for a drink of water, or a dollar for a pailful. They were also purchasing the immigrants' horses and stock for nothing. An inquiry was to be instituted in the matter.

Wm. A. Cornwall, private secretary of Gov. Bigler, made a brutal assault on Col. Russell, editor of the Sacramento Union, recently at Los Angelos. He attacked him with a pistol and bowie knife, and wounded him severely in the neck. Cornwall shot himself in the foot. Russell is recovering.

A man named Jas. Turner, who carried despatches for Gen. Taylor between Point Isabel and Fort Brown at the breaking out of the Mexican war, was killed in Stockton, by one Wm. Turner.

A party of 60 Frenchmen are about forming a company on the Gila River. The Government of Sonora will grant them lands, furnish them with beasts of burden, and provisions to last 6 months. The place where they design settling is considered the richest in the country. The only drawback being Indians, who are numerous in that region; but the Indians will not make much of the French, as it was well tested in an engagement a few days previous, when the French defeated the Indians, killed four, and took fifty horses and one prisoner, who, in the absence of lead, had used silver bullets.

The crops looked exceedingly well; but when harvested they are stolen or burned by the Apaches. They even carry their depredations so far as to steal woman and children.

Musical Notice.

THOS. P. MOSES,

HAVING reasons for changing his intentions in regard to leaving Portsmouth permanently at present, respectfully acquaints the Musical public that he will continue to teach Vocal and Instrumental Music as usual. His office No. 4 Exchange Buildings—residence 12 High street.

Mr. Moses will teach evening adult classes in Sacred and Secular Music the coming winter.—Also Juvenile classes as usual at his Music Room Wednesday and Saturday afternoons at 2½ o'clock to commence in November.

For Piano instruction and select Singing $10, 24 lessons. Flute do., single pupils $10.

In connection with Music, Mr. M. intends also, in a few months to give lessons in sketching from nature, and in Crayon drawing on marble board, which is fast becoming the most fashionable and beautiful of all drawings. He hopes his young friends will be pleased to await his commencement, when he will aid them to make rapid advancement in this exquisite branch of human accomplishment.

LATEST NEWS!

STATE ELECTIONS.

OHIO ELECTION.

Cleveland, Oct. 14.

Five towns in Georgia Co., 19th district, give the following vote for Congress—E. Wade, Freesoil, 690—Wm. Chase, Whig, 592—Hiram P. Wilson, Democrat, 333. Wade is believed elected by about 50 majority.

Additional returns from Ashtabula Co. elect Joshua Giddings, Freesoil, to Congress by some 300 majority. The Whig vote in this county is increased over 500.

Second Despatch. Columbus, 14th.—The State Journal of this morning announces that partial returns indicate the election of the Democratic candidate for the Judge of the Supreme Court, and also a Democratic board of public works.

From the first Congregational district the returns show the re-election of Disney, Dem., by 600 majority.

In the 2d District, Harrison, Whig, re-elected. In the 3d, Campbell, Whig, is elected by about 100 majority. In the 10th, Taylor, Whig, is elected. Gallaway, Whig, beats Olds, Dem., in the 12th by about 15.

The general complexion of the returns thus far show a considerable Whig gain, though those yet to come in may change the aspect very materially.

Washington, Oct. 14th.—A despatch received in this city at noon, dated Columbus, says the Democratic majority on State Ticket in Ohio, will reach 20,000.

PENNSYLVANIA ELECTION.

Philadelphia, Oct. 14.

Schuylkill elects D. W. Straule, Democrat for Congress. The Democrats have gained 2 Congressmen, and the additional returns received make it pretty certain that the State has gone Democratic by at least 12,000 majority.

A SWIFT OCEAN STEAMER.—The London News says there is now not the slightest doubt but what a steamer is afloat that will run four thousand miles in a fortnight, and that that steamer is the La Plata.

At 3 30 P. M., on the 17th of August last, the La Plata cast off from the buoy opposite Netley Abbey, in Southampton Water, with nearly 1,400 tons of coal on board, besides cargo, passengers, and mails. She was detained on the passage by some little accidents, about 8 hours.

She entered St. Thomas at 6 45 P. M., on the 30th ult., and considering the difference of time at Southampton and St. Thomas, and the accidental delay of the voyage, the whole distance was traversed in a little more than 12 days. She consumed 1,194 tons of coal on her voyage, and had 200 tons left when she reached St. Thomas. She experienced favorable winds, but her sails were scarcely ever of any avail, as she outstripped the wind, or steamed at an equal rate with it.

Three hundred miles a day in a steamer is a good run, and the La Plata can do it with ease.

Gov. Troupe, of Georgia, has accepted the nomination of the State Rights Convention for the Presidency. His Montgomery friends are much elated.

NEWFOUNDLAND TELEGRAPH.—The Newfoundland Electric Telegraph Co. have purchased, at Philadelphia, a steam propeller yacht, with which it is purposed to board the European steamers bound to the United States, while passing in the vicinity of Newfoundland, and procure from them the foreign news, for transmission over their wires for the newspaper press, and by this means anticipate the arrival of the steamers.

The fashion of inducing persons to visit houses of ill-fame, and then robbing them, is now very common in this city. As we have before stated, there are upwards of one hundred dance cellars in this city, where this crime is almost mightly committed, besides many cribs of another class, in our streets, where men are decoyed and robbed.—Boston Herald.

Liquor is now sent from Boston to Providence in bond, and stored in the custom house there, and can be taken out when wanted, by paying the duties. This greatly annoys the friends of the Maine law.—Boston Post.

A letter from California to the Boston Transcript says that the mines will pay the industrious laborer at least $2 per day for the next half century, and there is room for a farming population of 2,000,000.

THE ROGER WILLIAMS
COOKING STOVE,
FOR WOOD OR COAL.

TO ALL IN WANT OF COOK STOVES.

As there can be but one best kind of Cooking Stove, and that having been satisfactorily proved to be the Roger Williams, by the working of some twenty-seven hundred now in use in New England,—the subscriber now offers for sale 6 sizes of this beautiful pattern for wood or coal. It is believed shat this stove combines all the useful improvements that skill can invent, and is by far the most perfect cooking stove ever sold in Portsmouth.

And although its price is somewhat higher than some stoves offered in this market of late. it is believed to be much the cheapest in the end. It is a beautiful model; with fine smooth Providence castings, fitted together in the most substantial manner. Every stove is warranted for twelve months, and if its operation is not satisfactory,the money will be refunded.

Also for sale, a variety of PARLOR, OFFICE and SHOP STOVES, which are offered low

MUSICAL ENTERTAINMENT,

BY THE PEAK FAMILY,

AS VOCALISTS
AND SWISS BELL RINGERS,
AT THE TEMPLE, PORTSMOUTH,
THURSDAY EVENING, Oct. 21.

THE Vocal Performances of this Family, with the Chime of fifty-six Bells, and a heavy Instrumental Accompaniment, are highly pleasing and instructive, exhibiting the perfection to which the beautiful science of Music can be carried by close application and persevering industry.

The beauty and splendor of the entertainment consists in the harmonious commingling of the voice with the bells—a feature entirely new in this country, and original with Mr. Peak. The effect in the choruses is most powerful, calling forth the loudest applause wherever it has been witnessed.

Doors open at 7 o'clock. To commence at 8 of 8. TICKETS 15 cts., to be obtained at the stores of Wm. R. Preston and Jos. Heyan Dutcher.

LOUIS NAPOLEON'S MARRIAGE.— This coming event casts various shadows before it. Among others, in the Courier d' Etats Unis, M. Gaillardet writes as as follows:

"I have already told you, and I have it from a reliable source, that the marriage of the President with the princess of Wasa would meet with no serious difficulty in the family of the latter. I have now to tell you on the other hand, that the proposed marriage has met with but little favor from the family of Louis Napoleon. His uncle, the Ex-King Jerome, has strenuously opposed it, thus renewing, though perhaps unintentionally, the ancient feud which existed under the Empire between the members of the Bonaparte family and those of the Beauharnais f mily; of which latter the princess Wasa is a descendant. The Ex-King Jerome, having in view the error which his brother of imperial memory had committed by taking a wife from abroad, has advised his nephew to marry one of the young girls educated at the national establishment of the Legion of Honor. 'Choose her well constituted, and surrounded with as few relations as possible,' might have said the old marshal, 'and it will be the most suitable and politic marriage for a democratic emperor.'

Though there may be many obstacles to the realization of this plan, it cannot be denied that in a popular point of view it would possess immense advantages. It would be a truly national marriage, which would give to the Napoleon dynasty a sort of democratic consecration."

PERU ON ITS OWN GUANO.—Will the Peruvians show fight in case Jonathan should proceed to occupy the Lobos Islands? Perhaps; and prove troublesome customers; as the ordinary "rooster," though elsewhere he may succumb to the game-cock, is proverbially apt to display plenty of combativeness on his own domain—that mound of fertilizing substance with which guano may be considered intrinsically identical.—Punch.

HAYNAU AND HISTORY.—Haynau, not long ago, expressed himself to the effect that he left the vindication of his character to "History." This we submit to be a delusion of the General's. He has observed how history has recorded the career of "Whittington," and thinks he, too, will be held in honor from his association with the "Cat!"—Punch.

NOTICE TO GROCERS.

ON Account of the unexpected demand for Mrs. SMITH'S KILN-DRIED YEAST. I have been unable to offer it to the trade to any extent, but now having made arrangements for a constant supply, I am prepared to supply Grocers and others with any quantity, by the dozen or otherwise.

THIS YEAST has been thoroughly tested by housekeepers most experienced in such matters, who, without exception, pronounce it the BEST, MOST CONVENIENT, AND RELIABLE ARTICLE ever introduced for raising bread;—far surpassing even the best hop yeast.

GROCERS in this town, Manchester, and many other places, are now selling large quantities every week.

D. D. GARLAND,
General Agent, Concord, N. H.

☞ ORDERS solicited from Grocers and others, which will be promptly attended to on very favorable terms.

THE IMPROVED
EMPIRE STATE STOVE.

THIS justly celebrated COOKING STOVE having been improved in every way it could be to make its operations more complete, and its plates beautifully ornamented—no expense, time or trouble having been spared to make this the most complete Cooking Stove ever brought before the public—the subscriber feels assured in warranting the IMPROVED EMPIRE STATE superior to any stove in the market, as hundreds can testify who have used them for the past year.

This Stove has a very LARGE OVEN, which makes it desirable on account of doing more cooking with the same amount of fuel than can be done in any other stove. The flues are large, which ensures a good draft in all cases. The castings are very heavy and smooth, and those parts that come next the fire are extra thick, making it very durable. It is adapted to the use of either coal or wood, and we warrant them to operate as well with one as the other. We furnish them with the very best apparatus; and, altogether, it is the MOST DURABLE, ECONOMICAL and CONVENIENT COOKING STOVE ever made—complete in every respect. We ask the attention of all persons intending to purchase a new, or exchange their old stoves, to an examination of the Improved Empire State.

We have also on hand a variety of other Cooking Stoves, called the "Banner," "Bell of the State," "King of the States," "Bay State," "Anglo Saxon," "Pearl of Troy," &c.; with a large lot of PARLOR STOVES, such as the Revere Air-Tight, Star, Revere Parlor Cook, Lady Franklin, for Wood or Coal; Shop, Office and Air-Tight Stoves, of different sizes and prices for either wood or coal.

Also an extensive assortment of HOUSEKEEPING GOODS; Wooden, Willow, Glass, Britannia, Japan, Tin, Hard, Enamel, and Brass Ware; Copper, Cast Iron, and Chain Pumps; Window-Shads, Table Oil-cloths, &c.

All the above goods will be sold lower than can be bought elsewhere in this vicinity.

HIRAM JONES, 61 Market street,
s27 Portsmouth, N. H.

WHAT-CHEER STOVE.

THE WHAT-CHEER COAL COOKING STOVE, of which the above cut is a true representation, now offered for sale by the subscribers, is acknowledged by all who have examined it to be the best and most economical Coal Stove ever offered to the public.

The castings are heavy, smooth, and very handsome. The Broiling apparatus is a great improvement over all other Stoves, being constructed in such a manner as to prevent the steam from escaping into the room when cooking.

All persons wishing to purchase a COAL COOKING STOVE, are respectfully requested to call and examine the same. Every Stove warranted to work well, or no sale.

We have also a large assortment of COOKING, PARLOR and STORE STOVES, &c.—for sale cheap for Cash at our Store,

Corner of State and Water streets,
s27 ANDERSON & EMERY.

The Bay State Stove,
FOR WOOD OR COAL.

THE subscriber, in offering this favorite Stove to the public, the present season, would state that a new covered Broiling Apparatus has been added, the flues enlarged for burning anthracite coal, and the Stove otherwise improved—and is now put into the market as in the world. The castings are heavier, more beautiful and durable; the stove has a larger oven, will bake better and with less fuel, than any other stove in use.

These stoves are made from pure metal and are not liable to crack; and we furnish every stove with the best of apparatus—Copper Boiler, &c., and warrant them a year; and if any part proves defective it will be made good without charge.

Persons wishing to obtain a good Stove, will do well to buy a BAY STATE. They have been in operation in this city for four years past, and have given perfect satisfaction. For sale at the Store of the subscriber, where may be found a large assortment of COOKING, PARLOR AND OFFICE STOVES, TIN WARE, FUNNEL, &c. for sale cheap for cash. E. A. STEVENS.

C. C. JACKSON and JOSEPH D. AKERMAN, having entered into copartnership for the purpose, give notice that they will continue, under the firm name of JACKSON & CO., the business formerly carried on by WALKER & JACKSON, and respectfully request the patronage of the public.

Leave Portsmouth daily at 7 and 10½ o'clock, A. M., and Boston at 5 o'clock, P. M.

We shall continue to run our Express Car for the transportation of small freight, which shall be delivered as cheap as can be done by any other conveyance.

Personal and prompt attention will be given to collecting Notes, Drafts and Bills, or paying the same.

California Drafts collected if desired.

Bills of Exchange on Ireland or England, from one pound up, procured at short notice.

Passages engaged from Liverpool to Boston or New York.

The purchase or sale of Railroad, Bank or oth er stocks attended to promptly.

Gold Dust forwarded to the Mint, and prompt returns made. C. C. JACKSON, a2 JOSEPH D. AKERMAN.

THE SABBATH BELL.

BY ELIZA COOK.

Peal on, peal on—I love to hear
The old church ding-dong, soft and clear!
The welcome sounds are doubly blest
With future hope and earthly rest;
Yet were no calling changes found
To spread their cheering echoes round,
There's not a place where man may dwell
But he can hear the Sabbath bell.

Go to the woods when winter's song
Howls like a famished wolf along,
Or when the south winds scarcely turn
The light leaves of the trembling fern—
Although no cloister-chimes ring there,
The heart is called to faith and prayer;
For all Creation's voices tell
The tidings of the Sabbath bell.

Go to the billows: let them pour
In gentle calm or headlong roar;
Let the vast ocean be thy home,
Thou'lt find a God upon the foam;
In rippling swell or stormy roll,
The crystal waves shall wake thy soul,
And thou shalt feel the hallowed spell
Of the wide water's Sabbath bell.

The lark upon his skyward way,
The robin on the hedgeway spray,
The bee within the wild thyme's bloom,
The owl amid the cypress gloom;
All sing, to every varied tone,
A vesper to the great Unknown;
Of God's unnumbered Sabbath bells.

RELIGIOUS INTELLIGENCE.

THE TRIAL OF BISHOP DOANE.—The New York Times gives the following incident, said to have occured at Camden, as showing the state of feeling existing between the parties:

When it was determined by the Court to remove to Burlington, Bishop Burgess hoped that no members of the Court would suffer themselves to be the guests of the accused Bishop. Bishop Doane immediately said, that he presumed his Right Rev. Brother, when making the remark, could not have remembered that he, Bishop Doane, was the guest of Bishop Onderdonk during his trial. Bishop Burgess replied, that he had it in his mind at the moment. Whereupon Bishop Doane rejoined, that he could not, under such circumstances, but consider the remark as a gross outrage and insult, such as he would not say no Christian Bishop, and no Christian gentleman, but no man could listen to without indignation—that he could therefore have nothing further to say to Bishop Burgess.

"Rt. Rev., the Bishop (Burgess) of Maine, in his address before the late convention of that Diocese, states the following fact: 'On Thursday, the 9th of October, I laid the corner stone of Grace Church, Bath, with appropriate solemnities and an address. The past year has brought to light the fact that almost within sight of that spot; the colony under Popham, in 1807, actually built within their fort a rude church; and has also disclosed the name of Richard Seymour, a clergyman of the Church of England, who accompanied that colony, and performed the first religious worship ever known in New England. A singular interest was added to our services by recollections like these."

GERRIT SMITH has been accused, by a Mr. Hine, of Cincinnati, of being a land-monopolist, as unfit to be voted for as a slaveholder, he holding 600,000 acres, and thus deprives the State of 12,000 independent families, numbering 60,000 persons! besides owning five farms. To this Mr. S. replies; "You have been misinformed. You believe that I own six hundred thousand acres of land. It is true, that after my father's death I found myself to be the owner of nearly a million of acres of land. But, long since, I had rid myself of almost all of it. In what way it was that I rid myself of a considerable share of it, is for others, (for several thousands of poor people,) and not for myself, to publish."

NEW BEDFORD PORT SOCIETY.—It is contemplated to dissolve and abandon this excellent society. The Mercury says; "After the very liberal, and we may say munificent donation received by the association last year, which resulted in the establishment of the "Sailor's Home," the proposition certainly comes to us unexpectedly. If the city of New Bedford cannot, with all its wealth drawn directly from the sea, sustain one society for the social melioration of the sailor, and one church for his religious instruction, then but little may be expected of her in any department of progress, or any form of improvement."

REVEREND A. CAMPBELL, father of the Campbellites at the West, maintains that Gospel institutions as clearly, fully, and authoritatively sanction the relation of master and slave as that of matrimony; and that a man is no more to be censured for owning a slave, than for owning a wife, son, or daughter.

A CLERGYMAN, in Zion's Herald, states that spirit rapping is of late assuming an aspect frightful to all lovers of evangelical religion. It is leading on with its specious illusions, step by step, its unsuspecting victims into a dark and dismal field, from which we apprehend few if any of them will ever return.

INSTALLATION AT PROVIDENCE.—Services of the Installation of Rev. E. A. Eaton over the First Universalist Society in Providence, R. I., took place in their church on Wednesday, 13th inst., at 2 o'clock, P. M. Sermon by Rev. E. H. Chapin of New York.

CONVERSION.—Lyman W. Case, Esq., Counsellor-at-Law, was received into the Catholic Church on the 13th ult., at Winsted, Conn., by Rev. Thomas Quinn, pastor of that place.

FATAL RESULT OF GAMBLING.—The weekly report of deaths last week, records one suicide. The victim was a young man, 22 years of age, who returned to his home late on the night of the 2d inst., taking immediately before or after reaching his home, a quantity of laudanum. Previous to retiring, he called up his mother and informed her what he had done, but, in order to prevent her sending for a physician, he assured her that he had not taken sufficient quantity of laudanum to kill him. It was not long, however, before the mother ascertained that she had been deceived. A physician was sent for, but the fatal drug had done its work. Notwithstanding every effort was made to save the life of the young man, he died before morning. For about two months previous to his death, the deceased had been in the habit of visiting some one of the many gambling houses in this city, had become infatuated with the game, lost large sums of money, and, at last, in a moment of desperation, committed the act we have recorded.—Boston Post.

DAILY
Morning Chronicle.
PORTSMOUTH:
SATURDAY, OCTOBER 16, 1852.

GOODS FROM ENGLAND.

It appears by a letter from Messrs. Brown, Shipley & Co., of Liverpool, that the quantity of goods shipped per steamers for Canada via Boston, is large and increasing, so that many goods for Boston, ordered by steamer, cannot be sent. The whole intercourse between the countries is rapidly on the increase. B. S. & Co. say of the Canada:

"She arrived on Sunday morning, 26th, and only commenced taking goods yesterday, but there were so many alongside this morning, [28th,] that they have commenced numbering the shipping notes as the goods are sent down, taking them in rotation, and the chances are that all that were not sent down yesterday will be shut out, or, at all events, that only a few of those sent to-day will be taken, while we shall be receiving advices of goods all the week and up to the last moment, which there will not be the most remote chance of getting shipped. We shall, therefore, have no alternative, unless we are instructed to the contrary, but to hold them over for the next Boston steamer, and endeavor to get them down in time to insure their going by her; but even this is not always in our power to do—as where so many are left behind, every one is anxious to have their goods down first, and it is quite a race which shall do it; and on some occasions the steamers have received as many as would fill them in a few hours. You will, therefore, be easily able to judge of the troubles and difficulties we have in getting the Boston goods off by steamers."

POSTAGE STAMP ENVELOPES.—We learn by the National Intelligencer, that the Postmaster General has accepted the proposal of Mr. George F. Nesbitt, of New York, to furnish the Department with the Postage Stamp Envelopes authorized by the late session of Congress. They will consist of three sizes—note, letter, and official. The denominations will be three, six, and twenty-four cents—the latter intended for foreign correspondence.—They are to be self sealing, and bear a stamp resembling the English stamped envelopes.—As the dies are not yet prepared, and the paper is to be manufactured exclusively for this purpose, the envelopes will not probably be put in circulation before the first of next January.

OFFENDED DIGNITY.—On Thursday evening, the Boston Common Council had a warm debate, on a proposed order "That a Committee of three be appointed by this Board, to inquire and report by what authority the Grand Jury of the county of Suffolk made a recent official visit to Deer Island, and presented to the City Council the city buildings there as being in bad condition."

It was finally laid on the table, as it ought to be, 18 to 14. They then passed another order, appropriating $1500 to improve the buildings, 22 to 20. The foreign pauper bill in Boston is very heavy.

DEMOCRATIC ANTI-RENTERS.—An Albany dispatch says, the Anti-Rent Convention adopted the resolution nominating the Democratic ticket, after a warm and spirited debate, amidst great confusion and disorder. Several delegates protested and left the Convention, which, after appointing the state Committee, adjourned in great uproar.

NEW WRAPPING PAPER.—The Editor of the Scientific American has received a piece of paper from W. Boyd, Esq., of Haggerstown, Md., which is made of the refuse leather scrappings from curriers' shops. For wrapping paper it is excellent, quite equal in strength to the strong, dark brown paper so common in England, which is made from old tarred ropes, and it is much cleaner.

☞ The Railroad Accident at Meredith, has been the subject of investigation by the Directors of the road, as there is no coroner in Belknap County. It appears that the train did not stop to take tickets, and did not stop voluntarily for any purpose; but the coupling broke, and the cars stopped of course. The principal fault seems to have been that the trains followed each other too soon.

SCARCITY OF PAPER IN CALIFORNIA.—There is a great scarcity of printing paper in California. The San Francisco Journal says—"The papers from the interior come to us varied in hue as was Joseph's coat. The Shasta Courier is grizzly grey; the Mountain Echo, slightly sunburned; the Marysville papers, one of them a bright, the other a dingy, brown; the State Journal of Sacramento is dark, stiff and heavy, but the Sacramento Union continues to reach us on good white paper, manufactured of four sheets of paper, the size of ordinary foolscap, pasted together; an evidence, we take it, of decided enterprise."

SALE OF CATTLE.—The entire stock of the valuable herd of George Vail, of Troy, comprising 61 head, was sold on Wednesday last, for an aggregate of $10,000. For the Yanless Cow $670, and for the imported Bull, Earl Derby, $570 was paid.

Signora Biscaccianti intends to quit San Francisco on a tour to Valparaiso, Callao, and other South American cities.

KING SOLOMON.

BY UNCLE TOBY.—CHAPTER II.

Solomon was a poet and a judge, and remains eminent in both professions. Literary men sometimes speak of poetical justice, by which they mean equivocal justice, that is no justice at all. By it a man is praised or dispraised, far above or below his real merits or demerits, according to the poet's fancy, or the exigency of his rhymes, or sometimes of his prejudices or his poverty. Solomon, however, though he was a poet, set poesy aside and dealt in stern reality and sober fact when he sat on the judgment seat. His decision in the memorable case of the two women, each of whom claimed the maternity of the same child, is well known, and has always been admired as a specimen of keen discrimination and of insight into human character. His promptness and decision in the cases of Adonijah, Abiathar and Joab, are rarely spoken of, but show him to be the judge and ruler who saw through the different cases and decided as by intuition. And in the case of Shimei, the crafty and deceitful Benjamite, who cursed David when he fled from Absalom, but fell on his knees before him when Absalom was dead, Solomon put him to the proof in the way which betrayed his character once more, and sealed his ruin. The instances named of his judgment are few, and it may be said, favorable, but they show principles plainly; and in the book of Proverbs some of the best maxims of judgment appear, never marred in a single instance, by any thing false or doubtful in that regard.

He was the son of David; and David, as a judge, was commonly both righteous and shrewd in judgment. Solomon may fairly be supposed to have inherited soundness of judgment from his illustrious progenitor. It is worthy of remark, in this connexion, that Solomon was a son of David's mature age, when his judgment had been chastened, and after he had pronounced judgment against himself under the impression produced by the ingenious parable of Nathan the Prophet, how told him "Thou art the man!" Parental occupation, as well as traits and habits, in such a case, may be supposed to be transmissible; and indeed we must suppose this, unless we mean to break down our own rule when we come by and by to speak of the descent of Rehoboam the silly from Solomon the wise.

Solomon was also a poet by birth, as well as by education. David, the sweet psalmist of Israel, the cunning player on the harp, the disperser of the evil spirits that brooded over Saul, was the author of the most sublime devotional lyric poetry which is now sung in both the Jewish and Christian Churches.—How much or how little devotional poetry Solomon wrote, we do not know; but are informed that his songs were a thousand and five, of which only one is known to be extant, entitled "the Song of Songs, which is Solomon's." It is a highly finished amatory poem, eminently artistic and oriental. The imagery of the poem displays the affluence of his learning, the richness of his imagination, and his remarkable gift of language. His taste, like his manner of living, was oriental; and he shows it in this book. Nor let it be thought strange, that we attribute the propensities here hinted at, to his parents, David and Bathsheba. Does any one marvel that David's departure from the primitive pattern of domestic life, was reproduced in an exaggerated form in Solomon? No good physiologist will do so. Neither will any such wonder that the tastes of the son showed a likeness of those of both parents, with stronger lines, brighter colors, and deeper shades than either.

Solomon, the Judge and the Poet, was the true and legitimate Son and Heir of David the King and the Psalmist.

MUCH ADO ABOUT NOTHING.—A dispute has arisen in the Bonaparte family, as to who has the best right to inherit the throne of Napoleon. Some weeks ago, Jerome, as President of the Senate, gave a dinner to the Ministers in Paris, when the conversation turned, as a matter of course, on the great topic of the day—the re-establishment of the Empire, and the plan to be adopted with respect to the hereditary succession. The ex-King is reported to have said—

"The Empire cannot be constituted without me. I am the presumptive heir to the throne. I am very anxious for the establishment of the Empire, and I am quite willing to come after the President; but on the conditions on which the Empire is to be established, I do not wish for it. The Empire, without glory, and without constitutional liberty, cannot have any duration. I can understand a temporary dictatorship, but I cannot comprehend how an absolute Empire is to be established."

An Imperial Crown is doubtless a very fine head-dress; but in France, there is some danger that a revolution "some day next week" will take it off—and possibly carry the head along with it.

THE IRON DUKE.—It is said the Duke of Wellington died in consequence of dining too heartily on venison. A New York paper adds:—"Doubtless a judgment on him for his ardent support of the oppressive game laws."

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

☞ Rev. C. H. Webster, of East Boston, will preach in the Universalist Church to-morrow.

Mr. Webster will also lecture on Temperance, in the evening, at the Temple.

NAMED.—The new ship launched at Geo. Raynes' yard, is named the Orient. She is owned by Messrs. Spofford, Tillston & Co. and Capt. F. M. French of New York, with the builder.

☞ A beautiful snow-storm, the first of the season, came upon us yesterday. Every thing is beautiful in its season. And the Granite State abounds in such beauties—not always so early as the middle of October, however.

Dr. Charles Decatur, from Portsmouth, N. H., died at San Francisco, on the 15th ultimo, of apoplexy,—so say the papers.

We suppose it to be Mr. Charles D. Cater, of this city, who was sometimes styled Doctor and generally called Decatur.

MILITARY SPIRIT.—The Woodbury Light Guards, Capt. Leverton, of this city, turned out yesterday morning in the storm of rain and snow, and went off in the second train on an excursion to Newburyport. The day was quite favorable for "enduring hardness as good soldiers"—but not a choice day for a dress parade.

The Light Guards returned to this city last evening.

MORE LIGHT.

Messrs. Editors:—I perceive by your paper of yesterday morning, that the City Fathers in Council, gave leave for Rev. Daniel Austin to withdraw his petition for liberty to erect a gas lantern in front of his house on Court Street. Of the principle on which they reject the prayer, I do not complain—because if every able citizen erected a lantern before his door, the city could not very well afford to pay for so much gas as would be consumed. But in the case of this particular lantern, though the petition is to be now withdrawn, I hope it will be presented hereafter, to the present or some future Council, and the prayer granted—for a light there would be visible through the whole of a long, narrow, dark street, viz. Fleet street, besides lighting an important part of Court street—and in Court time, especially, would be very valuable.

NOCTES.

For the Chronicle.

MACKEREL FISHERY.

The schooner Eliza arrived at this port on the 13th, from the Bay of St. Lawrence, with 330 barrels mackerel, a good lot considering the unusual difficulties of the season. The Captain, Andrew Frisbee, Jr., reports about the same as Capt. Lawry and others, in regard to the aggressions on the part of her Britannic Majesty's royal steamships and cutters, the officers of which have been so faithful in more than carrying out the instructions of their government in persecuting and annoying our fishing vessels in every way possible, that they deserve to be promoted, and it is hoped that her Royal Highness will consider the brave exploits of her servants that merit such distinction.

O. E. T.

STATE OF NEW HAMPSHIRE.

A PROCLAMATION

For a Day of Thanksgiving and Praise.

BY THE GOVERNOR.

Another seed-time has come and passed; another harvest has been gathered, fraught with the blessings of adequate plenty.

The great Father of all has continued his favors unto us, without restriction or adjustment to our merited deserts.

We are the continued recipients of his smiles and his bounty, blessed as individuals, and as a State, in all our relations.

The inestimable rights of freedom, religious and civil, are by us fully enjoyed; while moral culture, intellectual progress, and enlightened enterprise, mark and give character to our population.

These are benefactions not to be forgotten or disregarded, by rational and accountable beings; but acknowledged with grateful hearts and a full appreciative sense of the source from which they flow.

God is good, and great, and merciful; and man should be grateful, humble, and thankful.

To the end that the people of this State, may have an opportunity to express, in a congregated manner, their sense of the multiplied and unmerited favors they have received from our Heavenly Father, during the past year—I do, with the advice of the Council, appoint THURSDAY, the eleventh day of November next, to be observed as a day of Thanksgiving and Praise throughout the State.

May the day be unreservedly devoted to the purposes for which it has been set apart; may the incense of true praise and thankfulness ascend from every altar, and fireside, and heart, in the State; and may an entire perception of our dependence, and the changeless care and preservation of the Almighty, prevade and fill every bosom.

Given at the Council Chamber, in Concord, on the fourteenth day of October, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and fifty-two, and of the Independence of the United States the seventy-seventh.

NOAH MARTIN.

By His Excellency the Governor, with advice of Council.

JOHN L. HADLEY, Sec. of State.

LATEST NEWS!

STATE ELECTIONS.

PENNSYLVANIA ELECTION.

Twelfth District—The probability is that Wright, Democrat, is elected over Fuller, Whig, for Congress. Columbia gives Wright 570, and Wyoming, 224 majority; Luzerne gives Fuller 277, and Moreton 414, with four townships to hear from.

MEADVILLE, Pa., Oct. 14.—Erie county, towns are all heard from. The whole Whig ticket is elected. In the 25th district Dick, Whig, is elected to Congress by over 1000 majority.

OHIO ELECTION.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 14.—Olds, Democrat, for Congress, is elected in the Columbus district by 50 majority.

The following are Whig majorities: Clark county 1300, Champaigne 500, Boorgan 300, Muskingum 650, Gurnsey 260, Marion 111, Belmont 53, Gallia 443, Clinton 367, Montgomery (official) 233. The Democrats have a majority of 30 in Morrow. The Whigs regard the returns as favorable.

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—The despatch from Cleveland, stating that Ohio had gone for the Democrats by 20,000 majority, is presumed to be correct, though the returns received here do not justify it, and it is not from our regular correspondent.

COLUMBUS, Oct. 15.—The Democratic majority for Judge of the Supreme Court is estimated at not less than 15,000. The Congressional delegation stands, 13 Democrats, 4 Whigs, 2 Free Soil.

INDIANA.—South Bend, Indiana, Oct. 14.—Joseph A. Wright, the Democratic candidate for Governor, is elected by over 12,000 majority.

FLORIDA.—Savannah, Oct. 13.—Further returns from Florida confirm the reports of the state having gone Democratic.

THE LOBOS GUANO.—The Panama Herald relates the circumstances of the visit of the ship Manlius to the Lobos Islands. The account contradicts in material particulars that before published. As soon as the Captain of the ship was notified that he was prosecuting an illegitimate trade, he withdrew and requested a charter party to load with guano on account of the Peruvian Government—a request which was readily granted.

BALLAD AND BALLOT MUSIC.—A concert was given on Thursday evening, by Mr. Dempster, at Concord, which was attended by Gen. Frank. Pierce. During the evening the Democrats determined on having a political demonstration, with bands of music, &c. to rejoice over the election news just received; and learning the whereabouts of their candidate, they proceeded to the hall and called him out, and bore him away amidst the greatest enthusiasm. However inclined the General's ear for the "rich brogue" of the Scotch ballads, with their plaintive music, he doubtless experienced much satisfaction at the somewhat rude kindness of his friends in thus abruptly compelling him to listen to what was interpreted as favorable political thunder.—Boston Transcript.

A CARD.

ARMORY OF THE WOODBURY LIGHT GUARDS,
Portsmouth, Oct. 16, 1852.

In behalf of the Woodbury Light Guards we tender our sincere thanks to the City Greys for the use of their arms and equipments on our late excursion to Newburyport.

The Cushing Guards of Newburyport for their generous reception, their bountiful collation and their soldier-like escort, we shall always hold in remembrance.

To the proprietor of the Ocean House, for the liberal offer of his House as our Head Quarters, and for the excellent dinner and refreshments furnished, we return our sincere thanks.

The proprietors of the St. Charles Saloon will also accept our thanks for refreshments furnished by them; and we cannot but advise those visiting our sister city, to call upon these gentlemen, assuring them that all their wants will be supplied.

To all those who by the attentions aided to make our visit pleasant and agreeable we are deeply indebted, and they will be ever gratefully remembered.

THE ROGER WILLIAMS

COOKING STOVE,

FOR WOOD OR COAL.

TO ALL IN WANT OF COOK STOVES. As there can be but one best kind of Cooking Stove, and that having been satisfactorily proved to be the Roger Williams, by the working of some twenty-seven hundred now in use in New England,—the subscriber now offers for sale 6 sizes of this beautiful pattern for wood or coal. It is believed shat this stove combines all the useful improvements that skill can invent, and is by far the most perfect cooking stove ever sold in Portsmouth.

And although its price is somewhat higher than some stoves offered in this market of late. it is believed to be much the cheapest in the end. It is a beautiful model, with fine smooth Providence castings, fitted together in the most substantial manner. Every stove is warranted for twelve months, and if its operation is not satisfactory, the money will be refunded.

MUSICAL ENTERTAINMENT,

BY THE PEAK FAMILY,

AS VOCALISTS
AND SWISS BELL RINGERS,
AT THE TEMPLE, PORTSMOUTH,

THURSDAY EVENING, Oct. 21.

THE Vocal Performances of this Family, with the Chime of fifty-six Bells, and a heavy Instrumental Accompaniment, are highly pleasing and instructive, exhibiting the perfection to which the beautiful science of Music can be carried by close application and persevering industry.

The beauty and splendor of the entertainment consists in the harmonious commingling of the voice with the bells—a feature entirely new in this country, and original with Mr. Peak. The effect in the choruses is most powerful, calling forth the loudest applause wherever it has been witnessed.

Doors open at 7 o'clock. To commence at ½ of 8. TICKETS 15 cts., to be obtained at the stores of Wm. R. Preston and Jos. Hevan Thacher.

ARREST.

Some years ago, in a country not a hundred miles from here, a small sized man went to the plantation of a gentleman who was light in wit, but rather heavy in flesh, with a piece of paper in his hand, folded in a form and known by the abbreviation of cr. sc.—Having found the owner of the plantation in the field he explained his business, when he was requested to send the capias, which commenced as usual:

"You are hereby commanded, without delay, to take the body of," &c.

"Hamp!" says the prisoner, stretching himself on his back, "I'm ready."

"Oh, but you don't expect me to carry you in my arms?"

"Certainly; you must take my body you know. I do not resist the process of the law understand, but submit with much cheerfulness."

"Will you wait until I bring a cart?"

"Can't promise. I may recover from fatigue in the meantime."

"Well, what must I do?"

"You must do your duty."

And there he lay immovable until the sheriff left—when he left also.

THE IMPROVED

EMPIRE STATE STOVE.

THIS justly celebrated COOKING STOVE having been improved in every way it could be to make its operations more complete, and its plates beautifully ornamented—no expense, time or trouble having been spared to make this the most complete Cooking Stove ever brought before the public—the subscriber feels assured in warranting the IMPROVED EMPIRE STATE superior to any stove in the market, as hundreds can testify who have used them for the past year.

This Stove has a very LARGE OVEN, which makes it desirable on account of doing more cooking with the same amount of fuel than can be done in any other stove. The flues are large, which ensures a good draft in all cases. The castings are very heavy and smooth, and those parts that come next the fire are extra thick, making it very durable. It is adapted to the use of either coal or wood, and we warrant them to operate as well with one as the other. We furnish them with the very best appanatus; and, altogether, it is the MOST DURABLE, ECONOMICAL and CONVENIENT COOKING STOVE ever made—complete in every respect. We ask the attention of all persons intending to purchase a new, or exchange their old stove, to an examination of the Improved Empire State.

We have also on hand a variety of other Cooking Stoves, called the "Banner," "Belle of the States," "King of the States," "Bay State," "Angio Saxon," "Pearl of Troy," &c.; with a large lot of PARLOR STOVES, such as the Revere Air-Tight Star, Revere Parlor Cook, Lady Franklin for Wood or Coal; Shop, Office and Air-Tight Stoves, of different sizes and prices for either wood or coal.

Also an extensive assortment of HOUSEKEEPING GOODS; Wooden, Willow, Glass, Britannia, Japan, Tin, Hard, Enamel, and Brass Ware; Copper, Cast Iron, and Chain Pumpe; Window-Shads, Table Oil-cloths, &c.

All the above goods will be sold lower than can be bought elsewhere in this vicinity.

HIRAM JONES, 61 Market street,

s27 Portsmouth, N. H.

WHAT-CHEER STOVE.

THE WHAT-CHEER COAL COOKING STOVE, of which the above cut is a true representation, now offered for sale by the subscribers, is acknowledged by all who have examined it to be the best and most economical Coal Stove ever offered to the public.

The castings are heavy, smooth, and very handsome. The Broiling apparatus is a great improvement over all other Stoves, being constructed in such a manner as to prevent the steam from escaping into the room when cooking.

All persons wishing to purchase a COAL COOKING STOVE, are respectfully requested to call and examine these. Every Stove warranted to work well, or no sale.

We have also a large assortment of COOKING, PARLOR and STORE STOVES, &c.—for sale cheap for Cash at our Store.

Corner of State and Water streets,

s27 ANDERSON & EMERY.

The Bay State Stove,

FOR WOOD OR COAL.

THE subscriber, in offering this favorite Stove to the public, the present season, would state that a new covered Broiling Apparatus has been added, the flues enlarged for burning anthracite coal, and the Stove otherwise improved—and is now put into the market as in the world. The castings are heavier, more beautiful and durable; the oven has a larger oven, will bake better and with less fuel, than any other stove in use.

These stoves are made from pure metal and are not liable to crack; and we furnish every stove with the best of apparatus—Copper Boiler, &c., and warrant them a year; and if any part proves defective it will be made good without charge.

Persons wishing to obtain a good Stove, will do well to buy a BAY STATE. They have been in operation in this city for four years past, and have given perfect satisfaction. For sale at the Store of the subscriber, where may be found a large assortment of COOKING, PARLOR AND OFFICE STOVES, TIN WARE, TUNNEL, &c. for sale cheap for cash. E. A. STEVENS.

THE SHARP SHOOTER,

AN INCIDENT OF THE BATTLE OF NEW ORLEANS.

A British officer, who was in the battle of New Orleans, mentions an incident of thrilling strangeness, and one very descriptive of the Western hunter, many of whom marched to the defence of New Orleans, as volunteers in the army under the renowned Andrew Jackson:

We marched (said the officer) in a solid column of twelve thousand men in a direct line upon the American defence. I belonged to the staff, and as we advanced, we watched through our glasses the position and arrangements of our enemy, with that intensity an officer only feels when marching into the jaws of death, with the assurance that, while he thus offers himself a sacrifice to the demands of his country, every action, be it successful or otherwise, will be judged with the most heartless scrutiny.

It was a strange sight, that long range of cotton bales—a new material for breastworks, with the crowd of human beings behind, their heads only visible above the line of defence. We could distinctly see their long rifles laying over the bales, and the battery of Gen. Coffee directly in front, with its great mouth gaping towards us, as they waited to devour us, and the position of Gen. Jackson, with his staff around him. But what attracted our attention most was the figure of a tall man standing on the breastworks, dressed in linsey-woolsey, with buckskin leggings, and a broad-brimmed felt hat that fell around his face, almost concealing his features. He was standing in one of those picturesque and graceful attitudes peculiar to those natural men.—The body rested on the left foot, and swayed with a curved line upward; the right arm was extended, the hand grasping the rifle near the muzzle, the butt of which rested near the toe of the right foot, while with his other hand he raised the rim of his hat from his eyes, and seemed gazing from beneath intensely upon our advancing column. The cannon of Gen. Coffee had opened upon us, and tore through our ranks with dreadful slaughter; but we continued to advance, unwavering and cool, as if nothing threatened us.

The roar of cannon seemed to have no effect on the figure standing on the cotton bales, but he seemed to be fixed and motionless as a statue. At last he moved, threw back the hat rim over the crown with his left hand, raised the rifle to his shoulder and took aim at our group. Our eyes were riveted upon him. At whom had he levelled his piece?—But the distance was so great that we looked at each other and smiled. We saw the rifle flash, and my right hand companion, as noble looking a fellow as ever rode at the head of a regiment, fell from his saddle. The hunter paused a few moments without moving the gun from his shoulder, then reloaded and assumed his former attitude. Throwing his hat rim over his eyes, and again holding it up with his left hand, he fixed his piercing gaze upon us, as if hunting out another victim.—Once more the hat rim was thrown back and the gun raised to the shoulder. This time we did not smile, but cast short glances at each other, to see which of us must die; and when again the rifle flashed, another of us dropped to the earth. There was something most awful in this marching to certain death.

Gen. Coffee's battery, and thousands of musket balls playing upon our ranks, we cared not for—there was a chance of escaping unscathed. Most of us had walked up to batteries a hundred times more destructive, without quailing, but to know that every time that rifle was levelled towards us and its bullet sprang from the barrel, one of us must as surely fall; to see the gleaming sun flash as the deadly iron came down, and see it rest motionless, as if poised upon a rock, and know when the hammer struck and the sparks flew to the full primed pan, that the messenger of death drove unerringly to its goal—to know this, and still march on, was awful.

I could see nothing but the tall figure standing on the breastwork. He seemed to grow phantom-like, higher and higher, assuming through the smoke the supernatural appearances of some great spirit. Again did he reload and discharge his rifle with unerring aim; and it was with indescribable pleasure that I beheld, as we neared the American lines, the sulphurous cloud gather around us, and shut that spectral hunter from my gaze. We lost the battle; and, to my mind, the Kentucky rifleman contributed more to our defeat than anything else; for while he remained to our sight, our attention was drawn from our duties, and when at last we became enshrouded in the smoke, the work was complete; we were in utter confusion, and unable, in the extremity, to restore order sufficient to make any successful attack.

So long as thousands and thousands of rifles remain in the hands of the people, so long as men come up from their childhood, able, ere the down appears on the chin, to hit the centre of a mark, or strike the deer at 150 yards in the most vital point, so long as there is a great proportion of the republic who live free as the wild Indian, knowing no leader but their own choosing, knowing no law but that of right, and the honorable observance of friendly intercourse,—America is unconquerable; and all the armies of the combined world, though they might drive them from the seacoast and across the Alleghany mountains, would not be able to subdue the free-souled hunter among the mountains and great prairies and mighty rivers of the West.

PORTSMOUTH:

MONDAY, OCTOBER 18, 1852.

PRESIDENTIAL ELECTORS.

The idea has been entertained and expressed in some quarters, that the people of the United States ought to vote for President and Vice President directly, and not through Electors.

It has also been said that Electors are not bound by the Constitution to vote for the nominees of any Convention, (which is true) and they are said to be useless because they vote like mere machines. This consequence does not follow. There is some machinery necessary in a popular election like ours for President, and we can conceive of none which would work with less friction than that which we now have. In theory, our Electors have discretionary power—and in practice, if they are men of discretion they will vote for some men who may be elected, or for some principle that may be sustained.

We would not take away their discretionary power, which has never been abused—nor would we wish to diminish their actual discretion in the least.

But suppose the people, dispensing with electors were to vote directly for President. Either the vote must be taken in one mass, and so the large states swallow up the small, or there must be much canvassing and sifting of votes in each State, by its legislature, or by some other body appointed for that purpose—before any result could be sent to the central power at Washington.

And if we were to dispense with the machinery for nomination—if we had dispensed with all the national conventions held this year—what could be the result? Would there be less division in either of the parties than now? On the contrary, there would have been three whig tickets, and five or six democratic—besides we know not how many others. The only result we can imagine, would have been to throw the election into the House of Representatives. Now if any one will look back over the doings of the last session of Congress, he may form some idea of the order, and unanimity, and propriety, with which that august body would perform the functions of an electoral college.

Next, let him look forward only three months, and see the same body of men actually choosing our President, if the people have not chosen him. We believe, if he loves his country at all, he will be devoutly thankful that the democrats have nominated Frank Pierce in their convention rather than to have gone home leaving all at loose ends,—and glad that the whigs did the same thing with Winfield Scott. He will be glad now, when he thinks of it, that one of these two must be chosen—and think himself better off with either of them fairly and fully chosen, than he would be to see such a scramble for the presidency in such a House.

BISHOP DOANE.

Bishop Doane is not to be tried, after all. A Trenton dispatch of the 15th inst. says the Court of Bishops at Burlington, have resolved by a vote of 6 to 3 not to try Bishop Doane, and adjourned at 3 o'clock, sine die.

These repeated attempts at trial seem like children's play. From all the reports we have ever seen about Bishop Doane, we suppose that his offence is that of getting deeply into debt without adequate means to pay. A committee of three good merchants, (such as abound among the laymen of the Episcopal Church) would make that matter all right, or show how far it is wrong, in an investigation of a day or two. And if the Court of Bishops and Bishop Doane himself had referred the case to such a committee, they might by a report of their own, afterward, have settled the case between the Bishop and his accusers, so as to satisfy the public. But by leaving the matter where it is, his assailants can peck away, ad libitum, in the newspapers and elsewhere; and the public believe or disbelieve, as it happens.

CUBAN INDIGNATION MEETING IN NEW ORLEANS.—An indignation meeting was held in New Orleans on the evening of the 7th October, at which over 10,000 persons were present. Much excitement was exhibited, numerous speakers addressed the multitude on the subject of the Cuban outrage, and resolutions were unanimously adopted condemning the recent action of the Cuban government respecting the steamer Crescent City, as a "high handed act, a violation of our treaty with Spain, an insult to our flag, and an outrage upon the rights of citizens"—"that our government will be expected to enforce indemnity for the past and security for the future,' respecting the conduct of the Spanish government"—and that "the conduct of Com. Porter in the recent outrage, commands earnest admiration."

AMERICAN DEBTS ABROAD.

The Boston Mail contains the following table of American Stocks sold in foreign lands, obtained from statistics in the Banker's Magazine. Under the head of State, is included also the city and corporate liabilities held in foreign hands. It shows (says the Mail) the accelerating rapidity with which the country is proceeding towards a pecuniary crisis which sooner or later must inevitably come.

LIST OF AM. STOCKS & BONDS IN FOR'N HANDS	July 1, 1848.	July 1, 1852.
Federal	$11,000,000	$45,000,000
New York	16,000,000	40,000,000
Pennsylvania	30,000,000	47,000,000
Ohio	15,000,000	40,000,000
Michigan	2,000,000	6,000,000
Massachusetts	2,000,000	7,000,000
Maryland	6,000,000	10,000,000
Virginia	2,000,000	12,000,000
South Carolina	2,000,000	2,000,000
Georgia	700,000	1,200,000
Alabama	7,000,000	8,000,000
Mississippi	7,000,000	7,000,000
Texas	2,000,000	2,000,000
Arkansas	2,000,000	2,000,000
Tennessee	2,500,000	4,000,000
Kentucky,	2,000,000	3,000,000
Indiana,	5,000,000	10'000,000
Illinois	10,000,000	13,000,000
Missouri	6,000,000	1,000,000
Louisiana	12,000,000	10,000,000
Total	$141,200,000	$261,200,000

The dividends and interest on these stocks and bonds (says the Mail) will amount to about fifteen millions annually — equal to the whole sum paid in the purchase of Louisiana!

The California mines have saved the country from absolute bankruptcy before now; but even these will hardly be sufficient to stop this accumulation of foreign indebtedness, if this monstrous system of import goes on.—The whole tendency of our financial policy is to plunge us deeper and deeper in debt, and to mortgage to foreigners all the real and personal property of our people.

The State Loans are not always evidence of bankruptcy. Look, for example, at Massachusetts. She owes 7,000,000—but is she less solvent now than when she owed only 2,000,000?"

TEMPERANCE CONVENTION IN BOSTON.—There was a Temperance Convention in Faneuil Hall, Boston, on Friday last, for the State of Massachusetts. Hon. Wm. Hyde, was president. Neal Dow, John Pierpont and Dr. Beecher, were among the speakers. The weather was unfavorable, and the audience not very large.

HEAVY DAMAGES FOR LIBEL.—In the Court of Common Pleas in Boston, on Friday, the case of David K. Wardwell vs. J. A. Adams, for a libel published in the Sunday News, was tried, and the jury returned a verdict for plaintiff, assessing damages in the sum of $3209 16. So says the Transcript.

THE NEW YORK STRIKE.—At a meeting of merchants and ship-owners in New York on Thursday, it was voted to pay riggers $1,87 1-2 and stevedores $1,62 1-2 a day on and after the 21st, being the mean between the old rates ($1,75 and $1,50) and the rates demanded ($2 and $1,75.) There has been no further trouble on the docks. An attempt to make confusion at Brooklyn failed.

It is announced that there is now plenty of work on the wharves for laboring men, at $1,50 per day of nine hours—heads of gangs $1,75. The city authorities are efficient in their protection from annoyance.

The Boston Reflector says a Roman Catholic young man in Boston, recently, informed Father——, the priest, that he was about to be married by Rev. P. Stow, the Seaman's chaplain. "If you are married by him, and not by me," said the priest, "you may drop dead; you will be chained by the devil, and that chain will follow you through life; it will reach you in another world, and you will be lost to God and man." The young man, however, was married by Mr. S.

DANIEL WEBSTER VS. OLD COLONY RAILROAD.—This case, now before the Court of Common Pleas, is brought to recover the sum of $500 for professional services in negotiating a contract for the defendants with the Post Office Department in 1840, for the transportation of the United States mail over the road for the term of four years.—Boston Bee.

LIFE IN CALIFORNIA.

The following is an extract from the California correspondent of the New York Herald:

In my last letter, I stated that there was a perfect absence of crime here, and that in proportion to our population, there were fewer breaches of the peace than in any other city in the Union. I regret that the same desirable state of society has not continued. Since then we have had two murders in the very heart of the city, which were committed in broad daylight. In the one case, a Chilean woman stabbed another woman to the heart, because she interrupted a tete a tete in which she was engaged, by knocking at her door and asking admittance. The unfortunate victim paid for the intrusion with her life.

The other case occured on the 13th inst.—A Mexican was perceived chasing a countryman of his on the hill, back of Pleasant Valley. Both tripped up and fell, but the one who was chasing recovered himself first, and overtook the other before he got on his legs. While his enemy was on the ground, the fiend cut and hacked him to death with an immense bowie knife. He inflicted at least a dozen mortal blows on the postrate man. After committing the diabolical deed, the murderer ran off in the hope of escaping; but despite of his brandishing his weapon, he was secured and safely lodged in prison.

The two muderers will soon have their trials, and it is expected that both will die on the gallows. There never has been a legal execution in this city, but the general impression is that the two murderers, male and female, now in jail, will meet with that punishment.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

LYCEUM.

We had a fine course of lyceum lectures in this city last winter, and filled the neat little Hanover street Chapel with a genteel and gratified auditory. We have as yet seen no notice of a course of lectures for this season—yet we ought to have one, and are fully persuaded that such a ball needs only to be set in motion.

It was found that a lyceum audience did not fill the Temple; and the Hanover street Chapel last year was crowded, every ticket being sold. Now it strikes us that we might have a three months' course of lectures, on Tuesday evenings, and that five or six hundred tickets might be sold with ease at $1 each for the course, which would meet expenses and hire suitable lecturers. The lectures ought to begin the week after the presidential election.

MUSIC.

It will be seen that Mr. C. E. Kingsbury commences another term of his Juvenile Singing School, at his room in Congress Block, on Wednesday afternoon, this week. Mr K. is organist at the Unitarian Church, and teaches the Organ and Piano-Forte, as well as singing.

Mr. Moses is also to remain among us, and commences a school for adults, soon—also another term of his Juvenile Class. He is the only teacher of the Flute in this vicinity.

The more true artists the better—they cannot fail to exert a good influence. We hope a little more attention will be given to musical matters—especially the study of music—the coming winter, in this city, than has been the case for a few years past, particularly among the young. There is need of it, we fear.

THE CAMENEUM.

This hall, the name of which signifies "The Home of the Arts and Muses," is now under going such renovation and repair as to make it worthy of its name; and is to be used again for such purposes as to make it once more the resort of beauty and fashion, art and elegance. The best lyceum we ever had was located there, and flourished too, when we had much less population than now. No better room for sound can be found in this place, and but few anywhere. It was always a cheerful, popular house; and in the hands of Mr. Moses cannot fail to be more attractive than ever.—The energy, skill, taste and experience of the present lessee, guarantee success in this new enterprise. All will read his notice with pleasure.

TEMPERANCE CONVENTION.—A Convention of the friends of temperance in Rockingham County, is to be held in Newmarket, tomorrow, at 10 o'clock, in the town hall.

☞ The time on the Portsmouth & Concord road changes again to-day. The morning train does not go through—the afternoon train starts half an hour earlier.

FESTIVAL OF THE SONS OF NEW HAMPSHIRE.—The full Board of Managers to make arrangements for the next Festival of the Sons of New Hampshire, to be celebrated on the 18th of November, met at the Revere House on Thursday evening.

The meeting was very enthusiastic, the various committees reported upon the matters under their charge, and all present seemed to think that the approaching Jubilee would equal if not surpass in interest that of 1839.

Hon. Daniel Webster, President of the Association, is expected to preside on the occasion; and Gen. Pierce, Gen. Cass, Hon. John P. Hale, and other distinguished gentlemen, natives of New Hampshire, have expressed an intention to be present.

The above paragraph, from the Boston Daily Advertiser, shows how prolific in great men the Granite State is' and is likely to be.

SNOW.—The Concord Patriot of Friday evening states that "six inches of snow fell at Nashua on Friday morning. The first up train of cars were completely covered when they arrived in Concord, though no snow fell here."

A rogue by the name of William Lougee of Farmington, was detected in the act of picking a lady's pocket, on board of steamer Lady of the Lake on Saturday last. He was discovered in the act before he had effected his purpose, but was not arrested. Such scoundrels should not be allowed to go at liberty.—Dover Gazette.

SAD CASUALTY.—Frank, son of Mr. Samuel Meserve of Wolfborough, was killed on Saturday last, by falling from a loaded team, being crushed by one of the wheels which passed over his body, killing him almost instantly. He was eleven years of age.—Dover Gazette.

ACCIDENT.—Mrs. Bunker, wife of Mr. Charles Bunker of Durham, was thrown from a wagon, on Wednesday last, near Steele's corner and had her leg badly fractured and broken. The horse attached to the wagon, was frightened by some persons sitting by the road side.—Dover Gazette.

We learn that the body of a man by the name of George McDuffee was found in the water, about half a mile above Alton Bay on Monday last. It is supposed he was drowned on Saturday last, as he came down in the steamer Dover on that day, but was not seen after landing upon the wharf.—Dover Gazette.

Vive le Cameneum!

THINGS animate and inanimate their seasons have of glory. Day and night alternate come and go. Summer reluctant flies away, and the keen autumnal frost with blighting touch falls on the forest oak, and it sadly throws off its genial summer dress—slumbers awhile in grim loneliness, until gently patted on its bare cold arms by the soft warm palm of the golden orb of the "sweet spring time," when it again assumes its primeval fulness and captivating beauty.

Thus for a period of time fell the chill frost of fate upon the pleasant and classic features of the well remembered Cameneum, paralizing its active limbs, and casting it into the sombre shade of neglect and listless apathy, until breathed upon by the vivifying breath of grateful remembrance, and touched by the restoring hand of courage, energy and taste—when it lifted its oriental eyelids, to signify that its long deep sleep was not unto death; promising again to wear the bridal blush and dazzling drapery, such as originally attracted earth's happy sons and fairest daughters to its open and winning arms.

Wiping now the pen, perhaps too deeply dipped in "Fancy's Dew,"—the subscriber, with the aid of a different phraseology, respectfully announces that he has bargained with the proprietors of the Cameneum, and has assumed the responsibility of resuscitating, renovating and beautifying the interior in particular of the building as above—painting, whitening, lighting with gas, furnishing with paintings, statuary, and a splendid seven-octave powerful Rosewood Piano, &c—rendering the house inviting and every way worthy the best patronizing visitors.

The Cameneum will accommodate five hundred or more persons—is now nearly ready and intended for Lyceums, Lectures, Levees, Musical Soirees, Fairs, Sacred and Secular Concerts, and all well ordered and respectable exhibitions.

Preparations will be completed and the Cameneum Reopened with a Concert on the 9th of November next. Particulars hereafter.

Evening Singing School.

The subscriber would particularly informs his musical friends and the public generally, that he will open an Adult Evening Singing School
IN THE CAMENEUM,
for the scientific instruction and correct practice of Sacred and Secular Music,
On MONDAY EVENING, November 15th,
at half-past 7 o'clock.

The heavy and splendid Piano, with extensive and beautiful accommodations for singing, and for promenading during recess-time, with an experienced and well known Teacher, may be some inducement to encourage a full attendance.

TERMS $1 for the Course of Twelve Lessons, on Monday Evenings. Tickets for sale by Mr. M. and Mr. J. H. Head.

Juvenile Class.

A Juvenile Class will also be commenced on.
WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON, Nov. 17, at the subscriber's Music Room, Exchange Buildings, at half-past 2 o'clock. Should the pupils number too many for the Music Room, they will be transferred to the Cameneum.

Tickets $1 for Twenty-Four Lessons, Wednesday and Saturday Afternoons, to be had of the Teacher or at Mr. Head's.

THOS. P. MOSES.
Portsmouth, October 18, 1852. [2]

Second Term.

C. E. KINSBURY respectfully announces to his friends and the public, that he has taken

Room No. 7 in Congress Block,
Immediately Over Wm. R. Preston's Drug Store, where he will commence his second term for Masters and Misses, for Instruction in Vocal Music, WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON, Oct. 20th, at 3 o'clock.

TERMS for the Course of 24 LESSONS, $1.00,

C. E. K. also tenders his services as Teacher at the PIANO-FORTE or ORGAN, and will be happy to wait on those who may desire it, at their places of residence or at his room.

Grateful for the liberal patronage already received, he respectfully solicits a continuance.
Portsmouth, Oct. 13th, 1852.

Musical Notice.
THOS. P. MOSES,

HAVING reasons for changing his intentions in regard to leaving Portsmouth permanently at present, respectfully acquaints the Musical public that he will continue to teach Vocal and Instrumental Music as usual. His office No. 4 Exchange Buildings—residence 12 High street.

Mr. Moses will teach evening adult classes in Sacred and Secular Music the coming winter.—Also Juvenile classes as usual at his Music Room Wednesday and Saturday afternoons at 2½ o'clock to commence in November.

For Piano instruction and select Singing $10, 24 lessons. Flute do., single pupils $10.

In connection with Music, Mr. M. intends also, in a few months to give lessons in sketching from nature, and in Crayon Drawing on marble board, which is fast becoming the most fashionable and beautiful of all drawings. He hopes his young friends will be pleased to await his commencement, when he will aid them to make rapid advancement in this exquisite branch of human accomplishment.
Portsmouth, Oct. 13, 1852. [2] tf

LATEST NEWS!

STATE ELECTIONS.

Pennsylvania election remains nearly as it appeared in our paper of Saturday.

Ohio, as it appears from the following despatch, has been extravagantly overstated in the early dispatches.

BUFFALO, Oct. 15.—Private reliable despatches received in this city to-day from Cleveland, state that the Democratic majority in Ohio is now not more than 4 or 5000, with a prospect of a decrease as further returns come in.

Indiana, as will be seen, is strongly democratic, say 12,000 majority.

INDIANA ELECTION.—Indianapolis, 16th.—The Sentinel gives returns from forty counties in this State, from which it appears that Jos. Wright, democratic candidate for Governor, is re-elected over Nicholas McCarty, whig, and A. S. Robinson, Freesoil, by 18,000 to 20,000 majority. He was ahead in the above counties nearly 5000, as compared with his vote in 1849.

The returns for members of the Legislature show it to be strongly Democratic in both branches.

The Congressional delegation will stand, 10 Democrats and 1 Whig, being a gain of 3 Democrats.

South Carolina, of course, is democratic, almost unanimous.

Florida.—The result in this State, says the Boston Post, still remains in doubt. Chances in favor of the democrats.

SEVERE HURRICANE AT THE SOUTH.—New Orleans, 15th.—We have accounts of a most disastrous gale, which has swept along the coast, doing great damage to vessels both outward and inward bound.

The vessels named as injured, are: British ship Astoria; ship Wm. Jarvis, dismasted; two barks do., names unknown; ship Orlando, sails split; bark Elizabeth, of Portland, under jury masts, steering for Nassau; brig Penaywan, dismasted; brig Helen, from Rio Janeiro, and ship Josiah Bradley from Boston, arrived at New Orleans, injured in sails, &c.

MARINE DISASTER.—Verplanck's Point, N. Y., Oct. 15.—A schooner, supposed to be the Jonathan Hooream, Capt. Meade, belonging to Augustus Stedwell of Brooklyn, was run into last night by steamer Francis R. Skiddy, when opposite this place. She was broken in two and sunk. The fate of those on board is unknown, but it is probable that they are lost. Her stern floated ashore with her compass and box, containing her papers and the captain's hat and coat.

BILLY BOWLEGS.—St. Augustine, Oct. 6.—Billy Bowlegs with his party, arrived here last week, and immediately started for his hunting grounds. What his decision will be is not yet known. Gen. Hopkins has authority to raise 1000 men, and hunt him out in case of his refusal to leave the country.

SHOT BY HIS VICTIM.—Milwaukie, Oct. 15. Yesterday a woman named Ann Wheeler, shot dead in the street a young man named Lace, who had seduced her, and reported the fact in the saloons in the city. Lace is a married man. The woman formerly belonged to Cleveland, where her friends reside.

LIGHT ARTILLERY REORGANIZED.—Official orders were read at Newport barracks, at the dress parade on Sunday evening, announcing that the regiment of Light Artillery, dismounted after the Mexican war, was to be immediately reorganized, by order of Gen. Scott. Recruiting for the same will be commenced immediately. Several of the privates and subordinate officers received promotion at the barracks on Sunday.—Cincin. Com.

LYING IN STATE.—The national funeral ceremonies over the body of the late Duke of Wellington, have not yet taken place. The body still lies in Walmer Castle, and will probably remain there for some time. It has been enclosed in an outer coffin of the finest mahogony, which is covered by a pall, and the whole is surmounted with funereal plumes. The family and household have all left except one confidential domestic, and the body remains in solitary state under the protection of a guard of honor from his own regiment, the rifle brigade.

IRISH EXODUS.—The emigration continues. The Clare (Ireland) Journal says the streets are daily crowded by families on the move. It seems to them as if they had only to travel a hundred miles, instead of thousands. And why is this? There is now one great inducement, in addition to that which before induced them—and that is, their people are there before them. The old-remembered faces that disappeared a few months since, are waiting with the blush of hope, to assist them to leap ashore on the land of their adoption, and to sleep once more under the same roof with son or daughter that they had never hoped to see on this side of the grave. This is now a great cause for the long continued stream of emigration.

Yesterday, nearly the entire day, the street was crowded with cars, waiting for families to complete their arrangements with the emigration agent. They are gone, and the numbers are sufficient to leave a blank in the parish where they resided, they will not be easily filled.

Hon. Elisha Whittlesey has received a letter from Mr. Jno. P. Brown, of Constantinople, in which it is stated that his Imperial Majesty Sultan, Abd-al-Majid, is about to contribute a block of marble from Byzantum to the Washington Monument. The block will bear the cypher of the Sultan, and a proper inscription.

The Pope has requested Louis Napoleon to permit the re-establishment of begging friars in France.

AUTUMN—BY LONGFELLOW.

Thou comest, Autumn! heralded by rain,
With banners by great gales incessant fanned,
Brighter than brightest silks of Samarcand,
And stately oxen harnessed to thy wain!
Thou standeth, like imperial Charlemagne,
Upon thy bridge of gold; thy royal hand
Outstretched with benedictions o'er the land,
Blessing the farms through all thy vast domain;
Thy shield is the red harvest moon, suspended
So long beneath the heaven o'erchanging caves;
Thy steps are by the farmer's prayers attended;
Like sunsets upon the altar shine the sheaves;
And following thee in triune ovation splendid,
Thine almoner, the wind, scatters the golden leaves.

THE GREAT PITCH LAKE OF TRINIDAD. Fred. Taylor, Esq., a distinguished naturalist and mineralogist, has arrived at Trinidad; the object of his visit being, it was understood, the further development of the celebrated Pitch Lake to other purposes than those to which its use has hitherto been limited. The extent of the Pitch Lake is about 100 acres, of which 23 were some time since leased to the Earl of Dundonald; and in the past year no less than 800 tons of asphalt were exported from this part of the property to England and the United States, where it has been chiefly employed in the production of gas.—Trinidad Gazette.

SEARCHING THE DEPTHS OF THE SEA.—A man dressed in a sub-marine armor is now engaged in examining the bottom of the channel off the end of Alger's Foundry wharf, South Boston. His object is to secure, if possible, a quantity of iron which has been accumulating for years by the falling of a bar or two from each vessel which has unloaded at the wharf. He is also engaged in examining the foundations of the wharf, to see whether they are in a good state of preservation. A large crowd has been gathered on the wharf to witness the evolutions of the sub-marine man.—Traveller.

MUSICAL ENTERTAINMENT,

BY THE PEAK FAMILY,
AS VOCALISTS
AND SWISS BELL RINGERS,
AT THE TEMPLE, PORTSMOUTH,
THURSDAY EVENING, Oct. 21.
THE Vocal Performances of this Family, with the Chime of fifty-six Bells, and a heavy Instrumental Accompaniment, are highly pleasing and instructive, exhibiting the perfection to which the beautiful science of Music can be carried by close application and persevering industry.
The beauty and splendor of the entertainment consists in the harmonious commingling of the voice with the bells—a feature entirely new in this country, and original with Mr. Peak. The effect in the choruses is most powerful, calling forth the loudest applause wherever it has been witnessed.
Doors open at 7 o'clock. To commence at ½ of 8.
TICKETS 25 cts., to be obtained at the stores of Wm. H. Preston and Joe Hevan Thacher.

THE IMPROVED
EMPIRE STATE STOVE.
THIS justly celebrated COOKING STOVE having been improved in every way it could be to make its operations more complete, and its plates beautifully ornamented—no expense, time or trouble having been spared to make this the most complete Cooking Stove ever brought before the public—the subscriber feels assured in warranting the IMPROVED EMPIRE STATE superior to any stove in the market, as hundreds can testify who have used them for the past year.
This Stove has a very LARGE OVEN, which makes it desirable on account of doing more cooking with the same amount of fuel than can be done in any other stove. The fire-set large, which ensures a good draft in all cases. The castings are very heavy and smooth, and those parts that come next the fire are extra thick, making it very durable. It is adapted to the use of either coal or wood, and we warrant them to operate well with one as the other. We furnish them with the very best appanatus; and, altogether, it is the MOST DURABLE, ECONOMICAL and CONVENIENT COOKING STOVE ever made—complete in every respect. We ask the attention of all persons intending to purchase a new, or exchange their old stove, to an examination of the Improved Empire State.
We have also on hand a variety of other Cooking Stoves, called the "Banner," "Belle of the States," "King of the States," "Bay State," "Anglo Saxon," "Pearl of Troy," &c.; with a large lot of PARLOR STOVES, such as the Revere Air-Tight, Star, Revere Parlor Cook, Lady Franklin, for Wood or Coal; Shop, Office and Air-Tight Stoves, of different sizes and prices for either wood or coal.
Also an extensive assortment of HOUSEKEEPING GOODS; Wooden, Willow, Glass, Britannia, Japan, Tin, Sheet Iron, Enamel, and Brass Ware; Copper, Cast Iron, and Chain Pumps; Window-Shads, Table Oil-cloths, &c.
All the above goods will be sold lower than can be bought elsewhere in this vicinity.

WHAT-CHEER STOVE.
THE WHAT-CHEER COAL COOKING STOVE, of which the above cut is a true representation, now offered for sale by the subscribers, is acknowledged by all who have examined it to be the best and most economical Coal Stove ever offered to the public.
The castings are heavy, smooth, and very handsome. The Broiling apparatus is a great improvement over all other Stoves, being constructed in such a manner as to prevent the steam from escaping into the room when cooking.
All persons wishing to purchase a COAL COOKING STOVE, are respectfully requested to call and examine the same. Every Stove warranted to work well, or no sale.
We have also a large assortment of COOKING, PARLOR and STORE STOVES, &c.—for sale cheap for Cash at our Store.
Corner of State and Water streets.

The Bay State Stove,
FOR WOOD OR COAL.
THE subscriber, offers to the favorite Stove to the public, the present season, would state that a new covered Broiling Apparatus has been added, the flues enlarged for burning anthracite coal, and the Stove otherwise improved—and is now put into the market.
THE MOST PERFECT COOK STOVE in the world. The castings are heavier, more beautiful and durable; the stove has a larger oven, will bake better and with less fuel, than any other stove in use.
These stoves are made from pure metal and are not liable to crack; and we furnish every stove with the best of apparatus—Copper Boiler, &c., and warrant them a year; and if any part proves defective it will be made good without charge.
Persons wishing to obtain a good Stove, will do well to buy a BAY STATE. They have been in operation in this city for four years past, and have given perfect satisfaction. For sale at the Store of the subscriber, where may be found a large assortment of COOKING, PARLOR AND OFFICE STOVES, TIN WARE, FUNNEL, &c. for sale cheap for cash. E. A. STEVENS.

AUTUMN THOUGHTS.

BY J. G. WHITTIER.

Gone hath the Spring, with all its flowers,
And gone the Summer's pomp and show,
And Autumn, in his leafless bowers,
Is waiting for the Winter's snow.

I said to earth, so cold and gray,
'An emblem of myself thou art:'
'Not so,' the earth did seem to say,
'For Spring shall warm my frozen heart.

'I soothe my wintry sleep with dreams
Of warmer sun and softer rain,
And wait to hear the sound of streams
And songs of merry birds again.

'But thou from whom the Spring hath gone,
For whom the flowers no longer blow,
Who standest blighted and forlorn,
Like Autumn waiting for the snow:

'No hope is thine of sunnier hours,
Thy winter shall no more depart;
No Spring revive thy wasted flowers,
Nor Summer warm thy frozen heart.'

JOHN. L. STEVENS.

This eminent traveler and writer died on Tuesday night, 12th inst., in the city of New York, at the house of his father. A notice of his death in the New York Express, gives his age as 47, and states that his last sickness lasted several months. He was born in New York city, graduated at Columbia College, was admitted to the bar, and practiced law in the city, for some years.

His health being delicate, travel was medically recommended to him, and he went abroad, and visited oriental lands; and, returning, wrote a work upon Arabia Petræa, and the Holy Land, which at once stamped him as a writer of no ordinary ability. Rarely has a book attained a more sudden and at the same time a more lasting reputation for its author than this. The subject was new, and being treated in a perspicuous and agreeable style, recommended itself at once to the reading world, on both sides of the Atlantic. We are happy to learn that the publication of this book of travels produced to Mr. Stephens a very handsome return. But it is by his elaborate and eloquent work on Central America, that Mr. Stephens will have laid his securest claim upon posterity, as one of the most instructive and entertaining writers of his age. The valuable information, which, by great and persevering research, he so plentifully gathered, during his travels in that almost terra incognita, he gave to the public with a copiousness of illustration, both of pen and pencil, rarely equalled in modern literature.—Since the publication of the Travels in Central America, the pen of Mr. Stephens has been idle. He has been for some years past residing in his native city, and in his capacity of a director of the Panama Railroad, has taken a deep and active interest in the prosecution of an enterprise that may be said to have originated from his own research and observation. In fact, to his efforts for the promotion of that great enterprise Mr. Stephens may be said to have fallen a victim.—For several months past he has been suffering from the effects of Chagres fever, contracted during his last visit to Panama.

THE MODEL PATRON.—Judge Franchot, says the New York Commercial, paid the present week his fifty-fifth annual subscription for the New York Spectator, with the remark, that it is pleasant to have such friends, in the character of a fine old American gentleman, even if it does give the impression that they are growing old.

BANKS IN BANGOR.—All the banks in Bangor, seven in number, have just declared a semi-annual dividend of 5 per cent. One of them—the Eastern—has paid that every six months for the last ten years.

INCREASE OF METHODISTS.—The General Conference, recently sitting in Boston, gives the following results in four years:—

"Since the last General Conference, there has been an increase of 90,246 members in the church. And the increase has been progressive, as the first of the four previous years showed an increase of only 7,000 in round numbers; in the second year it was 23,000; in the third it was 27,000; and in the last year it amounted to 32,000.

There are 93,561 officers and teachers, and 17,311 scholars in one Sabbath schools; and 4,260,558 volumes in the libraries.

The last five years present an increase of 42,741 officers and teachers, of 153,681 scholars, of 652,218 volumes in libraries.

"The last four years have furnished an increase of missionary contributions.

The past year presents an advance of annual income of about $60,000 over the year 1848, and the next year's appropriations is put down at $200,000.

RECEIPTS OF BENEVOLENT SOCIETIES.—The receipts during the past year, as appears from their annual reports, are as follows, viz:

Am. Home Missionary Society, total,	$160,062 25
Am. S. S. Union, donations, $45,-836 54; total	193,848 22
Am. Tract Society, donations, $116,406 41, total,	342,858 93
Am. Bible Society, donations not given, total,	308,744 81
A. B. C. F. M.; receipts for the last nine months,	211,062 54
	$1,216,574 75

NOTICE TO GROCERS.

ON Account of the unexpected demand for Mrs. SMITH'S KILN-DRIED YEAST. I have been unable to offer it to the trade to any extent, but now having made arrangements for a constant supply, I am prepared to supply Grocers and others with any quantity, by the dozen or otherwise.

THIS YEAST has been thoroughly tested by housekeepers most experienced in such matters, who, without exception, pronounce it the BEST, MOST CONVENIENT, AND RELIABLE ARTICLE ever introduced for raising bread;—far surpassing even the best hop yeast.

GROCERS in this town, Manchester, and many other places, are now selling large quantities every week.

DAILY
Morning Chronicle.
PORTSMOUTH:
TUESDAY, OCTOBER 19, 1852.

CUBAN ANNEXATION.

The New York Herald of Saturday contains a long editorial article, demanding the Conquest and Annexation of Cuba, because it is for our interest and that of the Creoles; because we have an abundant treasury, and the expenses of conquest will not be over fifty millions of dollars. The logic and the ethics of the article are not exactly to our taste—but we see no great risk in predicting that Cuba will be disannexed from Spain at some future day, perhaps not far distant—and almost certainly annexed to our wide-spreading Union. Whether it will be done by a bloody war or a peaceable treaty, we know not—but prefer the latter. No administration in this country can faithfully carry out our treaty stipulations with Spain, and at the same time preserve its popularity—another name for power. The Fillibuster sprit is up, and will not easily be put down.

LATEST FROM HAVANA.

Steamship Black Warrior from Mobile via Havana, arrived at New York on Saturday.

She reports that twenty Creoles had been arrested at Vuelt Abajo, charged with conspiracy against the Government; otherwise all quiet. A Spanish vessel was cruising outside the Moro to prevent the Crescent City from entering the harbor.

The Black Warrior took back to Havana the mails and passengers brought to N. O. in the Crescent City. The officers of the B. W. were treated with courtesy at Havana.

Among the passengers by the Arctic are Hon. Robt. J. Walker, and Mr. Mather, bearer of despatches.

The entire property of Count Pozos Dulces and brother, and Don Jose Frias had been confisticated. They are brothers in law of the late Gen. Lopez, and are in a dungeon at the Moro, and said to be sentenced to the Garrote. Senors Quintero, Balbin, Gonzales and another, are sentenced to the Garrote for connection with the Vox del Pueblo. Government had summoned ten Cubans now in this country, to appear for trial, for capital offences, within four days.

The Captain General being afraid of assassination, had abandoned his palace and gone to reside at a palace outside the city, whither he has withdrawn a large portion of the disposable force at Havana.

The Diario de La Marina contains a scurrilous article upon the Crescent City affair.

A large number of Cubans with families, came passengers in the Black Warrior, intending to become citizens of this country.

SCIENTIFIC ROBBERS.—Modern discoveries in art and science are not only turned to useful account, but sometimes to mischief also. The Boston Daily Advertiser of yesterday morning, states that the cabin of the brig Arthur Lacy, lying at Foster's wharf, was entered sometime during Saturday night, by some rogues, and Captain Halern's watch, valued at $90, and about $100 in money stolen. The captain and mate were asleep in the cabin, and although the rogues overhauled the trunks and other articles in the cabin, neither of them were aware of having been visited by these light-fingered gentry till late yesterday morning.

The captain thinks they must have brought some substance in the cabin to cause "sound sleep," for quite unusually for either himself or the mate, they slept from early Saturday evening until awakened late yesterday morning by the cook.

SUPPOSED ROBBERY AND PROBABLE MURDER.—In New York on Friday, the police arrested Thomas Nealis and Hugh Murray, for the murder of Christopher Mullen of Wilkesbarre, Penn. Mullen was an old man of 70 years, who had been married six weeks, and was on his way to Rondout to establish himself in business. He landed from a steamboat with his wife; and Nealis and Murray, who were runner and barkeeper in a public house in West street, after getting them to take lodgings there, went away with him, but returned without him. He had $225 in money, and three large trunks of valuables, for which it is supposed the scoundrels murdered him.

"COALS TO NEW CASTLE."—In our Lower Harbor Marine List in to-day's Chronicle, we have among other entries, a steamer with forty masts for ships, going from New York to Bath. These must have come down the Canal, we know not how far,—and were procured, as we suppose, for their superior quality. But the idea of bringing timber from any where else, into Maine, would have been strange indeed, a few years since.

☞ The Mexican Boundary Survey is ordered to be suspended for the present—as the appropriation for its expenses, by the U. S. Congress, is encumbered with a clause which makes it inoperative.

☞ Craigie's Bridge, from Boston to East Cambridge, has just been repaired, and will be opened to narrow, free, for that day only. It was closed in June, and has been repaired in the mean time at an expense of $25,000.

A grand daughter of Rev. Lyman Beecher, and daughter of Hon. T. C. Perkins of Hartford, was married last week to the Rev. E. E. Hale of Worcester, a Unitarian minister.—Boston Chronicle.

Well: what of it? The young clergyman's taste in the selection of a wife was not bounded by sectarian lines, and had little or no reference to the theology of her grandfather. Can any good reason be given why such things should not be? We know of none—on the contrary, we rely greatly on the power of taste in such matters, to break down the barriers of caste, nation and sect, between the various and discordant materials that are pouring into our country from all quarters. The very circumstance that any mention is made of sects in such a case, indicates the most intense bigotry somewhere.

Such mixed families as are alluded to are nothing new. Sixty or seventy years ago, a family in Portsmouth consisted of a man, wife and daughter. The man was a member and minister of a Universalist society; the wife was a Sandemanian; and the daughter a member of the Protestant Episcopal Church: and they were a very harmonious and happy family.

CURIOUS ACCIDENT.—The New Bedford Standard states that a valuable horse was killed near "Hard Dig" a few days since, in the following singular manner. He was grazing beside a wall, over which was hanging a sharp scythe; and on raising his head he came in contact with it, and before he could clear himself, a gash eighteen inches in length was opened in his neck, which soon caused his death.

NEW HAMPSHIRE FESTIVAL.—The tickets to the Jubilee of the 18th November, are to be two dollars. Hon. Daniel Webster has consented to preside, if the business of his department does not call him to Washington. If he does not preside, Hon. Franklin Pierce will—whether President of the United States or not.

GROTESQUE TROWSERS.—The New York Times comes out with the following phillipic against harlequin breeches, which will probably do about as much good as King James's celebrated Counter Blasts against Tobacco.

"The legs of our jeunesse doree are becoming as flashy and vulgar as their dialect.—Fancy waistcoats and slang phrases keep exact pace; and the multifarious stripes and blotches in which the "fast" portion of our male population encase their nether extremities are almost as repulsive as their habits and morals. A pair of ultra fashionable trowsers look as if the tailor must have been out skinning toads and snakes for his patterns. We should really dislike to put ourselves into them—we are certain that they must make one feel like hopping or crawling."

DIFFERENT ACCOUNTS.

Merrimac, the well informed Boston correspondent of the Newburyport Herald, says:

"The State Temperance Convention held in Boston on Thursday last, was respectable not only in numbers but in the character of those who took part in its deliberations. The testimony of clergymen from the different counties in regard to the workings of the new law, differs somewhat from the experience of business men and travellers generally. The former affirm that no liquor is sold in their counties, while the latter report that when they ask for the article they are always readily supplied."

The testimony of both is valuable; and yet both must be received with some grains of allowance; for the truth is probably between the two. In Maine it is certain that some liquors are sold, by stealth; but it is also true that the quantity is small and the lots not numerous. The same writer finds fault with the counsel for the prosecutions, as unskillful, and adds:

"A number of the largest importers of wine and spirits in New England will remove their business to New York next year unless some modification of the liquor law is effected this winter. The town agencies will be obliged to resort thither to legally obtain supplies.

The Boston Evening Gazette says that Mr. Bates, of the house of Baring, Brothers & Co., London, has made a donation of the princely sum of fifty thousand dollars, for the purchase of books for the Boston city library. The subject will probably come before the mayor and aldermen.

HURRICANE AT PORTO-RICO.—The British steamer Derwent, from St. Thomas October 9, arrived to-day, reports that Porto-Rico and adjacent Islands, were visited by a terrific hurricane Sept. 26. Several vessels were lost and many others damaged.

A recent writer asserts that the less a man knows, the wider he carries his mouth open. He says—"It is as impossible for an ignoramus to keep his jaws closed as it is for a sick oyster to keep his shell shut."

The words of a German author to his daughter are so full of wisdom that the young lady who should make them her rule would avoid half the scrapes of her companions:—"Converse always with your female friends as if a gentleman were of the party, and with young men as if your female companions were present."

Hay has been brought into Albany this season from Northern Ohio and Indiana, by the Lake and Erie Canal, a fact not only extraordinary, but heretofore unknown in the history or the inland commerce of this State.

NAVAL.—U. S. steam frigate Fulton, arrived at New Orleans 12th inst., from Pensacola.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

THE LYCEUM.

It will be seen by the following communication, that the officers of the Portsmouth Lyceum are already doing what we wished somebody would do, viz. arranging a course of lectures for the coming season. This board of directors have the advantage of last winter's experience in the business, and the good will and public favor which they earned by their well arranged and valuable course of lectures in the Hanover Street Chapel. The business is in excellent hands: and we expect as pleasant a Lyceum as we have ever had. That is saying a great deal; for the Portsmouth Lyceum in some past years has been second to none. But the circumstances of this season are favorable to the enterprise;—and a good course of lectures will be received with great favor.

Mr. Editor:—Your paper of yesterday has some suggestions respecting a course of Lyceum Lectures for the coming season.

Arrangements have already been made for a course, which will be opened by a lecture from Dr. Oliver Wendell Holmes of Boston. The other lecturers will be fully equal to those of last year.

Due notice will be given of the place, and time of commencement.

The export of corn is prohibited in Egypt in consequence of an apprehended scarcity.

A division has occurred in the French Ministry respecting the expediency of an immediate proclamation of the empire.

STATE PAUPERS IN MASSACHUSETTS.—The Boston correspondent of the Newburyport Herald says:

"The State authorities have made arrangements to occupy Rainsford Island, in Boston Harbor, as a hospital for the reception of State paupers. The buildings formerly occupied by the city of Boston upon the island will be used, and the old keeper on the premises has been engaged. The island is owned by the Commonwealth, though the free use of it has long been granted to this city for its occupation as a quarantine station. The new State Lunatic Hospital, at Taunton, and the State Alms House in the eastern part of the Commonwealth, will greatly relieve Boston and the neighboring cities of a large number of insane and other paupers in the buildings occupied for the House of Industry. Through the winter, it is thought the average will be about 1500.

DEATH OF AN OLD LADY.—The venerable lady, Mrs. Sanderson, of Lexington, Mass., memorable for her kind attentions to a British soldier who was wounded at Lexington in 1775, died on Friday in the 105th year of her age.

The Wilmington (N. C.) Herrld states that the Webster movement in that city has been abandoned. A meeting was held on the 11th inst. at which only five persons were present, and resolutions were adopted breaking up the organization.

Vive le Cameneum!
THINGS animate and inanimate their seasons have of glory. Day and night alternate come and go. Summer reluctant flies away, and the keen autumnal frost with blighting touch falls on the forest oak, and it sadly throws off its genial summer dress—slumbers awhile in grim loneliness, until gently patted on its bare cold arms by the soft warm palm of the golden orb of the "sweet spring time," when it again assumes its primeval fulness and captivating beauty.

Thus for a period of time fell the chill frost of fate upon the pleasant and classic features of the well remembered Cameneum, paralising its active limbs, and casting it into the sombre shade of neglect and listless apathy, until breathed upon by the vivifying breath of grateful remembrance, and touched by the restoring hand of courage, energy and taste—when it lifted its oriental eyelids, to signify that its long deep sleep was not unto death; promising again to wear the bridal blush and dazzling drapery, such as originally attracted earth's happy sons and fairest daughters to its open and winning arms.

Wiping now the pen, perhaps too deeply dipped in "Fancy's Dew,"—the subscriber, with the aid of a different phraseology, respectfully announces that he has bargained with the proprietors of the Cameneum, and has assumed the responsibility of resuscitating, renovating and beautifying the interior in particular of the building as above—painting, whitening, lighting and adorning with paintings, statuary, and a splendid seven-octave powerful Bostou Piano, &c.,—rendering the house inviting and every way worthy the best patronizing visitors.

The Cameneum will accommodate five hundred or more persons—is now nearly ready and intended for Lyceums, Lectures, Levees, Musical Soirees, Fairs, Sacred and Secular Concerts, and all well ordered and respectable exhibitions.

Preparations will be completed and the Cameneum Reopened with a Concert on the 9th of November next. Particulars hereafter.

LATEST NEWS!

LOSS OF THE AMERICAN SHIP MOBILE AND SEVENTY-FOUR LIVES!—A despatch from New York reports the loss of the American ship Mobile, 1000 tons, nearly new, Capt. Tarbox, from Liverpool for New Orleans, on the Arklow Banks, on the night of 27th ult. She had 60 passengers and 23 crew—all lost but 9 including the captain. The particulars are thus related:

The Mobile sailed Tuesday morning, with a fair wind, and made good progress through the day. At midnight the captain went below, leaving the second mate in charge, with orders to steer west-south-west, and to call him (the captain) at 2 o'clock, or sooner, if the weather became threatening. At midnight, the wind was blowing a fresh breeze at east-north-east, with a heavy sea, which soon increased to a violent gale. On the captain coming on deck, at 2 o'clock, he found the ship on a lee shore, from which it was impossible to extricate her, the second mate having, it is said, mistaken his orders, and kept the ship on a west-north-west course.

At half-past two she struck heavily on Arklow bank, and shortly afterwards commenced to break up. Efforts were made to launch the boats, but in consequence of the high sea they were ffruitless. A few hours after the vessel struck, the weather moderated, and at 11 o'clock on Thursday morning two schooners hove in sight, and immediately bore down to the wreck. One of them, bound to Glasgow, took off four sailors and the only surviving passenger; and the other took off the remaining four sailors, and landed them at Wexford, whence they have been forwarded to Liverpool.

Capt. Tarbox and all hands exerted themselves to the utmost to save the ship, until one after another they were washed away and perished.

WRECK ABANDONED.—The steam ship Union, on her passage from New York for Charleston on the 11th inst., fell in with brig Piercy, Capt. Young, totally dismasted and full of water, and took off the captain and crew.

BUSINESS IN BOSTON.—The Boston correspondent of the Newburyport Herald states that

The Southern and Western trade of Boston has been unusually good this season. The New England merchants are now here and making their fall purchases, and business is very good indeed. The hotels in the city have been much crowded the past week, and our streets filled with strangers.

The wages of mechanics of all kinds are higher than the average, and even day laborers are procured with great difficulty. Houses were never so scarce in Boston as they are at this time, and a large nuuber of dwellings worth from $8,000 to $12,000 each, will be put up early in the spring. The city has offered great inducements to persons that will build houses upon the new public squares at the South end, and the prospect is, that capitalists will avail themselves of the conditions upon which the public lands are now sold.

PORTSMOUTH, Oct. 13.

Messrs. Editors:—

I perceive through your paper of Friday morning, that the Honorable Mayor and Board of Aldermen at their last sitting passed a resolution instructing the City Marshal to close up a gate between the Court House lot and my garden, in order to prevent my using the city land. The following is a correct statement of the facts:

When I bought the Parsonage lot where I now live, some sixteen or eighteen years ago, there was an old fence some 15 or 16 feet high, which formerly stood between the old Alms House and the Parsonage lots. This fence required constant repair—being very old and listed. In order to get on the opposite side to repair it, I had a gate cut through it, if my memory serves me, by the Chairman of the Board of Selectmen. This fence I kept in repair for 12 or 15 years at my own expense with but one exception. About two years ago I removed the old fence and built a new one; this fence was built with a gate, similar to the old one, and for similar purposes.

Finding the gate's swinging over the city land gave the city authorities much uneasiness, I caused the hinges to be taken off from the outside, and the gate hung so as to swing on my own land; this was done previous to the passage of this resolution. One other purpose for which I have used the city lands was to destroy a flourishing bed of thistles and burdocks extending the whole length of the fence in the Court House yard. These I have caused to be cut down, for 12 or 15 years, to prevent their spreading into my garden, as they formerly were very troublesome. They were cut down in June last and now may be seen lying near by the fence.

These, with a very few exceptions, are all the purposes for which I have used the city's land, and if this merits the forming of a resolution intending to convey slanderous misrepresentations, let the reader judge. Is it not more probable that this complaint was made by some person who may have supposed his imaginary dignity was somewhat chafed in some previous transaction.

GLASS WALLS.—When the late Sir Robert Peel proposed his measure for the removal of the duty from glass, he wisely remarked there was no foreseeing the limits of the novel application of this beautiful manufacture. The most recent of these is the use of glass in the construction of walls for the growing of fruits and plants, as well as the introduction of a new style of architecture. The variableness of the British climate, and the great disappointment in procuring, with anything like certainty, a crop of fruit from brick or stone walls, led Mr. Ewing to consider whether this could not be obviated by substituting hollow walls of glass and iron; and the invention has proved perfectly successful.

By constructing the walls of sufficient width to enter—they become hot-houses on the best principle, the trees they contain are completely surrounded by light and exposed to the action of the sun's rays during the whole day; they form a delightful promenade in our uncertain climate during the winter months.—English paper.

The Baptist denomination in Massachusetts numbers 348 churches; 251 ordained ministers, 35 of whom were without charge about a year ago; and 31,414 members. The denomination is second to no other in the State except the Congregationalist, who number 36,000; the Methodists numbering 16,783. During the twenty years from 1830 to 1850, the [Congregationalists increased 76 per cent, the Baptists 98 per cent, and the Methodists about the same as the latter.

The Congregationalists in Maine have 227 churches. Whole number of additions to the churches, 552; removals by death, dismission, and exclusion, 572; the whole number of members now reported, 16,709. There are reported 152 settled pastors, 50 stated supplies, making 202 regular laborers among 257 churches.

The Congregationalists in Massachusetts have 461 churches, 355 pastors, and 54 stated supplies. 86 churches are vacant, 157 ministers are without a pastoral charge, and there are 64,796 church members.

MUSICAL ENTERTAINMENT,

BY THE PEAK FAMILY,
AS VOCALISTS
AND SWISS BELL RINGERS,
AT THE TEMPLE, PORTSMOUTH,
THURSDAY EVENING, Oct. 21.

THE Vocal Performances of this Family, with the Chime of fifty-six Bells, and a heavy Instrumental Accompaniment, are highly pleasing and instructive, exhibiting the perfection to which the beautiful science of Music can be carried by close application and persevering industry.

The beauty and splendor of the entertainment consists in the harmonious commingling of the voice with the bells—a feature entirely new in this country, and original with Mr. Peak. The effect in the choruses is most powerful, calling forth the loudest applause wherever it has been witnessed.

Doors open at 7 o'clock. To commence at ½ of 8.

TICKETS 15 cts., to be obtained at the stores of Wm. R. Preston and Jos. Haven Thacher.

THE ROGER WILLIAMS
COOKING STOVE,
FOR WOOD OR COAL.

TO ALL IN WANT OF COOK STOVES. As there can be but one best kind of Cooking Stove, and that having been satisfactorily proved to be the Roger Williams, by the working of some twenty-seven hundred now in use in New England,—the subscriber now offers for sale 6 sizes of this beautiful pattern for wood or coal. It is believed that this stove combines all the useful improvements that skill can invent, and is by far the most perfect cooking stove ever sold in Portsmouth.

And although its price is somewhat higher than some stoves offered in this market of late: it is believed to be much the cheapest in the end. It is a beautiful model, with fine smooth Providence castings, fitted together in the most substantial manner. Every stove is warranted for twelve months, and if its operation is not satisfactory, the money will be refunded.

Also for sale, a variety of PARLOR, OFFICE and SHOP STOVES, which are offered low

THE IMPROVED
EMPIRE STATE STOVE.

THIS justly celebrated COOKING STOVE having been improved in every way it could be to make its operations more complete, and its plates beautifully ornamented—no expense, time or trouble having been spared to make this the most complete Cooking Stove ever brought before the public—the subscriber feels assured in warranting the IMPROVED EMPIRE STATE superior to any stove in the market, as hundreds can testify who have used them for the past year.

This Stove has a very LARGE OVEN, which makes it desirable on account of doing more cooking with the same amount of fuel than can be done in any other stove. The flues are large, which ensures a good draft in all cases. The castings are very heavy and smooth, and the parts that come next the fire are extra thick, making it very durable. It is adapted to the use of either coal or wood, and we warrant them to operate as well with coal in the one as the other. We furnish them with the very best appanatus; and, altogether, it is the MOST DURABLE, ECONOMICAL and CONVENIENT COOKING STOVE ever made—complete in every respect. We ask the attention of all persons intending to purchase a new, or exchange their old stove, to an examination of the Improved Empire State.

We have also on hand a variety of other Cooking Stoves, called the "Banner," "Belle of the States," "King of the States," "Bay State," "Anglo Saxon," "Pearl of Troy," &c.; with a large lot of PARLOR STOVES, such as the Revere Air-Tight, Star, Revere Parlor Cook, Lady Franklin, for Wood or Coal; Shop, Office and Air-Tight Stoves, of different sizes and prices for either wood or coal.

Also an extensive assortment of HOUSEKEEPING GOODS; Wooden, Willow, Glass, Britannia, Japan, Tin, Hard, Enamel, and Brass Ware; Copper, Cast Iron, and Chain Pumps; Window-Shads, Table Oil-cloths, &c.

All the above goods will be sold lower than can be bought elsewhere in this vicinity.

WHAT-CHEER STOVE.

THE WHAT-CHEER COAL COOKING STOVE, now offered for sale by the subscribers, is acknowledged by all who have examined it to be the best and most economical Coal Stove ever offered for the public.

The castings are heavy, smooth, and very handsome. The Broiling apparatus is a great improvement over all other Stoves, being constructed in such a manner as to prevent the steam from escaping into the room when cooking.

All persons wishing to purchase a COAL COOKING STOVE, are respectfully requested to call and examine the same. Every Stove warranted to work well, or no sale.

We have also a large assortment of COOKING, PARLOR and STORE STOVES, &c.—for sale cheap for Cash at our Store.

The Bay State Stove,
FOR WOOD OR COAL.

THE subscriber is offering this favorite Stove to the public, the present season, would state that a new covered Broiling Apparatus has been added, the flues enlarged for burning anthracite coal, and the Stove otherwise improved—and is now put into the market as in the world. The castings are heavier, more beautiful and durable; the stove has a larger oven, will bake better and with less fuel, than any other stove in use.

These stoves are made from pure metal and are not liable to crack; and we furnish every stove with the best of apparatus—Copper Boiler, &c., and warrant them a year; and if any part proves defective it will be made good without charge.

Persons wishing to obtain a good Stove, will do well to buy a BAY STATE. They have been in operation in this city for four years past, and have given perfect satisfaction. For sale at the Store of the subscriber, where may be found a large assortment of COOKING, PARLOR AND OFFICE STOVES, TIN WARE, FUNNEL, &c. for sale cheap for cash. E. A. STEVENS.

BE WISE TO-DAY.

To-day is added to our time,
Yet while we sing it glides away;
How soon we shall be past our prime—
For where, alas! is yesterday?

Gone—gone into eternity;
There every day in turn appears;
To-morrow—oh! 'twill never be,
If we should live a thousand years.

Our time is all to-day—to-day,
The same, though changed; and while it flies,
With still, small voice the moments say,
'To-day! To-day! Be wise! Be wise!

LEAD MINES.

A correspondent of the New Bedford Standard, writes from Galena, Illinois, as follows:

"I visited the lead mines, which resemble a copper mine, so far as the excavations are concerned,—but unlike them, instead of being worked by stock companies, two or three men go on to a ridge, open the vein, and give the owner from a tenth to a fifth of the proceeds. The entrance to the mine is about the size of a well, with a windlass at the top. Putting my foot in a sling, I descended the shaft some sixty feet, when I came to a cave which had a "good show" in it. These caves are found all over the mining district, and from them is taken the greatest quantity of lead. That which is procured here is very pure, being 90 per cent.

I afterwards visited the smelting works.—The mineral is thrown into a furnace, which is kept burning by a steam bellows, and is but a nominal part of the expense of mining. After melting, it runs down into a large pot, under which is a fire; from thence it is bailed into moulds of 70 pounds each, and when cooled, ready for market. I have lost my notes, but I think one cord of wood will melt three tons of the mineral. If one wishes to labor in these gloomy holes for from $30 to $40 a month, he can do so, but once in such a place, if you can get safely out again without falling to the bottom, you will be perfectly satisfied not only with the mining business, but with a home on the surface of the earth.

PRAISE FOR PETER PARLEY.—Mr. Goodrich, (author of Parley's Tales, &c.) American Consul at Paris, having sent to Louis Napoleon a copy of his work on the United States, just published in Paris, in the French language, received a letter in reply from the President's Private Secretary, of which the following is a translation:

"It is a piece of good fortune for us that a foreigner should apply himself to making his country known to us with so much detail and precision. Although the esteem and affection of France for the United States are as old as the Union, nevertheless the enormous extension and rapid increase of the American Republic have not left us time to collect the positive information scattered on all sides. The deficiency you have now supplied with an authority of position and science that a Frenchman could never posses, and yet you have produced your book in our language in a manner that few Frenchmen could imitate.—The Prince charges me, while offering you his thanks, to testify to you his satisfaction, and I rejoice in a command which permits me to applaud a work as useful as it is patriotic."

Burke says that kings will become tyrants from policy when subjects are rebels on principle.

BIELA'S COMET.—This Comet, whose period is about six and two thirds years, when last visible to us in 1846, to the surprise of astronomers, divided into two nearly equal parts, which subsequently pursued the same course, but gradually separated from each other. It was by some supposed that their distance would continue to increase, and that one of the fragments if ever again seen, could only be recognized as another or a new comet.—By the following notice which we copy from the London Illustrated News of October 2d, it appears that this supposition has not proved to be correct, but that the two fragments for the last six years have been running a race at about the same distance from each other as in 1846, and perhaps may before the next return, in 1858, be again united into one:

"The second part of Biela's Comet, which separated under the eyes of the astronomers in 1846, into two distinct bodies, has just been discovered by Prof. Secchi of Rome, not far, apparently, from the larger comet; a fact which will doubtless be regarded as one of extraordinary astronomical interest."

During the first two months of the Maine law in Worcester, there were 20 complaints for drunkenness; corresponding months last year, 58.

PORTSMOUTH:
WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 20, 1852.

FRAUD IN FLOUR.

From the following paragraph, copied from the St. Louis Republican, it will be seen that some millers at the West have adopted the miserable policy of packing flour so as to weigh less than the standard weight of 196 lbs. to the barrel.

This must be particularly vexatious to retail flour-dealers, as every customer will be desirous to have his barrel weighed and warranted, whether it comes from St. Louis or elsewhere.

The offence deserves a severe penalty.

The Flour Inspector's report for the month of September, shows that out of 3,900 barrels of flour inspected during the month, 1,170 were found deficient in weight, some of them falling short as much as twenty eight pounds. In a great many instances, the barrels were fraudulently tared, and many other tricks resorted to for the purpose of deceiving. Most of this flour came from Mills in Illinois, and none of it was manufactured in this city.

NEW RAILROAD FROM NEWBURYPORT TO BOSTON.—The citizens of Newburyport are moving to build a new route to Boston. Only nineteen miles of road is to be constructed —from Georgetown to the Boston & Maine Railroad in South Reading. A charter has been obtained, and most of the stock subscribed for. The citizens of Newburyport have ever complained much of the Eastern road, and will doubtless exert themselves to provide another way to reach Boston. The new route would of course run for their especial accommodation,—and also greatly add to the value of the Newburyport & Georgetown Railroad stock.

☞ A man named John H. Boynton, of genteel appearance, was arrested in New York on Sunday morning, and is now in prison, on a charge of violating the person of Mary Ann Jacobs, a girl between 11 and 12 years of age, on Saturday night, on board the steamboat Knickerbocker. There is no doubt of his guilt, but his counsel aims to get him clear by the plea of no jurisdiction, as the offence was on the Sound, nearly opposite New London.

TIGERS.—The Boston Light Infantry celebrated their 54th anniversary on Monday, and had a supper at Porter's, in Cambridge, with toasts, &c. The name of Daniel Webster was mentioned and three cheers were given for "The foremost man of all the world."

Other sentiments were given, and the party broke up at a late hour.

EARLY APPLICATIONS FOR OFFICE.—The New York Herald, an independent paper, has labored assiduously for Pierce and King, during the whole campaign. In the Herald of last Sunday, under the head of "Early Applications for Office," the editor says:

"We have already received letters from good natured friends, all the way from Coney Island to California, requesting our influence and aid in procuring offices under the new administration, when General Pierce shall have been elected. This is rather a day before the fair; but we hereby give warning to all our good natured friends throughout the country, from the Pacific to the Atlantic, that it is impossible for us to have any influence under General Pierce's administration, because, on the day immediately after his election—that is to say, commencing from the third of November next—we mean to begin an independent course, almost going into an opposition to the new administration, whatever it may be. It will, undoubtedly, have some merits; but as long as presidents are men, and men are descendants of Adam and Eve, we may expect plenty of sin and sorrow in their career, and plenty of materials to oppose two-thirds of their conduct, and three-fourths of their appointments to office. We are, therefore, the opponents of General Pierce's administration in advance, and let them satisfy all applicants seeking office."

If we understand this, the Herald is the perpetual organ of the fault-finders. There is certainly room for fault-finding with every administration; and there is no reason to expect the coming one, either by Pierce or Scott, will be an exception to the rule.

PAUPERISM IN BOSTON.—Rev. Dr. Peabody of Boston, in a recent lecture on the condition of the poor in that city, says:

Twenty years ago the majority of pauperism was among our own population, but it is not so now—there has been a decrease in native-born pauperism. The vast increase is in the foreign population. In 1845 the whole number receiving aid from the city was 3500—now it is about 10,000, or 1 in every 16. Every sixteenth person a pauper!

He said that something must be done to check this growing evil, or our city would be burdened with a weight of pauperism equal to that of some of the cities of the old world.

A Naval Court Martial assembled in Philadelphia, on the 18th, at the Navy Yard, for the trial of the crew of the Vandalia, for offences committed during the cruise of that vessel.

RAILROAD ACCIDENT.—Mr. Stevens, a tailor at Ballardvale, was killed on Saturday evening, while attempting to cross the track of the Boston and Maine railroad.

VERBAL CRITICISM.

"Has a man," asked a prisoner of a magistrate, "a right to commit a nuisance?"

"No sir, not even the Mayor."

"Then, sir, I claim my liberty. I was arrested as a nuisance, and as no one has a right to commit me, I move for a non-suit."

This pun is built on a singular error.—"Commit no nuisance here," is a common sign in some cities. Now it is impossible to commit a nuisance. A crime may be committed by depositing, or making, or leaving a nuisance: but you can no more commit a nuisance than you can commit a lie. You may commit a crime by telling a lie: but you can commit neither lies nor nuisances. Such examples as these show that the grammar of a language is a science as well as art; and must be governed by principles rather than formed by rule.

The above examples violate no rule that we remember to have seen laid down in the books—but they violate this very important principle of language, viz: that we ought to select verbs which express our meaning, and not blunder into the use of those which pervert or destroy it.

☞ The Newark Daily Advertiser after giving the Bishops' Resolutions at length, says of Bishops Doane's affairs,

The Diocesan Convention, to which the whole matter is now finally referred, has already expressed its entire confidence in their Bishop, and they will probably give the finishing stroke to all disputes at the Special Convention to be held in this city on the 27th.

The Philadelphia Bulletin states that the following was the vote in the Court of Bishops on dismissing the presentment of Bishop Doane:—

Yeas—Bishops Chase, N. H.; Whittingham, Md.; Delancey, Western New York; Upfold, Indiana; Rutledge, Florida; Kemper, N. W. Diocess; McCoskey, Mich.; and Green, Miss.—8.

Nays—Bishops Eastburn, Mass.; Hopkins, Vt.; Potter, Pa.; Lee, Del.; Johns, Va.; and Smith, Ky.—6.

The three prosecuting Bishops may be considered as concurring with the minority, but they were not entitled to vote.

If these three be added to the six, we have nine against eight, after all. Not exactly a unanimous acquittal.

ELECTIONS.

OHIO.—After all the conflicting returns which we have had, we begin now to receive some that may be better depended upon.

The Washington Union gives the following from Ohio.

Columbus, Oct. 15.—The returns now show that the Congressional delegation will stand 12 democrats and 7 whigs. Sufficient returns have been received by telegraph and otherwise to show that the State has gone by 15 to 18,000 democratic majority for the Supreme Judge. So far the whigs have gained 4 Congressmen. The popular vote of the State it is believed will be 25,000 short of the November vote.

Cincinnati, Oct. 18.—Fifty-nine counties which have already been heard from, show a Whig gain of 1300. The democratic majority in the State will not be over 7000.

The Boston Daily Advertiser has another despatch of the same date from Cincinnati, which says—"In 66 counties the net whig gain is 10,000 compared with last year.—There are 22 counties to hear from, which will not materially alter the result."

The democratic majority in Ohio last year was 26,000.

INDIANA.—Cincinnati, Oct. 18.—In 17 counties in Indiana, Wright, democrat, for Governor, has 15,826 majority, showing a democratic gain of 6,752, compared with 1849.

SANTA ANNA—MEXICO.

Advices are received at New York and New Orleans from Vera Cruz to the 5th, and the city of Mexico to the 1st inst.

A decree had been issued by the Government for the reassembling of Congress on the 20th inst. The liberty of the press has been much restricted. A large body of the National Guards had surrendered at Cerro Gordo to the insurgents, after a brief engagement.

The disaffection at Mazatlan is unappeased. The authorities of Vera Cruz have been superseded.

An express from Orizaba states that a body of troops leaving Perote for that city, on the 16th ult., were attacked by the insurgents, and disarmed after a short conflict. Three of the number were killed, and several wounded.

The pronunciamento at Guadalajara, still occupies general attention. Davilla had retained his post but a few days when a revolution occured; and of course a fresh plan was at once announced, in which the federal doctrine was reasserted, and Santa Anna invoked to assume supreme authority. By this document Jose Maria Blacharte was placed in command of the troops. Gen. Arista, since this edict appeared, has suspended communications with Julisco, and ordered the army to advance upon the refractory State.

Rumors had been circulating at the Capitol, that by General Urega, the President, Arista was about to assume the dictatorship. There was no confidence placed in the story.

BANISHED.—A party of "panel thieves," who have committed robberies in Boston to the extent of thousands of dollars annually, for years past, have been so closely pursued by the police during the past few weeks, that they actually packed up their baggage and sailed for Philadelphia on Friday last. Mayor Gilpin should be put in possession of their names, so that he may be enabled to protect his Quaker constituents.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

THE DEMOCRACY AND THE FREE DEMOCRACY.—We confounded these two things together in our item of yesterday, when we gave notice of a Democratic Meeting to be held in the Temple last evening. Seeing a notice of a political meeting in the Gazette, we took it for granted that it could be no other than a new rally of the regular Pierce and King forces—and therefore exscissorized the Free from one end of it, and the Committee from the other, and sent it out, supposing we were giving correct intelligence of a meeting. But it seems the assembly was called by Liberty men, Free Democrats or Free Soilers, and addressed by one of their orators.

We will look out sharp, next time, for the difference between Free Democrats and others.

CONCORD EXPRESS.—A man of liberal views of trade, accompanied with business habits, may see a good chance to make a handsome business by a contract with the Portsmouth and Concord Transportation Company.

A well managed, prompt, liberal express line between Portsmouth and Concord, would not only coin money for itself, but greatly increase the intercourse and business between the two places.

MR. FETTEL'S CONCERT.—This evening at the Temple, Mr. Fettel's band will discourse their eloquent music, which is so well known here as not to need description or eulogy. Besides the band, he introduces a new singer, "Miss Buran, with her splendid songs." See Advertisement.

A DOG KILLED BY A HEN.—A few days since, a young dog six months old, which was accustomed to sport with his master's Shanghaies, unluckily approached a strange brood of chicks with a savage biddy for a protector. A great fluttering and squalling ensued, which so enraged the old hen that she flew at the unfortunate cur, and with a single blow on the back as he was retreating, so injured him that he died in a few hours. The owner regrets his loss, as he was much attached to the dog, and could at any time have exchanged him for five dollars.

STATE FAIR.—The following premiums were given to Manufactures from this neighborhood, viz:

"Great Falls M. Co. Sheeting $5,00; Portsmouth Steam Mill, Lawn, $5,00; Newmarket M. Co. sheeting and jeans, Diploma."

FREE SOIL LECTURE.—At the Temple last evening there was a very well behaved and good natured audience of two hundred people, including about twenty ladies—and the speaker was easy and good humored, a decided free soiler; but with as little bitterness as possible in a political party lecture. Of course he could not offer many novelties on so trite a theme as liberty—but he clothed the old ideas in some new forms, delivered them with some unction, and was frequently applauded.

We regret to learn that Nathaniel Lord, Jr., Esq., late Register of Probate for this county, died suddenly at his residence in Ipswich, on Saturday last. He was a graduate of Harvard College, of the class of 1798, which numbered among its members William Ellery Channing, Thomas Cole, Joseph Story, Dr. Tuckerman, and other distinguished men. Mr. Lord was Register of Probate for Essex County, more than 36 years.—Salem Register.

HOUSE BREAKING.—The dwelling house of Mrs. P. Chadwick of Exeter, was entered on the night of the 11th inst., and a large jug of oil and a quantity of apples were stolen. The same house was entered about three months since and nineteen pounds of salt pork stolen.

GALE AT BONAIRE.—A severe gale was experienced at Bonaire on the 27th September, which drove all the vessels ashore, and some of them sustained much injury. Several buildings were destroyed, and a large quantity of salt lost.

TEMPERANCE WOMEN.

The women of New York held a great Temperance Convention at Syracuse on Friday. Women presided and women made speeches. Letters were read from women who were unable to be present, one of whom wrote that "nothing would do good but the Maine law." Lucy Stone uttered a sentiment to the effect "that every reform movement is forwarded best by cultivating that sense of individual responsibility which never excuses from duty—that independence which boldly demands that justice be done, though the heavens fall."

Lucy was followed by Professor Allen, of McGranville College, who "was happy to find women entering into public in the good cause, and was surprised that a Doctor of Divinity at Syracuse, at the last Temperance Convention, attempted to padlock the lips of women. It reminded him of a remark of Miss Brown, of McGranville College, "that the clergy had rather millions of the race should sink to hell than women point out their salvation." Lydia S. Jenkins said that whereas the right to petition is the safeguard of the rights of the people, and our petitions as women of the state of New York, have been cast aside in contempt, and our right as memorialists called in question,

Resolved, That we will go by the hundred, if not by the thousand, at the coming Legislature, and present petitions for the Maine Law, with our own hands. Adopted. Adjourned.

Portsmouth, Oct. 13th, 1852.

Vive le Cameneum!

THINGS animate and inanimate their seasons have of glory. Day and night alternate come and go. Summer reluctant flies away, and the keen autumnal frost with blighting touch falls on the forest oak, and it sadly throws off its genial summer dress—slumbers awhile in grim loneliness, until gently patted on its bare cold arms by the soft warm palm of the golden orb of the "sweet spring time," when it again assumes its primeval fulness and capping beauty.

Thus for a period of time fell the chill frost of fate upon the pleasant and classic features of the well remembered Cameneum, paralizing its active limbs, and casting it into the sombre shade of neglect and listless apathy, until breathed upon by the vivifying breath of grateful remembrance, and touched by the restoring hand of courage, energy and taste—when it lifted its oriental eyelids, from their long deep sleep was not unto death; promising again to wear the bridal blush and dazzling drapery, such as originally attracted earth's happy sons and fairest daughters to its open and winning arms.

Wiping now the pen, perhaps too deeply dipped in "Fancy's Dew,"—the subscriber, with the aid of a different phraseology, respectfully announces that he has bargained with the proprietors of the Cameneum, and has assumed the responsibility of resuscitating, renovating and beautifying the interior in particular of the building as above—painting, whitening, lighting with gas, furnishing with paintings, statuary, and a splendid seven-octave powerful Boston Piano, &c.,—rendering the house inviting and every way worthy the best patronizing visitors.

The Cameneum will accommodate five hundred or more persons, and now nearly ready, and intended for Lyceums, Lectures, Levees, Musical Soirees, Fairs, Sacred and Secular Concerts, and all well ordered and respectable exhibitions.

Preparations will be completed and the Cameneum Reopened with a Concert on the 9th of November next. Particulars hereafter.

Evening Singing School.

The subscriber would particularly informs his musical friends and the public generally, that he will open an Adult Evening Singing School for the scientific instruction and correct practice of Sacred and Secular Music.

IN THE CAMENEUM,

On MONDAY EVENING, November 15th,
at half-past 7 o'clock.

The heavy and splendid Piano, with extensive and beautiful accommodations for singing, and for promenading during recess-time, with an experienced and well known Teacher, may be some inducement to encourage a full attendance.

TERMS $1 for Fifty Course of Twelve Lessons, on Monday Evenings. Tickets for sale by Mr. M. and Mr. J. H. Head.

Juvenile Class.

A Juvenile Class will also be commenced on WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON, Nov. 17, at the subscriber's Music Room, Exchange Buildings, at half-past 2 o'clock. Should the pupils number too much for the Music Room, they will be transferred to the Cameneum.

Tickets $1 for Twenty-Four Lessons, Wednesday and Saturday Afternoons, to be had of the Teacher or at Mr. Head's.

LATEST NEWS!

Fire at Alton Bay!

A MOTHER AND THREE CHILDREN BURNT.

A correspondent at Rochester, writes us that at about 3 o'clock yesterday morning, the old Boat Store House at Alton Bay, having a tenement in the upper part occupied by a Mr. Sawyer, was burnt and his wife and three children perished in the flames. Mr. Sawyer was not at home at the time. One little child two years old was thrown from the window, who it is thought will recover from the injuries of the fall. It is supposed that the mother after throwing it out returned for the other children and perished with them.

THE CRESCENT CITY ORDERED OUT OF HAVANA.

This is the principal intelligence of last evening's mails and telegraphs, and must lead to some important movements of our own government and that of Spain.

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—The steamship Crescent City arrived at her dock at 9 o'clock, this morning. She left New Orleans on the 11th inst., and arrived off Havana on the 14th, at daylight. At sunrise, the Captain of the Port came on board and refused to permit Capt. Porter to communicate with the city. Capt. Porter then delivered his protest, and put to sea without landing his mails and passengers.

The Crescent City entered the harbor of Havana at the first break of day, and it was supposed by those on board that it was owing to the Crescent City not being seen until she was well in the harbor that she was not molested at sea. At sunrise, the Captain of the port came alongside, and asked for the obnoxious Mr. Smith, who he was told was still on board. He then informed Capt. Porter that as the ship was in port, no steps would be taken to turn him out, but that no communication could be allowed with the shore, or in any way from the shore.

Capt. Porter said that he desired to present his protest to the Consul, on which the Captain of the Port politely offered to get further orders from the Captain General, in the meantime informing Capt. Porter that the ship might be in port as long as suited his purpose, and might go to sea when she pleased, as they acknowledged no control over her; but communicate she should not in any manner with the shore. Finally Capt. Porter protested against the whole proceeding, and returned to New York as above.

☞ The Boston Transcript of last evening states, "on reliable authority," that Mr. Webster has written no letter declining his nomination—and will write none—so that he stands ready to receive a few thousand votes, which may be cast in consequence of the Boston nomination.

RELIGIOUS INTELLIGENCE.—Rev. Edwin Holt has resigned the pastorate of the Presbyterian church in Madison, Indiana. He was formerly pastor of the North Church in Portsmouth, and more recently of a church in Greenland.

Rev. M. P. Stickney has resigned the rectorship of Burlington College.

Lowell Mason is lecturing on music and teaching in London.

SINGULAR AFFAIR.—As a train of cars was in motion near "Myrick's," a few days ago, a woman was observed to jump from the platform of one of them and run for the woods.—The train stopping in a moment or two, she was pursued by several persons for the purpose of ascertaining the cause of her singular conduct, but they were unable to overtake her. The woman has not been heard of since, to our knowledge. Her name was not known by the passengers or conductor.—New Bedford Standard.

Col. N. B. Baker has given notice to the Judges that he intends to resign the office of Clerk of the Courts of Merrimack County, at the close of the present term. He intends to go into the practice of law in Concord.

FOREIGNER'S ASYLUM LOCATED.—It will be recollected that by an act of the Legislature three asylums were to be located in different portions of the State, for the reception of foreigners whose maintenance might become a public charge. The State Paupers establishment for the southern portion of the State has been located at Middleborough, in that part of the town known as Teticutt.—New Bedford Standard.

EXTENSIVE SUGAR HOUSE TO BE BUILT AT NEW YORK.—A long lease of the ground recently occupied by Swift's sugar refinery, on Laight street, has been purchased, and an extensive building is to be immediately erected on it by the Grocers' Steam Sugar Refining Company of New York. It will be nine stories high, 225 by 95 feet, and will cost, all expenses included, something like $300,000. The machinery will be valuable, and the beams, roof, posts, floors, window-sashes and frames, will all be made of iron.

WHITTIER'S POEMS.—Messrs. Ticknor, Reed & Fields, Boston, have in press a new volume of poems by Whittier. The title of the work will be, "The Chapel of the Hermits and other poems." Small volumes of poems by living authors, are generally regarded as poor property in the literary market; but Whittier, Longfellow, Holmes, Bryant and a few others, have such reputations that any new volume of their writings is eagerly sought for, and puts money in the pockets of both author and publisher.—Newburyport Herald.

CAUTION TO TRUANT BOYS.—About a week since a lad named Wm. H. Smith played truant and came near being drowned near the Mill Dam. A day or two since the dead body of a boy was found floating in the water near the Fitchburg Railroad bridge. It proved to be that of the same truant boy. If he had obeyed his parents and attended school he would not have been drowned.—Boston Post.

BEARD'S LAST DOG STORY.—Beard of the Nashua Telegraph tells his last dog story as follows:—"A friend of ours keeps a dog. He went out into the country with him the other day—came across a woodchuck—dog never saw a woodchuck before—afraid of him, a little—came off—dog just as well next day as if he hadn't seen the woodchuck. Smart man's dog, he is."

HUMBOLDT.—Alexander Von Humboldt, who has accompanied the king of Prussia to the sea coast, surprises the people by the bodily vigor which he displays, in spite of an age of 83 years. After walking and driving about for the greater part of the day, and partaking in all sorts of public festivities, he reads aloud in the evening to the royal party, without showing signs of fatigue.

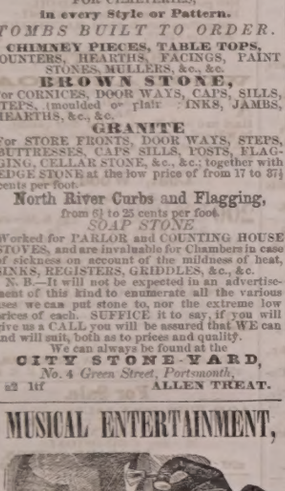
MUSICAL ENTERTAINMENT,



BY THE PEAK FAMILY,
AS VOCALISTS
AND SWISS BELL RINGERS,
AT THE TEMPLE, PORTSMOUTH,
THURSDAY EVENING, Oct. 21.
THE Vocal Performances of this Family, with the Chime of fifty-six Bells, and a heavy Instrumental Accompaniment, are highly pleasing and instructive, exhibiting the perfection to which the beautiful science of Music can be carried by close application and persevering industry.
The beauty and splendor of the entertainment consists in the harmonious commingling of the voice with the bells—a feature entirely new in this country, and original with Mr. Peak. The effect in the choruses is most powerful, calling forth the loudest applause wherever it has been witnessed.
Doors open at 7 o'clock. To commence at ½ of 8.
TICKETS 15 cts., to be obtained at the stores of Wm. R. Preston and Jos. Haven Thacher.

THE ROGER WILLIAMS COOKING STOVE,
FOR WOOD OR COAL.
TO ALL IN WANT OF COOK STOVES.
As there can be but one best kind of Cooking Stove, and that having been satisfactorily proved to be the Roger Williams, by the working of some twenty-seven hundred now in use in New England,—the subscriber now offers for sale 6 sizes of this beautiful pattern for wood or coal. It is believed shat this stove combines all the useful improvements that skill can invent, and is by far the most perfect cooking stove ever sold in Portsmouth.
And although its price is somewhat higher than some stoves offered in this market of late. It is believed to be much the cheapest in the end. It is a beautiful model, with fine smooth Providence castings, fitted together in the most substantial manner. Every stove is warranted for twelve months, and if its operation is not satisfactory, the money will be refunded.
Also for sale, a variety of PARLOR, OFFICE and SHOP STOVES, which are offered low
Terms Cash, invariably. J. E. CHAPMAN,

Wholesale and Retail Warehouse.
THE IMPROVED
EMPIRE STATE STOVE.
THIS justly celebrated COOKING STOVE having been improved in every way it could be to make its operations more complete, and its plates beautifully ornamented—no skill, time or trouble having been spared to make this the most complete Cooking Stove ever brought before the public—the subscriber feels assured in warranting the IMPROVED EMPIRE STATE superior to any stove in the market, as hundreds can testify who have used them for the past year.
This Stove has a very LARGE OVEN, which makes it desirable on account of doing more cooking with the same amount of fuel than can be done in any other stove. The flues are large, which ensures a good draft in all cases. The castings are very heavy and smooth, and those parts that come next the fire are extra thick, making it very durable. It is adapted to the use of either coal or wood, and we warrant them to operate as well with one as the other. We furnish them with the very best appanatus; and, altogether, it is the MOST DURABLE, ECONOMICAL and CONVENIENT COOKING STOVE ever made,—complete in every respect. We ask the attention of all persons intending to purchase a new, or exchange their old stove, to an examination of the Improved Empire State.
We have also on hand a variety of other Cooking Stoves, called the "Banner," "Belle of the States," "King of the States," "Bay State," "Anglo Saxon," "Revere," "Vulcan," "Troy," &c.; with a large lot of PARLOR STOVES, such as the Revere Air-Tight, Star, Revere Parlor Cook, Lady Franklin, for Wood or Coal; Shop, Office and Air-Tight Stoves, of different sizes and prices for either wood or coal.
Also an extensive assortment of HOUSEKEEPING GOODS; Wooden, Willow, Glass, Britannia, Japan, Tin, Hard, Enamel, and Brass Ware; Copper, Cast Iron, and Chain Pumps; Window-Shade, Table Oil-cloths, &c., &c.
All the above goods will be sold lower than can be bought elsewhere in this vicinity.

WHAT-CHEER STOVE.
THE WHAT-CHEER COAL COOKING STOVE, now offered for sale by the subscribers, is acknowledged by all who have examined it to be the best and most economical Coal Stove ever offered te the public.
The castings are heavy, smooth, and very handsome. The Broiling apparatus is a great improvement over all other stoves being constructed in such a manner as to prevent the steam from escaping into the room when cooking.
All persons wishing to purchase a COAL COOKING STOVE, are respectfully requested to call and examine the same. Every Stove warranted to work well, or no sale.
We have also a large assortment of COOKING, PARLOR and STORE STOVES, &c.—for sale cheap, for Cash or Country Stores.
Corner of State and Water streets,
a27 ANDERSON & EMERY.

The Bay State Stove,
FOR WOOD OR COAL.
THE subscriber, in offering this favorite Stove to the public, the present season, would state that a new covered Broiling Apparatus has been added, the flues enlarged for burning anthracite coal, and the Stove otherwise improved—and is now put into the market as in the world. The castings are heavier, more beautiful and durable; the stove has a larger oven, will bake better and with less fuel, than any other stove in use.
These stoves are made from pure metal and are not liable to crack; and we furnish every stove with the best of apparatus—Copper Boiler, &c., and warrant them a year; and if any part proves defective it will be made good without charge.
Persons wishing to obtain a good Stove, will do well to buy a BAY STATE. They have been in operation in this city for four years past, and have given perfect satisfaction. For sale at the Store of the subscriber, where may be found a large lot of COOKING, PARLOR AND OFFICE STOVES, TIN WARE, FUNNEL, &c. for sale cheap for cash. E. A. STEVENS.

COLONIZATION NOTICE.

W. McLain, Esq., Secretary of the African Colonization Society, has issued the following notice from the Office of the Society at Washington.

The vessel heretofore advertised to sail from Norfolk, Va., the 1st of November, will be postponed to the 13th of November. This delay is rendered necessary in consequence of the vessel, the Ralph Cross, not yet having returned from Liberia; and also by the fact that so many persons have applied for a passage in her that we shall be obliged to send two vessels to accommodate them. We have received already the names of 483 applicants for a passage in said vessel, while she cannot comfortably carry more than 225! Many of these persons live in North and South Carolina. We have, therefore, determined to send a vessel from Wilmington, North Carolina, to sail the 20th November. This will be the first expedition ever fitted out from that port.

The present exhausted state of our funds will not allow us to send out all of the present applicants. We, however, have promised a passage to 350; and the money to pay their expenses has yet all to be collected. We therefore appeal to our friends to come to our help, and that right speedily.

We expect to send a vessel from New Orleans the 20th December, and one from Savannah as soon as circumstances will justify.

SHANGHAI SHEEP. — Sheep all the way from China, good reader! Something of a novelty, that. We are accustomed—thanks to Yankee adventure, to the terms Shanghai chickens, Shanghai eggs, &c.; but we had no idea that the subjects of the Brother of the Sun and fifty-third Cousin of the Moon, had any knowledge of the value of the wool-clip or the taste of mutton-chops. One would imagine that Chinese sheep would be like everything else that is Chinese—queer, odd, quizzical. But no such thing. These two lambs—for they are young 'uns—are quite as simple and woolly, and dirty, and respectable-looking as the most civilized of their European or American brethren. Its of no use saying,—"Chow chow," or "Tch ki" to them; they don't understand the green tea language. A long voyage they have had of it, from Shanghai, on the other side of the globe, to New York—which is already a trip long enough to frighten any decent sheep—and then from New York to this city of abominations. They appear to take it quite quietly, however, and thoroughly to understand the difference between people who wear tight indispensables and those who sport baggy ones. The two innocent little big lambs, propose emigrating to the prairies of Texas shortly, and we expect to hear of their lying down peaceably in the same flock with Mexican and Vermont specimens of their tribe.—N. O. Picayune.

It is reported in Washington that the successor to the Hon. T. Butler King, as Collector of the Port of San Francisco, will be shortly appointed. Mr. King's resignation was at his own desire, and the statement by telegraph that he was recalled on account of the misapplication of funds, was unfounded.

We learn that, in the case of F. O. J. Smith vs. the Portland Gas Light Company, the referees awarded to Smith, under his construction contract, 422 shares of stock and $8200 cash, including dividends on stock.—Portland Adv.

Letters received in Exeter give information that Robert Pratt, formerly of that place, is in the gold mines of California, near Downieville, getting $5 per day.

SEVERE BITE OF A DOG.—On Saturday night, a man named H. C. Lincoln was bitten in a frightful manner by a watch dog kept in the jewelry store of Messrs. Newall, Harding & Co., Court Square, Boston. Mr. Lincoln, supposing that he was at the door of Gibbs's Hotel—a very curious mistake, by the way—raised the latch of Messrs. Harding & Co.'s shop-door, which happened to be unlocked—some persons being at work in the store. The moment he opened the door, the dog sprang upon him, seized his leg, and actually bit a mouthful from the left calf. The wound was an awful one and the suffering man was conveyed to the watch house where doctors were called to attend him.

PORTSMOUTH:
THURSDAY, OCTOBER 21, 1852.

TROUBLE WITH CUBA AND SPAIN.

There seems to be, not only a disposition in our Atlantic States to operate on Cuba, but there is also an apparent insanity about the Spanish government of Cuba, which bids fair to precipitate the events which they most fear.

The Boston Post contains an abridgement of the Spanish account of this affair—of which we avail ourselves, giving the Cuban official justifying reason for ordering away the steamer.

It is given in the Diario de la Marina, and with as much frankness as simplicity. Now the Crescent City has, the Diaro says, "at the head of the list of the ship's crew, a certain obscure personage known under the name of Mr. William Smith." He "flooded the whole New York press with notices of what had occurred in Havana."

The Diario alleges that these notices contain falsehood, calumny, and insult to the Spanish name, all which may be true or not true, without touching the question involved in the official's course. This, however, is all this journal alleges, and this Mr. Smith was charged with, and "by his silence" admits its truth. The officials first gave notice that this personage was disagreeable to them, and that if he was in the Crescent's next voyage the vessel would not be allowed to enter port.—The Diario thus relates what followed:—

"The steamer in question again made its appearance at the mouth of our harbor last Sunday, and receiving from the Moro the signal to stop, did not comply with the direction, giving as an excuse the bad state of her engine, to which we are willing to give full credit. She then entered the harbor, and after anchoring received the usual visit from the captain of the port, who, finding the name of Mr. William Smith written at the head of the list of the ship's crew, at once ordered her to depart within two hours, without communicating with the place. It appears that Captain Porter presented a protest, which, as we have understood, was not received, since it cannot admit of a doubt that the captain of a steamer is not a proper person to address a superior authority, except through some intermediate agency. At the prescribed time, the Crescent City departed, as it was bound to do, taking her passengers and mail, and complying with the order of the Spanish authorities within the dominions of Spain. Such is the fact in all the naked truth."

And thus matters stand. We presume the Diario has given the best vindication of the course of the Cuban Governor, Canedo. The gist of it is, that Mr. Smith "an officious meddler," circulates in New York such matter as he pleases about things in Havana! And for this an American vessel is to be inhibited Cuban ports! No violation, as we understand it, is alleged of any local law; no attempt has been made to excite revolution in Cuba, or supply it with fuel; or to violate in any way the law of Spain. But simply because one of a vessel's crew reports notices of things in Havana as they appear to him, that vessel, passengers, mails, cargo, and all, are ordered off. It is an assumption on the part of Gov. Canedo to go under the American flag and determine as to whether a certain person shall make one of the crew of the vessel on which it floats! The mere statement of the justifying reason of their bold step is quite sufficient, with all intelligent Americans, to show its absurdity.

FLORIDA ELECTION.

It must be extremely close; we have contradictory accounts.

On one hand, a letter received by the Savannah Rebublican, from an intelligent gentleman at Jacksonville, states that a'l the returns but from two or three small counties have been received. Broome, dem., is elected governor by 150 majority, and Maxwell, dem., by 190 majority for congress.

On the other hand, a dispatch from Baltimore, Oct. 19, states that Mr. Cabell, who is at Richmond, says he has sufficient returns of the Florida election to satisfy himself of his election to Congress, and also that of the Whig Governor.

PENNSYLVANIA AND OHIO.

From Pennsylvania the official majorities come in more favorable for the democrats. The Philadelphia Bulletin says they will have eighteen thousand majority!

In Ohio, Sapp, whig, is elected to congress in the 15th district, owing to the democrats running two candidates. Nothing further as regards the democratic majority in the state; it will be 12,000.—Boston Post.

COLLISION ON LAKE ERIE.

A dispatch from Buffalo states that the steamer Ocean, on Lake Erie, was run into by the schooner Mansfield on Saturday last. The steamer discovered the schooner bearing down upon her, when about four miles from the locality of the "Atlantic" tragedy. Her helm was immediately put a-port till she turned nearly around, when the schooner ran into the forward part of her wheel. Had she struck a few feet fore or aft of this, the Ocean would have gone down with a large load of passengers. The schooner had all sail set, and cut through into the kitchen, leaving her figurehead sticking in the steamer. Much indignation is expressed, and an investigation is demanded by the citizens of Buffalo.

GREAT GALE AT PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND.—The following telegraphic despatch, says the Boston Journal, was received at the Merchants' Exchange, on Wednesday morning, from the U. S. Consul at Pictou, which brings sad intelligence from the fleet of American fishermen on the eastern coast:

PICTOU, Oct. 18.

Twenty-four fishing vessels are ashore on the north-east end of Prince Edward Island. Two foundered in four fathoms water, and all hands lost. I shall go immediately to the scene of distress. B. H. NORTON.

DAILY PAPERS IN MANCHESTER, N. H.—There are at this present time, three daily papers published in Manchester. One, the Mirror, which is advertised for sale, and having stopped a day or two, a second, the Union, made its appearance from the office of the Democrat. Then the Mirror began again.—Third and lastly the Daily American appeared, from the office of the weekly American. They do not hold out the idea of absolute permanency.

A REVOLUTIONARY SOLDIER.—Mr. Wm. Moulton died at Grantham, 8th inst. aged 90. He served in the war of the Revolution, and was actively engaged in the battle of Long Island. He was, also, at the execution of Maj. Andre. The deceased was a native of Massachusetts. He settled in Grantham sixty years ago; the place being then a wilderness. He was an honest, industrious and upright man, beloved by his family, and honored and esteemed by his townsmen.

COOL.—The Newburyport Herald publishes a communication from some man who is not a subscriber—and than very properly adds,—"in our opinion it exhibits a comfortable degree of assurance, bordering very closely on impertinence, for any person to solicit the publication of articles in a paper, towards the sustaining of which, he himself does nothing."

RETRENCHMENT "OVER THE LEFT."—In the city of Boston it seems that both branches of the City Government have voted to increase the salary of the Mayor from $2500 to $4000! Here is a jump of $1500 on a single item of city expenditure. Here is "retrenchment" in the way that it generally goes—that is, backwards.

SERIOUS ILLNESS OF BISHOP DOANE.—Bishop Doane was taken seriously ill, at New Brunswick, on Sunday morning, during the performance of services in church. Serious apprehensions are entertained for his life.

CITY HONORS TO SENATOR HALE.—The Common Council of New York on Monday evening, resolved to tender a public reception to Hon. John P. Hale on his arrival in that city.

DANGERS OF THE SEAS.—Bark Susan Brewer, Capt. Koopman, of Freeport, Maine, sailed from Boston 22d ult., for New Orleans, with Granite for the Custom House in the latter city, and in a harricane on the 25th, lost her mainmast.

Next day at 11 A. M. had five feet three inches water in the hold. At 2 P. M. the water increased so fast that it was within a few inches of the deck, and the crew took to their boats, which were steered for the Hole in the Wall, about 450 miles distant. At 1 P. M. 3d, discovered bark Elizabeth Leavitt, also a complete wreck, who took all on board except those in the captain's boat, which was out of sight and arrived on the banks safely; there they determined to await the arrival of a vessel bound to New Orleans. After steering for Nassau, Cardenas, and Salt Key Bank, the bark drifted into the Gulf Stream in the hope of making Charleston or Savannah, and anchored off Edisto inlet, when the steamer Calhoun came and took the crew of the Susan Brewer off, and despatched steamer Metamora to relieve the Elizabeth Leavitt.

JENNY LIND.—Madame Goldschmidt is at present at Leipsic, residing with her husband's relatives. She has purchased a house at Dresden, and it is said she intends in future to live in that city.

CHESNUTS.—We learn that the chesnut crop is very large this year. The woods at comparatively a short distance from Boston, are filled with them, and bushels are rotting under the trees. They can be purchased in the country, ready for transportation, we are told, at 75 cts. per bushel—in our market, however, they are sold at $2 per bushel.—Boston Journal.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—Yesterday about noon, as Mr. Gyles P. Noyes, of Newbury, was drawing a gondola out of Parker river, with a team of oxen, the yoke of the oxen by the side of which he was walking, split, and flying off, struck with such force as to kill him instantly. Another man who was near was somewhat injured, but not seriously.—Newburyport Herald.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

STEAMER BOSTON.

The steamboat Boston, as will be seen under the marine head, put into this port yesterday, by reason of the stress of weather.

The steamer started from Boston on Tuesday evening, on her usual trip to Bangor; but encountered a strong north-easterly gale and a heavy sea, becoming more and more tempestuous till between ten and eleven o'clock, when a violent sea stove in the bulwarks on the starboard side, flooding the deck with water, making confusion among the horses, eight or nine of which were tied exactly opposite the breach,—and rendering everything about that part of the vessel uncomfortable and dangerous. The vessel was heavily loaded, and every part of her was encumbered with freight.

For the safety of vessel, cargo and passengers, her head was turned towards this port, where she anchored in the Lower Harbor about midnight, and came up to town yesterday. Some passengers have left and gone on by land: others, a considerable number, still remain on board.

LAUNCH TO-DAY.—The fine ship "Frank Pierce," 1400 tons, is to be launched from the yard of Messrs. Fernald & Petigrew, this afternoon at five o'clock.

THE PEAK FAMILY.—Our musical people here have been many times entertained by the singing of the Peak Family in former years—and their Concerts in this place have always drawn good houses. They now add to their other attractions the Musical Bells, after the manner of the Swiss Bell Ringers—and not only play tunes on them, but combine their own excellent Vocal Music with that of the Bells. This latter feature is entirely novel, and must add interest to the whole performance.

☞ We understand that Mr. John Trundy's work-shop in Bow street was broken open on Tuesday night, and robbed of a lot of tools.

ROCKINGHAM COUNTY TEMPERANCE CONVENTION.

A meeting of the friends of temperance in Rockingham county, was held at Newmarket, on Tuesday the 19th of October, 1852, agreeably to previous notice.

Rev. A. R. Bradbury of Portsmouth was chosen Chairman, and Mr. S. A. Haley of New Market Secretary.

On motion, the following persons were appointed Committee to prepare business for the Convention, viz.: Messrs. Christie and Nowell of Portsmouth, and Moses of Exeter.

Said Committee reported the following resolutions: which, after having been thoroughly discussed by Messrs. Bartlett of Nottingham; Nowell, Bradbury and Christie, of Portsmouth; Burlingame, Culver and Haley, of New Market; Hinckley of Newtown, and Moses of Exeter—were adopted by the Convention, viz.:

Resolved, That we regard the action of the Senate at the late June session, in laying on the table and postponing to the adjourned session in November, the bill entitled "An Act for the suppression of drinking houses and tippling shops," after the same had, by a very large majority, and in accordance with the prayer of an unprecedented number of petitioners, been passed by the House of Representatives,—as an evasion of their constitutional duties and responsibilities.

Resolved, That the request of the Senate to the Selectmen of the several towns and places to insert an article in the warrant calling the town meeting on the 2d of November next, to take the sense of the legal voters by ballot on the question —"Is it expedient that the bill entitled 'an act for the suppression of drinking houses and tippling shops' be enacted into a law?"—has no binding force, as such proceeding is not authorized by the constitution.

Resolved, That the voters of the State possess no power to relieve the Senate of any portion of of its constitutional obligations, and therefore they should leave the question proposed by the Senate, unanswered.

Resolved, That, should the legal voters of the State unanimously answer said question in the affirmative, they have no assurance that the Senate would pass the bill, as that body would be under no legal obligation so to do; and the action already had, proves conclusively that the Senate would not in the least be influenced by moral considerations, so far as said bill is concerned.

Resolved, That a clear and definite expression of the public mind on the question proposed, is not to be expected amid the turmoil and excitement attending an election of Presidential Electors.

Resolved, That in view of the various circumstances and considerations referred to in the preceding resolves, we earnestly recommend and advise that no action whatever be taken by the friends of Temperance throughout the State at the coming election on the question proposed; but that the Honorable Senate be left to answer its interrogatory at the adjourned session of the General Court in November, in the mode prescribed by the Constitution.

Resolved, That we would now and at all times render to the minority of two in the Senate, the honor and respect they so justly merit, for their efforts to carry into execution the will of the people of New Hampshire, as defined in said bill for the suppression of drinking houses and tippling shops.

Voted, That the proceedings of this Convention be signed by the Chairman and Secretary, and published in the "Crusader" at Concord, with the request that all the other papers in the State publish the same.

The Convention then adjourned sine die.

S. A. HALEY, Secretary.

SAD MORTALITY.—The Buffalo Courier says, a German residing in that city, the other day, had with him a little daughter about seven years old. Placing his hand upon her head, he said: "this is the last of seven children—all gone dead this summer." Another instance is mentioned where, two weeks ago, the last but one of a family of fourteen, who had been in the country but eight weeks, was buried, leaving the wife and mother the only survivor, in a strange land. Such have been the ravages of disease this summer in the Queen City.

Vive le Cameneum!
THINGS animate and inanimate their seasons have of gay. The day and night alternate come and go. Summer reluctant flies away, and the keen autumnal frost with blighting touch falls on the forest oak, and it sadly throws off its genial summer dress—slumbers awhile in grim loneliness, until gently patted on its bare cold arms by the soft warm palm of the golden orb of the "sweet spring time," when it again assumes its primeval fulness and captivating beauty.

Thus for a period of time did the chill frost of fate upon the pleasant and classic features of the well remembered Cameneum, paralizing its active limbs, and casting it into the sombre shade of neglect and listless apathy, until breathed upon by the vivifying breath of grateful remembrance, and touched by the restoring hand of courage, energy and taste—when it lifted its oriental eyelids, to signify that its long deep sleep was not unto death; promising again to wear the bridal blush and dazzling drapery, such as originally attracted earth's happy sons and fairest daughters to its open and winning arms.

Wiping now the pen, perhaps too deeply dipped in "Fancy's Dew"—the subscriber, with the aid of a different phrascology, respectfully announces that he has bargained with the proprietors of the Cameneum, and has assumed the responsibility of resuscitating, renovating and beautifying the interior in particular and the building as a whole—painting, whitening, lighting with gas, furnishing with paintings, statuary, and a splendid seven-octave powerful Boston Piano, &c.,—rendering the house inviting and every way worthy the best patronizing visitors

The Cameneum will accommodate five hundred or more persons—is now nearly ready, and intended for Lyceums, Lectures, Levees, Musical Soirees, Fairs, Sacred and Secular Concerts, and all well ordered and respectable exhibitions.

Preparations will be completed and the Cameneum Reopened with a Concert on the 9th of November next. Particulars hereafter.

GREAT GALE IN FLORIDA.

The gale of the 9th of October was very severe in Florida. The Court House at Newport was blown down and goods in the Custom House were considerably damaged by the tide overflowing the wharves. The wharves were also slightly injured.

At St. Marks the damage to shipping at wharves was disastrous. Brig J. G. Anderson dragged her anchors and ran into a wharf, completely demolishing it, and laid 3 1-2 feet stern on the pier, and her larboard rail nearly under water at high tide. The surveyors on the 13th ordered her cargo,600 bales of cotton, discharged.

She got off afternoon of the 13th. Bark John Denham went ashore, and surveyors say it would cost more than her worth to get her off.

The Lighthouse keeper's dwelling and breakwater were washed away. All oil was lost and no boat was left on the beach. Persons there sought shelter in the tower of the Lighthouse.

Wakulla bridge and railroad buildings were destroyed. The track was washed up for half a mile. Cotton was injured so much that not one bale would be obtained on ten acres. A vast number of turpentine trees were blown down. In Tallahassee the destruction of property was great. Almost every store from the Capitol to the Court House was damaged. The mails were impeded, the roads being blocked with timber.

The gale was equally severe at Apalachicola. Pilot Boat Coggins was sunk at wharf. Capt. Howard and two men were drowned.

Brig Metamora is on the beach near Suwanee. Bark Glen is aground and would get off, the damage to goods and buildings is small. A great many lighters and Pilot boats were upset,and fishermen's huts are gone. Steamers Palmetto and Albany are totally wrecked. Lantern light at Dog Island was injured and Keeper's dwelling gone.

FIRE AT OGDENSBURGH, N. Y.—On the 19th inst., at about three o'clock in the morning fire was discovered in the wagon shop of Israel Lamb, on Isabella street. The wind at the time blowing fresh from the northwest, the flames communicated with fearful rapidity to the adjoining buildings, till the entire district west of Isabella street, south of Washington and east of Catharine, and extending through to the bank of the Oswegalchie river, with the exception of a position between Washington and Lord streets was consumed.

The loss by the Ogdensburgh fire will exceed $100,000, on which there is instrance to the amount of 55,000 or 60,000.

THE SECOND CARGO OF MALAGA FRUIT. The brig Oak, from Malaga, September 10, arrived at Boston on Tuesday night with a full cargo. She has 400 casks, 4500 boxes, 2000 halves, 2000 quarter boxes of raisins, 20 seroons almonds, 75 quarter casks wine, 300 boxes lemons, 200 kegs of grapes.

THE SURRENDER OF LORD CORNWALLIS. An event of some feather and music in our revolutionary history—was celebrated yesterday at Framingham. The usual skirmishes, fights, captures and other demonstrations of warfare, were duly enacted, much to the astonishment and edification of mothers, fathers, sisters, &c.—Bee, 20th.

The Supreme Court at its late session at Worcester, sustained the action of the Selectmen of Hubbardton, in refusing to allow Mr. Addison Waite, of that town, to vote until his name was entered upon the voter's list, he having claimed such a right after the voting had commenced at the annual State election some years since, and also in refusing to stop at that stage of the election to recive evidence of Mr. Waite's qualification as a voter.

Ship Mobile, of Bath, lost on Arklow bank, was a fine ship of 960 tons, nearly new, owned by Messrs. Patten of Bath, and valued at about $50,000. There is insurance upon her in Boston for $40,000—12,500 at the Washington office, the same at the Boylston, and 15,000 at the Neptune. The remainder, and the freight money, were probably not insured.

LARGE RAILROAD CONTRACT.—The Manchester N. H. Union says that Walter French, Esq., of that city has taken a contract for the construction of eighty miles of the Marietta and Cincinnati Railroad, extending westward from Marietta, nearly to Cincinnati, including grading, bridging, masonry, and laying the track, and involving an expenditure of more than $2,000,000,—the work to be completed in two years.

TELEGRAPH EXTENSION.—The Vermont and Boston Telegraph Company have extended their lines through the Connecticut River Valley to the terminus of the Passumpsic River Railroad, and offices are now open for business at Hanover, N. H., Bradford, Wells River and St. Johnsbury, Vt. The above Company are also constructing a branch (to be completed by November next,) from their line at Rouse's Point to Montreal, making a thorough and uninterrupted line of communication to that city. The whole extent of the Company's line when completed will be about 700 miles, extending to Ogdensburgh, Montreal, and down the Valley of the Connecticut, embracing in all about 40 stations, in the principal towns in Massachusetts, Vermont, New Hampshire, and northern New York—all doing a large and increasing business.

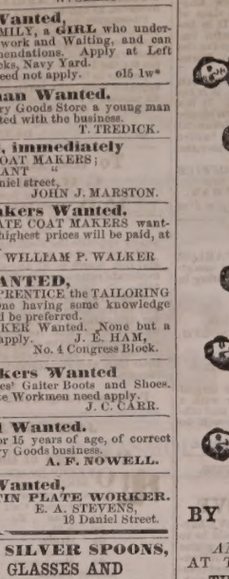
THIS EVENING.

MUSICAL ENTERTAINMENT,



BY THE PEAK FAMILY,

AS VOCALISTS
AND SWISS BELL RINGERS,
AT THE TEMPLE, PORTSMOUTH,
THURSDAY EVENING, Oct. 21.

THE Vocal Performances of this Family, with the Chime of fifty-six Bells, and a heavy Instrumental Accompaniment, are highly pleasing and instructive, exhibiting the perfection to which the beautiful science of Music can be carried by close application and persevering industry.

The beauty and splendor of the entertainment consists in the harmonious commingling of the voice with the bells—a feature entirely new in this country, and original with Mr. Peak. The effect in the choruses is most powerful, calling forth the loudest applause wherever it has been witnessed.

Doors open at 7 o'clock. To commence at 7 1-2 o'clock. TICKETS 15 cts., to be obtained at the stores of Wm. R. Preston and Jos. Haven Thacher.

THE LAST OF THE WATER SCRIP SOLD.—We learn, says the Boston Courier, that on Saturday the balance of our Water Loan—amounting to about £200,000 sterling—was negotiated, under the direction of the Committee of Finance of the City Council, with Messrs. Baring, Brothers & Co., at four and a half per cent. The stock is payable in London in twenty years. This completes the water loan, and we consider the rate at which it has been effected to be very favorable to the city—no stock, either of State or city, having ever been done in Europe at a less rate.

POLITICAL DISCUSSION.—A new kink in politics has turned up. The Washington Intelligencer announces that on Thursday evening of this week there will be a political discussion between selected members of the two great parties. The discussion will be in front of the Patent Office, and begin at four o'clock in the afternoon. The speakers are not named.

CHARLESTOWN.—By a statement of the City Treasurer, it appears that the receipts for the last six months have been $65,478 86, the expenditures $59,381 70, leaving a balance of $6,167 18 in the treasury.

THE ROGER WILLIAMS
COOKING STOVE,
FOR WOOD OR COAL.
TO ALL THOSE WHO WANT OF COOK STOVES. As there can be but one best kind of Cooking Stove, and that having been satisfactorily proved to be the Roger Williams, by the working of some twenty-seven hundred now in use in New England,—the subscriber now offers for sale 6 sizes of this beautiful Cooker, for wood or coal. It is believed that this stove combines all the useful improvements that skill can invent, and is by far the most perfect cooking stove ever sold in Portsmouth.
And although its price is somewhat higher than some stoves offered in this market of late, it is believed to be much the cheapest in the end. It is a beautiful model, with fine smooth Providence castings, fitted together in the most substantial manner. Every stove warranted for twelve months, and if its operation is not satisfactory, the money will be refunded.
Also for sale, a variety of PARLOR, OFFICE and SHOP STOVES, which are offered low.
Terms Cash, invariably. J. E. CHAPMAN,
No. 18 Daniel st., Sign of the Big Coffee Pot

Parlor Stoves.

THE IMPROVED
EMPIRE STATE STOVE.
THIS justly celebrated COOKING STOVE having been improved in every way it could be to make its operations more complete, and its dishes beautifully browned—no expense, time or trouble having been spared to make this the most complete Cooking Stove ever brought before the public—the subscriber feels assured in warranting the IMPROVED EMPIRE STATE superior to any stove in the market, as hundreds can testify who have used them for the past year.
This Stove has a very LARGE OVEN, which will make it desirable on account of doing more cooking with the same amount of fuel than can be done in any other stove. The flues are large, which ensures a good draft in all cases. The castings are very heavy and smooth, and those parts that come next the fire extra thick, making it very durable. It is adapted to the use of either coal or wood, and we warrant them to operate as well with one as the other. We furnish them with the very best apparatus; and, altogether, it is the MOST DURABLE, ECONOMICAL and CONVENIENT COOKING STOVE ever made—complete in every respect. We ask the attention of all persons intending to purchase a new, or exchange their stove, to an examination of the Improved Empire State.
We have also on hand a variety of other Cooking Stoves, called the "Banner," "Belle of the States," "King of the States," "Bay State," "Angle Saxon," "Pearl of Troy," &c., with a large lot of PARLOR STOVES, such as the Revere Air-Tight, Star, Revere Parlor Cook, Lady Franklin, for Wood or Coal; Shop, Office and Air-Tight Stoves, of different sizes and prices for either wood or coal.
Also an extensive assortment of HOUSEKEEPING GOODS; Wooden, Willow, Glass, Britannia, Japan, Tin, Hard, Enamel, and Brass Ware; Copper, Cast Iron, and Chain Pumps; Window-Shads, Table Oil-cloths, &c.
All the above goods will be sold lower than can be bought elsewhere in this vicinity.

WHAT-CHEER STOVE.
THE WHAT-CHEER COAL COOKING STOVE now offered for sale by the subscribers, is acknowledged by all who have examined it to be the best and most economical Coal Stove ever offered to the public.
The castings are heavy, smooth, and very handsome. The broiling apparatus is a great improvement over all other Stoves, being constructed in such a manner as to prevent the steam from escaping into the room when cooking.
All persons wishing to purchase a COAL COOKING STOVE, are respectfully requested to call and examine the same. Every Stove warranted to work well, or no sale.
We have also a large assortment of COOKING, PARLOR and SHOP STOVES, &c.—for sale cheap for Cash at our Store,
Corner of State and Water streets,
s27 ANDERSON & EMERY.

The Bay State Stove,
FOR WOOD OR COAL.
THE subscriber, in offering this favorite Stove to the public, the present season, would state that a new covered Broiling Apparatus has been added, the flues enlarged for burning anthracite coal, and the Stove otherwise improved—and is now put into the market as
THE MOST PERFECT COOK STOVE in the world. The castings are heavier, more beautiful and durable; the stove has a larger oven, will bake better and with less fuel, than any other stove in use.
These stoves are made from pure metal and are not liable to crack, and we furnish every stove with the best of apparatus—Copper Boiler, &c., and warrant them a year; and if any part proves defective it will be made good without charge.
Persons wishing to obtain a good Stove, will do well to buy a BAY STATE. They have been in operation in this city for four years past, and have given perfect satisfaction. For sale at the Store of the subscriber, where may be found a large assortment of COOKING, PARLOR, AND OFFICE STOVES, TIN WARE, FUNNEL, &c. for sale cheap for cash. E. A. STEVENS.

TREATMENT OF WOMEN IN FRANCE.

The following is extracted from one of a series of "A Pedestrian's Notes on France," by Professor Bincy, published in the Philadelphia Evening Bulletin. The writer is describing his departure from Villefranche, in Loiret:

I was thinking seriously of taking the diligence for somewhere, when Jules proposed to go to Bourges on a canal boat and rest there a week. Adopted. We went down to the canal and looked about for one of those long and narrow floating saloons, used in the United States for the conveyance of passengers. As the Grand Canal of Barri is one of the largest and best in the world, I fully expected to find a craft of this sort. I was disappointed: the French do not travel on canals. One of five or six produce boats was pointed out to us as ready to start for Bourges. We went alongside. Appearances were not very promising, but we decided to go. The open keel was heavily loaded with potatoes and coops full of poultry. A smoke issuing from the diminutive cabin in the stern showed that the crew had not yet had its morning repast. I hailed, "Boat ahoy!" The answer was a burst of laughter from the cabin, and the second afterwards a shock-head of black hair and a broad, laughing face were thrust up through the hatchway. They belonged to the captain.—He and his wife formed the crew; he was going to start as soon as he had his breakfast and would take us as far as we wanted to go for a sou or kilometre. This was cheap enough and I closed the bargain.

"But you are heavily loaded," said I, "you can't go fast."

"Oh I've got a mare that can draw anything."

"Can she draw an inference?"

"Yes, anything in reason."

Our honorable captain meant no pun as the reader will see hereafter.

The captain invited us on board. "Off in minute," says he: "here, wife, hitch up at once." At this summons, a stout, raw-boned lady, with complexion and toilette much the worse for hard usage, emerged from below.—She stepped on the quarter deck to wish us good morning and put on her heavy clogs; then stepped out on to the bank. Putting our knapsack on the quarter deck, we looked around, expecting to see the captain's lady lead out from some neighboring stable the famous animal that was to make our prow cut the glad blue waters of the canal.

Instead of this, she unrolled the tow-line, stretched it to its full length, and dropping over her own head the broad leather loop at its end, bowed herself to the work of towing. She was the beast of draught her husband had bragged of! The boat was too much for her strength. Jules ran to help her, and the captain, surrendering the rudder to me, aided by polling at the sides. In a few minutes we were moving steadily forward. Jules sprung back on the quarter deck; the captain ceased polling, and amused himself by whistling the Marseilles hymn and looking out very cheerfully over the landscape; and the captain's wife was tugging away, leaning down to it, at an angle of about forty-five degrees. Jules got his prayer-book, and began to mutter Ave Marias and Pater Nosters, with great earnestness. Contrary to my habit I was giving way to an indignation quite unworthy a veteran traveller, who is supposed to look without surprise or emotion on any form of human folly or oppression. The great lesson learned by travel is—

"To be weak is miserable."

Every where the shrewd plunder the stupid, and the brutal bully the timid; and classes always perpetrate crime under sanction of law and custom. After ransacking the world for a relation typical of disinterestedness, poets have hit on that of shepherd and flock; yet every shepherd has a pair of shears in his pocket. Every man is for himself, and in the dirty scuffle, right, who is feeble as he is beautiful, is crushed to earth. Eternal years are her's, but it is sad so many of them must pass away before she can raise her head boldly in any part of our globe.

"Jules," said I, "if you have any influence with the Virgin, just put up a few Aves for the women."

"They don't need it as much as I do," he answered.

"What do you think of that poor woman bent double on the tow path?" I asked.

"Think! She is better off than I am. She and her husband own the whole boat load; she told me so."

Her being turned into a beast of draught did not shock his prejudices in the least; he had been accustomed to witness this degradation. We went on in silence for an hour. During this time, we met three boats, two of them drawn by women, and one by a man and a boy. The captain came aft to take the rudder.

"Well, captain," said I, "you have a famous mare, it is true, but what could you do if she wouldn't go?"

"Wouldn't go" he exclaimed with a disdainful laugh. A piece of stout cord about four feet long was lying at his feet. He pushed it towards me with the toe of his clog, and added, "there's a rope's end which would bring her to reason."

"But you wouldn't whip your wife!"

"Let her deserve it, and you'll see."

"You havn't the right to."

"Why not? If my donkey won't go, I wollop him."

"You don't compare your wife to a donkey?"

"Generally, she is a good creature enough: but sometimes she is the more stubborn of the two."

"That makes no difference; it is dastardly to fly into a passion with a woman."

"There you are right," said he with a laugh, "I never am in a passion when I correct her." And the brute was so pleased at his repartee in defence of his right of property, that he showed almost his whole semi-circle of white teeth. He descended into the cabin to cook the dinner, and I went on shore and entered into conversation with his wife. She was very communicative, told me they were getting on well in the world, and would soon have enough to buy a cabin and garden patch; that her husband was generally kind to her; he occasionally corrected her sometimes, but it was when she vexed him; and when he got into liquor he thought it fine fun to pitch her into the water, but the canal was not deep, and she always waded out, and waited until he got sober before going back to the boat. The poor woman did not suspect herself of being unhappy and I did not hint to her that I thought her so.—Why should I trouble her peaceful existence, when I could introduce no higher one? I expressed no sympathy, and went back to the boat.

The custom of whipping one's wife is widely honored by observance among the peasants and working classes. It has been "entailed" on them by the middle ages. Then it was sanctioned by the law; the husband had the right to "punish his wife moderately, and so that death did not ensue." At present, the law spreads its dread Ægis over the wife. If she can dare to carry her rebellion so far as to prefer a complaint against her husband, the Police Court fines him, shuts him up in jail, levies on his furniture to pay the fine, and turns the family into the streets to starve.—To suffer in silence is better than to complain; for to complain is ruin and beggary. And who shall protect the wife from the husband, after he is released from prison? Consequently injured wives are rarely seen in the courts.

THE AMERICAN "WORLD'S FAIR."

NEW YORK CRYSTAL PALACE.—The New York Herald of Wednesday, forwards in each paper an engraving of the New York Crystal Palace for the Exhibition of the Industry of all Nations. This building, constructed of iron and glass, is erected on Reservoir Square in the city of New York, by the Association for the Exhibition of the Industry of all Nations, incorporated under an act of the Legislature of the State of New York, the 11th day of March, 1852. The use of Reservoir Square is granted by the Municipal Authorities of the city. The ground plan of the building forms an octagon and is surmounted by a Greek cross, with a dome over the intersection. The extreme length and breadth of the building are each 365 feet. Height of dome to top of lantern, 148 feet. Entire space on ground floor, 111,000 square feet.—Galleries, 62,000 square feet. Whole area, 173,000 square feet, or 4 acres.

The Association was incorporated with a capital of two hundred thousand dollars, leave being given to raise the same to three hundred thousand dollars.

The Exhibition is already announced to open on the 2d of May, 1853.

AN IRISH FAIR.

Not only are we to have a Crystal Palace in New York and a World's Fair in it next year,—but Ireland also is to have a similar exhibition, at the same time,—which seems to us unadvisable.

According to a circular from Dublin, received by the Boston Daily Advertiser,

This building is to be situated on Merion square in Dublin, and is to be 425 feet in length, and 300 in breadth. It will have a front on the square, with a semi-circular projection forming the eastern terminus of the Central hall. This hall will be 100 feet wide, 425 feet long, and 100 feet in height, covered with a semi-cylindrical roof, upon trellis ribs, in one span of 100 feet.

The materials of which the building is to be constructed are iron, timber, and glass. Light is to be admitted from above, in an unbroken and equally distributed body. The available area of ground floor, will be 147,704 square feet, on three and a third acres, and of wall space, not less than 87,000 feet. Operations on the building were begun on the 19th of August, and it is confidently anticipated that it will be in readiness for the opening of the exhibition on the 5th of May next.

The building is to be provided to the exhibitors, free of rent, and the productions of all nations are to be admitted.

A RICH TELEGRAM.

Cincinnati, Oct. 20.

In the Methodist church case, respecting the book concern in Cincinnati, Judge Jewett, of the U. S. Court, decided adversely to the church south. An appeal was taken. Four feet of water in the river. Weather like summer. Freights to N.Orleans—whiskey $2; to St. Louis, 75c per hundred.

Here we have in one little paragraph, the fact stated, that an appeal has been taken in an interminable religious lawsuit, showing how badly law and gospel effervesce when "brother goeth to law with brother, and that before unbelievers!" as Paul has it.

Next we have the depth of water in the river and then the fine weather. Lastly, under the head of freight, we get the idea, that if whiskey will bring 2.50 more per bbl. in New Orleans than at Cincinnati, it will pay to send it.

THE SHADRACH RESCUE CASES have been indefinitely postponed. They will probably never be tried.

So says the Boston Bee of Wednesday, and so ends a costly farce. Every intelligent man in Boston (who was not blinded by some prejudice) saw plainly enough at the first examination, that there was no evidence worth a straw, against any one of the accused. No one of them would have been held to bail on such evidence—had it not been for a great desire among some officials to show their loyalty to the new fugitive law.

Thus far we had written—when we perceived that Thursday morning's Post says:

"The 'rescue cases' will commence to-day in the U. S. Circuit Court. Hayden's is the first in course. Elizur Wright's trial is assigned for Monday next.

We let our commentary stand, nevertheless.

WASHINGTON SAVINGS BANK.—A Washington despatch of Oct. 19, says:

"For several days there has been a heavy run on the Potomac Savings Bank of Washington. John F. Callen is President. It has hitherto met demands and professes to be able to continue, and at the worst suspend only a few days to convert its assets into cash.

This run may be caused by the failure of a number of shin-plaster banks in the city.

LYCEUMS.—It was said and thought by some persons, a few years ago, that popular lectures had had their day. If this was so, a new day has now dawned. For example, the Salem Register of Thursday says:

"The Lyceum Mania is as rife as ever in Salem. The tickets for the Mechanic course were advertised to be for sale on Monday, and in half an hour the whole were disposed of, and hundreds more have been called for.—Yesterday two courses were submitted to the public by the Salem Lyceum, and about a thousand tickets sold. One course was entirely filled, and only about two hundred tickets remain for the second.

In Boston, the American Academy of Arts and Sciences, advertise a course of Miscellaneous Lectures, thirteen in number, tickets two dollars each.

The Mercantile Library Association have also a course of Lectures. Both these are courses of Lyceum Lectures—and in both are gentlemen who have lectured before the Portsmouth Lyceum.

SALE OF CITY WHARF, BOSTON.—On Wednesday afternoon, this valuable property was sold at auction. The Post says the sale attracted quite a large number of business men. The weather being very chilly, Mr. Thompson, the auctioneer, proposed that those assembled should adjourn to Faneuil Hall, where the sale took place. The first bid was $200,000, and it was finally knocked off to Hon. Josiah Quincy, senior, for $411,000. The wharf has been variously estimated to be worth from 450 to $700,000, and at the rate it is leased it pays eight per cent. on $400,000. Upon the name of the purchaser being known, Mr. Quincy was loudly cheered. Mr. Quincy said he did not buy the wharf on speculation, and thought the city ought to retain it; if the city authorities should hereafter coincide with him in this view, he would let them have it; but he was ready to comply with the conditions of the sale. The terms of the sale were ten per cent. cash on delivery of the deed, five per cent. annually and legal interest, and a satisfactory bond similar to those given in city land sales.

THE VOICE OF WARNING.—The Boston Post says:

"Democrats!—Look out for the whig missionary in democratic livery, Watson G. Haynes."

Who is Watson G. Haynes? Is he the man who lectured against flogging in the navy?

OHIO ELECTION.—The Columbus Journal (whig) says the democratic majority on the State ticket will be from 13,000 to 15,000!

An engineer was killed on the Hudson Railroad on Wednesday, named John Florence—leaving a wife and children.

☞ The Governor of Massachusetts has appointed Thanksgiving November 25th.

☞ The barn of Deacon Sumner Cristy in New Boston, this State, was struck by lightning on Monday night, and entirely consumed, together with two valuable horses, six cows, a double sleigh, a large quantity of hay and other property.

SUICIDE IN CHARLESTOWN.—On Tuesday evening last, the wife of Mr. James Doughty committed suicide by cutting her throat with a razor. She retired to her room at five o'clock, and when found by her husband at six o'clock was dead. She changed her clothes on retiring to her room, and after placing some bedspreads upon the floor, would seem to have committed the dreadful act and then laid down upon them to die. It is supposed she was partially deranged. She was about thirty-five years of age.—Charlestown Advertiser.

TO PREVENT RAILROAD COLLISIONS.—Mr. Selleck of Greenwich, Conn., has invented a method of preventing great damage by railroad collisions. The idea is to have the ends of the cars and platforms built with one corner projecting far beyond the other, diagonally instead of square. Accordingly, when they come together with great violence the force of the shock will be relieved, and the cars instead of breaking to pieces, will simply shove each other off the track. In the projecting corner the breakman is to stand, where, in case of collision, he will be comparatively free from danger.

FILLIBUSTER DISPLAY.—At New York on Tuesday there was a noisy procession marched through the streets with flags and a field piece to the foot of Warren street, where the Crescent City was anchored off the end of the pier. A salute was there fired in honor of Lieut. Porter, which was replied to by the guns of the ship. About fifteen hundred people were assembled, and a meeting was organized, and addressed by Capt. Rynders and Daniel B. Taylor, in which they alluded to the insults that had been offered to the American flag at Havana. A procession was again formed, which, accompanied by a band of music, returned to the head quarters of the Empire Club.

In the evening there was a meeting at the Apollo Rooms, consisting of Cuban exiles and others including many ladies, for the installation of the Cuban revolutionary Junta. This was accompanied with religious services performed by Padre Valdez, by administering the oath to the members of the Junta, and the reading the manifesto of the Junta in Spanish. The members of the Junta, with the officiating Priest, were seated on a platform at the upper end of the room.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

City Council—Oct. 21.

In the Board of Aldermen, the application of J. S. Dodge for a sidewalk was granted.

The sum of $50 was awarded for damages in widening Vaughan street.

On application of C. W. Brewster, Jefferson Hall was granted to the Scott & Graham Club, for a meeting on the evening of Nov. 1.

The City Marshal reported that he had caused the gate between the Court House lot and Charles Robinson's land, to be nailed up. Accepted.

The whole subject was referred to a committee, who are to report at the next meeting.

No Quorum in Common Council.

THE PEAK FAMILY have uniformly commanded good audiences in this city, but their increased attractions of instrumental music last evening, called out the fullest house they have ever had in this place. It could not have numbered less than a thousand, filling our largest room, the Temple. Their whole performance has greatly improved, and increased in power. Their articulation is uncommonly distinct, and their execution rapid, or precise, or dignified, as the spirit of the pieces may demand. The performers are justly entitled to a stand in the front rank of native American musicians; they were enthusiastically received and frequently applauded. Their performance was judiciously short, not tiring the audience—many of whom had to stand. A due degree of brevity is as favorable a trait in singing as in speaking.

NARROW ESCAPE.—The sch. Albion, Capt. Hart, sailed from this port for St. George, Me. on Tuesday, P. M. When off the Isles of Shoals, wind blowing fresh from the north east, the Captain was knocked overboard. Two men started in the boat to his relief—leaving only the mate and a boy on board—and succeeded in picking him up when almost exhausted. Owing to the roughness of the sea, the boat could not board the schooner again, but put away for the Shoals, which it succeeded in reaching. The mate set signals of distress, and assistance went to the vessel from the schooner Lucy Amelia. By this time night was approaching, and the schooner was taken into Salem harbor, where the captain and the remainder of the crew joined her yesterday.

PRESIDENTIAL RETURNS.

The Associated Presses in New York City have issued the following circulars.

To Correspondents, Telegraphic Operators, &c:—

The delays, annoyances, and difficulties of of all previous elections, have induced the editors of the newspapers of this city to publish the following notice:—

TO INSPECTORS OF ELECTIONS.—All Inspectors, throughout the country, are earnestly requested, at the approaching election, to canvass the electoral ticket first. Their compliance with this request will enable the Press of the United States to satisfy the anxiety of the public in a few hours after the polls are closed; otherwise days may elapse before the result is known. We trust that the Press generally will unite in giving publicity to this request.

In addition to the above, the editors issue this circular.

To avoid confusion, and to enable the Press of the entire country to announce the result of the national election on the morning after the closing of the polls, all telegraphic operators, newspaper agents and correspondents, are earnestly requested to pay especial attention to the following rules:—

1st. To send the actual majority in each county, on the Presidential ticket, as soon as obtained, stating clearly the name of the candidate having the majority.

2d. To send the probable majority in each county, based on the returns from one quarter, one half, or three fourths of the towns of said county, when the full vote cannot be obtained—stating the number of towns on which the estimated majority is based.

3d. To mention the name of the State to which the county belongs.

4th. To avoid sending the returns from single towns, except those of a large city, as large, for instance, as Pittsburg, Troy, and above those in population.

5th. To avoid rumors, of all sorts, and take returns from reliable individuals only.

6th. To avoid reporting losses and gains, as they only tend to encumber the telegraph wires and cause confusion in the returns.

If those who may be employed in collecting and forwarding the returns on the night of the election, will adhere strictly to the above rules, the result may be quickly and easily ascertained. If the Presidential returns only are despatched on the first night, a vast deal of trouble and confusion will be saved. Let us all, on this occasion, make an effort and show to the world the power, the comprehensiveness, and the capacity of the telegraph lines and the telegraphic system of the United States—stretching as they do over a territory of over two millions of square miles.

All other election returns—for Governors, Members of Congress, &c., can be sent on the 3d of November.

Saul Alley, Esq., a leading merchant and capitalist of New York, died Monday morning, in the 75th year of his age. Mr. Alley has been confined to his residence by indisposition for some months. During his extended life he filled many offices of respectability, and we believe with entire satisfaction to the public. During the administration of Gen. Jackson, Mr. Alley was appointed a Government director of the United States Bank.

Queen Victoria has granted a pension of £200 a year to Caroline Southey, the widow of the late poet Laureate, and one of £75 a year to Miss Louisa Stuart Costello, who is in a bad state of health.

Portsmouth, Oct. 13th, 1852.

Vive le Cameneum!

THINGS animate and inanimate their seasons have of glory. Day and night alternate come and go. Summer reluctant dies away, and the keen autumnal frost with blighting touch falls on the forest oak, and it sadly throws off its genial summer dress—slumbers awhile in grim loneliness, until gently patted on its bare cold arms by the soft warm palm of the golden orb of the "sweet spring time," when it again assumes its primeval fulness and captivating beauty.

Thus for a period of time fell the chill frost of fate upon the pleasant and classic features of the well remembered Cameneum, paralizing its active limbs, and casting it into the sombre shade of neglect and listless apathy, until breathed upon by the vivifying breath of grateful remembrance, and touched by the restoring hand of courage, energy and taste—when it lifted its oriental eyelids, to signify that its long deep sleep was not unto death; promising again to wear the bridal blush and dazzling drapery, such as originally attracted earth's happy sons and fairest daughters to its open and winning arms.

Wiping now the pen, perhaps too deeply dipped in "Fancy's Dew,"—the subscriber, with the aid of a different phraseology, respectfully announces that he has bargained with the proprietors of the Cameneum, and has assumed the responsibility of resuscitating, renovating and beautifying the interior in particular of the building as above—painting, whitening, lighting with gas, furnishing with paintings, statuary, and a splendid seven-octave powerful Boston Piano, &c.,—rendering the house inviting and every way worthy the best patronizing visitors.

The Cameneum will accommodate five hundred or more persons—is now nearly ready, and intended for Lyceums, Lectures, Levees, Musical Soirees, Fairs, Sacred and Secular Concerts, and all well ordered and respectable exhibitions.

Preparations will be completed and the Cameneum Reopened with a Concert on the 9th of November next. Particulars hereafter.

Evening Singing School.

The subscriber would particularly informs his musical friends and the public generally, that he will open an Adult Evening Singing School

IN THE CAMENEUM,

for the scientific instruction and correct practice of Sacred and Secular Music,

On MONDAY EVENING, November 15th,

at half-past 7 o'clock.

The heavy and splendid Piano, with extensive and beautiful accommodations for singing, and for promenading during recess-time, with an experienced and well known Teacher, may be some inducement to encourage a full attendance.

TERMS $1 for the Course of Twelve Lessons, on Monday Evenings. Tickets for sale by Mr. M. and Mr. J. H. Head.

Juvenile Class.

A Juvenile Class will also be commenced on

WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON, Nov. 17,

at the subscriber's Music Room, Exchange Buildings, at half-past 2 o'clock. Should the pupils number too many for the Music Room, they will be transferred to the Cameneum.

Tickets $1 for Twenty-Four Lessons, Wednesday and Saturday afternoons, to be had of the Teacher or at Mr. Head's.

LATEST NEWS!

SLAVES ESCAPED—EXCITEMENT.

Sandusky, (Ohio) Oct. 21st.—The most intense excitement prevails here in consequence of a number of fugitive slaves, who arrived here last evening. The slaves were from Kentucky. On their reaching this city, they were escorted by their friends and a number of citizens to the steamer Arrow. Immediately on the departure of which vessel an attempt was made to arrest them, but failed, owing to the interference of citizens of both colors, who prevented the slave catchers from taking the slaves ashore. After a sharp struggle, the slaves succeeded in escaping to Canada. The slave catchers consider that the citizens are wholly responsible for their failure to execute the law.

PRINCE EDWARD'S ISLAND.—A Pictou despatch published in the Chronicle yesterday morning, gave a more itemized account of disastrous news from the fishermen at Prince Edward's Island. By a telegraphic despatch from Halifax, we have the following additional particulars of the gale:

Halifax, Oct. 20.—Accounts from Prince Edward's Island report a tremendous gale on the 15th. A great number of vessels were wrecked—12 sunk at anchor with all hands. In the gale at Sydney a number of vessels ran ashore.

Port Hood, Oct. 17.—Nearly all the Nova Scotia fishermen are detained here by the Devastation for alleged informality of papers. Any vessel attempting to leave is fired into.—In the gale on Friday night all drove into Sandy Cove, and several went ashore.

The Devastation seems from this account to be about as troublesome to friends as foes.

LOSS OF AMERICAN FISHERMEN.—The following despatch was received this morning from B. H. Norton, U. S. Consul at Pictou:

Pictou, Oct. 20.—List of vessels lost in the gale of the 15th at Suris. Schs. Atalanta, of Gloucester; Ocean Star, of do.; Mary Eelker, of Newburyport; Hannibal of Gloucester; Edward, of Portland; Cypress, Newburyport; Eliza Ann, and Colossal Lake, do.; Augusta Parker, Gloucester; Rio Del Norte, do.; Sunbeam, of Devondale; Leader, of Gloucester; Candace, Brooksville; Mary Elizabeth, Arichat; Speed, Scotland, and Challenge, Portland; Marion, Boston; Ino, and Gerard, Gloucester. All but four a total loss—one life lost.

NEW YORK ITEMS.

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—Among the passengers in the Illinois was Catherine Hayes and her mother, bound for San Francisco.

The democracy of the third district turned out in large numbers last evening, to ratify the nomination of Gen. Wallbridge.

The mansion of P. T. Barnum at Bridgeport, was damaged by fire on Tuesday to the extent of $1000. A large number of guests were in the building at the time, celebrating the wedding of Mr. Barnum's eldest daughter.

The whig gathering at Newark, yesterday, was one of the largest held in the State for several years. Among the speakers were ex-Gov. Bennington, Senator Miller, Judge Conrad, Mr. Flanders of N. H., and others.

FROM THE MORMONS.

St. Louis, Oct. 20th.—Later advices from Utah received at Independence, represent trade as very brisk at Salt Lake, and crops abundant, with every appearance of a large overplus. Politics were quiet, and Governor Young was popular. There had been a battle between the Snake Indians and the Chedennas, in which a number of the latter were killed.

The trains escorting Reid and Shaffer, Utah Judges, met between Big and Little Blue. They were all well. Phelps's train, with the Secretary of Utah Territory, also met the other trains.

The Mormons are building a dense city at Salt Lake, and are extending settlements in all directions in the Valley. The Tabernacle is finished. A war party of Pawnees was out against the Sioux.

LATEST FROM THE SPIRITS via the Lowell Courier. Another despatch over the spiritual telegraph is announced. Louis Phillippe was keeping an oyster cellar, and John Newland Maffit and Edmund Kean were tending bar for him! Things were quiet, but an exciting time was expected before the elections came off.

Bishop Doane is better.

THE NEWLY INVENTED LIFE BOAT.—We understand that the new life boat, patented by Capt. Tewksbury of Boston, and about which so much has been said in Washington and New York, was tried between Boston, East Boston and the Navy Yard at high tide, yesterday. This particular boat is 18 feet in length, five and a half feet wide and three feet deep. The sides are composed of air-tight compartments, so constructed that she cannot be sunk or swamped, and she is made to go either side up; so that it is entirely immaterial how she may be thrown from a steamer, or fall into the water. The trial yesterday of her speed and powers were, we are informed, entirely satisfactory. To-day she is to be at the head of Lewis wharf from 9 in the morning till 3 o'clock in the afternoon, free to the inspection of the public. After the latter hour this new life boat is to be taken to the steamboat builders in New York, in order that others may be made upon her model there, in compliance with the laws of Congress.—Boston Mail.

COOKING STOVE,
FOR WOOD OR COAL.
TO ALL IN WANT OF COOK STOVES.—As there can be but one best kind of Cooking Stove, and that having been satisfactorily proved to be the Roger Williams, by the working of some twenty-seven hundred now in use in New England—the subscriber now offers for sale 6 sizes of this beautiful pattern for wood or coal. It is believed that this stove combines all the useful improvements that skill can invent, and is by far the most perfect cooking stove ever sold in Portsmouth.
And although its price is somewhat higher than some stoves offered in this market of late, it is believed to be much the cheapest in the end. It is a beautiful model, with fine smooth Providence castings, fitted together in the most substantial manner. Every stove is warranted for twelve months, and if its operation is not satisfactory, the money will be refunded.
Also for sale, a variety of PARLOR, OFFICE and SHOP STOVES, which are offered low.
Terms Cash, invariably. J. E. CHAPMAN,

THE IMPROVED
EMPIRE STATE STOVE.
THIS justly celebrated COOKING STOVE having been improved in every way it could be to make its operations more complete, and its plates beautifully ornamental, is now offered at a reasonable having been spared to make this the most complete Cooking Stove ever brought before the public—the subscriber feels assured in warranting the IMPROVED EMPIRE STATE superior to any stove in the market, as hundreds can testify who have used them for the past year.
This Stove has a very LARGE OVEN, which makes it desirable on account of doing more cooking with the same amount of fuel than can be done in any other stove. The flues are large, which ensures a good draft in all cases. The castings are very heavy and smooth, and those parts that come next the fire are extra thickness, making it very durable. It is adapted to the use of either coal or wood, and we warrant them to operate as well with one as the other. We furnish them with the very best apparatus, and, altogether, it is the MOST DURABLE, ECONOMICAL and CONVENIENT COOKING STOVE ever made—complete in every respect. We ask the attention of all persons intending to purchase a new, or exchange their old stove, to an examination of the Improved Empire State.
We have also on hand a variety of other Cooking Stoves, called the "Banner," "Belle of the State," "Keystone," "Star of the West," "Anglo Saxon," "Pearl of Troy," &c.; with a large lot of PARLOR STOVES, such as the Revere Air-Tight, Star, Revere Parlor Cook, Lady Franklin, for Wood or Coal; Shop, Office and Air-Tight Stoves, of different sizes and prices for either wood or coal.
Also an extensive assortment of HOUSEKEEPING GOODS; Wooden, Willow, Glass, Britannia, Japan, Tin, Hard, Enamel, and Brass Ware; Copper, Cast Iron, and Chain Pumps; Window-Shade, Table Oil-cloths, &c.
All the above goods will be sold lower than can be bought elsewhere in this vicinity.

WHAT-CHEER STOVE.
THE WHAT-CHEER COAL COOKING STOVE, now offered for sale by the subscribers, is acknowledged by all who have examined it to be the best and most economical Coal Stove ever offered to the public.
The castings are heavy, smooth, and very handsome. The Broiling apparatus is a great improvement over all other Stoves, being constructed in such a manner as to prevent the steam from escaping into the room when cooking.
All persons wishing to purchase a COAL COOKING STOVE, are respectfully requested to call and examine the same. Every Stove warranted to work well, or no sale.
We have also a large assortment of COOKING, PARLOR and STORE STOVES, &c.—for sale cheap for Cash at our Store,
Corner of State and Water streets.
s27 ANDERSON & EMERY.

The Bay State Stove,
FOR WOOD OR COAL.
THE subscriber, in offering this favorite Stove to the public, the present season, would state that a new covered Broiling apparatus has been added, the flues enlarged for burning anthracite coal, and the Stove otherwise improved—and is now put into the market as
THE MOST PERFECT COOK STOVE in the world. The castings are heavier, more beautiful and durable; the stove has a larger oven, will bake better and with less fuel, than any other stove in use.
These stoves made from pure metal and are not liable to crack; and we furnish every stove with the best of apparatus—Copper Boiler, &c., and warrant them a year; and if any part proves defective it will be made good without charge.
Persons wishing to purchase a good Stove, will do well to buy a BAY STATE. They have been in operation in this city for four years past, and have given perfect satisfaction. For sale at the Stove Store of the subscriber, where may be found a large assortment of COOKING, PARLOR AND OFFICE STOVES, TIN WARE, FUNNEL, &c., for sale cheap for cash. E. A. STEVENS.

A GOOD STORY.

WRITTEN FOR CHILDREN.

"Go away, Willie, I hate to be teased when I am reading," said Annie Mason to her little brother, who was begging her to get him a drink of water.

"I tell you I don't want to go down stairs now; can't you wait for Bridget, she will be home soon."

"Oh, why can't you get me some water" cried the poor child, impatiently, and bursting into tears, he threw himself sobbing on the floor.

"I won't get you a drink, now, because you are so cross, and cry for it,' said his sister; and she tried to feel that she was behaving very properly, in punishing her little brother for his fretfulness.

Annie went on readiug her book, and soon forgot all about Willie, who, after crying bitterly for awhile fell into a troubled sleep.—His face was flushed, and the breath came quick and hot from his parched lips.

The children had been left at home for a day with the nurse, while their mother visited a friend in the neighborhood. Annie was ten years old, and Willie nearly five. She was quite old enough to take charge of her little brother and amuse him, and this she was generally quite glad to do; for Willie was a merry, happy child, and loved his sister very dearly. They almost always were good natured and happy, but sometimes Willie was fretful, and sometimes Annie was selfish, and did not like to take trouble; and when she was cross, Willie was ten times worse than if she had been good natured.

After a long time Bridget returned from her errand, and found Willie still lying on the floor asleep. She took him up and laid him on his bed in the nursery. When Mrs. Mason came home, she found her little boy in a high fever; he could not be roused up, but lay in a heavy stupor. He was immediately put to bed and everything done for him that was thought likely to relieve him. In the morning he was no better, and a physician was sent for who pronounced him in a dangerous condition. He had all the symptoms of a scarlet fever, and was quite delirious. Annie stood by anxiously watching to hear the doctor's opinion, and when he told her mother the child was very ill, and would need the most careful attention, she could not help sobbing aloud. The doctor told her not to be frightened for he hoped her little brother would soon be well. Annie did not cease crying at the comforting words, for she could not forgive herself for her unkindness to her brother. Oh! how her heart ached when she thought of her cruel neglect, and how many times she said to herself, "She would never be so unkind again."

For two days Willie lay in great suffering; he did not seem to know any one: even his mother whom he loved so dearly, called him in vain. He never spoke to them again, and on the morning of the third day he died.

No one knew, when Annie threw herself with a wild, despairing cry, upon the bedside of her dead brother, how hopeless and bitter was the sorrow of her heart, for she knew that never again could she atone for her cruel words—those last words that Willie had ever heard, so selfish, so cold, and cruel. Oh! that was indeed the bitterness of death. If he had only lived to speak to her, to tell her he forgave her unkindness, to give one kiss of reconciliation and love, she thought it would not have been half so hard to see him go down to the cold grave. But now all was over. The little brother she loved so well was gone forever. All his pleasant ways and loving words came thronging back to her heart, and she could only remember her own selfish cruelty to him when he was sick and suffering. She tried to comfort herself by saying, "Oh! if I had only known he was sick—if I had thought to look at him, I might have seen he was not well, and then I am sure I would have done everything for him. Oh! how thoughtless, how selfish, how cruel I was.

After the funeral, when they had returned home, and Annie sat by her mother, in the still evening, she told her with many sobs and tears, how unkind she had been to her little brother on the first day of his sickness, and how very dreadful it was to know that she could never ask his forgiveness, never hear his sweet voice to tell her he loved her again. Her mother wept bitterly, too, but she told Annie that her little angel brother could feel no sorrow or pain; that he loved her even better than he did when he was on earth, for he was redeemed from all sin, and could feel no anger or resentment, but that his heart was full of compassion and love.

After the confession, and her mother's comforting words, Annie felt more composed and resigned than she had before, but she never could quite forget, and never ceased to regret the last harsh words her darling brother had ever heard from her lips. It was a lesson to be remembered forever, and its influence was felt by her through life. When she felt tempted to speak unkindly, she thought "these may be our last words," would come with a pang to her heart, and she was humble and gentle as a lamb.

Years passed by, and Annie grew to be a woman, loving and beloved by all, but in her heart she never forgave herself for her last words to Willie.

THE UNRULY MEMBER—HEAVY DAMAGES.—At the present session of the Maine Superior Court at Bangor, Jos. M. True and wife, formerly instructors at Lincoln Academy, obtained a verdict of $3000 against David P. Plumby, a prominent citizen of that town, for slander. The defendant had repeated serious charges against the chastity of the lady plaintiff, and attempted in the trial to justify them by evidence to convict her of adultery, but the testimony for the plaintiffs was so strongly against the truth of the charges, that the jury returned a verdict as above stated.

DAILY
Morning Chronicle.
PORTSMOUTH:
SATURDAY, OCTOBER 23, 1852.

ALARMING & PRECARIOUS STATE OF MR. WEBSTER'S HEALTH!

Late and reliable despatches from Marshfield to Boston state that Mr. Webster has had a relapse of his severe illness, and is considered in a very critical state by his physician. His recovery is considered extremely doubtful, unless a change for the better takes place very soon.

On Thursday forenoon he was able to dictate the writing of several letters, which were sent to Boston to be forwarded to different places, but in the afternoon he was much worse, and between 5 and 6 in the evening, was seized with violent vomiting, and was considered by eminent medical gentlemen of Boston, who were in attendance to be in a very critical state.

On Friday morning at 5 1-2 o'clock he was asleep under the influence of medicine, and unless a change occurs from previous symptoms he will not probably survive much longer. The following letter was received in Boston, about 12 o'clock on Friday, by Archelaus Wilson, Secretary of the Webster Executive Committee:

MARSHFIELD, Thursday eve'g, Oct. 21.

DEAR SIR: The family of Mr. Webster desire me to make known that an unfavorable change in his symptoms has taken place, and that little hope can be entertained of his recovery.

Under these distressing circumstances, it is their wish, and I add to it my own recommendation, that all political action in reference to Mr. Webster be now discontinued.

Very truly and respectfully,
Your obedient servant
GEO. T. CURTIS.

The Webster State Committee immediately met and passed these Resolutions:

Resolved, That we learn with deepest sorrow, the sad intelligence conveyed in the subjoined letter of Mr. Curtis:

Resolved, That we comply at once with the wishes of his family and friends, and suspend all further political action for the present; while we would join our prayers with those sustaining more intimate relations with him, that a life so invaluable may yet be spared to his family and to his country.

At 5 o'clock in Boston, Mr. Webster was reported to be living, but not expected to live through the night.

MR. BARNUM'S FIRE,—How it was put out. In yesterday morning's Chronicle we noticed a fire at Barnum's Palace, Iranistan. The New Haven Palladium says:

The fire took between the ceiling and roof, and was spreading rapidly over the mansion when it was discovered. The Annihilator was used on the occasion, which together with a three inch stream of water from the large reservoir of his water tower, soon quenched the flames. The damage by fire and water, we hear will be about $4,000.

We have no doubt the Annihilator is a good thing—but a three inch stream of water is better,—and very valuable withal, for other purposes besides extinquishing fires. There are several buildings within our knowledge, constructed with a reservoir, or cistern, close up to the eaves, whence the water is received. One of them is the Eastern Exchange Hotel in Boston, where, before Cochituate water was introduced, the house was supplied with abundance of rain water by this means.—Persons building dwellings in city or country, on hills or on the sea-coast, can have rain water without cost, if they will only build a cistern, either at the house-top or in its foundation.

KING SOLOMON.

BY UNCLE TOBY.—CHAPTER III.

Solomon as a monarch and a husband, is an interesting personage, whose character and history will amply repay for the study and thought necessary to understand them. His reign was characterized by peace, industry, wealth and magnificence. His domain was not large, as compared with many empires of his own day or of other times; but it was large enough to afford sufficient variety of soil, climate and product; and quite large enough for exact surveillance and vigilant police in every part of it. It was large enough for his travels and government; it was rich enough to maintain his state and dignity, and minister to his comfort and pleasure.

It was strong enough in men and money to resist invasion if invasion had occurred. It was strong enough in the recollection of David's victorious arms, to strike terror into the barbarians round about, and make them keep their distance, freebooters though they were. The warriors and military historians of modern days, speak of the moral effect of a battle on the victors and on the vanquished; by which they mean that the one would be inspirited and the other dispirited. The moral effect of David's reign and warfare on the surrounding nations, could not fail to be very great. He signalized himself so greatly even before he began to reign, in the slaughter of Goliath and the discomfiture of the Philistines, as to make the Jewish maidens sing, in their patriotic song, which has since been finely translated,—

Saul, who hast thy thousands slain,
Welcome to thy friends again:
David his ten thousands slew,
Ten thousand praises are his due.

His career, thus commenced, was a successful series of defences against enemies, in the first place, and afterwards of inroads on them in turn, until he had driven them all back from the boundary, and suffered no hostile or predatory foot to tread his soil or molest his subjects.

David's reign lasted forty years; and this long term of military success, almost without a defeat during the whole time, must have given a high tone to the national glory of Israel, as it resounded through the neighboring nations. With most or all of these David seems to have had treaties of amity, and with some of them treaties of alliance. These treaties Solomon respected, and in some cases renewed them. He had, therefore, no need to be afraid of the encroachments of foreign foes. And with all his men, money and munitions of war, he seems to have had no desires or ideas of annexing any more territory, to make his realm extensive—but would rather make internal improvements, to render his people prosperous and happy.

David was the son of a shepherd,—and seemed to think, when he sat in a house of cedar, it was enough. But Solomon was the son of David the king, was born in an opulent court, and had liberal, princely ideas of a court, and built himself a palace of hewn stone.

Solomon's grand idea, as a king, was Wisdom. To reduce his wisdom of thought to wise action, he aimed to secure order in the first place, and plenty in the second.

To secure the first object, he had a well-appointed Cabinet Council, consisting of a prime minister, two secretaries, (one for foreign and the other for domestic correspondence, probably,) a head officer and his assistants, a recorder, two priests, a secretary of the treasury, and a commander of the army, who was also probably the secretary of war.

To secure plenty in his household, he had twelve purveyors, established in all parts of the land, who constantly procured substantials and delicacies from every quarter, and this kept up a healthy and vigorous circulation of trade from the capital to the provinces and back.

Under the influence of wisdom and order, peace and plenty, the people increased and multiplied, and enjoyed themselves greatly, as it is said,

"Judah and Israel were many, as the sand which is by the sea in multitude, eating and drinking and making merry."

This description is evidence of a gain in wealth from David's time, and of an increase of luxury also. David once dealt out to all the people, women as well as men, to every one a cake of bread, a good piece of meat, and a flagon of wine. In David's days they fed; in Solomon's days they feasted. In David's reign they toiled and conquered; in Solomon's they rested on their laurels and fought their battles over again in tales and songs.

Solomon also encouraged religion—not only a a worshipper of the true God, but as the king of a great and rich people. The appointment of two priests among his cabinet, and the erection of the most elegant temple, show this. And it is still better shown in his admirable address to the people of Israel when he dedicated the Temple, and in the most beautiful and impressive prayer which he offered on the same occasion. Grandly does he close his services, with a royal and sacred benediction, (in the 8th chapter of 2d Kings,) which is worthy of being read and pondered by every ruler, patriot and citizen.

In his address, prayer and benediction, he acknowledges God as the fountain of power, and equity and justice as the foundation of all law.—On such a simple and broad foundation did Solomon build his government, and on such a foundation it stood securely forty years—for so long he reigned. True he had defects, but in spite of them all, he governed wisely and governed long.

Solomon had fourteen hundred chariots and twelve thousand horsemen. His foot soldiers are not mentioned—of course not numbered. But his laborers, mechanics, engineers and seamen abounded; and in the temple-services he had an army of priests and Levites, singers and players, the very best of his time. He was the king of the fine arts,—the patron and stay of those that are most useful.

But—we perceive our limits will not suffer us to scan Solomon as a husband in this chapter—we must postpone to the next.

MADAME ALBONI, the great singer and great beauty, is drawing and delighting great audiences in Boston.

Orville Hungerford, Esq., of Waterville, N. Y., has about five thousand hens, which he keeps in a picketed enclosure of ten acres, with buildings, &c. for their accommodation.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

FIRE ON SHIPBOARD.

Sch. Avenger, Lane master, bound from Boston to Bangor, on the 19th inst. put into our lower barbor and anchored off Kittery, where she remained waiting a wind. On Thursday night at about half past 8 o'clock, the master and cook being the only persons on board were in the the forecastle, when a boat came along side and shouted to them that their vessel was on fire—on running aft they found the smoke and flame coming up from the cabin so thick as to render it impossible for them to enter to save any part of the Furniture—the alarm was given and by the timely assistance of the people from the shore and from neighboring vessels—the fire was subdued and extinguised in about an hour, but not until it had burned out the entire interior of the cabin. Capt. Lane states that he had $3200 in bank bills in his valise in the cabin which was burnt.

The captain states that he had had a fire in a fire-place in the cabin, and had gone forward to supper; he supposes the fire communicated to the curtains or other cabin furniture.

RELIGIOUS INTELLIGENCE.

☞ Rev. Mr. Woodhouse, of Fitchburg, is to preach at the Universalist Church in this city, to-morrow.

☞ Rev. Lyman Beecher, D. D., will preach in the North Church to-morrow, for the last Sabbath of his present engagement.

☞ Mr. Thomas W. Brown, of this city, a recent graduate of Cambridge Divinity School, has been tendered a unanimous invitation to take charge of the Unitarian Society in Trenton, New York.

TEACHERS' INSTITUTE.—The Teachers' Institute for the County of Rockingham will open at Exeter on Monday next, Oct. 25th, and continue during the week. A competent and successful Board of Instructors and Lecturers will be in attendance.

☞ See Auction column for sales to-day of Railroad Bonds, Dry Goods, Furniture, Horse, &c.

☞ In Exeter three kinds of Lyceum tickets are sold—"family" tickets at $2, "double" tickets at $1, and "single" tickets at 75 cents, for the course.

INSPECTOR OF TIMBER AT THE NAVY YARD.

Messrs. Editors:—The public were informed through your paper that the office of Foreman Inspector and Measurer of Timber at the Navy Yard near this city is vacant, and that there are many applicants for the office. Doubtless they are all good men; but it is to be hoped that in making a selection to fill the office, Government will have a due regard to the peculiar qualifications necessary for the full and right discharge of the duties of that important office, in which the interest of the Government and Nation is so deeply involved.

That officer should not only be a man of integrity and justice, but he should be well versed in the construction of ships, and a competent judge of the quality of the wood materials of which the ship is to be composed.—He should know, if the stick of timber surveyed by him is suitable to fill some particular place in the construction of the ship.

He should also be a good judge of the wood materials for other buildings; but more especially for ships, to which are entrusted so much human life and treasure on the ocean.

A CITIZEN.

The Cheap Eating-Houses in New York have raised the price of fare. A plate of meat which used to cost sixpence, is now ninepence. This rise is a consequence of the high prices of all kinds of meat in that city. Many extensive boarding-houses have been forced to raise the price of board or shut up. Six years ago there were many houses where tolerable board and lodging could be had for $2 50 to $3 per week; now the same accommodation will cost $4 to $5.—Boston Mail.

It may be that the increase of rent has more to do with the price of board, than the increased price of meat has. In the city of Portsmouth, meat is cheaper this fall than in some recent years,—though not so cheap as formerly, many years since.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—Mr. John M. Heath, of Hill, N. H., was instantly killed at that place on Saturday last, while out on a hunting excursion. He was riding in a wagon with a friend, and in alighting and attempting to take his gun from the vehicle, the lock became entangled, and the contents of the piece were discharged directly through the heart of Mr. Heath, causing death instantaneously.—Mr. Heath was about 26 years of age, and highly respected. He leaves a wife and child.

WASHINGTON NATIONAL MONUMENT.—The block of marble from Texas, for the Washington National Monument, has been received at Washington, and duly presented to the Board of Managers. California is about to send three blocks, the one previously sent not being deemed by some of its citizens of sufficient magnitude and beauty. The one from Texas is said to be equal to the finest specimens yet received, and completes the full complement of blocks from all the States of the Union.

THE JOHN BROWN ESTATE.—The elegant mansion in Providence, known as the John Brown House, has been sold for $40,000.—The house was built by John Brown, and first occupied by him in June, 1788. He died in 1803, the estate was devised to his wife, and he then valued it at $18,000.

Several Bostonians have returned home who were passengers in the Crescent City. They were not allowed to land at Havana, and upon arriving at New Orleans had not sufficient funds to take them all to Havana; they then clubbed together, and raised money enough to enable several of their number to proceed to Mobile and take passage in the Black Warrior for Havana. The remainder came back in the Crescent City.

Over twelve hundred persons left New York in the California steamers on Wednesday—750 in the "Star of the West," and 488 in the "Illinois." Among those who went out in the Illinois was Miss Catherine Hayes. There were also one hundred and fifty laborers for the Panama Railroad.

NAVAL.—The war steamer Mississippi is announced to sail on Saturday morning for Annapolis, whence she will sail on or about the 15th of November on the contemplated Japan Expedition accompanied by the Princeton, now lying at Baltimore preparing for the cruise. The Mississippi, it is said, will touch at St. Helena, Madeira, and Cape of Good Hope, on her way to Canton. It is probable that the squadron will rendezvous at Hong Kong and thence proceed.

JERRY'S RESCUE.—Albany, Oct. 21.—The case of Enoch Reed, indicted for aiding in the rescue of Jerry, was called up in the Circuit Court this morning. Motion was made to quash the indictment on the ground of irregularity in summoning the grand jury that found the indictment. The Court was occupied the whole day hearing arguments.

FROM TURKS ISLAND.—The Turks Island Royal Gazette of the 6th inst., notices a telegraphic despatch published in the Boston Journal on the 4th of September, which stated that a severe blow at Turks Island on the 19th of August had destroyed 100,000 bushels of salt, and entirely contradicts the statement. The Gazette says:

"We can assure the editors of the Boston Journal that no blow was experienced at these Islands on the 19th, or at any period this year, and so far from having lost one hundred thousand, we have a large quantity (many hundreds of thousands bushels of salt) ready for shipment."

Normand Warner of Berlin, Conn., was attacked by two men about six o'clock Tuesday evening, while riding home from New Britain, pulled out of his wagon, badly beaten, and robbed of $319.

ARRIVAL OF THE EUROPA.

THREE DAYS LATER FROM ENGLAND.

New York, Oct. 21.—The British mail steamship Europa arrived to-day with 90 passengers.

The steamship Humboldt arrived at Southampton at noon on the 7th inst.

Increased activity had been observed in the French navy yards.

The Austrian army is to be augmented.

A Jewish Synagogue in Kolmed, Gallicia, had been set on fire by incendiaries during a religious festival. In the confusion of which 36 women were crushed to death.

The Sultan of Turkey was dangerously ill.

An attempt had been to assassinate the Shah of Persia, who was wounded by three shots. He is, however, recovering. Two of the assassins were cut to pieces by the Shah's guards, and two were captured alive.

The only circumstance of political import worth notice in England, was a rumor that had been circulated during the last three days to the effect that Lord Palmerston had consented to accept office under Lord Derby. The probability of such an occurrence was flatly contradicted by Lord Palmerston's friends.

The Queen and Court would return from the North about the 12th or 13th inst.

Hon. Baillie Hamilton has been appointed Governor of Newfoundland.

The additional survivors of the wreck of the ill-fated ship Mobile, picked up at sea on a raft, were named Wheeler, Curtis, Wood, and Brensk.

Professor Lowell Mason has been lecturing in London, before the Mechanics' Institute, in Southampton Buildings, founded by the celebrated Dr. Birkbeck.

The pontifical government of Italy has agreed to pay Austria a half million of florins, annually, for occupation of some of the legations by Austrian troops.

FRANCE.—Ths return of the President to Paris was fixed for the 17th, when it was proposed to give a grand reception to him. There is a story going round that among the papers of a young man who lately committed suicide, was found a letter in his hand writing, stating that he belonged to a secret society having for its object a design to assassinate Louis Napoleon—that the lot had fallen upon him and his courage being too weak to kill the President, he had compromised the matter by killing himself.

It was stated in Paris that the ministers had received notice that immediately on the President's arrival in Paris, a Cabinet Council will be held, of so important a character as to require the presence of all.

TURKEY AND PERSIA.

Advices from Constantinople state that the Sultan was seriously indisposed, and that the eventualities of his death are publicly spoken of.

Negotiations between England, Russia and the Sublime Porte, respecting the right of armed vessels of war passing the Bosphorus, progresses slowly.

A desperate attempt was made about the 28th of August to assassinate the Shah of Persia while hunting. Four men approached under pretence of presenting a petition, when two seized his horse, while the others discharged two double barreled pistols at the Shah, who received three shots in his thigh and mouth.—He kept the assassins at bay until his attendants came up, when two were cut to pieces, and the other two taken alive. At last accounts the Shah was expected to recover.

The cholera was making terrible ravages in Persia.

Dates to the 20th of August from the Cape of Good Hope are at hand. Gold was reported to have been discovered in the Waterkloof.

WASHING MADE EASY.—The "crazy folks" in the Asylum at Hartford, Ct., mix a gill of alcohol with a gallon of soft soap, just as they are going to rub it on the clothes, which they then soak two or three hours, and then merely rinse out in clear water, and all the dirt is out as effectually as good sense is out of a fellow after drinking the same quantity of the "poisonous stuff." Just tell the women that this is the easiest way to make washing easy, and urge them to try it, and you will thereafter have no reason to run away on washing day.

In washing stairs and passages, always use a sponge instead of a cloth when washing the space between the carpet and wall, and you will not soil the edges. Sponge is cheap, and this information is cheap, but it is valuable to all housekeepers.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 20.—Stephen Girard's Estate.—Judge Grier, of the U. S. Circuit Court, charged the jury yesterday, in favor of the heirs of Stephen Girard, who, claim eleven tracts of land in Schuylkill county, valued at one million one hundred thousand dollars. The ground of the decision is, that when Girard's will was made, he did not own the entire title to the lands, and that therefore the will is inoperative. The jury rendered a verdict in favor of the heirs. The case will probably go to the Supreme Court.

The Prairie Farmer has made an inquiry of several corn raisers in Middle Illinois, of the actual cost of this grain per bushel in the crib. There was very little difference in their estimates, which ranged from 4 to 6 cents!—The soil is of such a nature as to be ploughed with the greatest ease; no hoeing is needed all the cultivation being done by horses, the rows being from half a mile to two miles in length, and the husking of the huge ears being done from the standing stalks in the field.

THE ROGER WILLIAMS
COOKING STOVE,
FOR WOOD OR COAL.
TO ALL IN WANT OF COOK STOVES.

As there can be but one best kind of Cooking Stove, and that having been satisfactorily proved to be the Roger Williams, by the working of some twenty-seven hundred now in use in New England,—the subscriber now offers for sale 6 sizes of this beautiful pattern for wood or coal. It is believed that this stove combines all the useful improvements that skill can invent, and is by far the most perfect cooking stove ever sold in Portsmouth.
And although its price is somewhat higher than some stoves offered in this market of late, it is believed to be much the cheapest in the end. It is a beautiful model, with fine smooth Providence castings, fitted together in the most substantial manner. Every stove is warranted for twelve months, and if its operation is not satisfactory, the money will be refunded.
Also for sale, a variety of PARLOR, OFFICE and SHOP STOVES, which are offered low.

THE IMPROVED
EMPIRE STATE STOVE.

THIS justly celebrated COOKING STOVE having been improved in every way it could be to make its operations more complete, and its plates beautifully ornamented—no expense, time or trouble having been spared to make this the most complete Cooking Stove ever brought before the public—the subscriber feels assured in warranting the IMPROVED EMPIRE STATE superior to any stove in the market, as hundreds can testify who have used them for the past year.
This Stove has a very LARGE OVEN, which makes it desirable on account of doing more cooking with the same amount of fuel than can be done in any other stove. The flues are large, which ensures a good draft in all cases. The casting is very heavy and smooth, and those parts that come next the fire are extra thick, making it very durable. It is adapted to the use of either coal or wood, and when used for the latter purpose as well with one as the other. We furnish them with the very best appanatus; and, altogether, it is the MOST DURABLE, ECONOMICAL and CONVENIENT COOKING STOVE ever made—complete in every respect. We ask the attention of all persons intending to purchase a new, or exchange their old stove, to an examination of the Improved Empire State.
We have also on hand a variety of other Cooking Stoves, called the "Banner," "Belle of the States," "King of the States," "Bay State," "Anglo Saxon," "Pearl of Troy," &c.; with a large lot of PARLOR STOVES, such as the Revere Air-Tight, Star, Revere Parlor Cook, Lady Franklin, for Wood or Coal; Shop, Office and Air-Tight Stoves, of different sizes and prices for either wood or coal.
Also an extensive assortment of HOUSEKEEPING GOODS; Wooden, Willow, Glass, Britannia, Japan, Tin, Hard, Enamel, and Brass Ware; Copper, Cast Iron, and Chain Pumps; Window-Shade, Table Oil-cloths, &c.
All the above goods will be sold lower than can be bought elsewhere in this vicinity.

WHAT-CHEER STOVE.

THE WHAT-CHEER COAL COOKING STOVE, now offered for sale by the subscribers, is acknowledged by all who have examined it to be the best and most economical Coal Stove ever offered to the public.
The castings are heavy, smooth, and very handsome. The Broiling apparatus is a great improvement over all others now being constructed in such a manner as to prevent the steam from escaping into the room when cooking.
All persons wishing to purchase a COAL COOKING STOVE, are respectfully requested to call and examine this stove before they purchase. Every Stove warranted to work well, or no sale.
We have also a large assortment of COOKING, PARLOR and STORE STOVES, &c.—for sale cheap for Cash at our Store,
Corner of State and Water streets,

The Bay State Stove,
FOR WOOD OR COAL.

THE subscriber, in offering this favorite Stove to the pnblic, the present season, would state that a new covered Broiling Apparatus has been added, the flues enlarged for burning anthracite coal, and the Stove otherwise improved—and is now put into the market as in the world. The castings are heavier, more beautiful and durable; the stove has a larger oven, will bake better and with less fuel, than any other stove in use.
These stoves are made from pure metal and are not liable to crack; and we furnish every stove with the best of apparatus—Copper Boiler, &c., and warrant them a year, and if any part proves defective it will be made good without charge.
Persons wishing to obtain a good Stove, will do well to buy a BAY STATE. They have been in operation in this city for four years past, and have given perfect satisfaction. For sale at the Store of the subscriber, where may be found a large assortment of COOKING, PARLOR AND OFFICE STOVES, TIN WARE, FUNNEL, &c. for sale cheap for cash.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Oct. 20, 1852.

A WONDERFUL STRUCTURE.

THE PORTAGE BRIDGE, HORNELLSVILLE, N. Y.

One of the greatest objects of interest which the work of internal improvement in the State of New York has produced, is the new bridge across the Genesee river, at Portage, Wyoming county, New York. It was built for the passage of the Buffalo & New York City Railroad, which connects with the New York & Erie road at Hornellsville.

The work was commenced in July, 1851; the cars crossed first in August, 1852. The banks of the river are of great height at this place, and the Portage Falls and the channel which the river has worn in the solid rock for a long distance below, are well known objects of curiosity. The passage of the river is walled by these natural formations, two or three hundred feet in hight, which stand so even and regular that it is difficult to believe that it was not the hand of man which guided the straight line and fashioned the curve.

The scenery around this spot is highly picturesque and beautiful. There is no place where the fine effect of the brilliant autumnal colors of the American forest can be better observed, than in this region. Here, amid the ruggedness and the beauty of nature, is our great bridge. Spanning the chasm a short distance above the falls, its length is eight hundred feet, and from the iron rail to the bed of the stream beneath, it measures two hundred and thirty-four feet. The truss which supports the roadway rests upon wooden piers, which are founded on masonry, built upon the rock bed of the river. The stone piers are thirty feet in hight.

In this immense structure there are one million six hundred thousand feet of timber, more than one million pounds of iron in the bolts, &c., and from nine to ten thousand yards of masonry. The view in riding over may be imagined. Not only have we to look down nearly two hundred and fifty feet to see the river, but our position enables us to look over the falls, by which a slight addition of seventy-five feet is made to our little prospect below. This is quite interesting and pleasant, and withal somewhat exciting, but is not in the least dangerous, on account of the provision made by the designer, to have the bridge strong enough to support no less than twenty times the weight which can possibly be placed upon it.

This is perhaps the greatest wooden bridge ever built, and is certainly well worth going to see. It was designed by Col. Silas Seymour of Buffalo, and built under his direction, and to him will no slight honor and distinction revert, upon the accomplishment of so great an undertaking. F.

THE GREAT ACCIDENT.

The deplorable occurrence on the line of the Boston, Concord and Montreal Railroad, on Thursday, 7th inst., is equalled by no other accident in New Hampshire—so far as our reading or recollection are our guide—within the last 75 years. There took place, September 7, 1773, in the town of Wilton, a catastrophe more disastrous than even that of last week. The following facts regarding it are compiled from an address delivered at the Centennial Celebration in Wilton, Sept. 1839, by Ephraim Peabody.

The accident took place at the raising of the frame of a meeting house. Multitudes of people, (as was then the custom) collected upon the ground;—a large portion citizens of the town, but many from adjacent places—the crowd consisting of men, women and even children. Among other things provided by the town for this occasion was one barrel of W. I. rum, five barrels of N. E. rum, one barrel of brown Sugar, half a box of lemons, and two loaves of loaf sugar.

It was an occasion of hilarity and universal excitement. The timbers were all prepared, the workmen ready, and the master workman, full of the dignity of his office, issuing his orders. All went on prosperously. The good cheer, the excitement of the work, the crowd of spectators, all made it a scene of a general rejoicing. When the sides of the house were up, and also a part of the east end, one of the men engaged upon the work—a Captain Bradford, of Lyndeboro'—observing that one of the centre posts of the end sill to be raised was defective, being worm-eaten, and already yielding under the pressure upon it, informed the master workman of the fact; who replied that if he was afraid, he might go home, as they wanted no cowards there.

Indignant at the rebuke, he took the overseer of the building at his word, and proceeded to a dwelling near by, where he had left his wife; but on his way thither, full of foreboding as to the result, he looked back, and the frame, after seeming a moment to vibrate, suddenly fell inwards, throwing timbers, boards, tools and men down in a promiscuous mass, under a shock the noise of which was heard more than a mile. For a moment all was silent, and then the air was filled with groans and shrieks—not only from those beneath the fallen mass, but by spectators of the frightful scene. There were 53 men on that part of the frame which fell.

"Three (we quote from the Address) were instantly killed, and two died shortly afterwards; others were crippled for life, and most of them were more or less mangled or wounded." It caused general mourning, for there were few families which had not either lost a member, or some one of whose connections were not among the wounded. A fast was kept soon afterwards, when the pastor, Rev. Mr. Livermore, discoursed from the text—"Except the Lord build the house, they labor in vain that build it."—N. H. Statesman.

TELEGRAPHIC DESPATCHES TO THE MORNING CHRONICLE.

BOSTON—SUNDAY EVENING.

Death of Daniel Webster!

MARSHFIELD, Saturday, 10 P. M.

During the early part of the afternoon, there was some decrease of the swelling of the abdomen and symptoms of nausea, but no signs of rallying. The physicians present now intimated that the immediate cause of the disease was a cancerous affection of some of the smaller intestines. About half-past 5, Mr. Webster was again seized with violent nausea and raised considerable dark matter tinged with blood.

Near seven he conversed with Dr. Jeffries, who said he could do nothing more for him than to administer occasionally a sedative.—"Then," said Mr. Webster, "I am to lie here patiently till the end. If it be so, may it come soon." Then, speaking to himself, he said—"On the 24th of October, all that is mortal of Daniel Webster will be no more." He now prayed in a strong voice, ending with: "Heavenly Father forgive my sins, and receive me to Thyself, through Jesus Christ."

Sunday, 3 o'clock A. M

Soon after ten o'clock, Mr. Webster sunk into a quiet, apparently insensible state, and after sometime revived, and opening his eyes with something of their usual expression, said "I STILL LIVE!" These were the last words of Webster, America's greatest statesman.—He breathed his last at 22 minutes before 3 on Sunday morning.

DANIEL WEBSTER.

At the mature age of seventy-one, not so much worn out by the lapse of years, as exhausted by annual attacks of debilitating disease consequent on his manner of living—his originally excellent constitution breaks down under the assault of disease not otherwise dangerous; and the intellectual giant of New England, the world-renowned Orator of Bunker Hill and Plymouth, the great Expounder of the American Constitution, is no more among the living. Of the earth, earthy, his remains are shortly to return to her bosom, and mingle ashes with ashes, dust with dust, while his spirit has already returned to God who gave it.

The death of a great man, while it makes in his own domestic circle the same (and only the same) void which is occasioned by the death of any other husband equally faithful, any other father equally indulgent, any other kinsman equally kind, creates a vacuum in the public circle where he moved, into which the public thought rushes at once—and offers a fit occasion for a profitable notice of life and sketch of character.

Daniel Webster was born at Salisbury, N.H. Jan. 18, 1782. He was the son of a farmer in moderate but comfortable circumstances, and in good moral and social standing; and after suitable preparatory studies he entered Dartmouth College, where he graduated in 1801. At the close of the prescribed course of legal studies, he opened a Lawyer's Office in the town of Portsmouth, N. H., and here, as an able lawyer, as an eloquent and majestic speaker, and a politician of no ordinary calibre, he was very soon seen and felt, admired and feared. Mr. Webster was a Federalist—and under the auspices of that party and by their votes, he entered what may properly be termed his public life by being elected a Representative from this State to Congress, in Nov. 1812. But the Federal party in New Hampshire were losing power very fast, and a small town like Portsmouth was too narrow a field for a lawyer like Webster, who wished to earn his money by pleading a few great causes and spend it as if to-morrow would be like this day, only more abundant. He therefore removed to Boston before his term as Representative in New Hampshire had expired, and actually sat in the House as our Representative, while his domicil was in Massachusetts. He is well remembered here by a portion of our citizens for his free and easy manner, his social and convivial habits, his general carelessness about business matters, and his great ability in speaking at the bar, in caucus, town-meeting, convention, fourth-of-July celebration, and in every place where a suitable call was made.

His air and figure are imprinted on the remembrance of the writer of this article—as the then young Mr. Webster used to stand in his office door on Market street, [the door now used for Joseph Hill's store,] not so much noticing the passers by, as musing in an easy posture and shady place after dinner. His ample stature and well developed person, were advantageously but carelessly displayed in his semi-reclining posture, denoting at once muscular power and indolence. A little boy approached him on an errand which would have provoked most men—but did not provoke him. A pleasant look beamed from the fine black eye, and lighted up the majestic, lion-like countenance—and the reply to a trying question was given in the same musical undertone which has since thrilled through assembled thousands, when the great orator has made himself impressive by speaking low. He showed us here his good temper, which has since carried him through all the storms of public life, without a single personal altercation or difficulty. Yet he was not among us universally or generally popular. His habitual and we may say, constitutional, reserve, or silence, or musing, made many of our people, who did not know him well, suppose him to be haughty—which he certainly was not. The common people did not understand him—though they always understood his speeches—and as they saw him surrounded by the aristocracy of wealth and intellect and learning, they fancied that he did not know or care to know them. Besides pains were taken then, by an influential Republican press to influence the ignorant and credulous with the most intense hatred of Federalism and Federalists. And these efforts were signally successful. Federalists were stigmatized as tories, traitors, enemies to the country, friends of England, &c. &c. And Mr. Webster came in for his full share of the odium then and of consequent prejudice ever since. These things may sound strangely to some, and seem out of place to others; but what Mr. Rantoul said in his Eulogy on Mr. Woodbury, is just as true in the present case. It is impossible to understand the man's character properly, unless you know the circumstances in which he is placed.

Mr. Webster, on his removal to Boston, found an abundant and lucrative law business waiting for him, which poured into his office door as soon as it was open, and which never ceased to follow him as long as he lived. But it did not make him rich—that was impossible, on account of his total lack of economy and thrift. It did make him happy, however, for he loved the law as an exercise and a study, far better than as a means of wealth. And this study helped to make him a statesman—for his ideas of law were broad and comprehensive. He did not have to find public employment there—it found him. No sooner had his term of office expire as a representative from New Hampshire, than he was singled out in Massachusetts as the representative in the Federal Congress from Boston; and at the very first legal opportunity, he was elected by a triumphant majority. After serving as a representative of the people, the Legislature elected him to represent the Commonwealth in the Senate of the United States.

In the Harrison and Tyler administrations he was Secretary of State—and was sent back again by Massachusetts into the Senate, as soon as possible after he ceased to be Secretary. His Senatorship he again resigned on being appointed Secretary of State by Mr. Fillmore, and in this office he has died.

How faithfully and effectually he has discharged the duties of all these offices, the public know full well. His life is an epistle known and read of all men.

As a lawyer he was faithful to his client;—as a Representative he was faithful to his constituents;—and as a member of both branches of our National Legislature he was always respectful and courteous—always eminent, and highly respected from first to last.

His part as a Senator in relation to the Force Bill of Gen. Jackson's time, and to the Fugitive Law of Mr. Fillmore's, will not be soon forgotten; and both these events probably diminished what popularity he had or might have had—and thus tended, in the present state of the public mind to keep him back from the presidential chair or even from a nomination to it. The whole of his long political services, also stood in his way. How much influence the disappointment of his hope of nomination had in hastening the decline of his health, of course we cannot know. And indeed we are somewhat disposed to consider the disappointment itself as an effect, rather than a cause. We think his health has been feeble, his nerves weak, and his whole system shattered, for some time—and that his judgment has thereby been impaired, so that he could not see his chances as other men saw them. But this is conjecture, and we carry it no farther.

We look back upon him now, not as a past President, but as the wise Counsellor, the eloquent Orator, the skilful Jurist, the Man of Letters and of Manners too.

Mr. Webster had the devotional element—he was respectful to Man, reverential to God. He loved and enjoyed public worship. His constancy of attendance when here, and his unmistakable interest in the services, probably led Mrs. Lee into a singular error in her Lives of the Buckminsters, where she sets Mr. Webster down as a member of the North Church in Portsmouth. Of this, certainly, he never was a member, and we believe not of any other.

His eloquence was of no common order.—In his selection and arrangement of matter; in his admirable choice of words and phrases; in the depth and at the same time the simplicity of his thought, he had no superiors. In the tones of his voice, the majesty of his countenance, and the dignity of his expression, we never knew his equal. As a public speaker we expect not to look upon his like again. His eloquence, as written down and printed, fills volumes—and will be admired while the English language lives. We cannot subscribe to all that he has uttered,—but many are the good things he has said, which cannot be said any better by any who shall come.

Mr. Webster's services as a pacificator, in the office of Secretary of State, have been duly appreciated, and will be long remembered to his credit.

Truly a prince and a great man has fallen in Israel; and the people are called upon by this event, to moderate their ambition for themselves; to rely less on human wisdom or greatness; and especially to consider the uncertain tenure by which all men, public or private, hold their offices or talents—which eminent as they may be this moment, may be lost in death the very next.

Woodbury, Clay, Rantoul, Webster!—gone—dead—buried. Alas, what shadows we are, what shadows we pursue. But are they lost? Nay, not lost, but gone before! And we, the noble and the ignoble, the wise man and the fool, must follow—out of the shadow into the substance—out of the temporal into the eternal and blissful and glorious—for this mortal shall put on immortality, and this corruptible must put on incorruption, when death shall be swallowed up in victory.

CHURCH ORGANS.—A new organ, built by Stevens & Co. of Cambridge, has just been put up in the Crescent street church, Biddeford, Me. It is 16 1-2 feet high, 11 1-2 feet wide, and 8 feet deep; and cost $1200.

An organ has just been completed by Mr. Henry Erben of New York, for the Cathedral at Albany, which is 52 feet high, 30 feet wide, and 20 feet deep—with three sets of keys and nearly 3000 pipes.

REVOLTING MURDER. — Mr. J. M. W. Lace, a well known citizen of Milwaukie, Wisconsin, was shot while looking in at a bookstore window, on the 14th inst., by a woman who came up behind him and fired a pistol close to the back of his head. He fell deak, without a groan, his blood gushing out in pools. The woman is named Ann Wheeler, an American, formerly of Cleaveland, Ohio, where her parents now reside. Her victim did not know of her intention or presence. When she saw him fall, she offered the pistol to those who surrounded her, declaring herself ready to submit to the authorities, as she had accomplished her object. She was conveyed to jail, after delivering up a dirk-knife—which she had examined at a store in the morning, and returned and purchased in the afternoon, thus showing a fixed deter Eination. It is said she asked Lace, a few minutes before, if he intended to marry her, and was answered in the negative.—"Such an act as this argues great depravity, or some grievous wrong which the laws do not redress."

WHAT DOES IT MEAN?—The Meredith Bridge Democrat contains the following paragraph:—

"If wages are so much higher in this country than in England, Ireland, France and other countries where tariffs have been in operation for years, is it not prima facie evidence that there is something excellent in the condition of things in this country which produces these very high wages. The factory system has done it, for everybody knows that its effect is to reduce prices of labor."

Will the editor be so kind as to inform us what he means by "tariffs," and also to name some civilized country that has no tariff.

And while his hand is in, we would be much obliged to him for showing us any case where the erection of a factory has made wages lower, or where the stopping of one made them higher.

ALFRED JAIL.—John R. French, editor of the Biddeford Journal, has been indicted by the grand jury of York county, for a libel on Edward Chase, keeper of Alfred jail. The libel consisted in asserting that the jail-yard and jail-premises generally were in a very filthy and improper condition, and as such were a nuisance which ought to be presented by the grand jury. The damages are laid at $2000. Much good may it do the plaintiff—when he gets it.

THE JAPAN EXPEDITION.—The U. States steamer Mississippi, bearing the broad pennant of Commodore Mathew C. Perry, U. S. N., will sail for the rendezvous of the Japan expedition, at Annapolis, Md. on Saturday next, from New York.

A GOOD SHOT.—Mr. Daniel A. Smith of Newburyport, killed twelve wild geese at one shot, on Thursday morning last.

☞ Horace Mann of Massachusetts is to address the Free Democracy of Portsmouth at the Temple, next Friday evening.

Two carpet manufactories in Connecticut, the Thompsonville and Tariffville, have made an arrangement with their creditors, by which they will resume operations. The stockholders have agreed to mark down their stock 50 per cent., from $1,200,000 to $600,000. They have also agreed to pay in $500,000 for working capital, and the mortgagees have agreed to accept new mortgages for one half of their claims, making $400,000.

THE TUNNEL MACHINE.—The boring machine at Hoosac Mountain has done nothing since our last notice, several weeks since. Indeed, it has never yet, as we understand, made a complete operating revolution. There has been no attempt to work it, save on one or two occasions for the gratification of official visitors, since the first experiments. Why, we know not.—Springfield Republican.

FROM NEW BRUNSWICK.—The Morning News says:—"We learn that the railway survey is being prosecuted in all directions with great vigor, and that before the snow sets in the greater portion of the work will be completed."

An entirely new feature was introduced at an Agricultural Fair held at Batavia, N. Y. Nine fair equestriennes, attended by their cavaliers, entered the ring, and competed for the honors awarded to the best horsemanship. The first prize was a silver cup.

THE LAST EGGS.—We have just seen four eggs, laid this week by a hen partly of the Poland breed, weighing fourteen ounces, nearly a quarter of a pound each. This is an age of "progress" and eggs-ample!—Manchester Mir.

St. Patrick's Catholic church in Hartford, Ct. was robbed of a small sum of money and several communion vessels on Saturday night. The villains, not content with robbery, destroyed several articles used in the church.

The Whig friends of Gen. Scott in Boston and vicinity have purchased a superb silver pitcher and salver for presentation to the Hon. John M. Botts, of Virginia.

The Quebec Chronicle, reports that a piece of gold weighing 14 1-2 pounds had been picked up near the Chaudier mines. The story requires confirmation.

THE LARGEST LOAD EVER CLEARED ON THE ERIE CANAL TO TIDE WATER.—The canal boat G. A. Castle, of New London, Capt. Castle, cleared from Buffalo to Albany on Monday, with 1000 barrels of flour, "Augusta Mills," shipped by John Bissell. The freight to New York 70c. Total amount of freight $700. Tolls $243.15.

SHADRACH TRIALS.—In the U. S. Circuit Court, Boston, Friday, the case of Elizur Wright, for aiding the rescue of Shadrach, was taken up. A jury was empannelled, and the government testimony commenced but not finished. Geo. Lunt for U. S.; Geo. F. Farley of Groton, and R. H. Dana jr. for deft.

ACCIDENT.—John N. Sullivan of Boston, assistant surgeon on board the U. S. steamship Princeton, whilst getting off the Philadelphia cars at Baltimore, last Friday evening, was crushed so seriously between two cars that his recovery is doubtful.

There was a frost in Petersburg, Va., last Saturday.

Great mortality prevails in Marblehead among horses, at the present time.

MARINE NEWS.

PORT OF PORTSMOUTH.

SATURDAY, Oct. 23.

Ar brig Cordelia, Peacard, Sidney, C.B.

The Steamer reported at anchor off the Shoals on Friday, which we supposed to be the Boston, bound to Bangor, was undoubtedly the steam-tug Rescue, bound to Bath from New York with a raft of masts. After leaving this port, where she obtained a supply of fuel, on Tuesday, she was probably unable to make her course on account of the strong easterly winds which have prevailed the past week. The vessel was still at anchor on Saturday afternoon.

LATEST NEWS!

LATER FROM HAVANA.—New Orleans, Oct. 21.—The Empire City brings no news of importance. Her officers report that the vessel was unmolested while in port, and that they were treated by the Cuban authorities with the utmost civilty. Some further arrests for alleged political offences had been made; but beyond this all was quiet. The health of the city was improving.

ELECTIONS.

OHIO ELECTION.—Cleveland, Oct. 21.—The Democratic majority on Congressmen throughout the State will not exceed 5000.

FLORIDA ELECTION.—Charleston, Oct. 21.—Returns from all but two small counties give Broome 278 majority over Ward, and Maxwell 198 over Cabell. The Whigs are certainly defeated.

THE MISSISSIPPI LEGISLATURE ADJOURNED.—Jackson, Oct. 22.—The Mississippian announces that the Legislature finally adjourned last evening, without electing a U. S. Senator.

Mrs. Norton, tried and convicted in Marquette county, Wisconsin, for whipping a child to death, has been sentenced to the State Prison for ten years.

FIRE AT TROY, N. Y.—A fire broke out on Friday morning in a stable in Troy, N. Y., and destroyed six dwellings and five stables. One stable contained 70 horses, of which 65 were burned.

THE ARCTIC EXPEDITION.—Expedition ship Prince Albert arrived at Aberdeen, Scotland, 9th inst.; traversed a newly discovered channel west of North Somerset, and travelled with sledges round by Port Leopold, but found no traces of the missing expedition.—She got as far north as Beachy Head on 19th August last. She fell in with the North Star. The expedition had passed up Wellington channel early in the season. It was free from ice. The Prince Albert left the ice on the 13d of August, and brings despatches from the North Star—officers and crew well. The Davis Straits fishery was a failure up to August—only six fish had been taken between all the ships. The Regalia, of Kirkaldy, had been lost—also an American whaler, name not stated.

FRANCE.

The return of the President to Paris is fixed for the 17th inst., when it is proposed to give him a grand reception, that shall outvie the recent demonstration at Strasburg. At last accounts he was at Toulouse, being everywhere received by shouts of Vive l' Empereur, except at Montpelier, where the cries were Vive l' Amneste, with which the Prince was much offended.

A convention for an international telegraph system between France, Belgium and Prussia was concluded at Paris on the 4th inst.

Contracts for 55,000 loads of French oak have just been taken for the Dock Yards.

M. Persigny has issued a circular to the Prefects of the Departments through which the President is travelling, calling on them to record his sayings and doings, and to furnish a list of the names of every one, however humble, who may take part in the ceremonies, that nothing may be lost to history!

THE WENTWORTHS, of Saco, who were arrested for the murder of Jonas L. Parker, a year or two since, and examined at South Berwsck, brought two actions for false imprisonment against the sheriff who took them there. The Manchester American says: "This sheriff, Mr. Wallingford, was tried a few days since, and the jury returned a verdict of not guilty in one action—the other was then withdrawn. There was a hardly a show of a case for the Wentworths, and it is our humble opinion that the less they stir this old affair the better."

SUDDEN DEATHS.—On Thursday evening a man named Joseph Green was found lying upon the sidewalk at the north part of Boston in a state of complete destitution, and at his own request was furnished with lodgings in the North Watch House, where he died during the night. The deceased was about 50 years of age, and belonged in Wells, Me.

Rev. Dr. Fairchild, Home Sec. of the Am and Foreign Christ. Union, died suddenly, on Saturday last, at Charlestown, N. H. He entered the depot, complaining of palpitation of the heart, caused, he said, by hastening to reach the cars. A fire was provided, and he lay down upon some chairs, occasionally walking the room. In a little time he was found sitting in his chair by the stove, his legs crossed, and his head reclined back, with life extinct. A book had fallen from his hand, and he presented the appearance of one in quiet slumber.—Boston Journal.

The loss of Mrs. Cornwell, a sister of Elihu Burrett, on board of the ill fated Atlantic, on lake Erie, was announced at the time. Mr. Burritt himself, who is in England, has published the first contradiction of the statement in the London Times. He says she was the last lady who left the sinking steamer, and was carried to Erie by the propeller. Here she had to walk a considerable distance barefooted and bare-headed. She was also seriously bruised, and almost covered with some tar, into which she had fallen. Mrs. Cornwell was kindly cared for by some ladies.

FISH INSPECTION IN MAINE.—The Secretary of State, of Maine, has publiseed an abstract of the returns of inspected Fish in Maine in the year 1851. The quantity returned is—Mackerel, No. 1 and 2, 23,476 bbls., 6185 half bbls., and 1425 quarter bbls. or kids; No. 3, 4223 bbls., and 648 half bbls.; 42 bbls. and 75 kids of Salmon; 750 bbls. of Shad, and 14,990 bbls. of all other kinds of Pickled Fish; Smoked Herrings, 56,367 boxes scaled, 18,959 boxes Magdalen, and 27,162 boxes No. 1; Alewives, 1244 boxes No. 1, and 622 do. No. 2.

Lieut. Porter, of the Crescent City, is a son of Commodore Porter, one of the most daring men in naval history. The son is "a chip of the old block."

A Fat Woman in Trouble at Sea.—A corpulent lady, on her way to California, writes back to one of her acquaintances her experience in travelling. Here is an extract:

"Our cabin has two boxes in it, called berths, though coffins would be nearer the thing, for you think more of your latter end at sea a great deal. One of these is situated over the other, like two shelves, and these together make what they call a state-room. My berth is the uppermost one, and I have to climb up to it putting one foot on the lower one, and the other away out on the washstand, which is a great stretch, and makes it very straining—then I lift one knee on the berth and roll into it sideways. This is very inconvenient for a woman of my size, and very dangerous.

Last night I put my foot on Mrs. Brown's face, as she lay asleep close to the edge of the lower one, and nearly put out her eye; and I have torn all the skin off my knees, and then I have a large black spot where I have been hurt, and my head is swelled. To dismount is another feat of horsemanship, only fit for a sailor. You can't sit up, for the floor overhead; so you have to turn round and roll your legs out first, and then hold on till you touch somewhere, and then let yourself down upright.

It is a dreadful work; I don't know which is the hardest, to get in or out of a berth—both are the most difficult things in the world, and I shall be glad when I am done with it. I am obliged to dress in bed before I leave it, and nobody who hasn't tried to put on their clothes lying down can tell what a task it is. Lacing stays behind your back, and you on your face, nearly smothered with the bed-clothes, and feeling for the eyelet hole with one hand, and trying to put the tape in with the other, while you are rolling about from side to side, is no laughing matter.

Yesterday I fastened on the pillows to my bustle by mistake, in the hurry, and never knew it till the people laughed, and said the sea agreed with me, I had grown so fat; but putting on stockings is the worst, for there ain't room to stoop forward, so you have to bring your foot to you, and stretching out on your back, lift up your leg till you can reach it, and then drag it on. Corpulent people can't always do this so easy, I can tell you.—It always goes the cramp, and takes away my breath. You will pity me if you could conceive, but you can't—nobody but a woman can tell what a woman suffers, in a berth at sea.

THE ROGER WILLIAMS
COOKING STOVE,
FOR WOOD OR COAL.

TO ALL IN WANT OF COOK STOVES. As there can be but one best kind of Cooking Stove, and that having been satisfactorily proved to be the Roger Williams, by the working of some twenty-seven hundred now in use in New England,—the subscriber now offers for sale 6 sizes of this beautiful pattern for wood or coal. It is believed that this stove combines all the useful improvements that skill can invent, and is by far the most perfect cooking stove ever sold in Portsmouth.

And although its price is somewhat higher than some stoves offered in this market of late, it is believed to be much the cheapest in the end. It is a beautiful model, with fine smooth Frowledge castings, fitted together in the most substantial manner. Every stove is warranted for twelve months, and if its operation is not satisfactory, the money will be refunded.

Also for sale a variety of PARLOR, OFFICE and SHOP STOVES, which are offered low

THE IMPROVED
EMPIRE STATE STOVE.

THIS justly celebrated COOKING STOVE having been improved in every way it could be to make its operations more complete and its parts beautifully ornamented—no expense, time or trouble having been spared to make this the most complete Cooking Stove ever brought before the public—the subscribers deem it unnecessary to warrant the IMPROVED EMPIRE STATE superior to any stove in the market, as hundreds can testify who have used them for the past year.

This Stove has a very LARGE OVEN, which makes it desirable on account of doing more cooking with the same amount of fuel than can be done in any other stove. The flues are large, which ensures a good draft in all cases. The castings are very heavy and smooth, and those parts that come next the fire are extra thick, making it very durable. It is adapted to the use of either coal or wood, and we warrant them to operate as well with one as the other. We furnish them with the very best apparatus; and, altogether, it is the MOST DURABLE, ECONOMICAL and CONVENIENT COOKING STOVE ever made—complete in every respect. We ask the attention of all persons intending to purchase a new, or exchange their old stove, to an examination of the Improved Empire State.

We have also on hand a variety of other Cooking Stoves, called the "Banner," "Belle of the States," "King of the State," "Bay State," "Anglo Saxon," "Pearl of Troy," &c.; with a large lot of PARLOR STOVES, such as the Revere Air-Tight, Star, Revere Parlor Cook, Lady Franklin, for Wood or Coal; Shop, Office and Air-Tight Stoves, of different sizes and prices for either wood or coal.

Also an extensive assortment of HOUSEKEEPING GOODS; Wooden, Willow, Glass, Britannia, Japan, Tin, Hard, Enamel, and Brass Ware; Copper, Coal, Iron, and Chain Pumps; Window-Shads, Table Oil-cloths, &c.

All the above goods will be sold lower than can be bought elsewhere in this vicinity.

WHAT-CHEER STOVE.

THE WHAT-CHEER COAL COOKING STOVE, now offered for sale by the subscribers, is acknowledged by all who have examined it to be the best and most economical Coal Stove ever offered to the public.

The castings are heavy, smooth, and very handsome. The filling apparatus is a great improvement over all other Stoves, being constructed in such a manner as to prevent the steam from escaping into the room when cooking.

All persons wishing to purchase a COAL COOKING STOVE, are respectfully requested to call and examine the same. Every Stove warranted to work well, or no sale.

We have also a large assortment of COOKING, PARLOR and SHOP STOVES, &c.—for sale cheap for Cash at our Store,

Corner of State and Water streets,
s27 ANDERSON & EMERY.

The Bay State Stove,

FOR WOOD OR COAL.

THE subscriber, in offering this favorite Stove to the public, the present season, would state that a process which the filling apparatus has been added, the flues enlarged for burning anthracite coal, and the Stove otherwise improved—and is now put into the market as

THE MOST PERFECT COOK STOVE in the world. The castings are heavier, more beautiful and durable; the stove has a larger oven, will bake better and with less fuel, than any other stove in use.

These stoves are made from pure metal and are not liable to crack; and we furnish every stove with the best of apparatus—Copper Boiler, &c., and warrant them a year; and if any part proves defective it will be made good without charge.

Persons wishing to obtain a good Stove, will do well to buy a BAY STATE. They have been in operation in this city for four years past, and have given perfect satisfaction. For sale at the Store of the subscriber, where may be found a large assortment of COOKING, PARLOR AND OFFICE STOVES, TIN WARE, FUNNEL, &c. for sale cheap for cash. E. A. STEVENS.

ENEMIES OF THE OYSTER.

The enemies of the oyster are many, and all of them go about seeking what oyster they may devour. First comes the sea-crab, who seats himself on an oyster and drills a little hole in his back and makes poor oyster's back ache, which causes him to open his mouth to take a long breath, when the villainous crab runs a "stinger" down his throat, and poor oyster is in the sea-crab's stomach. On the sea shore bushels of shells are found perfectly riddled with holes by the crab. Sometimes the crab files the oyster's nose off, so as to run in his stinger.

Second, comes the drum-fish, who weighs about thirty or forty pounds, and is about two feet long; he is large about the stomach, tapering off toward both ends. He is by no means a modest fish, for just as soon as his eye rests on an oyster, he starts towards him, for the purpose of making his aquaintance, and grabbing him in his mouth, smashes him into chowder, "in the twinkling of a cat's tail," and immediately looks about for his nearest relative—being opposed to have families separated, he is anxious to have them all rest in his stomach at once. It is often the case that two or three pounds of oyster shells are found in a drum-fish's stomach.

Third, comes the sea-star—everybody knows what a sea-star is, for they look just like a star. These stars have five points, but no legs; and as they do not keep horses and wagons, they find it very inconvenient to go a foot—not having any feet—so when they wish to travel, they lock themselves fast to each other until they form a large hill, sometimes ten feet in circumference, and permit themselves to be driven about by the waves of the sea, and roll away, they know not and care not whither; but if they happen to roll over an oyster bed, they all immediately let loose of each other, and hug an oyster, and wrap their five points about him, and hug him closely, hug him dearly, until the oyster desires him to stop, when the rascally star runs a little "nipper" down the oyster's nose, and he is a "goner."

Fourth, comes a man, with dredging irous, with scoop, shovels and tongs, pulling him, and making him into oyster soup, pie, fry, roast, and so on and so forth, eating him whole, and indiscriminately body and soul, without saving the pieces. Thus it is with poor oyster; he is beset on every side, and though thousands desire to have him, yet none wish to be him.—Northern Journal.

LIABILITY OF AQUEDUCTS.—Judge Shaw has just delivered an elaborate opinion in a suit brought in the Supreme Judicial Court in Cambridge, against the city of Boston. The plaintiffs sued for damage to their lands by carrying the Boston aqueduct through them by means of a tunnel through a ledge of rocks—the alledged damage being the draining of springs and depriving the land of water. On this ground they recovered large damages.

They next sued the city for the actual value of the lands taken by the Commissioners for the purpose of constructing the tunnel. This the city resisted, on ground that it had only an easement and not a fee simple in the land—the general use of the land remaining in the hands of the plaintiffs. The jury, however, under instructions of C. C. P., found against the city. But on appeal to the Supreme Court, the decision is now reversed, on the ground of easement maintained by defendants.

AN EXPERIMENT.

Borrow a gold ring from your wife (if you are not so fortunate as to possess a wife, however, any gold ring will do,) and suspend it by a silk thread from the first fore-finger, taking care to disconnect this finger from contact with any other finger or thumb. Then pile up some books, or some convenient article, to the height of eight or ten inches, and resting your arm thereon to steady it, allow the ring to become stationary. Then let some one push under the suspended ring (which you are to hold about an inch from the table) a piece of metal—say a half a dollar; you will immediately perceive that the ring will commence a vibratory motion invariably in the same direction: to and from you. At first the motion will be gentle, as if stirred by a puff of air, but will gradually become rapid and excited. While the ring is thus swinging to and fro, let a woman touch your left hand; to your astonishment, the ring will soon take a transverse motion—crossing its former track; let the woman remove her hand, the original motion will be resumed. But should you be in the habit of drinking freely, or using tobacco excessively, the ring will not be moved at all, or only in obedience to the impulse received from nervous tremor.

Now, is this motion imparted to the ring by the pulse? If you think so, direct the metal to be removed, and to let a chunk of tobacco, a dose of stricknine, or any deadly poison whatever, be slipped under the ring, the rapid motion diminishes in impetus—it hangs with a quivering motion above the poison—then hangs motionless and dead.

Reader, we have stated what any of you may test; and if any of you can give us reasons for what you will perceive, we shall be glad to record them.—Oquaka (Ill.) Spect'r.

PORTSMOUTH:

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 26, 1852.

EXPLORATION OF THE AMAZON.—It has been decided to assign to Lieut. Page the exploration of the Amazon river, which it is ascertained, is navigable for 4000 miles, with a depth of water from 40 to 250 feet, approaching within 150 miles of the Pacific. The Water Witch is detailed for this service.

This an is expedition worthy of American enterprize—and must have important commercial results. The natural products on the Amazon river must be immense. And scarcely any portion of the habitable globe is less known.

The force under command of Commodore Perry for Japan, will, including Commander Ringgold's surveying squadron, exceed three thousand men and 150 guns, and it is believed that every ship that can be fitted out under the appropriations for 1852 and 1853 will be afloat.

BEAR HUNT ABANDONED.—We perceive by the papers, that a famous bear hunt which was to come off in Vermont, on the 11th and 12th inst., fizzled out. The territory that was embraced within the area of this hunt was about 25 miles long, and from three to six in breadth, lying entirely upon the Green Mountains. The most of the tract is undulated by ravines and deep precipices, and covered with a dense forest that has not yet dropped its leaves, making not altogether a pleasurable or sportive exercise under ordinary circumstances, to scale their spruce-clad summits.

A large number of ambitious sportsmen turned out on the occasion, but quite a number of them primed themselves so heavily over night, that they were quite incompetent to bear the fatigue of the hunt. The line was consequently broken, and the forces scattered, leaving Bruin safe in his forest den.

From this case we are safe in drawing the important inference, that sportsmen must not hunt the striped pig over night, if they expect to catch a bear the next day.

MATRIMONIAL JOKE.—The New Bedford Standard mentions a game which was played upon a young man and several clergymen in that city. The young man went by invitation (through a note) to spend an evening with a young lady friend. Presently a clergyman dropped in, stating that he had been requested to unite the then present couple in matrimony at that place and time. He had hardly been made acquainted with the facts in the case, and departed, ere a second, and finally a third minister, called at the house on the same errand! The scene was rather embarrassing to all parties—but our young hero was not to be so easily "sold"—he was incorrigible. Not much of a joke, after all.

THE LIQUOR LAW IN MAINE.—The officers of the Coast Survey at Portland, complain that notwithstanding the boasted enforcement of the liquor law, the crews under their charge have obtained a good deal of the "ardent" during the summer. Several of their men have found their way to the watch-house, and been fined for drunkenness—and one, the cook of the Madison, is supposed to have fallen from the wharf and got drowned.—Boston Courier.

We are very sorry for it—but perhaps the men might have got drunk if there had been no liquor law whatever.

LIQUOR CASE AT WATERTOWN.—On Saturday, officers Dadman and Leonard entered the Spring Hotel, at Watertown, for the purpose of seizure. Mr. Colby, the keeper placed on the premises by the Sheriff, forbade the removal of any thing, but they commenced, and were resisted by Mr. Colby, whom they arrested. The same officers were arrested at a later hour, and placed under $3000 bonds.—Boston Courier.

The coroner's jury at Milwaukie, Wis., have returned a verdict of wilful murder against Ann Wheeler, for shooting Mr. Lace, her former lover.

This will bring her before the grand jury, and possibly before the Court, where the facts and provocations must come out.

THE AMERICAN LOCKSMITH.—The London correspondent of the U. S. Gazette says, "The directors of a well known insurance office in London, assembled at their rooms last week, to hold an imporiant meeting. The secretary could not find the key of the large vault where the books and papers were kept. Mr. Chubb, the English maker of the large iron door and lock, was sent for, and stated that he had no key which would open the lock. Upon being asked if he could pick it, he replied in the negative, rather indignant at the idea that his celebrated locks could be picked! Mr. Chubb informed the directors that the only method to procure the books was to cut down the door. This they would not do, and he left the premises.

A messenger was despatched to Cheapside, for Hobbs the American, who sent one of his workmen to take an impression of the keyhole in wax. Mr. Hobb's then selected a few simple instruments, and accompanied his man to the insurance office. After operating on the lock only ten minutes, the bolt was turned, the door was opened, and the books were placed before the directors, who were utterly astonished.

DANIEL WEBSTER.

HONORS TO MR. WEBSTER'S MEMORY.—In Boston on Sunday morning, his death was made known at seven o'clock by the discharge of one hundred minute guns on the Common.

By order of the Mayor, the bells of the city were tolled from nine to ten o'clock. The shipping in the harbor were dressed in the usual form of mourning,—each displaying the national ensign at half staff.

"The Rev. J. I. T. Coolidge,in place of the customary sermon, delivered an extemporaneous eulogy on the departed statesman, which beautifully portrayed the influence of Christian faith as exemplified in the life of the late Secretary."

Other clergymen noticed the event.

In the neighboring cities, also, the news occasioned instant gloom among the people, and at the Charlestown Navy Yard minute guns were fired. Minute guns were likewise discharged at Cambridge, and other places in the vicinity of Boston.

Mr. Webster was a student at law with Mr. Gore of Boston, and had a law office in Salisbary, his native town, before he came to this place.

We learn from the Boston Bee that Mr. Webster's funeral will take place on Wednesday at Marshfield.

FROM THE FISHING GROUND.—The telegraph has announced the loss of upwards of 20 sail of vessels by a gale at Prince Edward Island. The Gloucester Telegraph says these disasters are to be attributed to the threats and abuse of the British officers, which compel the vessels to keep out of the harbors as long as possible, and prevent them from running in, except in a storm.

The Newburyport Herald says there were several arrivals at that port from the Bay, Saturday, one or two of them having made the run from the Gut of Canso in 48 hours. Letters from Prince Edward Island say that the British fishermen are now complaining more of the captain of the Devastation than the Americans.

A fearful disaster took place recently, on the occasion of a high Jewish festival at Kolinea, in Galicia. Some thousand Jews were assembled in the Synagogue, when a cry of fire was raised in the women's gallery. In the rush that followed to the narrow staircase many were thrown down, and thirty-six ladies, several of whom of high rank, were crushed to death. The fire was the work of a gang of thieves, who availed themselves of the confusion to snatch the pearl and diamond ornaments worn by many of the ladies.

LECTURES ON ENGLAND.—The very entertaining and valuable course of lectures by Rev. J. C. Bodwell, on "The People and Institutions of England," which was delivered in Boston last season, will by the request of several distinguished gentleman, be repeated on Thursday and Monday evenings. The first is upon "London, and its forms of social life.'

SUSPICIOUS.—As a lady and gentleman were riding from Fall River to New Bedford, a few days since, while passing through woods, a man stepped from the shade and endeavored to seize the horse by the head, but only succeeded in frightening him out of reach, ere another man who was in the background, could get to his comrade's aid.

Rev. Patrick Torrey, D. D., the oldest Bishop of the Episcopal Church in Scotland, died at Peterhead, Sunday, 3d inst., aged 90. Earl Somers is also dead, at the age of 65.

The Erie Railroad Company have recently forbid enfirely the sale of intoxicating drinks in any of the refreshment houses along the road, or in any of the grounds of the company, and absolutely refuse employment to any person who mskes use of such drinks.

A correspondent of the New York Mirror suggests that post office stamps and envelopes should be sold here,as in England, by stationers and booksellers in all the towns. He urges that it will be a great convenience and the means of disposing of a large quantity of the articles.

In Lyndon, Vt., last week, a man who had gone to mill, a distance of one or two miles, was returning in the evening. The stream near which the road passed, had swelled and gulley into the road, and when the horse came along he marched off the bank. The man was found on his face at the bottom of the gulet and directly beneath the horse, and the neck of the horse was broken.

Kossuth's sister, Madame Zaulavski, who with her family arrived in New York a short time since, has taken a large new house on the corner of Fourteenth street and Irving Place, which she has handsomely fitted up for boarders.

A young man named Jeffries, belonging to Bangor, about 21 years old, fell down the scuttle, from the fourth story of Wyman, McGilvery & Co.'s store, in Water street, Boston, on Saturday evening; and was almost instantly killed.

Arrangements have been made, according to a Baltimore paper, through a responsible banking house of New York, in correspondence with Europe, to make advances to planters who desire promoting a direct trade with the continent of Europe.

LIQUOR CASES.—Artemas Ward, Jr., of Worcester has been fined $10 each on eight charges of selling spirituous liquors, and has appealed.

BREACH OF PROMISE.—Martha Holbrook has received a verdict for $1000 at Providence against Jos. Pinckham, who promised to marry her, but failed to do so.

The Rev. Mr. Jenkins, of Fitzwilliam, raised a potato this year which weighed three pounds and four ounces!

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

A MEMORIAL OF JOHN W. FOSTER.

A new book is put into our hand—and we read this title on the back. Do we then need a memorial of him? Indeed we do—though we can hardly realize that he has departed.—We open, and as he looks upon us with his scrutinizing glance, we call to mind our childish feeling when first we met that eye. It was not fear—but it was awe, and it always remained respect. And then the brow, calm and dignified—presiding as it ought, over his own passions and also over those of other men—at the same time that it called the child toward him, and made him feel, as well as understand, that honesty is better than policy. In one word, it is a life-like picture, and forms a valuable part of the Memorial.

The editor of the book and the writer of the memorial, Rev. Mr. Peabody, gives us a very modest, unobtrusive biography of a good man, whom many knew and loved, and all respected.

We learn from the book, that the bodily constitution which seemed fit to last (with Mr. Foster's correct habits of living) for an hundred years, was sapped and undermined in early years, by two attacks of yellow fever at Havana. And we learn, also, that, true to his nature, he contracted this disease by charitable and benevolent attendance on American sailors who were sick in Cuba. His life did not abound in incidents; but the material is so well used, that we feel no want of more—and although we supposed we understood his character before, we are certain that we now appreciate it better. The sketch of character is fair and accurate; and the character itself needed nothing beyond.

The selection from his works is made with good judgment, and the whole book is worthy to stand beside the Memoirs and Select Remains of Nath'l. A. Haven, jr., which ought to be read over again after reading this.

The work is published by J. F. Shores, jr., of this city.

SAD ACCIDENT—MAN KILLED.—The Gazette states that the gravel train on the Portsmouth and Concord Railroad, run over an Irishman named Timothy Dwyer, at Greenland, on Monday morning about four o'clock, injuring him so severely that he died in the course of three or four hours. His body was discovered near the track about seven o'clock, by the engineer of the passenger train. A coroner will investigate the affair.

DEMOCRATIC TORCH LIGHT PROCESSION. Arrangements are being made to bring out the Democratic forces in this vicinity in a grand Torch Light Procession, on Monday evening next, in which all Pierce and King men in this and the adjoining towns are cordially invited to participate.

LAUNCH.—The elegant clipper ship Red Rover now on the stocks at Messrs. Fernald & Petigrew's Yard, will be launched at 12 o'clock to-morrow.

VALUABLE ESTATE AT AUCTION.—The lot of land, offered this day at Public Sale by Jas. P. Bartlett, Esq. Anct. is the only vacant lot for sale in that part of State street, and possesses the advantage of being in the neighborhood of new and elegant houses, churches, &c.

☞ A Teachers' Institute is to be held at Newmarket the present week, under the superintendance of Mr. Hoyt, School Commissioner for this county.

STRIKES IN NEW YORK.—On Friday the boss stevedores of New York struck for an advance of wages, and turned out in great numbers to enforce their demands. The Mayor was opplied to, and called out 500 policemen to protect the employees of the shipping interest who remain at work, and there was very little disturbance. The New York carmen have also struck. The owners of horses say that on account of the extremely high prices of feed for horses, and the rise in rents and the necessaries of life, they have determined not to hire their horses out for less than three dollars and fifty cents per day. Those who load cotton and sugar give notice to merchants and carmen that they will not load cotton hereafter for less than three cents per bale, and sugar for less than sixpence per hogshead.—Boston Courier.

HON. PIERRE SOULE.—He was born, as most readers must know, in France, under Napoleon, of an eminent family, his father having been a Lieutenant General in the Republican army. At fifteen, he was a conspirator against the Bourbons, and a fugitive. Soon after, a Paris editor, on trial for the republican freedom of his pen. He was convicted and imprisoned, but he escaped to England. Thence to Chili—to France again—to St. Domingo—to Baltimore in 1852—to New Orleans, where he has furnished the only example, on our records, of a man becoming eloquent in the use of a language which he did not begin to learn until he had reached maturity.—Home Journal.

The Selectmen of Natick acknowledge the receipt of $182 for the benefit of the children of Mr. and Mrs. Taylor, murdered about a month since. $64 of the amount came from charitable persons in Boston.

Mr. Nossin, a young German, worth twenty thousand dollars, committed suicide at Milwaukee, the other night, because he had been crossed in love.

LATEST NEWS!

THE CRESCENT CITY.—New York, Oct. 25. The Crescent City leaves for Havana on Wednesday, and it it is stated Purser Smith will again go out in her.

ELECTIONS.

OFFICIAL DEMOCRATIC MAJORITIES IN PENNSYLVANIA.—Hopkins for canal commissioner, 27,748. Woodward for supreme judge, 20,718.

FLORIDA ELECTION.—Charleston, Oct. 24.—Returns have been received from Holmes and Walton counties, Florida, except a single precinct, in which Ward's majority is 65, and Cabell's 135, reducing Broome's majority to 212, and Maxwell's to 63. [This proves the triumph of the entire democratic ticket.]

A reliable despatch from Cleveland sets down the democratic majority for members of congress in Ohio, at less than five thousand.—N. Y. Times and other whig papers.

The Cleveland Plaindealer, (democratic) offers to bet $100 that the democrats will have 14,000 majority, and $100 on every additional thousand until it reaches twenty, on the state ticket.—Boston Post.

These are certainly two stories: we do not know which is true, and are not sure that either the despatch or the bet is to be relied upon—but there is no contradiction between them. Both might be true.

OHIO ELECTION.—The Ohio papers do not continue their returns of the majorities on the State ticket, but the Cincinnati Gazette sums up the majorities in all the Congressional districts of the State, (the estimates are said to be favorable to the Democrats where the actual figures are not received) and makes the democratic majority in the 21 districts 5,589.

The Tallahassee Floridian, in speaking of the late gale in Florida, says:

"The accounts from the country are awful and appalling. We have not heard from a solitary plantation which has not suffered to the amount of thousands. Some planters have lost their entire crop of cotton. We suppose that in this county alone half a million has been lost in cotton, to say nothing of the negro houses blown down, the fences prostrated and the timber destroyed. On the turpentine plantations the number of trees blown down is greater than was ever caused by any storm which has heretofore visited this section of country."

DISTRESS IN MADEIRA.—The failure of the vintage, resulting from the blight upon the grape, has produced the greatest distress among the inhabitants of Maderia, and threatens with absolute starvation large masses of the laboring classes.

ABDUCTION TRIAL.—A curious trial for abduction was had last week at Genesee, N. Y. In December, 1850, Reuben Lee and Elizabeth Murray started from home to go to school, but went off six miles further, and got married,—the girl being a little under 14 years of age. The father recovered the daughter after some trouble, and procured the indictment of his son-in-law for taking her away, and compelling her to marry him against her will. This would have subjected him to the State Prison for ten years, but the jury did not convict him of that, but pronounced him guilty of marrying her without her parents' consent, which will subject him to some light punishment.

Gov. Bigler, of Pennsylvania has appointed Nov. 25, as a day of thanksgiving.

TRIFLES.

A flower, given by one we love,
Is prized far more than sparkling gems,
A smile, a look, a gentle word,
Outweighs the costliest diadems;
Then why should we those trifles call,
Which makes the sum of life the all
That man doth live for, here below,
And make him joy or sorrow know?

A tear upon the loved one's cheek,
Will make the haughtiest spirit quail;
A look of pain, of grief, or care,
Will turn the rose to lily pale.
Then why should we those trifles call,
Which make the sum of life, the all
That man doth live for here below,
And make him joy or sorrow know?

A look of scorn hath led to hate,
A kindly smile hath won a heart;
The one leaves but unhappiness,
The other's joy shall ne'er depart.
Then why should we those trifles call,
Which makes the sum of life, the all
That man doth live for, here below,
And make him joy or sorrow know.

ART UNION.—We learn from Albany that the Court of Appeals have agreed upon the decision in the case of the New York Art Union. They held that it is against the law forbidding every lottery, game or device of chance, in the nature of a lottery for the Art Union to distribute by lot, but that the pictures are not forfeited to the use of the poor by reason of being so offered for distribution.

EARLY WINTER.—With scarcely a premonitory notice, the winter seems fairly to have set in, both at the north of Britain and in Ireland. The Grampians have been covered with snow for several days, (Oct. 1st,) and all around Loch Shire in Sunderland it has the appearance of midwinter. In Ireland they have had the heaviest and most incessant storms of sleet and rain during the present week, that have been known for years.

THE BEST PUFF YET.—Don't ever forget to read the advertisements in a newspaper, unless you wish to be poor all your days. Those immediately following the marriages and deaths, should not be neglected, even in severe sickness. If you go to bed at night, and then recollect that you have omitted this important duty, rise immediately and apply yourself attentively to their perusal, and it may have the effect of marking out a long and brilliant life of usefulness.—Charlestown Adv.

The charcoal trade at Panama, a new business by the way, for that section of the continent, is being prosecuted with great success.—The coal is burnt in the neighboring forests of the Isthmus, and is almost the only article used for cooking, and sells at about ten dimes, (a dollar and ten cents) a bushel, which is about four times as much as the article sells for in some parts of the United States. A live Yankee could make a fortune by burning charcoal in the immediate vicinity of Panama, in less than half the time it would take to make his "pile" in California gold.

THE ROGER WILLIAMS
COOKING STOVE,

FOR WOOD OR COAL.

TO ALL IN WANT OF COOK STOVES.

As there can be but one best kind of Cooking Stove, and having been satisfactorily proved to be the Roger Williams, by the working of some twenty-seven hundred now in use in New England,—the subscriber now offers for sale 6 sizes of this beautiful pattern for wood or coal. It is believed that this stove combines all the useful improvements that skill can invent, and is by far the most perfect cooking stove ever sold in Portsmouth.

And although its price is somewhat higher than some stoves offered in this market of late, it is believed to be much the cheapest in the end. It is a beautiful model, with fine smooth Providence castings, fitted together in the most substantial manner. Every stove is warranted for twelve months, and if its operation is not satisfactory, the money will be refunded.

Also for sale, a variety of PARLOR, OFFICE and SHOP STOVES, which are offered low.

Terms Cash, invariably. J. E. CHAPMAN,

THE IMPROVED
EMPIRE STATE STOVE.

THIS justly celebrated COOKING STOVE having been improved in every way it could be to make its operations more complete, and its plates beautifully ornamented—no expense, time or trouble having been spared to make this the most complete Cooking Stove ever brought before the public—the subscriber feels assured in warranting the IMPROVED EMPIRE STATE superior to any stove in the market, as hundreds can testify who have used them for the past year.

This Stove has a very LARGE OVEN, which makes it desirable on account of doing more cooking with the same amount of fuel than can be done in any other stove. The fires are large, which insures a good draft in all cases. The castings are very heavy and smooth, and those parts that come next the fire are extra thick, making it very durable. It is adapted to the use of either coal or wood, and we warrant them to operate as well with one as the other. We furnish them with the very best appanatus; and, altogether, it is the MOST DURABLE, ECONOMICAL and CONVENIENT COOKING STOVE ever made—complete in every respect. We ask the attention of all persons intending to purchase a new, or exchange their old stove, to an examination of the Improved Empire State.

We have also on hand a variety of other Cooking Stoves, called the "Banner," "Belle of the States," "King of the States," "Bay State," "Anglo Saxon," "Pearl of Troy," &c.; with a large lot of PARLOR STOVES, such as the Revere Air-Tight Star, Revere Parlor Cook, Lady Franklin, for Wood or Coal; Shop, Office and Air-Tight Stoves, of different sizes and prices for either wood or coal.

Also an extensive assortment of HOUSEKEEPING GOODS; Wooden, Willow, Glass, Britannia, Japan, Tin, Hard, Enamel, and Brass Ware; Copper, Cast Iron, and Chain Pumps; Window-Shads, Table Oil-cloths, &c.

All the above goods will be sold lower than can be bought elsewhere in this vicinity.

WHAT-CHEER STOVE.

THE WHAT-CHEER COAL COOKING STOVE, now offered for sale by the subscribers, is acknowledged by all who have examined it to be the best and most economical Coal Stove ever offered te the public.

The castings are heavy, smooth, and very handsome. The Broiling apparatus is a great improvement over all other Stoves, being constructed in such a manner as to prevent the steam from escaping into the room when cooking.

All persons wishing to purchase a COAL COOKING STOVE, are respectfully requested to call and examine the same. Every Stove warranted to work well, or no sale.

We have also a large assortment of COOKING, PARLOR and STORE STOVES, &c.—for sale cheap for Cash at Store,

The Bay State Stove,

FOR WOOD OR COAL.

THE subscriber, in offering this favorite Stove to the public, the present season, would state that a new covered Broiling Apparatus has been added, the flues enlarged for burning anthracite coal, and the Stove otherwise improved—and is now put into the market as

THE MOST PERFECT COOK STOVE in the world. The castings are heavier, more beautiful and durable; the stove has a larger oven, will bake better and with less fuel, than any other stove in use.

These stoves are made from pure metal and are not liable to crack; and we furnish every stove with the best of apparatus—Upper Boiler, &c., and warrant them a year; and if any part proves defective it will be made good without charge.

Persons wishing to obtain a good Stove, will do well to buy a BAY STATE. They have been in operation in this city for four years past, and have given perfect satisfaction. For sale at the Store of the subscriber, where may be found a large assortment of COOKING, PARLOR AND OFFICE STOVES, TIN WARE, FUNNEL, &c. for sale cheap for cash. E. A. STEVENS.

HOW TO MAKE WINES.

An English author, in one of his chapters, treats of some of the tricks at wine making, under the title of Secrets in all Trades. The author, meeting a stranger in a country churchyard, reaognizes Burley, the late landlord of an inn he used to frequent near Cambridge, but now, it appears, retired to enjoy the fruits of his industry. Falling into a confidential discourse about the way in which this worthy conducted his business, the author receives from him a most luminous and satisfactory account of his wines.

"You can't deny it, Burley: your wines of all kinds, were detestable—port, Madeira, claret, champagne——"

"There now, sir! to prove how much gentlemen may be mistaken, I assure you, sir, as I'm an honest man, I never had but two sorts of wine in my cellar—port and sherry."

"How! when I myself have tried your claret, your——"

"Yes, sir—my claret, sir. One is obliged to give gentlemen everything they ask for, sir; gentlemen who pay their money, sir, have a right to be served with whatever they may please to order; sir,—especially the young gentlemen from Cambridge, sir. I'll tell you how it was, sir. I never would have any wines in my house, sir, but port and sherry, because I knew them to be wholesome wines, sir; and this I will say, sir, my port and sherry were the—very—best I could procure in all England——"

"How! the best?"

"Yes, sir—at the price I paid for them.—But to explain the thing at once, sir. You must know, sir, that I hadn't been long in business when I discovered that gentlemen knew very little about wine; but that if they didn't find some fault or other, they would appear to know much less—always excepting the young gentlemen from Cambridge, sir; and they are excellent judges!" [And here again Burley's little eyes twinkled a humorous commentary on the concluding words of his sentence.] "Well, sir; with respect to my dinner wines I was always tolerably safe; gentlewen seldom find fault at dinner; so whether it might happen to be Maderia, or pale sherry, or brown, or——"

"Why, just now you told me you had but two sorts of wine in your cellar?"

"Very true, sir; port and sherry. But this was my plan, sir. If any one ordered Madeira:—From one bottle of sherry take two glasses of wine, which replace by two glasses of brandy, and add thereto a slight squeeze of lemon; and this I found to give general satisfaction—especially to the young gentlemen from Cambridge, sir. But, upon the word of an honest man, I could scarcely get a living profit by my Maderia, sir, for I always used the best brandy. As to the pale and brown sherry, sir,—a couple of glasses of nice pure water, in place of the same quantity of wine, made what I used to call my delicate pale (by the by, a squeeze of lemon added to that made a very fair Bucellas, sir—a wine not much called for now, sir); and for my old brown sherry, a leetle burnt sugar was the thing. It looked very much like sherry that had been twice to the East Indies, sir; and, indeed, to my customers who were very particular about their wines, I used to serve it as such."

"But, Mr. Burley, wasn't such a proceeding of such a character, rather——?"

"I guess what you would say, sir; but I knew it to be a wholesome wine at bottom, sir. But my port was the wine which gave me the most trouble. Gentlemen seldom agree about port, sir. One gentleman would say, 'Burley, I don't like this wine—it is too heavy.' 'Is it sir? I think I can find you a lighter.' Out went a glass of wine, and in went a glass of water. 'Well, sir,' I'd say, 'how do you approve of that?' 'Why—um—no—I can't say——' 'I understand, sir, you like an older wine, softer; I think I can please you, sir.' Pump again, sir. 'Now, sir,' says I, (wiping the decanter with a napkin, and triumphantly holding it up to the light,) 'try this, if you please.' 'That's it, Burley—that's the very wine; bring another bottle of the same.'

"But one can't please everybody the same way, sir. Some gentlemen would complain of my port as being too poor—without body. In went one glass of brandy. If that didn't answer—'Ay, gentlemen,' says I, 'I know what will please you—you like a fuller-bodied, rougher wine.' Out went two glasses of wine, and in went two or three glasses of brandy. This used to be very favorite wine—but only with the young gentlemen from Cambridge, sir."

"And your claret?"

"My good wholesome port again, sir.—Three wines out, three waters in, one pinch of tartaric acid, two ditto orris-powder. For a fuller claret, a little brandy; for a lighter claret, more water."

"But how did you contrive for Burgundy?"

"That was my claret, sir, with from three to six drops of bergamot, according as gentlemen liked a full flavor or a delicate flavor. As for champagne, sir, that of course I made myself."

"How do you mean 'of course,' Burley?"

"Oh, sir," said he, with an innocent yet waggish look; "surely every body makes his own champagne—else what CAN become of all the goosberries?"

DAILY
Morning Chronicle.
PORTSMOUTH:
WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 27, 1852.

With the present week closes the first quarter's issue of the Chronicle. Those of our subscribers who commenced with the first number, and who choose to pay for a year from that date, will be allowed to take advantage of our "advance" rate until November 1st.

PRESENTMENT AND PROTEST.

The New York Herald of Monday morning contains the presentment of the grand jury of that city at the close of October, by which it appears that during their session they had disposed of 233 complains—finding 173 true bills, and dismissing the remainder.

They had visited the public institutions, of the condition of which they report favorably, and give the following statistics:

Patients at Bellevue Hospital - - -	476
Children at Randall's Island - - -	1,085
At the Lunatic Asylum - - - - -	550
And at the Almshouse - - - - - -	1,030
Total - - - - - - - - - -	3,141
The convicts and vagrants at the Penitentiary numbered - - - - - -	1,133

They present that intemperance is the fruitful source of most of the crime in the city, and proceed to state, that in April last, his Honor the Mayor issued an order requiring the different captains of police to ascertain and report the character of every place within their respective districts where intoxicating liquors were sold, and whether they were kept open for business on the Sabbath.

These reports represent the character of the places, and of their customers, as disorderly and vicious. They say too, that there are several thousands of rum shops open for business in our city on the Sabbath, contrary to express statute; and yet no notice is taken of the fact, unless it may be in the way of encouragement and approval. The grand inquest cannot learn that any licenses have been revoked in consequence of the frequent riots and bloodshed which have occurred in some of these dens. One license which was revoked for cause, was renewed in a week.

Four of the jurors enter their protest against this presentment; they say:

"The subscribers do not concur in the belief that intemperance is the cause of almost all the crime, inasmuch as the grand jury have, during its session, found indictments against parties for grand larceny, forgery, bigamy, &c., in which it did not appear that intemperance had anything to do with the commission of the crimes."

DANIEL WEBSTER.

FUNERAL.

We announced yesterday, from the Boston Bee, that Mr. Webster's funeral would take place on Wednesday. But the Boston Courier of yesterday has the funeral announced to take place at Marshfield on Friday at twelve o'clock, noon. It was intended that it should be a comparatively private funeral, and entirely without show or parade. Some of the public functionaries, however, have been invited to attend. The President of the United States will be prevented by his public engagements from attending.

There will no doubt be a great concourse present. And it would be immense, were it not that the Webster place in Marshfield is ten miles from Kingston on the Old Colony Railroad, and a dozen or more from Cohasset on the South Shore Railroad.

On that day the flags on the shipping in Portsmouth will be displayed at half-mast.

THE TOMB.

The remains of Mr. Webster will be deposited on his own great domain, amid the scenes which were so familiar and dear to his living days. The tomb has been prepared with characteristic taste and care. It is on the summit of a peering hill, overlooking both sea and land and pointing with consummate significance to the realms above. It is stated by a gentleman who visited this sacred spot in company with Mr. Webster, that the only words which he uttered during the visit were uttered while pointing to the tomb and the green sward, and were as follows,

"This will be my home, and here three monuments will soon be erected; one for the mother of my children; one, each, for Julia and Edward; and there will be plenty of room in front for the little ones that must follow them."

☞ Special notice has been taken of Mr. Webster's death in every part of the country.

In Concord, N. H., intelligence was received of the death of Mr. Webster at 9 o'clock on Sunday morning, and the event was appropriately alluded to by the various clergymen in their church services. Notices were made in the churches for a meeting of the citizens at 10 o'clock Monday. At the appointed hour the stores and offices of the town were closed, and the Representatives' Hall was filled to overflowing by citizens. Hon. Ira Perley, was chosen Chairman. A very fervent and impressive prayer was offered by Rev. Dr. Bouton. A Committee appointed for that purpose reported a series of appropriate resolutions, and the Chairman called upon Gen. Franklin Pierce, who addressed the meeting in a very eloquent and affecting speech. The resolutions were adopted and the meeting adjourned.

In Dover, the bells were tolled and one hundred minute guns were fired.

At a Post Mortem examination, it was found that Mr. Webster died of disease of the Liver. The immediate cause of death was Hemorrhage from the stomach and bowels, owing to a morbid state of the blood consequent upon the above disease. There was also dropsy on the abdomen.

MAJOR I. I. STEVENS.

A Washington despatch to the New York Herald, says—

Brevet Maj. Isaac I. Stevens, of the Engineers, has been called to account for having, on a recent visit to New England, made one or two political speeches, at meetings, in favor of Gen. Pierce. An official letter has been sent him, enclosing a printed account of the meetings, and demanding an explanation.

If this statement be correct, the War Department shows its folly. Maj. Stevens or any other officer, civil or military, has as good a right to enjoy and express his political opinions as any other citizens. If Maj. Stevens neglects his duty, call him to account.—But there must be some error in the report.

RESCUE TRIALS.—In the Circuit Court of the United States, at Boston on Monday, the trial of Elizur Wright was resumed and all the testimony finished. George Lunt for the government; George F. Farley and R. H. Dana, Jr., for the defendant.

POMOLOGICAL EXHIBITION.—In the window of Mr. Foster's bookstore, a trio bunch of large Pears, from the garden of Samuel E. Coues. We don't know how good they are, but they look very handsome. "Sour grapes," said the fox, but probably the pears are not sour; if they are, we shall almost begin to think that beauty is no sign of goodness.

AN AFFAIR OF HONOR.—At Washington, on Monday, Oct. 25, a fist-fight took place between Col. Roberts and Capt. McLane, both of the U. S. Rifles, growing out of McLane's letter respecting General Pierce in Mexico.—Col. Roberts got rather the worst of it. Capt. Hardcastle was also a party. The Adjt. General gave immediate orders for the arrest of McLane for striking his superior officer.

There is one step only, between the sublime and the ridiculous. This transaction is next to sublime.

☞ Bishop Doane has written a letter, defending himself against the "Brief Notice of the Presenting Bishops." It is not conclusive—but intimates that a trial may yet be had.

The New York Herald of Sunday says, that an overwhelming majority of the anti-renters in New York are democrats, and will vote for Pierce and King.

DEATH IN HIGH PLACES.—The New York Times says, of the eminent men of the United States, who have been voted for for President, only two are now living (Van Buren and Cass) out of eleven. The candidates in 1842, were Crawford, Jackson, Clay and Adams. In 1828, Jackson and Adams. In 1832, Jackson, Clay and Wirt. In 1836, Van Buren, Webster and Harrison. In 1840, Van Buren and Harrison. In 1844, Clay and Polk. In 1848, Cass and Taylor.

CHURCHES IN NEW YORK CITY.—The church of the Divine Unity, of which Rev. Mr. Bellows was formerly pastor, has been purchased by Rev. Mr. Chapin's congregation for $90,000. Mr. C.'s church has been sold for $45,000, and it is said will be removed for the erection of some first class stores upon its site. It is the intention of Mr. Bellows's congregation to erect a church on the corner of 4th avenue and 20th street.

Mr. Bellows is a Unitarian, and Mr. Chapin a Universalist.

NEBRASKA TERRITORY.—The people residing within this territory are determined to take the initiatory steps for organization, and for this purpose, will, in a short time, hold an election for a delegate to Congress. There are already some four or five candidates out for the office of delegate. The Government cannot avoid taking up the subject of organing this territory. The people will not much longer be restrained from taking possession of it.—Louisville Journal.

Gov. Reid, in his late message to the legislature of North Carolina, recommends the passage of an amendment allowing all free white men to vote for state senators. The constitution now does not allow any one to vote for senators unless he owns fifty acres of land, and this arbitrary law is said to disfranchise nearly one-half of the white freemen in the state.

GREAT YIELD.—Mr. Philip Jones of Amesbury, (Lion's Mouth) has just gathered from a single acre of land, one hundred and sixty bushels of corn in the ear, and three large cart loads of genuine yankee Pumpkins! This is the right sort of farming, and no man knows better how to do it than Mr. Jones. He has one of the best as well as largest farms in the country.—Amesbury Villager.

The difficulties between the 'longshoremen and their employers, in New York, have not yet been adjusted. A partial relief from their embarrassment has been found by the latter in the employment of Germans, who are easily found willing to work at the old rates of payment.

PENNSYLVANIA.—The Philadelphia Bulletin makes Woodward's majority 18,741, and Hopkin's 19,721. These figures are a little lower than those given by the Pennsylvanian, published in our last.—Boston Post.

REMOVAL OF GOV. UJHAZI.—Gov. Ujhazi, the Hungarian, and Governor of Comorn, advertises his farm and possessions in Iowa for sale. He is going to Texas, the climate of Iowa being too rigid for him.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

STEALING NEWSPAPERS.—The boy or man who steals a Morning Chronicle from a subscriber's door, may think it a very small thing—and so it may be to him—but it is not a small thing to the subscriber, who has paid for it, and wishes to read it—and it is a great thing to us, and is getting to be altogether too common. Some subscribers lose their papers in this way very frequently. The delinquents deserve the utmost penalty of the law.

POLICE COURT—Before Justice Parker.—A boy named Con Quin, was last evening sentenced to the House of Correction for 30 days, for throwing a stone at another boy, which injured him severely. Other cases of the same kind are complained of, and may be brought to trial. Boys addicted to this fault had better take warning.

LAUNCH TO-DAY.—The clipper ship Red Rover will be launched this day at 12 o'clock from the yard of Messrs. Fernald & Pettigrew. She is owned by Robert Taylor of New York and is to be commanded by Capt. Putnam, late of ship Ambassador, and intended for the California and China trade.

☞ The new mill at Franklin, to which the machinery of the hosiery factory in this city is to be removed, is nearly completed. It is built of stone, and is one the best structures of the kind in New England, and safely and pleasantly located. The company have a large water-power, and fifteen hundred acres of land, and the supply of water is unfailing.

SALE AT AUCTION YESTERDAY.—By Jas. P. Bartlett. Lot of Land in State street, near Middle street Church, sold for 895 dollars, to Jeremiah Sanborn.

DANCING.—The first Assembly of the season is to come off to-morrow evening. Messrs. Fettel & Backus's band furnishes first rate music, and there's a chance for a good time for a little money.

At a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Portsmouth and Dover Railroad, held on the 23d inst., Thomas H. Cushing, Esq., of Dover, was chosen President.

ORDINATION AT NORTH HAMPTON.—We understand that Mr. John Dinsmoor, of Madison, Maine, is to be ordained a Pastor of the Congregational Church and Society in North Hampton, on the 18th day of November. Mr. Dinsmoor was lately a student of the Bangor Theological Seminary; and is to be the successor of Rev. Dr. French in the ministry at North Hampton. Mr. French was ordained on the 18th of November 1801: on the 18th of November 1851, he preached a half century sermon and formally resigned his pastorship; and on the 18th of November 1852, "if the Lord will," he is to resign it actually into the hands of his successor.

APPLES.—The Portsmouth Journal having been criticised for stating the apple crop of Greenland, N. H., at 40,000 barrels this year, takes back three quarters of the statement and places the amount at 10,000 barrels.

[The Journal was too high before but is too low now. We have made some enquiries on the spot, and have ascertained that the quantity will not vary much from 20,000.]—Newburyport Herald.

FIRE IN ROXBURY.—At half past one o'clock yesterday morning, fire was discovered in the Union Hotel, corner of Oxford and Tremont streets, Roxbury, which consumed the hotel, stables, and some other buildings.—Loss-$12,000—partly insured.

THE MARSEILLES INFERNAL MACHINE.—The Paris correspondent of the New York Courier, writes as follows under date of Paris, September 30.

We have but few particulars to send you to-day in addition to those that went by the last steamer relative to the conspirators of Marseilles and their infernal machine for the destruction of the Prince Louis Napoleon.—The machine is, it seems, the most complete thing of the kind that has ever been invented, as great an advance upon those so famous in history, as having been used against the First Napoleon and Louis Phillippe, as Colt's revolvers are upon the firelocks of forty years ago. It was composed of 250 barrels of common calibre, surrounding four of large size, and was charged with 1,500 balls, intended for simultaneous projection upon the Prince and the group immediately surrounding him!—Military men, experts who have examined the machine, declare that it is conceived and fabricated in the most artistic and scientific manner, and can be exploded without danger to the person applying the match. It was seized at 10 o'clock on the night of the 23d inst., in the apartment from which it was to have been discharged upon the Prince on the 25th. This apartment is situated just without the city of Marseilles, on the high road leading to Aix. The principal conspirators have not yet been seized. The fifteen or twenty arrests which have actually been made, are understood to be the mere subordinate tools. It is not even certainly known with which of the political parties the infamy of the plot is to be connected in history.

James Hegeman, made a cripple for life by an accident on the Western railroad, has recently recovered the sum of $9900 of the corporation.

LATEST NEWS!

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 26.

RAVAGES OF YELLOW FEVER.—Accounts from Bridgetown, Barbadoes, to Oct. 6th, report the yellow fever as raging fearfully over the whole island, and notwithstanding the precautionary measures taken, soldiers and civilians fell before the disease indiscriminately.—Business was entirely neglected. Only 4 vessels were in port, and ballasting for Turks Island to load salt for the United States.

YELLOW FEVER.—In Charleston, S. C., there were 14 deaths from yellow fever during the 48 hours ending 9 o'clock Sunday evening.

CAPT. PORTER.—New York, Oct. 24th.—The Washington correspondent of the Herald says Capt. Porter had an interview with the secretary yesterday. He was received with great kindness. It is said that he will not return to the Crescent City, but will resume the command of the Georgia, the department having no control over the former vessel, whilst the Georgia, to which Capt. Porter is attached, and he was merely temporarily absent, is under the orders of the department.—It is considered proper that the officers of the navy should be attached to such ships as are at the disposal of the secretary of the navy.—Nearly all the mail steamers belong to that category.

SURVEY OF SOUTH AMERICAZ RIVERS. Washington, 25th.—It is understood that Lieut. Page is to be dispatched in the new steamer Waterwitch, for the survey of the rivers Paragua, Uruguay, and other branches of the La Plata.

FIRE AT NEW HAVEN.—A fire broke out about 4 o'clock Sunday morning, in a small umbrella shop on State street, New Haven, which destroyed that and two adjoining wooden buildings. As one of the latter was burning, the chimney fell, crushing a young man named B. Sperry, in a shocking manner, and before he could be extricated was burnt and crushed to death. He was nineteen years of age.

A gentleman who saw Gen. Scott at Madison, says he saw him conversing with a German, a Frenchman, and an Englishman, all at the same time, and the old General was entertaining all, each in his own native tongue. State Capital Reporter.

The Mississippi Senate, previous to adjournment, by a vote of 18 to 10, refused to rescind the vote of censure passed upon General Foote in 1850.

A Lynn Gas Company has commenced laying down gas pipes in the principal streets.

LIGHT HOUSE BOARD.—The Civil, Military, and Naval Board, for managing the Light House System is now in session. It consists of the following gentlemen:

Secretary of the Navy—Ex-officio President.
Commodore Shubrick,
Gen. Totten, Engineer,
Col. Kearney, "
Commander Dupont, Navy,
Prof. Bache, Coast Survey,
Prof. Henry, Smithsonian Institute,
Lieut. Jenkins, Navy, } Secretaries.
Lieut. Hardcastle, Army, }

The Board have already relieved the Fifth Auditor, the venerable Mr. Pleasanton, who had managed the lights for fifty years, of the duties and responsibilities incident to the position of Director, leaving to his supervision only the accounts in that branch of service.—They have, according to law, divided the ocean and lake coasts of the United States into twelve districts, to each of which they have assigned a competent officer of the army or navy as inspector. The District of New York extends from New London, in Connecticut to Barnegat Light, thirty miles below Sandy Hook. The New England coast will include two districts, the lakes two, and California and Oregon one. Three inspectors will be taken from the topographical engineers, three from the rank of commanders in the navy, and three from that of lieutenants.—N. Y. Courier and Enquirer.

A GIANT AND GIANTESS.—At Plaistow in Essex county, England, there resides a woman aged twenty, who stands six feet four inches in height; the middle finger on either hand measures six inches; the length of her arm is twenty eight inches. It is only within the last three or four years that she has attained her present extraordinary height.—There is every indication that two or three inches will be added to her stature. The Kentish giant Edward Crausar, is paying his addresses to this young woman, and they will probably be married. Crausar is only nineteen years of age, and stands seven feet six inches. His father and mother are below the middle stature, and his sisters are dwarfish.

NOTICE TO GROCERS.

ON Account of the unexpected demand for Mrs. SMITH'S KILN-DRIED YEAST, I have been unable to offer it to the trade to any extent, but now having made arrangements for a constant supply, I am prepared to supply Grocers and others with any quantity, by the dozen or otherwise.
THIS YEAST has been thoroughly tested by housekeepers most experienced in such matters, who, without exception, pronounce it the BEST, MOST CONVENIENT, AND RELIABLE ARTICLE ever introduced for raising bread;—far surpassing even the best hop yeast.
GROCERS in this town, Manchester, and many other places, are now selling large quantities every week.

THE ARGOSY

In the emerald meadows,
Below a leafy hill,
A child had launched his navy
Of lilies on the rill;
A precious little argosy,
Those lilies fresh and white;
As on the dancing waves they rode,
He shouted with delight.

He watched their dainty beauty,
As they gaily floated on,
Now soaring round the velvet banks
Now rocking in the sun;
And then, like silver arrows
In waves of winter light,
A flashing down the foaming fall,
And shooting out of sight.

The birds sang pæans o'er him,
The sky was fragrant still,
Bright butterflies sailed round his ships,
Soft winds crept from the hill;
His loose locks floated in the sun,
He warbled with the stream,
For life there, in the meadows,
Had the glory of a dream.

Beside a mighty river,
Where it meets the sounding main,
And old man saw his stately ships,
Float off to sea again.
Winds nestled in their great white wings,
And rainbows arched each prow,
With streaming banners on they sped;
Why clouds his furrowed brow?

The old man sits and ponders
When night winds vex the sea,
And booming billows pain his ear
With awful prophecy.
Alas! his treasures bring no joy,
His sleep is not repose—
Like the deep rush of the river
His restless being flows.

His stately ships return no more,
He bends beneath his care,
But still looks out upon the deep
To see if they are there;
His brain grows faint with thinking,
For thoughts like spectres rise,
Till the soothing hand of slumber
Softly shuts his aching eyes.

He sports now by the streamlet,
In the meadows green and wide;
He sees his ships of lilies
On the sunny ripples glide;
The soft breeze warms with his hair,
His heart leaps bright and free,—
But hush! no breath—a shoreless main
Bears on life's argosy.

THE ROGER WILLIAMS

COOKING STOVE,

FOR WOOD OR COAL.

TO ALL IN WANT OF COOK STOVES.

As there can be but one best kind of Cooking Stove, and that having been satisfactorily proved to be the Roger Williams, by the working of some twenty-seven hundred now in use in New England,—the subscriber now offers for sale 6 sizes of this beautiful pattern for wood or coal. It is believed that this stove combines all the useful improvements that skill can invent, and is by far the most perfect cooking stove ever sold in Portsmouth.

And although as price is somewhat higher than some stoves offered in this market of late, it is believed to be much the cheapest in the end. It is a beautiful model, with one smooth Providence castings, fitted together in the most substantial manner. Every stove is warranted for twelve months, and if its operation is not satisfactory, the money will be refunded.

Also for sale, a variety of PARLOR, OFFICE and SHOP STOVES, which are offered low

Terms Cash, invariably. J. E. CHAPMAN,

Hot Air, Oven, COAL Grates;
" " WOOD Stoves; the largest oven Stove ever manufactured,—together with a great variety of Cast Iron Base, Pyramid and other styles COAL STOVES—all of which will be sold at a small advance from cost, at

o6 MORRISON'S, 15 Daniel st.

Wholesale and Retail Warehouse.

THE IMPROVED

EMPIRE STATE STOVE.

THIS justly celebrated COOKING STOVE having been improved in every way it could be to make its operations more complete, and its plates beautifully ornamented—no expense, time or trouble having been spared to make this the most complete Cooking Stove ever brought before the public—the subscriber feels assured in warranting the IMPROVED EMPIRE STATE superior to any stove in the market, as hundreds can testify who have used them for the past year.

The Stove has a very LARGE OVEN, which makes it desirable on account of doing more cooking with the same amount of fuel than can be done in any other stove. The flues are large, which ensures a good draft in all cases. The castings are very heavy and smooth, all those parts that come next the fire are extra thick, making it very durable. It is adapted to the use of either coal or wood, and we warrant them to operate as well with one as the other. We furnish them with the very best apparatus for coal, altogether it is the MOST DURABLE, ECONOMICAL and CONVENIENT COOKING STOVE ever made—complete in every respect. We ask the attention of all persons intending to purchase a new, or exchange their old stove, to an examination of the Improved Empire State.

We have also on hand a variety of other Cooking Stoves, called the "Banner," "Belle of the Stage," "King of the State," "Bay State," "Anglo Saxon," "Pearl of Troy," &c.; with a large lot of PARLOR STOVES, such as the Revere Air-Tight, Star, Revere Parlor Cook, Lady Franklin, for Wood or Coal; Shop, Office and Air-Tight Stoves, of different sizes and prices for either wood or coal.

Also an extensive assortment of HOUSEKEEPING GOODS; Wooden, Willow, Glass, Britannia, Japan, Tin, Hard, Enamel, and Brass Ware; Copper, Cast Iron, and Chain Pumps; Window-Shads, Table Oil-cloths, &c.

All the above goods will be sold lower than can be bought elsewhere in this vicinity.

HIRAM JONES, 61 Market street,

WHAT-CHEER STOVE.

THE WHAT-CHEER COAL COOKING STOVE, offered for sale by the subscribers, is acknowledged by all who have examined it to be the best and most economical Coal Stove ever offered to the public.

The castings are heavy, smooth, and very handsome. The Broiling apparatus is a great improvement over all other Stoves, being constructed in such a manner as to prevent the steam from escaping into the room when cooking.

All persons wishing to purchase a COAL COOKING STOVE, are respectfully requested to call and examine the same. Every Stove warranted to work well, or no sale.

We have also a large assortment of COOKING, PARLOR and STORE STOVES, &c.—for sale cheap for Cash at our Store.

Corner of State and Water streets,

The Bay State Stove,

FOR WOOD OR COAL.

THE subscriber, in offering this favorite Stove to the public, the present season, would state that a new covered Broiling apparatus has been added, the flues enlarged for burning anthracite coal, and the Stove otherwise improved—and is now put into the market as

THE MOST PERFECT COOK STOVE in the world. The castings are heavier, more beautiful and durable; the stove has a larger oven, will bake better and with less fuel, than any other stove in use.

These stoves are made from pure metal and are not liable to crack; and we furnish every stove with the best of apparatus—Copper Boiler, &c., and warrant them a year; and if any part proves defective it will be made good without charge.

Persons wishing to obtain a good Stove, will do well to buy a BAY STATE. They have been in operation in this city for four years past, and have given perfect satisfaction. For sale at the Store of the subscribers, where may be found a large assortment of COOKING, PARLOR AND OFFICE STOVES, TIN WARE, FUNNEL, &c. for sale cheap for cash. E. A. STEVENS.

THE WOLF OUTWITTED.

THRILLING INCIDENT.

The first settlers in Maine, found, beside its red faced owners, others and abundant sources of annoyance and danger.

The majestic forests, which then waved, where now is heard the hum of business, and where a thousand villages stand, were the homes of innumerable wild and savage animals.

Often, at night, was the farmer's family aroused from sleep by the noise without, which told that Bruin was storming the sheep-pen or the pig-sty, or was laying violent paws upon some unlucky calf,—and often, on a cold winter evening, did they roll a larger log against the door and with beating hearts draw closer around the fire, as the dismal howl of the wolf echoed through the woods.

The wolf was the most ferocious, bloodthirsty, but cowardly, of all, r rely attacking man, unless driven by severe hunger, and then with the utmost pertinacity.

The incident, which I am about to relate, occured in the early history of Biddeford.,

A man, who then lived on the farm now occupied by Mr. H———, was, one autumn, engaged in felling trees at some distance from his house. His little son, eight years old, was in the habit, while his mother was busy with household cares, of running out into the fields and woods around the house, often going where the father was at work. One day, after the frost had robbed the trees of their foliage, the father left his work sooner than usual and started for home. Just by the edge of the forest he saw a curious pile of leaves,—without stopping to think what had made it he cautiously removed some of the leaves, when what was his astonishment to find his own darling boy lying there sound asleep.

'T was but the work of a moment to take up the little sleeper, put in his place a small log, carefully replace the leaves and conceal himself among the nearest bushes, there to watch the result. After waiting a short time he heard a wolf's distant howl, quickly followed by another, and another, till the woods seemed alive with the fearful sounds. The howls came nearer, and in a few minutes a large, gaunt, savage looking wolf leaped into the opening, closely followed by the whole pack.

The leader sprang directly upon the pile of leaves, in an instant scattering them in every direction. Soon as he saw the deception, his look of fierceness and confidence changed to that of the most abject fear. He shrank back, cowered to the ground and passively awaited his fate; for the rest, enraged by the supposed cheat, fell upon him, tore him in pieces and devoured him on the spot. When they had finished their comrade, they wheeled around, plunged into the forest and disappeared; within five minutes from their first appearance not a wolf was in sight.

The excited father pressed his child to his bosom and thanked the kind Providence which led him there to save his dear boy.—The boy after playing till he was weary had laid down and fallen asleep, and in that situation the wolf had found him and covered him with leaves till he could bring his comrades to the feast; but himself furnished the repast.—Biddeford Journal.

A well told story—but utterly incredible.

NEW FALL DELAINES AND CASHMERES, of rich styles—a large assortment just received by o4 W. J. LAIGHTON.

WORKING DOGS.—Dogs, of almost every breed, are taught to work by the Germans.—It looks odd enough to see these sagacious animals, of all descriptions from the thick-headed bull-dog, and mild and intelligent Newfoundland, down to the candleleg, half hound and snappish rat-terrier, all fully employed, instead of idling away their time as they do here. The majority of the dogs, however, are of the larger kind; and it is quite amusing to see their willingness to work, and the various ways in which they are employed. No person is presumed to use a wheelbarrow without a dog to draw the load, and in vehicles of this kind we saw loads of wood, milk, butter, cabbage, bread, mortar, hot coffee and refreshments for travellers.—All the labor that the person behind had to perform, was to act as steersman, while the dog would draw the load, and instantly stop when so ordered. We saw a few cases where the teamsters had become intoxicated and fallen asleep, and the teams had turned round to watch them.

THE FLOATING PALACE AT CARROLLTON.—This morning, about 10 o'clock, this water monster will reach Carrollton, and exhibit with its celebrated circus there at 3 o'clock this afternoon, as well as to-night. Hundreds who can beg a respite from business will scramble there to get a first look, especially as the cars will leave there to-night soon after the performances close. A trip there and back is scarcely more than a walk around a block.

We must acknowledge that this floating palace upsets some of our preconceived notions of matters and things. Notwithstanding the testimony borne by all our exchanges in the Mississippi Valley, corroborated by many eye-witnesses amongst our citizens who visited the palace on their route North, we cannot realize a building on water, accommodating with every comfort and convenience, not only an unusually large circus company, but also an audience of near three thousand people!—No wonder it has stirred up the whole country.—N. O. Picayune, 16th.

DAILY

Morning Chronicle.

PORTSMOUTH:

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 28, 1852.

With the present week closes the first quarter's issue of the Chronicle. Those of our subscribers who commenced with the first number, and who choose to pay for a year from that date, will be allowed to take advantage of our "advance" rate until November 1st.

THE N. H. LIQUOR LAW.

The fact that some action is to be taken on this subject at our town meetings next Tuesday, has been stated in the papers, but excites very little notice or remark.

The particular friends and advocates of this law—[we will not say of temperance, for there may be friends of temperance who oppose it)—the friends of the proposed law are not disposed, so far as we understand them, to vote at all on the question next Tuesday—and therefore the vote on the question will be small, mostly against the law, and wholly inconclusive as to any result, except to postpone all political action on temperance in this State, till next March.

The Oasis, a literary and temperance paper in Nashua, says:

'SHALL WE VOTE?—No! is the universal acclaim from every part of the State. Those thirty thousand petitioners, into whose faces were hurled back their disregarded prayers, with the insulting question, "You don't really say so, do you?" will never demean themselves by such a breach of self-respect. No! Senators know what we want; and they must answer us Yea or Nay, before coming whining round us with excuses for not acting the part of men and voting one way or the other. If they wish us to vote, give us something to vote for, a law to approve, and a special election—and we will give you, gentlemen, a more one-sided vote than New Hampshire ever saw.

In addition to the above we are informed that the town of New Market and Candia have not inserted the article in their warrant. The officers of the latter town gave as their reason, that a majority of the legal voters signed the petition for the law.

SACRILEGIOUS OUTRAGE.—Some wretches in fiendish form, on Monday night, pulled down the flag, suspended from the corner of Bedford and Kingston streets, and ruthlessly tore therefrom the name of Daniel Webster. If the perpetrators of the act can be ascertained, they should have the benefit of the county jail.—Boston Bee.

The same paper adds:

"In view of the great national calamity which has just occurred, Madame Alboni has postponed all her concerts in the States for the present."

And yet the Webster Club, or union Whigs met on Tuesday night in Boston, and besides passing resolutions of respect to Mr. Webster's memory, went into some electioneering proceedings of a character not very delicate, as reported in the Atlas. We hope for the honor of this meeting they are not correctly reported, or will be disavowed,—as we perceive the Courier says:

"There was then a protracted—but dignified and intelligent—discussion as to what political course the Webster men should now pursue. No action was had upon this point; and those who desire to do so, may still vote for the Union-Whig Electots."

GREAT FIRE ENGINE TRIAL.—A trial of the capabilities of the "Eureka" of W. Cambridge and the "Somerville," came off a day or two since. The Eureka is a Howard & Davis tub, with 6¾ in. cylinder, 16½ in stroke forward and 16½ behind; the Somerville was built by Hunneman, and has a 6¾ in. cylinder, with 16½ in. stroke.—The trial was a continuation of a match begun at Concord, and excited considerable interest, fifteen hundred persons being present.

1st heat. Eureka was to draw through three lengths suction hose, and play through 300 ft. into the Somerville, the latter playing through 300 ft. with 1¼ inch blunderbuss. The tubs were filled within five inches of the top at the commencement, and were worked five minutes—the Somerville being washed for the last minute and a half.

2d heat. The position of the tubs was reversed, and after a hard struggle the Eureka got rid of the Somerville's water and gained one inch.

3d heat. Tub and tub, through 300 ft. hose, each to commence with water within an inch of the top—time five minutes. Somerville was washed once, Eureka sucked three times, the Eureka lowered the water 8½ inches and Eureka 15 inches.

The friends of the different builders were present, as well as friends of the companies—considerable betting was made on the result, and several hundred dollars changed hands. The companies and guests marched off to repasts provided for each, the Eureka accompanied by a brass band playing "Yankee doodle."

NEW HAMPSHIRE FESTIVAL POSTPONED. The Boston Bee states that the Committee of Arrangements for the New Hampshire Festival, met on Tuesday evening, at the Revere House, and, in view of the death of Mr. Webster, voted to indefinitely postpone the contemplated festivities. It was voted that the association attend the funeral of Mr. Webster and wear crape upon the left arm for the space of thirty days.

SHADRACH TRIALS.

ELIZUR WRIGHT ACQUITTED.—The case of Mr. Elizur Wright, for alleged participation of the fugitive slave "Shadrach," which has been on trial several days in the U. S. Circuit Court, Boston (Judge Curtis,) was committed to the jury on Tuesday evening, and on Wednesday morning they returned the defendant "Not Guilty."

There are still several similar indictments against other parties, but probably there will be no further trials thereon—at least for the present.

So says the Boston Transcript. These trials have been a costly play-thing for the U. S. Court,—and the country has to foot the bills. Wright's trial has been costly to him also.

SUMNER'S "LAST ROSE."—In the Eastern Cemetery at Portland, at the head of the grave of a young child, is a large rose tree in full bloom—as completely covered with roses as in spring.

THE CHARLESTOWN STABBING CASE.—The Lowell News states that the Grand Jury, at their session in that city last week, found no bill against the Irishman McLaughlin, of Charlestown, for stabbing sundry persons while in a fit of delirium tremens, one of whom died—he being considered insane.

The Boston Transcript says, that instead of being taken to an asylum, he was discharged from jail yesterday, and returned to his home. Did the grand jury consider intoxication "insanity," sufficient to excuse actual homicide? Such a delusion needs to be inquired into, when murderous outrages are of so frequent occurrence as at present.

THE NATICK MURDER CASE.—Mr. Clifford, Attorney General, has instructed the Grand Jury, in session at Lowell, that they might receive the evidence of the squeezing of hands by Mrs. Taylor, in reply to interrogations. It is said, also, that additional particulars have been brought against the prisoner Casey, in reference to the bloody shirt, to the effect that on examining the inside of his coat sleeves spots of blood were found, corresponding with those on the sleeves of the shirt.

MURDEROUS VILLANY.—The New Bedford Mercury learns that a most dastardly attempt to murder by wholesale was made on the Fall River railroad, on Sunday morning. As the steamboat train was passing the Slab bridge crossing, the engineer discovered four sleepers on the track. Every thing was done to stop the train, but it was not fully checked until after crushing one of them. No damage was done.

FATAL ACCIDENT IN ROXBURY.—An Irishman named Thomas Lucas, was instantly killed on Dudley Ledge, Roxbury, Tuesday forenoon, while engaged in prying off a large rock, with which he fell a distance of some twenty-five feet, fracturing his skull and breaking one of his thighs. Lucas was a man of excellent character and steady habits, and has left a wife and several children. This is the second man who has been killed on the same ledge within a single month.

RAILROAD ACCIDENT.—Cincinnati, Oct. 26. The up train on the Cincinnati, Columbus, and Cleveland R. R., run over a cow at New London yesterday, and was thrown off the track. Six cars were badly damaged and seven persons were seriously hurt, but not fatally wounded; among them was Thomas Rutherford, of this city.

ACCIDENT.—At Brookline, on Friday, Mr. John Woodward, aged about 60, died from the effect of injuries received the day previous, while chastising a refractory horse.

FIRE AT MILLBURY.—The brick cotton mill owned by Daniel Tenney, at Millbury, Mass., and run by Mowry, Farnum & Co., was destroyed by fire yesterday morning.

Insured for $30,000 on the building, stock and machinery, as follows: $8000 at the American and $6000 at the Washington, in this city; $8000 at the Ætna, and $8000 at the Protection Hartford.—Prov. Journal.

A CURIOUS CASE.—A case is related by the Troy Budget, of a girl in that city losing her speech for a whole week! Being disobedient, and refusing to answer her mother when spoken to, she found, after sitting dumpishly in the corner for about an hour, brooding over her bad conduct, and she was unable to utter or articulate a word! Her friends did not take particular notice of her for a couple of days, supposing she was keeping up her pet.—Finally she wrote down that she could not speak, when her friends became alarmed, and consulted the physicians. After a week had passed, she awoke one morning, and found herself again in speaking order.

LARGE FUNERAL.—The funeral of Charles Riley, Esq., one of the Inspectors of the Boston Custom House, was attended Monday afternoon at the Endicott street Church. After the conclusion of the ceremonies, a procession was formed consisting of 62 carriages, and 368 persons on foot, and the corpse was conveyed to the old Catholic burying ground and there interred. The procession was the largest ever seen in that city.

THE CALORIC SHIP.—A London correspondent of the New York Times writes under date of Oct. 8th, that the savans of the scientific world are looking with intense interest to the result of the trial about to be made of Ericsson's great caloric ship, a full description of which appeared in the Times of yesterday. Let the principle only be established, and it is manifest that a great locomotive revolution is at hand. The description of the motive power, as given in the journals, is attractive even to the unlearned in such matters, to whom, as well as scientific readers, it must be obvious that "heated air" offers multifarious advantages over steam, not to be overrated, and hard to exaggerate.—Boston Transcript.

PUNCH, speaking of the influence of good dinners, says there is no diplomatic dispute in this world so large that it cannot be covered with a table-cloth.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

RESPECT TO DANIEL WEBSTER.

CITY CLERK'S OFFICE,
Portsmouth, Oct. 26, 1852.

At a special meeting of the Board of Aldermen, called by His Honor the Mayor to take into consideration the death of the Honorable Daniel Webster, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

Whereas we learn with deep regret the painful and melancholy event of the death of the Hon. Daniel Webster, Secretary of State of the United States, at Marshfield, Massachusetts, on Sunday the 24th instant, a native of this state, and formerly resident of this city; therefore, as a token of respect and regard to his memory,

Be it Resolved, That on Friday the 29th day of October, the day appointed for his funeral, the national flag be hoisted half mast, from sunrise to sunset on Market square and at Liberty Bridge; also, that 71 minute guns be fired, commencing at 12 o'clock at noon, and that the bells of the city churches be tolled one hour commencing at 12 o'clock, and one hour commencing at 5 o'clock, P. M.

And be it Further Resolved, That the citizens are respectfully requested to close their stores and places of business during the tolling of the bells at noon, and that the masters of the vessels in the harbor are likewise requested to hoist their flags half mast during the day.

Extract from the records,
A true copy, attest, JOHN BENNETT,
City Clerk.

At a meeting of the Scott & Graham Club of this city, held on Tuesday evening, Oct. 26th, after remarks from several members,—on motion, W. H. Y. Hackett, Iahabod Goodwin, Charles W. Brewster, and Michael Vaughan were appointed a Committee to report what measures it may be proper to adopt with reference to the death of Daniel Webster.

Mr. Hackett, from the above named committee, reported the following resolutions, which were unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That in the death of DANIEL WEBSTER the Government has lost a minister of unsurpassed ability, the Country a profound statesman, the Bar a great and consistent defender, and the cause of Republican Freedom an earnest and eloquent advocate.

Resolved, That though what was mortal of Daniel Webster is dead, yet his fame and usefulness will live as long as the country which he loved and served shall have a name, or republican institutions a supporter.

Resolved, That while the fame of the illustrious dead has traversed continents and oceans, yet no where has he been more highly appreciated than in New Hampshire, the state of his birth; than in Portsmouth, the home of his early maturity, where he was first introduced to public life—to the commencement of a career of public service, the termination of which has filled a nation with mourning.

Resolved, That as a token of respect for the deceased, the Club will discontinue its public meetings until after the funeral of Mr. Webster, and that the flag of the Club be dressed in mourning until Monday next.

Resolved, That the several papers in this city be requested to publish the foregoing resolutions.

ICHABOD GOODWIN, President
JOHN SISE, Secretary.

THE RED ROVER.

Launched yesterday at 12 o'clock, from the building yard of Messrs. Fernald & Pettigrew, the magnificent clipper ship Red Rover, of 1100 tons, Capt. William O. Putnam. She is a beautifully built craft, and reflects great credit on the builders, on her captain and the agent, Ichabod Goodwin,, Esd., for her construction. She was handsomely launched, and her decks were graced by the presence of quite a number of ladies.

We accepted a polite invitation from the captain to attend a bountiful collation at the Market street House, provided by himself and the agent, where the inner man was well cared for, and which was truly a "feast of reason and the flow of soul." The feast was duly honored by numerous guests, gentlemen and ladies, including the architects, several shipmasters, and the mechanics and laborers who had aided in the work. The constructors of ships—their navigators—the ladies—commerce—the Navy—the bar, and the press—all of which were well represented—were remembered in the speeches and sentiments, and the whole affair passed off in the most pleasant and agreeable manner possible. Success to the Red Rover and her gallant captain.

SINGING SCHOOLS.—Portsmouth is to be favored with any number of singing schools the coming winter. Mr. Reynolds commences a term this evening, at Academy Hall; Mr. T. P. Moses announces his to begin in a fortnight or so, at the Cameneum; and two or three others have announced classes.

☞ Who dances at Congress Hall to-night?

CHOICE PERSONAL ITEMS.—Wallace, the poet, is graduating in New York for the lunatic asylum or alms house; he has become so enraptured with Byron that he copies his "fatal errors," wears his shirt upside down, and gets "swiped" on gin and bitters.

Billy Bowlegs, a copper colored orator and professor of the scalping knife, who made a speech to President Fillmore on the subject of "free soil" and "homestead exemption," has gone back to the everglades of Florida, and signifies his intention of dying game rather than be driven from the land of his nativity and green graves of his sires! Billy's got justice on his side, but Uncle Sam's got the most saltpetre: hence the probability is that Prof. Bowlegs will be nonsuited.

The Duke of Wellington's roots appear to have extended—pretty far into the ground! ergo, he was a descendant of Edward the 1st, an imperial old fogie, who did business about the time Noah quit flat boating! Victoria was a near relative of the Duke's, by Adam and Eve, or some other of the "early settlers."

By a calculation made, it appears that it costs New York, for eight meals, for forty Alcostes dermen, one dollar and thirty one cents each meal, while the poor paupers cost but one cent and two mills a meal! That is to say, one Aldermen eats as much as 109 paupers! Corporations may be bowelless! but their stomachs are some!

STILL LOWER.—The fare between Providence and New York, by the Stonington route, is reduced to one dollar.

Lieut. Street, U. S. A., committed suicide at Fort McCavil. There are 11 U. S. soldiers in jail at San Antonio, charged with highway robbery, outrages and depredations.

DEMOCRATIC MEETING.—Utica, Oct. 26th. The State Council of the Young Democracy of the State of New York, met here to-day. From 2000 to 4000 persons were present.—Hon. Geo. W. Clinton, of Buffalo, President, assisted by numerous Vice Presidents. A series of resolutions were adopted; among them one deploring the death of the Secretary of State, Daniel Webster. The speakers were the Hon. John S. Welles of New Hampshire, B. F. Hallett of Mass., Horatio Seymour and John Van Buren of New York, David A. Small of Vermont, and others.

THE WEATHER IN COOS.—On the night of Sunday last, we had our first snow here, which, except on the hills, disappeared in the morning. On the evening of Monday we had one of the severest thunder storms of the season. Three cattle were killed by it, belonging to John H. White, and near his house.—Coos Democrat.

FASHIONABLE INTELLIGENCE.—The Boston Museum, supplies the following highly important item; whether received by telegraph or balloon express, we are not advised:

"For the benefit of that portion of our readers who, under the iron rule of fashion, have been obliged to pass food to their mouth with a silver fork in the right hand and a crust of bread in the left, we will state that the English nobility have lately decided that knives may be used for that purpose, if the knives are silver. Now this is a very important item, especially to those who are not so greedy as to be afraid of cutting their mouths if they use knives instead of forks.

This news will undoubtedly prove astounding to the upper ten-dom, and perhaps so shatter the foundations of fashionable society as to split it into two middle five-doms, or perhaps even four lower two-and-a-half-doms.

We hope that some reform will now be effected that will enable poor people, who are unable to own silver ware, to pass food to their mouths with some other article than a fork, especially while eating bean soup or chowder.

Portsmouth & Concord Railroad.

ON and after MONDAY, Nov. 1, 1852, trains will run as follows:

Leave Portsmouth for New Market Junc. 8.45 A.M.
Leave Portsmouth for Concord, 10.30 A.M., 4.10 P.M.
Leave N. Market Junc. for Portsmouth, 9.15 A.M.
Leave Concord for Portsmouth, 10.30 A.M., 3.45 P.M.

Passengers leaving Portland and intervening places by the first Boston train will arrive at New Market Junction on B. & M. Railroad in season to proceed directly in the 10.30 A.M. train from Portsmouth for Concord.

Passengers leaving Concord by the 10.30 A.M. train will arrive at New Market Junction in season to take the 12.30 train on the B. & M. R. R. from Boston for Great Falls, and also those leaving Concord by same train will arrive in Portsmouth in season to dine and take the evening train from Portsmouth to Portland.

Passengers leaving Concord by the 3.45 train will arrive at the New Market Junction in season to take, on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, the Express train from Boston to Portland.

Passengers leaving Newburyport and intervening places by the first Eastern train from Boston can go without delay to Concord by the 10.30 A.M. train from Portsmouth.

Passengers from Haverhill, Mass., and intervening places can go without delay to Concord by taking the 2.30 P.M. train on B. & M. Railroad from Boston. If they take the morning train from Boston they will be delayed about 1½ hours at New Market Junction.

By the 3.45 train from Concord, passengers will arrive at New Market Junction in season to proceed to Haverhill and intervening places by the last train on B. & M. Railroad for Boston.

Passengers from Portsmouth to Dover, Great Falls, Farmington, &c. can go without delay by the first and last trains from Portsmouth.

Passengers from Portsmouth to Exeter, Haverhill, Lawrence, &c. can go without delay by the 10.30 train from Portsmouth; if they go by the last train from Portsmouth they will be delayed about one hour at New Market Junction.

STAGES from and for MANCHESTER connect with 10.30 train from Concord and 10.30 train from Portsmouth, at Cass's Crossing in Candia.

INSTINCT OF THE HORSE.

We do not remember ever to have heard of a more remarkable exhibition of equine intelligence than the following, given to us by the St. Anthony's Express :

Mr. A. had for a considerable time a span of sprightly little horses, that he had never separated. In the stable, in the field, in the harness, they had always been together. This had caused a strong attachment to grow up between them. A few days ago he went with them out to Lake Minnetouka, on a fishing excursion. Taking them out of the carriage, he led them to the lake, and tied them with stout ropes, several rods apart, on a strip that grew upon the shore, and left them to feed. Returning to the shantee, he threw himself upon the floor to await the return of the party, who had repaired to the lake to fish.

Not much time elapsed before the sound of an approaching horse's feet attracted his attention, and a moment after one of his span appeared at the door. Recognizing his owner, he raised his head in, and giving a neigh, returned at a slow gallop, yet under evident excitement, to the spot where, but a few moments before, he and his companion had been seemingly safely fastened. Surprised to find his horse loose, and struck with his singular conduct, Mr. A. immediately followed, and found the other lying in the water entangled in the rope, and struggling to keep his head above water. While Mr. A. proceeded to disengage the unfortunate horse, his noble benefactor stood by, manifesting the utmost solicitude and sympathy, and when his mate was extricated from his situation, and again upon his feet on terra firma, the generous creature exhibited the most unquestionable signs of satisfaction and joy. That this intelligent animal should have noticed the unfortunate situation of his mate—that he should know where to apply for rescue, and in his efforts should sunder a three-fourths of an inch rope, and finally that he should exhibit so high appreciation of the event, are circumstances to astonish us, and commend themselves to the thoughtful consideration of those who would limit the power of reasoning to the "genus homo."

THE ROGER WILLIAMS

COOKING STOVE,

FOR WOOD OR COAL.

TO ALL IN WANT OF COOK STOVES.

As there can be but one best kind of Cooking Stove, and that having been satisfactorily proved to be the Roger Williams, by the working of some twenty-seven hundred now in use in New England,—the subscriber now offers for sale 6 sizes of this beautiful pattern for wood or coal. It is believed that this stove combines all the useful improvements that skill can invent, and is by far the most perfect cooking stove ever sold in Portsmouth.

And although its price is somewhat higher than some stoves offered in this market of late, it is believed to be much the cheapest in the end. It is a beautiful model, with fine smooth Providence castings, fitted together in the most substantial manner. Every stove is warranted for twelve months, and if its operation is not satisfactory, the money will be refunded.

Also for sale, a variety of PARLOR, OFFICE and SHOP STOVES, which are offered low.

Terms Cash, invariably. J. E. CHAPMAN,
No. 18 Daniel st., Sign of the Big Coffee Pot

Parlor Stoves.

LADIES and Gentlemen in pursuit of PARLOR STOVES, are invited to examine our assortment, before purchasing elsewhere, consisting in part of the following, viz: the

PERSIAN,	ALBION,
GEM,	SUFFOLK,
RISING SUN,	JENNY LIND,
LADY FRANKLIN,	BRIDE OF THE NORTH.
CHANDELIER,	REVERE,
ÆTNA	IMPERIAL,
VENETIAN,	McGREGOR,

Hot Air, Oven, COAL Grates;
" " " WOOD Stoves; the largest oven Stove ever manufactured,—together with a great variety of Cast Iron Base, Pyramid and other styles COAL STOVES—all of which will be sold at a small advance from cost, at

o5 MORRISON'S, 15 Daniel st.

Wholesale and Retail Warehouse.

THE IMPROVED

EMPIRE STATE STOVE.

THIS justly celebrated COOKING STOVE having been improved in every way it could be to make its operations more complete, and its plates beautifully ornamented—no expense, time or trouble having been spared to make this the most complete Cooking Stove ever brought before the public—the subscriber feels assured in warranting the IMPROVED EMPIRE STATE superior to any stove in the market, as hundreds can testify who have used them for the past year.

This Stove has a very LARGE OVEN, which makes it desirable on account of doing more cooking with the same amount of fuel than can be done in any other stove. The flues are large, which ensures a good draft in all cases. The castings are very heavy and smooth, and those parts that come next the fire are extra thick, making it very durable. It is adapted to the use of either coal or wood, and we warrant them to operate as well with one as the other.—We furnish them with the very best appanatus; and, altogether, it is the MOST DURABLE, ECONOMICAL and CONVENIENT COOKING STOVE ever made—complete in every respect. We ask the attention of all persons intending to purchase a new, or exchange their old stove, to an examination of the Improved Empire State.

We have also on hand a variety of other Cooking Stoves, called the "Banner," "Belle of the States," "King of the States," "Bay State," "Angle Saxon," "Pearl of Trade," &c.; with a large lot of PARLOR STOVES, such as the Revere Air-Tight, Star, Revere Parlor Cook, Lady Franklin, for Wood or Coal; Shop, Office and Air-Tight Stoves, of different sizes and prices for either wood or coal.

Also an extensive assortment of HOUSEKEEPING GOODS; Wooden, Willow, Glass, Britannia, Japan, Tin, Hard, Enamel, and Brass Ware; Copper, Cast Iron, and Chain Pumps; Window-Shads, Table Oil-cloths, &c.

All the above goods will be sold lower than can be bought elsewhere in this vicinity.

WHAT-CHEER STOVE.

THE WHAT-CHEER COAL COOKING STOVE, now offered for sale by the subscribers, is acknowledged by all who have examined it to be the best and most economical Coal Stove ever offered to the public.

The castings are heavy, smooth, and very handsome. The Broiling apparatus is a great improvement over all other Stoves, being constructed in such a manner as to prevent the heat from escaping into the room when cooking.

All persons wishing to purchase a COAL COOKING STOVE, are respectfully requested to call and examine the same. Every Stove warranted to work well, or no sale.

We have also a large assortment of COOKING, PARLOR and STORE STOVES, &c.—for sale cheap for Cash at our Store.

Corner of State and Water streets,
s27 ANDERSON & EMERY.

The Bay State Stove,

FOR WOOD OR COAL.

THE subscriber, in offering this favorite Stove to the public, the present season, would state that a new covered Broiling Apparatus has been added; the flues enlarged for burning anthracite coal, and the Stove otherwise improved—and is now put into the market as in the world. The castings are heavier, more beautiful and durable; the stove has a larger oven, will bake better and with less fuel, than any other stove in use.

These stoves are made from pure metal and are not liable to crack; and we furnish every stove with the best of apparatus—Copper Boiler, &c., and warrant them a year; and if any part proves defective it will be made good without charge.

Persons wishing to obtain a good Stove, will do well to buy a BAY STATE. They have been in operation in this city for four years past, and have given perfect satisfaction. For sale at the Store of the subscriber, where may be found a large assortment of COOKING, PARLOR AND OFFICE STOVES, TIN WARE, FUNNEL, &c. for sale cheap for cash. E. A. STEVENS.

COLONIZING OF CHILDREN.—A Paris correspondent of the St. Louis Republican gives the following account of the experiment which the French Government is now making, in colonizing the orphan children who are thrown upon the charity of the State :—

A very interesting experiment is being tried in several parts of Algiers, viz : the founding of "Children's Colonies." As is doubtless well known to your readers, an immense number of illegitimate and other children are left, every year, upon the hands of the State, by whom they are brought up in large institutions founded for the purpose. These children it is now proposed to colonize, at a suitable age ; and they are sent over to the various colonies in companies of about two hundred at a time.

As yet these colonies—the oldest and most advanced of which is at Bouffarick—are in the hands of ecclesiastics ; but it does not appear that any specially religious form of organization has been adopted. The intention is, rather to found labor schools, which it is hoped will soon become self-supporting, and subsequently, as the children grow up, become the nucleus of villages or cities, as the case may be.

It is evident, that the success of these attempts must depend mainly upon the soundness of the method of education and association to be hereafter adopted with regard to the colonists ; but the effort, at all events, is a laudable one and the tendency of such experiments must necessarily be good, as experience is the best teacher, and practical errors, even where the intention is good, will generally lead to their own correction. Not only foundlings, but orphans, and the children of parents too poor to support them, and willing to give them up to the State, are received in these hospitable and pleasant homes, and the report of their progress and of the results of their labor are satisfactory, so far.

GREAT CURIOSITY.—At the late meeting of the British Association for the Advancement of Science, Sir David Brewster made and confirmed, a statement, which, he plainly declared, was "of so incredible a nature that nothing short of the strongest evidence was necessary to render it at all probable"—which was in relation to the discovery in the recently exhumed "treasure house of Nineveh, of a rock-crystal lens, where it had for centuries laid entombed in the ruins of that once magnificent city." He established the statement by producing the lens itself, which was of a somewhat oval shape, 1 6-10ths inches in its greatest diameter, and of the character known as plano-convex, the plain side being one of the original faces of the crystal, while the convex side had the appearance of having been ground on a lapidary's wheel, instead of being shaped in the dish-shaped tool now used by opticians. It was in a more or less scratched or corroded condition, but could be recognized as a true optical lens, having a focal length of 4 1-2 inches.

This is a very remarkable discovery. It has always been believed that the ancients were entirely ignorant of lenses and their properties—so say nothing of the important optical instruments, the telescope microscope, &c., which are formed of them. The little magnifying glass dug from the grave of buried Assyria, will give rise to new ideas and conjectures regarding the arts and sciences of the ancient world.

A BRIDE'S REVENGE.—The other day, as a wedding party was ascending the steps which approach one of our Liverpool churches, the intended bride herself, owing to some obstruction, or to an inadvertent step, missed her footing, and fell. The swain, unable, even at that joyful crisis of his existance, to conceal his vexation at this little contre-temps, exclaimed, pettishly, "Dear me, how very clumsy!" The lady said nothing, but she was observed to bite her lip, and a far darker and gloomier look than beseemed the Court of Hymen was seen to gather on her brow.—She walked deliberately, however, into the church ; the ceremony commenced ; and everything proceeded in orthodox fashion, until the important question was put—"Wilt thou have this man?" &c. Here, instead of whispering, blushingly, a soft affirmative to the communion cushions, the fair lady drew herself up, cast a withering glance upon her betrothed, and muttering the words, "Dear me, how very clumsy!" sailed down the aisle, and out of the church, with the port of an offended goddess.—Liverpool Paper.

PARRICIDE AND MATRICIDE.—We read in the Galena (Ill.) Advocate, a report of a horrible crime committed in that vicinity. The father and mother of a family died last spring. Their disease was supposed to have been cholera. Recent disclosures have excited suspicion that they were poisoned by their own daughter, a girl of fifteen. A young man had been paying his attentions to her, to whom the parents objected on account of his bad character. To remove this obstacle, it is supposed that the young girl consented to and committed the horrible crime of parricide.

AN OLD CARTMAN.—John C. Klinck, a cartman eighty years of age, recently renewed his license at the Mayor's office, New York. He received his first license from De Witt Clinton in 1803, when that distinguished man was Mayor of New York. Up to the present time he has enjoyed excellent health, and is still able to attend to his business.

DAILY Morning Chronicle.

PORTSMOUTH:

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 29, 1852.

With the present week closes the first quarter's issue of the Chronicle. Those of our subscribers who commenced with the first number, and who choose to pay for a year from that date, will be allowed to take advantage of our "advance" rate until November 1st.

FROM ENGLAND.

The arrival of the Niagara gives us news from England and the Continent, three days later, viz. to the 16th inst. at 11 o'clock A. M.

The Court has returned to London, and at a cabinet council held yesterday, the 15th was appointed for the meeting of Parliament. A rumor has crept out that government are about to make a movement in favor of extending the franchise, the plan proposed being to impose an income tax on all wages above £1 per week, and to confer the privilege of voting on payers of these taxes. It is also stated that a strong organization in the new Parliament will press the introduction of the new ballot.

The scope of the despatches brought home by Lady Franklin's ship Prince Albert, from Capt. Beechey, is that the searching expeditions are proceeding up Wellington Channel, favored by very open weather, and under the strong probability that Franklin passed that way.

The name of the American whale-ship reported lost in the Arctic Sea, is the McLellan.

The yacht America figures largely in news this week. Tuesday, 12th, she competed with the Swedish yacht Swerege, and beat her by full 20 minutes. The course was round the Nab light, Isle of Wight, but owing to fog and light winds the race was not exciting. Lord De Blaquriere her owner has published a challenge to the yachts of all nations except the United States, and offers to sail the America for a thousand pounds against any yacht in a nine knot breeze, any where inside the Isle of Wight. The challenge has been accepted for five hundred pounds by J. S. Craigie, with the yacht Volante, and for a thousand pounds by J. Mackintosh, with the iron yacht Disowned, from Erith to the Nore and back. The matches to come off when the weather is suitable.

The Earl of Carlysle has written a preface to Uncle Tom's Cabin, intended to neutralize the recent criticisms in the London Times.

Twenty-four political prisoners were shot at Sinigalia, papal states, from 1st to 3d inst.

SPAIN.—The subscription for the wounded, and the families of those killed in the Lopez expedition amounts to 281,000 piastres. The widow of Gen. Erina had received 10,000 piastres, and the widow of Francisco Nadal 6500.

Tyranny is ill at ease in Europe and Asia.

The Prussian Ambassador to the Helvetic Confederation has ordered all Prussian workmen to return to Prussia within a month, to withdraw them from the influence of Democratic doctrines.

PERSIA.—Hagli Suliman Kahan, accused as instigating the late attempt on the life of the Shah, had been seized and put to death with much cruelty. His body was fractured in parts not vital, and lighted tapers inserted in the wounds. Thus illuminated he was carried in procession through the city, and was afterwards cleft in twain. Kurret Hahn, better known as the fair prophetess of Kazveen, who had been kept a prisoner since the late religious outbreak in Teheran, has also been executed, with a dozen or so of other suspected parties.

GOOD REASON FOR TAKING OUT AN ADVERTISEMENT.—A merchant in this city desires us to take out his advertisement, because he has sold all of the article he advertised, several days ago, and has "been bothered with letters from the country every day since, making inquiries and ordering more."

FROM THE BAY—THE FISHERMEN.

Capt. Decker, of the schooner Niagara, which arrived on Saturday, left Port Hood on Sunday, 17th. He informs us that the blow was very heavy on Friday night at that place, from the south-west. Seven British vessels went ashore, but no Americans, although most of the latter dragged their anchors. On Friday afternoon, before the blow came on, the captain of the Devastation ordered all the British vessels to anchor near the head of the harbor, and those Americans who remained to go to the outer part of the harbor, while he placed his own vessels between the two fleets. The Americans had a poor anchoring ground, and Capt. Decker states that if the gale had continued two hours longer every one of the fleet would have gone ashore. The vessels would pitch their bowsprits into the water, and when they came up, would drag their anchors at the distance their masts jerked back.

Captain Decker also informs us that the captain of the Devastation is very active, visiting many of the vessels himself, and is growing more strict every day. He now obliges the Americans to keep their flags flying every day, no matter how hard the wind blows; and if they haul them down at sunset they are obliged to hoist them again and keep them up till after dark.

The captain of the Devastation had the names of several vessels which he was determined to seize if he could. The men who were in the gun-boat that gave chase to the Wm. Babson, state that they fired over forty shots at her, and that her boat was completely riddled. Finding that the small boats did not succeed in capturing the vessels, the captain of the Devastation had ordered his wheel-boats to be got ready and fifty men with forty muskets placed in each, to go to the boat station, but the storm on Friday night and subsequent, had prevented their going out previous to Captain Decker's leaving Port Hood.—Gloucester Telegraph.

PALISSY THE POTTER.—Bernard Palissy, of Saintes lived three centuries ago, in France; he was born in humble life, and first educated as a glass painter, but after spending some time in travelling and going through many adventures, he became a potter. He made various experiments in clay and the formation of enamels and suffered many severe disappointments. He became a philosopher and a teacher, but being a Huguenot he suffered great persecutions and finally died in the Bastile.

This history, written by Wm. Morley, and just reprinted in this country, is said by the Boston Daily Advertiser to be a curious and interesting book, but it gives a sad picture of the times in which Palissy lived. It certainly shows that if the world is not as good as it might be, it is better than it was three hundred years ago.

RAILROAD TO BANGOR.—The Bangor Courier informs us that the Directors of the Penobscot and Kennebec Railroad Company, have closed a contract for the building of their road from Waterville to Bangor, which will connect that city with the rest of the country by a continuous line of Railway.

CORN IN MAINE.—The Piscataqua Observer states that Mr. Asa Harlow of Guilford, has raised this year from one acre and 56 rods, 141 bushels of sound corn; and from 3-4 acre 183 bushels sound potatoes.

This looks as if the land of plenty lay to the eastward—though the land of promise is westward, "over the left" as we look to the North Star.

NEW YORK STRIKE.—The "alongshore men" of New York are still upon a strike, but their places are supplied by Germans who work for $1.50 per day. The police accompany them from their work to their homes, but occasionally one of them gets caught by the strikers and is badly beaten.

The strike in New York was settled by a sort of compromise between the merchants and riggers, stevedores, &c., at rates a shilling (12 1-2 cents) more than the old prices, and a shilling less than the latter struck for.

GOOD MANNERS AND GOOD TEMPER.—The New York Evening Post says of Daniel Webster:

"His life has left few lessons of greater value than may be gathered from the elevated tone of his Congressional speeches, in which he never made one undignified appeal, or indulged in one personal or unparliamentary allusion. We do not recollect an instance of Mr. Webster's being called to order, or of his being out of order during the whole of his parliamentary life. This can hardly be said of any other person who ever held a seat in the Congress of the United States more than a single term."

BURNING FLUID.—An infant had its clothes burnt off, in Greenwich, R. I., on Monday evening, from the explosion of a fluid lamp. The child is not expected to live.—It is presumed that the family will now discontinue its use.—Providence Journal.

Yes—or use Newell's patent safety lamp and feeder.

BISHOP DOANE.—A son of Bishop Doane writes to the New York papers that the report of his father's illness was greatly exaggerated. He "was attacked with a nervous prostration to which he has been subject since his dangerous illness in 1843," but "the attentions of his most hospitible host Mr. Carpenter, and a twelve hours sleep have nearly re-fitted him for work."

Bishops Meade, McAlvaine and Burgess have published a statement in relation to the recent action of the court assembled for the trial of Bishop Doane, in which they say that the charges have been dismissed without the slightest consideration of their merits. "They have not been retated; they have not been tried; and they are not retracted."

SHOCKING ACCIDENT.—On Wednesday afternoon, a son of Mr. Brooks of Fitchburg, about 12 years old, was present at a turkey-shooting, when a chicken that he was holding escaped from his grasp. In attempting to recover the chicken, he fell with his head within six inches of the muzzle of a gun, at the instant that the man holding it, fired. The consequence was, that his head was literally torn in pieces, the whole charge entering directly behind the ear. The sight was a shocking one, and the agony of the family was most heart rending to behold. This is the third son Mr. B. has lost by a sudden and violent death.—Worcester Spy.

NEW YORK EXHIBITION.—It is stated that the ceremony of erecting the first column of the Exhibition edifice, postponed from the 26th, in coniequence of the death of Mr. Webster, will take place on Saturday, the 30th inst., at 12 o'clock.

A PROBLEM IN EUCLID.—A farmer in Euclid, Ohio, has this season raised 3000 bushels of potatoes on ten acres of land, and marketed them in Cleaveland, at 50 cents per bushel.

FRIGHTENED TO DEATH.—A woman was accused of abstracting a $10 bill from a wallet which she found in the street, in St. Louis a few days since,—and upon being threatened with arrest, fainted, fell, and soon expired.—The money was afterward found in her room.

The 25th Annual Fair of the American Institute will close on Friday, the 29th inst.—The block of marble designed by the New York Fire Department, for the Washington Monument, was placed on exhibition Tuesday. It is elaborately wrought.

Nehemiah Butler, of Fisherville, has been appointed Clerk of the Courts for the county of Merrimack, New Hampshire, in place of Col. Baker, resigned.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

RESPECT TO DANIEL WEBSTER.

Mr. Webster's funeral is to take place at Marshfield, to-day at twelve o'clock. Most of the stores in Portsmouth will probably be closed (agreeably to the City Council's recommendation,) between twelve and one o'clk, during which time 71 guns will be fired by order of the Council. Many stores and houses are to be dressed in token of remembrance and appreciation of a departed statesman and former fellow citizen.

The Rockingham House in particular, we noticed yesterday, is very tastefully and appropriately trimmed, exterior and interior. Outside, the front is dressed with festoons and rosettes of white and black intertwined—with mottoes: that in the centre explaining all, "In Memory of Daniel Webster:" on one hand his last words, "I still live;" and on the other, "Men die, but principles live forever." The hall is similarly trimmed, and the whole first floor of the house, with numerous appropriate mottoes, pictures and busts draped in mourning, etc.,—the whole in exquisite taste, and reflecting great credit upon the ladies and gentlemen of all parties, connected with and stopping at the house, who have devoted so much time and labor to the work.

The Scott & Graham flag, and the flag on the Rockingham House, are trimmed with black.

All the dry goods dealers will close their stores at noon, for the remainder of the day—and most of them will display some sign of mourning.

CUSTOM HOUSE, Portsmouth, Oct. 29, 1852.

As a token of respect to the memory of Daniel Webster, the Custom House will be closed to-day at 12 o'clock, noon.

LORY ODELL, Collector.

The City Offices will also be closed.

City Council—Oct. 28.
BOARD OF ALDERMEN.

Sundry bills for work on Highways and School-House, were passed for payment.

After some appropriate remarks by the Mayor and Alderman Stackpole in relation to the death of Hon. Daniel Webster,

On motion of Alderman Spalding it was Voted, That in consequence of the funeral ceremonies of the Hon. Daniel Webster, the Teachers of the Public Schools be requested to dismiss their respective Schools on Friday at half-past 10 o'clock, and for the remainder of the day.

The Committee appointed to appraise the City property and make a schedule of the same, reported progress and asked leave to sit again.

Adjourned to meet at 7 o'clock next Thursday evening.

THE CAMENEUM.

This Home of the Arts and Muses has been thoroughly refitted and rejuvenated, by the enterprise and taste of Mr. Thomas P. Moses, and is now one of the most convenient and beautiful Concert and Lecture Rooms to be found anywhere. Without the Gallery it will seat 450 or 500 persons, and the gallery will hold 100 more.

It is an excellent house for sound—is brilliantly lighted with gas—and is exactly fitted to accommodate a genteel and fashionable audience.

We understand that the Portsmouth Lyceum will use it for their lectures this season;—and we doubt not every ticket holder will be gratified with the tasteful and convenient arrangements.

☞ We understand that Capt. Samuel Shackford has been appointed Inspector of Timber at the Navy Yard on this station; at a salary of $900.

☞ A finely engraved head of George Washington, copied from the clebrated painting of Gilbert Stuart, is on exhibition at the window of Mr. Shores' bookstore. It is elegantly framed, and is to be presented to St. Andrew's Lodge on the 4th day of November, that day being the centennial anniversary of Washington's admission into the order of Free and Accepted Masons.

St. John's and St. Andrew's Lodge intend to celebrate that anniversary by a festival, at which time, we understand, some memorial will also be presented to St. Johns's Lodge.

☞ HORACE MANN, of Massachusetts will lecture this evening in the Temple at the request of the Free Democracy who invite ladies and gentlemen without distinction of party to attend.

☞ Rev. John S. Dwight, lately of Saco, will preach in the North Church next Sunday, and the Sunday after.

☞ Sweet Potatoes raised on the farm of Abednego Robinson Esq. in this city, may be seen at Mr. Aaron Akerman's store. One of 'em weighs twenty ounces.

Mr. Charles R. Thorne, the popular actor, is said to be at the point of death in New York caused by an inflamation of the bone of his right leg, and the only chance for his life is to have the leg amputated immediately.

LATEST NEWS!

SPAIN AND THE UNITED STATES.—The Washington Republic says, "We have the best authority for saying that the Cabinet at Washington has taken strong grounds in opposition to the treatment of the Crescent City at Havana, and have no doubt that it will be followed by the speedy redress of the evil complained of. There will be no backing out by the Administration. The rights and honor of the country will be vindicated.

LOBOS ISLANDS.—It has accidentally transpired at Washington within a day or two, that gentlemen concerned in the guano speculation have despatched a minister to Madrid, to negociate, through the American Minister with the Spanish Government for the lease or purchase of the Lobos Islands. This is said to have been done by the advice of eminent counsel, who were of opinion that if any nation owns those islands, it is the Spanish, who discovered and named them, and from which alone Peru claims to have derived her title to them.

AN EDITOR GULLED.—New York, Oct. 26. —Moses A. Dow, editor of the Bostou Waverly Magazine, was defrauded yesterday out of $150, by a gang of sharpers in a mock auction shop, in Chatham street, by purchase of a galvanized watch. The swindlers were arrested and required to give bail on a charge of conspiracy. Mr. Dow recovered his money.

GOVERNMENT DRAFTS LOST.—A telegraphic despatch states that the United States Treasurer at New Orleans gives notice that drafts to the amount of over a million of dollars, transmitted to the Indian agent, have been lost, and cautions the public against receiving them.

INTERRUPTION OF THE TELEGRAPH.—The New York Courier says that the wires of the Eastern Telegraph near Portland, and House's Telegraph near Boston were cut at about 9 o'clock on Tuesday night, with the evident intention of cutting off the anticipated despatch of news from Halifax.

BOSTON POLICE COURT.—From the Courier of yesterday we learn that Patrick Clark, who keeps a small shop in Lancaster street, was brought up, charged with selling a pint of gin to John Stafford, jr., eleven years of age. Stafford is the son of the man who is in jail on a charge of, in one of his fits of drunkenness, beating his wife to death. Clark was found guilty and sentenced to pay a fine of $10 and costs, and to give bonds in $1000 not to offend in like manner again. From this sentence he appealed, and gave bonds to prosecute his appeal.

DOUBLE TRACK.—We understand that another track is to be laid down along side of the present track of the Troy and Greenbush Railroad. The work will be commenced this fall. The increased business on this road demands that it should be done.

Bayard Taylor, the traveller, is on his way home from his explorations of the sources of the Nile.

SENDING THEM SOUTH.—One man in Fredericksburg, Va., lately sold one hundred negroes to an Alabama planter, for $45,000.

Capt. Marcy, who was so often killed—by telegraph—is now stated to be very sick, at the residence of his brother in New York.

TOO LATE.—Our readers may remember that in the spring of 1849, a child not many days old, was left one evening, on the step of a house in Chestnut St., and, as is the custom in like cases of abandonment, was sent to the Alms House. On Tuesday last, application was made to the city authorities, by a gentleman who appeared in behalf of the parents, for a restoration of the foundling to its natural and rightful protectors. It seems that the parents are now in California, and, having prospered sufficiently to induce them to reclaim their offspring, they authorized and requested the applicant to take the proper steps to have it restored to them. Unfortunately it was ascertained, upon inquiry, that the child was dead! It was ten days old when abandoned, and lived little more than a year, until May 1820.—Salem Register.

NOTICE TO GROCERS.

ON Account of the unexpected demand for Mrs. SMITH'S KILN-DRIED YEAST. I have been unable to offer it to the trade to any extent, but now having made arrangements for a constant supply, I am prepared to supply Grocers and others with any quantity, by the dozen or otherwise.

THIS YEAST has been thoroughly tested by housekeepers most experienced in such matters, who, without exception, pronounce it the BEST, MOST CONVENIENT, AND RELIABLE ARTICLE ever introduced for raising bread;—far surpassing even the best hop yeast.

GROCERS in this town, Manchester, and many other places, are now selling large quantities every week.

Weymouth Nails,

CONSTANTLY on hand, and for sale by RAYNES & NEIL,

INSECTS.

A philosophical study of natural history will teach us, that the direct benefits which insects confer upon us are even less important than their general use in maintaining the economy of the world. The mischiefs which result to us from the rapid increase and the activity of insects, are merely results of the very principle by which they confer upon us numberless indirect advantages. Forests are swept away by minute flies; but the same agencies relieve us from that extreme abundance of vegetable matter which would render the earth uninhabitable were this excess not periodically destroyed. In hot countries, the great business of removing corrupt animal matter, which the vulture and the hyæna imperfectly perform, is effected with certainty and speed by the myriads of insects that spring from the eggs deposited in every carcass, by some fly seeking therein for food for her progeny.

Destruction and reproduction, the great laws of nature, are carried on very greatly through the instrumentality of insects; and the same principle regulates even the increase of particular species of insects themselves.—When aphides are so abundant that we know not how to escape their ravages, flocks of lady birds instantly cover our fields and gardens to destroy them. Such considerations are thrown out to show that the subject of insects has a great philosophical importance; and what portion of the works of nature has not? The habits of all God's creatures, whether they are noxious, or harmless, or beneficial, are worthy objects of our study.

If they affect ourselves, in our health, or our possessions, whether for good or evil, an additional impulse is naturally given to our desire to attain a knowledge of their properties. Such studies form one of the most interesting occupations which can engage a rational and inquisitive mind; and, perhaps, none of the employments of human life are more dignified than the investigation and survey of the workings and the ways of Nature in the minutest of her productions.

DEATH OF A REVOLUTIONARY SOLDIER. John Wadleigh, a soldier of the revolution, died at Shaker Village, N. H., Oct. 23, aged 95 years, 7 months and 23 days. He was at the battle of Bunker Hill, and was one of the last to leave the scene of action. He was one of the founders of the society of Shakers, having been a member of that fraternity over 70 years.

We can sooner become rich by retrenching our desires, than by enlarging our estate.

THE ROGER WILLIAMS COOKING STOVE,

FOR WOOD OR COAL.

TO ALL IN WANT OF COOK STOVES.

As there can be but one best kind of Cooking Stove, and that having been satisfactorily proved to be the Roger Williams, by the working of some twenty-seven hundred now in use in New England,—the subscriber now offers for sale 6 sizes of this beautiful pattern for wood or coal. It is believed shat this stove combines all the useful improvements that skill can invent, and is by far the most perfect cooking stove ever sold in Portsmouth.

And although its price is somewhat higher than some stoves offered in this market of late. it is believed to be much the cheapest in the end. It is a beautiful model, with fine smooth Providence castings, fitted together in the most substantial manner. Every stove is warranted for twelve months, and if its operation is not satisfactory, the money will be refunded.

Also for sale, a variety of PARLOR, OFFICE and SHOP STOVES, which are offered low.

Terms Cash, invariably. J. E. CHAPMAN, No. 18 Daniel st., Sign of the Big Coffee Pot

THE IMPROVED
EMPIRE STATE STOVE.

THIS justly celebrated COOKING STOVE having been improved in every way it could be to make its operations more complete, and its plates beautifully ornamented—no expense, time or trouble having been spared to make this the most complete Cooking Stove ever brought before the public—the subscriber feels assured in warranting the IMPROVED EMPIRE STATE superior to any stove in the market, as hundreds can testify who have used them for the past year.

This Stove has a very LARGE OVEN, which makes it desirable on account of doing more cooking with the same amount of fuel than can be done in any other stove. The flues are large, which insures a good draft in all cases. The castings are very heavy and smooth, and those parts that come next the fire are extra thick, making it very durable. It is adapted to the use of either coal or wood, and we warrant them to operate as well with one as the other. We furnish them with the very best appanatus; and, altogether, it is the MOST DURABLE, ECONOMICAL and CONVENIENT COOKING STOVE ever made—complete in every respect. We ask the attention of all persons intending to purchase a new, or exchange their old stove, to an examination of the Improved Empire State.

We have also on hand a variety of other Cooking Stoves, called the "Banner," "Belle of the States," "King of the States," "Bay State," "Anglo Saxon," "Pearl of Troy," &c.; with a large lot of PARLOR STOVES, such as the Revere Air-Tight, Star, Revere Parlor Coal, Lady Franklin, for Wood or Coal; Shop, Office and Air-Tight Stoves, of different sizes and prices for either wood or coal.

Also an extensive assortment of HOUSEKEEPING GOODS; Wooden, Willow, Glass, Britannia, Japan, Tin, Hard, Enamel, and Brass Ware; Copper, Cast Iron, and Chain Pumps; Window-Shads, Table Oil-cloths, &c.

All the above goods will be sold lower than can be bought elsewhere in this vicinity.

WHAT-CHEER STOVE.

THE WHAT-CHEER COAL COOKING STOVE, now offered for sale by the subscribers is acknowledged by all who have examined it to be the best and most economical Coal Stove ever offered te the public.

The castings are heavy, smooth, and very handsome. The Broiling apparatus is a great improvement over all other Stoves, being constructed in such a manner as to prevent the steam from escaping into the room when cooking.

All persons wishing to purchase a COAL COOKING STOVE, are respectfully requested to call and examine the same. Every Stove warranted to work well, or no sale.

We have also a large assortment of COOKING, PARLOR and STORE STOVES, &c.—for sale cheap for Cash at our Store,

The Bay State Stove,

FOR WOOD OR COAL.

THE subscriber, in offering this favorite Stove to the public, the present season, would state that a new covered Broiling Apparatus has been added, the flues enlarged for burning anthracite coal, and the Stove otherwise improved—and is now put into the market as

THE MOST PERFECT COOK STOVE in the world. The castings are heavier, more beautiful and durable; the stove has a larger oven, will bake better and with less fuel, than any other stove in use.

These stoves are made from pure metal and are not liable to crack; and we furnish every stove with the best of apparatus—Copper Boiler, &c., and warrant them a year; and if any part proves defective it will be made good without charge.

Persons wishing to purchase a good Stove, will do well to buy a BAY STATE. They have been in operation in this city for four years past, and have given perfect satisfaction. For sale at the Store of the subscriber. Also may be found a large assortment of COOKING, PARLOR AND OFFICE STOVES, TIN WARE, FUNNEL, &c. for sale cheap for cash. E. A. STEVENS.

BEGGARY.

In this age of progress, beggary goes ahead among the other movements of the day. The Bangor Daily Courier contains a column of interesting statements about beggars and begging in that city, written by the City Missionary.

Among the stories of beggars, is one of Miss Sarah Preston as she calls herself. "She says she came from Franklin, N. H. She sometimes, however, says "the ladies of Boston told her to come to the Sisters of Bangor." She came here the last week in July, and called upon me the next day after her arrival. Said she had lost a thousand dollars by the robbery of a Bank; and had also lost all her clothes, &c. Sometimes she has begged money to go to Thomaston—at others, to go to N. H. But most generally she asked for money to pay her lodging. Her conduct and appearance are such, that most persons prefer giving her a quarter or half dollar rather than keep her. And thus she has been going from house to house for three months. Some think she is partially deranged, but I fear it has often been feigned to prevent people from keeping her, in order to get the quarter.

She continually berates the citizens of Bangor for the want of charity, "will not even give a poor woman a night's lodging."

An offer was made to her two months ago, to pay her expenses if she would go back to her friends and those who knew her. She promised to go. She again promised to go last week, but when the time came she refused to go, because it was Friday. She then promised to go on Monday. In the meantime I found her b gage at the warehouse at the steamboat wharf, which consists of one large covered basket, holding about a bushel—a large carpet bag containing about as much more—one small trunk, and four large leather ones. Two of them are nice black trunks, entirely new—costing probably not less than seven or eight dollars. All of them are full, so far as we could judge by handling them. These large trunks she has kept secreted since she has been here; and has carried around with her a few old clothes to show her poverty.

She has recently said that she had paid but one night's lodging since she came to the city.

That she has obtained a good deal of money there can be no doubt. Hundreds have given her. Yesterday I went again to the boat, but she did not come. I understand she is in Brewer. She finds her business too profitable to leave.

It is now well known that she has made many false statements. And under these circumstances can it be a deed of charity to give her any more?"

It is a safe rule to bestow our charity on those whom we know—and to withhold alms from the unknown—as we cannot relieve all.

MURDER WILL OUT.—A man living in the village of St. Thomas, Franklin county, Pennsylvania, who was supposed to be dying, made confession of his having; with two others, murdered a man about four years since—and added that the body was secreted in the grave of the wife of one of the murderers, who had died a few days previous! The grave was opened, and the body found. The murderers were subsequently arrested.

FEMALES IN RUSSIA.

Owing to the enormous consumption of the army, the female population of Russia greatly exceeds that of the males. Women are of little value; the banks will only advance money upon the male serfs, counting others as over and above. We are at a loss for words to describe, without offence, the demoralizing effect of these things. The master not so often the lord as the agent or overseer, who tyrannizes over the wretched people—enslaves own brother, sells his sister, and often his own daughters, into a servitude worse than death. The lash, the universal punishment or stimulant, is not spared for women.

A French gentleman, who was travelling through Russia, was put into prison at Moscow without a shadow of pretext. Day after day, the wretched serfs, whose masters sent them to be flogged by the obliging police, were brought before the grating of his dungeon to which he was drawn by some irresistible attraction—some spell of terror. The sights he witnessed, and the sounds he heard, had such an effect upon his brain, that he became nearly idiotic. One day, two young girls, milliners, scarcely twenty years old, were sent by their mistress to be flogged. They were torn with the rod. They writhed and shrieked for mercy. At the sight of the bleeding bodies of these unhappy girls, whose sinews were laid open with each stroke, the Frenchman could hardly keep himself from fainting. At length, the flogging ceased, but not till one of the girls fell, bathed in blood, and dying, to the earth.

Another traveller in Russia, hearing one morning the cries of intensest suffering from a number of women who were being flogged, could not restrain his tears. The lady of the house, finding him in this state, and not understanding that the sight of such torments could move him so, informed him that it was entirely from kindness and attention to a stranger, that she had ordered eighty of her servants to be flogged for neglecting to gather wild strawberries for his breakfast.

The last instance we can find space to give of the utter disregard for the rights of humanity in the treatment of the Russian population, is the forcible carrying off of young children. The Emperor sets the example, and carries off the children of the Poles and Jews by hundreds, in pursuit of a remorseless policy directed against the two races. "The nobles carry off children not only for pleasure," says M. Michelet, "but also as a means of speculation. We will cite as an example one who trained up whole troops of dancers, some of whom he exhibited in the theatres of Moscow, and sold others, at high prices, to those nobles who amused themselves with operatic performances in their own mansions." We need do no more to demonstrate the universal corruption and debasement that pervade society under the most perfect form of absolute government.

NOTICE TO GROCERS.

ON Account of the unexpected demand for Mrs. SMITH'S KILN-DRIED YEAST. I have been unable to offer it to the trade to any extent, but now having made arrangements for a constant supply, I am prepared to supply Grocers and others with any quantity, by the dozen or otherwise.

STEAMER DEVASTATION.

Captain Lufkin of fishing schooner Samuel Jones, of Gloucester, has arrived from the Bay, and informs the Telegraph that the captain of the Devastation detained about 120 English vessels at Port Hood, for six or seven days, when he released all but 15. The Schooner Creole had been towed to Halifax.

The papers of the Schooner Accumulator, of Vinalhaven, were taken by the captain of the steamer, and a receipt given in return.—Upon being told that he might go where he pleased, the captain of the A. got underway to come out, but he was again stopped and the vessel retained as a prize. The reason given for this seizure was that the captain of the Devastation considered her as an English vessel.

The papers of a Castine vessel were also taken away from her, and the vessel has come out of the Bay without them.

Capt. Lufkin confirms the statement made by Capt. Decker, which we published on the 26th, that the captain of the steamer sent the American vessels to the outer part of Port Hood harbor on the afternoon previous to the gale.

If these accounts, and others like them, are correct, her captain must either be an insane man, or else he must be in the habit of imbibing some such "strong potations" as the solid men of Boston were lately warned against.—No man in his senses would act he does.

COUNSEL FOR THE PRISONER.—The Boston Herald suggests that there ought to be a lawyer of good talent and character, paid by the State, [or City,] whose business should be to act as Counsel for poor persons who are accused of petty crimes. The same principle is recognized by the State, in trials for murder, arson, &c., where the best counsel is selected by the Court and paid by the State. The Herald maintains that economy and justice, as well as humanity, would thereby be promoted. We think the suggestion is worthy to be considered.

HOW A LADY LOST HER BRANDY.—On Wednesday, at the Boston station of the Providence Railroad, a lady just arrived from another State, with a bandbox, a carpet bag, and a champagne basket, was waiting for a carriage, some person accidentally stumbled over the champagne basket, removing the cover, and exposing among other articles five bottles of cherry and blackberry brandy.—Another man standing near stepped up and said that he was one of the persons who took care of such articles, and immediately seized the basket and contents, and took them away. She offered no opposition, supposing him to be an officer, and thinking herself liable to arrest. He did not come back, however, and probably was a thief who seized the liquor for his own drinking.

THE FAMILY OF MR. WEBSTER.—The Transcript states that the remains of the first wife and two children of the late Daniel Webster were on Wednesday afternoon removed from their temporary resting place under St. Paul's Church, to the tomb of the deceased at Marshfield, where they were placed preparatory to the reception of his own mortal remains.

KING SOLOMON.

BY UNCLE TOBY.—CHAPTER IV.

Solomon's character as a king was briefly considered in chapter III., and his character as a husband was intended to form a part of the same; but the narrowness of our space crowded it out, and now it must form a chapter by itself.

The first mention of Solomon as a husband, suggests the fact of his polygamy, and some lips may curl with scorn at the least allusion to his thousand wives. But the fact stands recorded in the Biblical History, as distinctly and unmistakably as the building of the temple or the crossing of the Red Sea; and there is no reason why moral lessons of grave import should not be drawn from the incidents of Solomon's life and from the traits of his character, as well as from those of heathen princes, who figure in classic story.

In relation to his polygamy, then, let us remark, that his immense multiplication of wives, was, after all, only polygamy. The ordinance of God, (or if any one pleases to say so, of nature,) is monogamy—for which many good reasons can be given, but we will offer only one or two. The great equality in the numbers of the two sexes all the world over, is perhaps the strongest, certainly the most obvious. And a kindred but higher reason, somewhat less obvious, is the great amount of happiness produced by the entire mutual confidence between a married pair, and by their assimilation to each other as they consort together in a duett for a course of years; together with the impossibility of all this, where a trio or quartette is sustained. In a musical sense, harmony becomes more difficult; in a domestic sense, next to or quite impossible.

In Solomon's case, marriage became a chorus, with a thousand and one performers.—There were many voices, but it may be well doubted whether they were all "sweet voices!" It would seem that such a chorus must sometimes be chaos; and if a man had heard it once, both his ears would tingle when he heard "chaos come again."

It may be worth while to inquire, how so wise and learned a man could be led into a course so foolish and preposterous? We answer, Solomon did not transgress the usage of his own country or other countries round about him,—he neither disregarded the example of his ancestors, nor the custom of other Kings in his time.

Then, and before then, even as now, men wished to be led by some positive precept from a mysterious power—rather than to be governed by natural laws and common sense. And so they did whatever they chose, unless some positive law of the true God, or some fancied edict of a false deity forbade them.

Abraham and Jacob, the grand progenitors of Israel, were polygamists, without rebuke by any word or any miracle, though to any one who reads their history with his eyes open, the rebukes are thick enough, and plainly to be seen in the consequences of their acts.

Intermediate cases, drawn from the scriptures, are somewhat numerous; but we mention only Gideon and Tola, both of whom governed Israel under the title of Judges; the latter had thirty sons, and the former seventy, and many wives.

But not to dwell on these, we pass to David; who was a polygamist, not on a very small scale. We have accounts of eight wives, and ten concubines or secondary wives—a sad account of the latter. The kings of that day had more splendid courts as they had more wives; and they often formed alliances with other kingdoms, by marrying foreign princesses.

With the example of his father, and the habit of kings round about, on the side of polygamy, was it to be supposed that a monarch, aiming like Solomon to have a splendid reign, would fall below them in the number of his wives? Was it not rather to be supposed he would outvie the others in this as in other respects? Besides, every foreign potentate, of the nations round about him, knowing that Pharaoh, king of Egypt, had given his daughter in marriage to Solomon, would be desirous to have a sister or a daughter as a princess in such a splendid and powerful and important court as that of Israel at that time—for the double purpose of securing an ally and an honorable kinsman at the same time.

And as to the princesses themselves, ambition and admiration and emulation would combine to make them parties to a league so strange. If we were to judge of this manifold polygamy by modern and western usages, or by modern christian notions, it would become monstrous and horrible. But Solomon was a Jew by birth, and an oriental by imitation and taste.

We are to look at him as he was, and at his surrounding circumstances as they were. And if we do so, we shall find him erring to be sure—but not a sinner above all men. We shall find him with all his wisdom, guilty of most egregious folly in the most important of all temporal connexions—and reaping the proper fruit of this folly, in "vanity and vexation of spirit," of which he heartily and repeatedly complains. We hear him say, "One man among a thousand I have found, but a woman among all those I have not found."—On which a commentator remarks that this is not wonderful—for the good woman would not choose to form one of such a company. It is not certain, however, that there were not any, or many, good women in that thousand. But it is certain that every unnatural union must be wrong, and must produce ill effects of some sort. No woman in such a crowd could show what a true woman's heart is toward a husband. Solomon's splendid seraglio therefore, was only a preparation for splendid misery—and probably he had it in abundant measure.

But Solomon as a husband is worthy not only of attention, but in some respects of imitation. Not in the polygamy, certainly, which we have just stigmatised as fully punishing itself. But in the kindness, attention, affection and interest, which led him to build a palace for Pharaoh's daughter, and which led him to indulge the others to his own hurt.—As a king, however, he was noble, but as a husband he was too indulgent to be wise, and too compliant to be good. He gave up for peace, what he should have retained for purity. By his own exertions for peace in the harem, he perilled the peace of his kingdom, and caused his sun to go down under a cloud which neither history nor eulogy can remove.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

BURIAL OF MR. WEBSTER.

As the day of burial was generally known all over the country by telegraph, and as there was everywhere a great amount of respect cherished toward the deceased on account of his talent, eloquence and public services, so there was appropriate notice taken of the occurrence in every direction.

In this place, the city authorities, in accordance with public opinion, presented various observances, all of which were carried out to the latter—and there was much volunteer observance besides.

The City offices, the Post-office, and the Custom House were closed. Stores and shops were shut—and the public schools dismissed. The church bells were tolled an hour at noon and another hour at sunset; and 71 minute guns were fired at noon. Nearly all the dry goods stores, with many others, were tastily draped with black, and furnished with mottoes fit for the day and the occasion. Flags were at half-mast during the day, and all the outward habiliments of woe exhibted. Nor was the grief here a mere show;—but the sadness and gloom seemed real and general.—The day, with its observances and associations, will be remembered here as a day of appropriate solemnity.

THE CITY GREYS fired the minute guns, coming out in good numbers, and performing the military duties of the day.

In the evening, a beautiful transparency was exhibited in front of Congress-Hall, representing the Temple of Liberty, with one of its pillars broken.

FREE-SOIL MEETING.

The grand rally of the Free Democracy in the Temple last evening, presented the largest political assembly we have seen in that room this season—and was as respectable in its composition as it was considerable in its numbers. There were nearly a thousand persons present, including perhaps two or three hundred ladies—and gentlemen of all political opinions.

The orator was Horace Mann, a tall, General-Jackson-looking man of fifty years or so, with a white head, slightly bald. His style of speaking was partly argumentative, and when so, it was strong and to the point; but he is not a wit, and his attempts in this line were generally failures. The main drift of his discourse was to expose and oppose the fugitive slave law—and to lash Mr. Fillmore and the Whig party severely for upholding and submitting to it,—not forgetting to bring in the Democratic party, and allude to Gen. Pierce's New Boston speech.

☞ The discharge of minute guns yesterday was made at the bottom of State street.—The concussion broke and destroyed most of the front windows in four or five stores and houses. The glaziers and sellers of glass had to open shop and go to work to repair damages. One of the stores is occupied by Anderson & Emery, for the sale of stoves, hardware, and ship-chandlery. The jar of the artillery brought down an iron boiler from the ceiling, breaking a stove on the floor—a pair of shears fell and broke another—and a manure fork descended and punched two unseemly holes through a Japan cake-box.

☞ We understand that Rev. Mr. Woodhouse, of Fitchburg, will preach in the Universalist Church to-morrow.

BURGLARY.—The house of Miss Lord, on Manning street, was entered through the cellar about midnight on Thursday, by a chevalier d' industrie, who seems to have thoroughly explored the premises, and stole silver spoons, gold chains, bracelet, rings, &c. Having secured booty to gratify his acquisitive propensity, he next excited the bump of alimentiveness, and helped himself to a luncheon in the kitchen, finishing off with a plate of cake which he found in the parlor. He was finally discovered by the lady herself, as he cautiously opened her chamber door and peeped in—when she uttered such a scream as might be expected from a frightened woman, on which the robber took to his heels, and thus escaped from the danger of being taken captive by the startled neighbors.

ANOTHER.—We understand that the house of Mrs. Blunt, in Gardiner street, was entered yesterday forenoon, and a number of books taken from the parlor while the family were up stairs. When leaving the house he was seen by Mrs. B. who ordered him to bring the books back. The thief refused to do this, claiming them as his property, and started on a run. An alarm being given, he was stopped after getting a short way up the street, but finally succeeded in effecting his escape.

☞ Tight Little Dog, that, which rode along in an express wagon, just now—apparently a shepherd's dog as to the breed, gentle and docile, with a fine mild eye—but big enough to tear a wolf in pieces, or give any man a terrible shaking if he essayed to steal a sheep. We hope the proprietor of this dog will not set him to fighting.

DOGS IN THE STREETS.

Messrs. Editors.—I wish to call public attention to the practice of having dog-fights in the streets and other places in the central parts of Portsmouth. Two or more furious dogs are set together by the ears in some way by idlers, and a crowd is soon gathered of idle boys and vicious men, who seem to take delight in the sport. To the lovers of quiet and order, however the whole performance is a nuisance which ought to be abated. But I am informed that there is no specific law against these public dog-fights, and therefore the police cannot get any one punished for such offences. If so, cannot we have a law made to reach the case? Or cannot the public opinion be directed against the practice? and thus drive it from the public streets? Q.

LATER FROM CALIFORNIA.

New Orleans, Oct. 27.—The steamship Falcon from Aspinwall, via San Juan de Nicaragua 21st ult, with California dates to the 1st inst., has arrived.

The steam-ship Tennessee arrived at Panama Oct. 19th, with the California mails and specie.

Buisness was dull at San Juan.

The health of the Isthmus was good, and the rail road was progressing rapidly.

The mining news is favorable.

Several fugitive slaves have been arrested since the decision of the Supreme Court, and delivered to their masters.

The San Francisco markets were firm.—American Flour was sold at $32. Corn Meal $9 per hundred weight. Corn five cents per lb. Mess Pork found purchasers at $41.—Hams brought 24 cents per lb. Keg lard 18 cents. Butter 50 cents per lb. Money scarce and dear. The market was lightly stocked.

A great sale of city property took place in San Francisco, at prices fifty per cent, over expectations.

The Falcon has brought $300,000 in gold dust. The steamship Georgia sailed from Aspinwall for New York, on the 19th, with one million in gold dust.

ASTOR LIBRARY.—The number of volumes already belonging to this Library in New York city, is between fifty and sixty thousand, and in a few days Dr. Cogswell leaves for Europe on his third bibliopolic pilgrimage, the results of which will be the addition of some thousands of volumes more to the noble collection already secured by his knowledge and perseverance. The books will not be removed to the shelves of the new building in Lafayette Place, until there is not the slightest probability that they will be injured by dampness.—N. Y. Cour. & Enq.

WASHINGTON MONUMENT.—At one of the precincts in Madison County in Alabama, a box was exposed at a recent election, for dime contributions to the National Monument to Washington, in accordance with a suggestion to which we have alluded in a previous number. The whole number of votes polled was seventy-four. When the election was over, the box was found to contain seventy-four dimes. This pleasing incident should encouage the executive committee of the monument to take some measures to have such contribution boxes universally opened at the coming national election.—To-Day.

ROMANUS EMERSON, Esq., one of the oldest citizens of South Boston, and for many years one of the leading infidels of that city, died on Saturday last, aged 70 years. In early life he was a firm Baptist, and has three brothers who are clergymen. The Traveller learns, that it was his dying request that no clergyman should officiate at his funeral, but that an address should be read, which was written by himself, explaining his religious principles. His request was not complied with. Mr. Emerson has been esteemed as an upright and valuable citizen by all who knew him.

DEAD CHILD FOUND.—On Saturday last, as several children were playing about the shore of Little Bay, between Meredith and Lake Village, they discovered a bundle lying on the beach near the water. Upon opening it they found the body of an infant about seven inches in length, which it is thought had not been long dead. It was wrapped up in black cambric and tied up with a string.

MARYLAND FARMER'S FAIR.—A Baltimore despatch of the 28th says:

This has been the great day at the Agricultural State Fair and the number of visitors on the ground this afternoon, is estimated at 40,000. The city is inundated with visiters. The annual address will be delivered by P. F. Johnson of New York on Saturday.

A BONNET THAT IS A BONNET.—A Parisian milliner has taken out a patent for a leather bonnet, a new and extremely elegant article, says the Court Journal. The leather is exceedingly thin and delicately enamelled, and is drawn over the frame in the same manner as silk or velvet. It has the advantage of being water proof.

An individual in Cincinnati is blessed with a wife who has run away from him four times within the last two years. When she experiences an inclination to depart, he permits her to go, and when she becomes weary of absence he takes her again to his bosom. He is a philosopher.

A STRONG ADVOCATE FOR WOMAN'S RIGHTS.—Miss Harriet Hunt, a wealthy spinster in Boston has recently paid her taxes, and filed at the same time a well written protest against taxing women without giving them the priviledge of voting.

EVANGELICAL.—The Worcester Central Conference of Evangelical Congregational Churches, with the Pastors, held its semi-annual meeting in Clinton, on Wednesday and Thursday of last week. The Conference embraces 18 churches numbering 4000 members.

A Maine Editor says that a pumpkin in that State grew so large that eight men could stand round it. This is like the man who saw a flock of blackbirds so low that he could shake a stick at them.

On the 28th inst., at Troy, N. Y., a Baptist church on Fifth street was burnt, and 25 other buildings. Loss $40,000 or $50,000—half insured.

STAR, WHICH LEADETH UNTO JESUS.

Star, which leadeth unto Jesus,
Light us o'er life's darksome way;
Like the ancient, eastern Magi,
We are followers of its ray.

Now no more in lowly manger
Seek we for Emanuel;
For that star-light, all heavenly,
Leads us where the Lord doth dwell.

'Tis reflected in Life's River,
Flowing by the radiant throne,
And is lovely, pure and and tender,
And a healing power is shown.

When our footsteps, faint and weary,
Falter, by the thorns oppress't,
Star, which leadeth unto Jesus!
Guide us to our promised rest,

Far across old Jordan's billow
On that green, unfading shore,
Where no stormy waves are surging,
Where no fearful tempests roar.

When earth's hopes are scattered, dying,
Like the fading autumn leaves;
When the heart we fondly trusted,
Charms our own and then deceives;—

When our spirits sad and lonely,
'Reft of all love's cherished ties,
Raise their drooping wings all vainly,
To explore their heavenly skies;

Star, which leadeth unto Jesus!
Calm us by thy heavenly ray,—
Give us fa..h to wait the dawning
Of a bright, eternal day;

Grant us patience in life's trials,
Grant us joy, e'en in distress.
Gleams of sunshine in our darkness,
Roses in our wilderness.

When emerging from death's portal,
We shall gain the "heavenly side,"
Star, which leadeth unto Jesus!
Guide us safely to His side.

THE ROGER WILLIAMS

COOKING STOVE,

FOR WOOD OR COAL.

TO ALL IN WANT OF COOK STOVES.

As there can be but one best kind of Cooking Stove, and that having been satisfactorily proved to be the Roger Williams, by the working of some twenty-seven hundred now in use in New England,—the subscriber now offers for sale 6 sizes of this beautiful pattern for wood or coal. It is believed shat this stove combines all the useful improvements that skill can invent, and is by far the most perfect cooking stove ever sold in Portsmouth.

And although .te price is somewhat higher than some stoves offered in this market of late. It is believed to be much the cheapest in the end. It is a beautiful model, with fine smooth Providence castings, fitted together in the most substantial manner. Every stove is warranted for twelve months, and if its operation is not satisfactory, the money will be refunded.

Also for sale, a variety of PARLOR, OFFICE and SHOP STOVES, which are offered low.

Terms Cash, invariably. J. E. CHAPMAN;

THE IMPROVED

EMPIRE STATE STOVE.

THIS justly celebrated COOKING STOVE having been improved in every way it could be to make its operations more complete, and its plates beautifully ornamented—no expense, time or trouble having been spared to make this the most complete Cooking Stove ever brought before the public—the subscriber feels assured in warranting the IMPROVED EMPIRE STATE superior to any stove in the market, as hundreds can testify who have used them for the past year.

This Stove has a very LARGE OVEN, which makes it desirable on account of doing more cooking with the same amount of fuel than can be done in any other stove. The flues are large, which cusures a good draft in all cases. The castings are very heavy and smooth, and those parts that come next the fire are extra thick, making it very durable. It is adapted to the use of either coal or wood, and we warrant them to operate as well with one as the other. We furnish them with the very best appanatus; and, altogether, it is the MOST DURABLE, ECONOMICAL and CONVENIENT COOKING STOVE ever made—complete in every respect. We ask the attention of all persons intending to purchase a new, or exchange their old stove, to an examination of the Improved Empire State.

We have also on hand a variety of other Cooking Stoves, called the "Banner," "Belle of the States," "King of the States," "Bay State," "Anglo Saxon," "Pearl of Troy," &c.; with a large lot of PARLOR STOVES, such as Rising Sun, Air-Tight, Star, Revere Parlor Cook, Lady Franklin, for Wood or Coal; Shop, Office and Air-Tight Stoves, of different sizes and prices for either wood or coal.

Also an extensive assortment of HOUSEKEEPING GOODS, Wooden, Willow, Glass, Britannia, Japan, Tin, Hard, Enamel, and Brass Ware; Copper, Cast Iron, and Chain Pumps; Window-Shads, Table Oil-cloths, &c.

All the above goods will be sold lower than can be bought elsewhere in this vicinity.

WHAT-CHEER STOVE.

THE WHAT-CHEER COAL COOKING STOVE, now offered for sale by the subscribers, is acknowledged by all who have examined it to be the best and most economical Coal Stove ever offered to the public.

The castings are heavy, smooth, and very handsome. The Broiling apparatus is a great improvement over all other Stoves, being constructed in such a manner as to prevent the steam from escaping into the room when cooking.

All persons wishing to purchase a COAL COOKING STOVE, are respectfully requested to call and examine the same. Every Stove warranted to work well, or no sale.

We have also a large assortment of COOKING, PARLOR and STORE STOVES, &c.—for sale cheap for Cash at our Store.

Corner of State and Water streets,

The Bay State Stove,

FOR WOOD OR COAL.

THE subscriber, in offering this favorite Stove to the public, the present season, would state that a new covered Broiling Apparatus has been added, the flues enlarged for burning anthracite coal, and the Stove otherwise improved—and is now put into the market as

THE NEAREST PERFECT COOK STOVE in the world. The castings are heavier, more beautiful and durable; the stove has a larger oven, will bake better and with less fuel, than any other stove in use.

These stoves are made from pure metal and are not liable to crack; and we furnish every stove with the best of apparatus—Copper Boiler, &c., and warrant them a year; and if any part proves defective it will be made good without charge.

Persons wishing to obtain a good Stove, will do well to buy a BAY STATE. They have been in operation in this city for four years past, and have given perfect satisfaction. For sale at the Store of the subscriber, where may be found a large assortment of COOKING, PARLOR AND OFFICE STOVES, TIN WARE, FUNNEL, &c. for sale cheap for cash. E. A. STEVENS.

NOTICE OF MR. WEBSTER'S DEATH AT DARTMOUTH COLLEGE.—A meeting of the Faculty and Students of Dartmouth College, together with citizens of Hanover, was held in the College Chapel on Monday. Rev. Dr. Shurtleff, a Professor in the College, and a fellow student with Mr. Webster was called to preside. A series of appropriate resolutions, offered by Professor Brown were adopted. Remarks were made by William H. Duncan, Esq., of Hanover, Jonathan Kittredge, of Canaan, and by Dr. Shurtleff.

A correspondent of the Boston Traveller writes as follows:

Dr. Shurtleff spoke of his first meeting with Mr. Webster in 1797, when both arrived at Hanover the same day, put up at the same house, and entered college together (though not in the same class); he spoke of Mr. Webster's most prominent characteristic then, and through college—attending most rigidly to his own business, keeping the end of his college course unalterably in view. He spoke also of his last interview with Mr. Webster in Boston about two years ago, at his (Mr. Webster's) invitation. Knowing that great men are liable from their position to fail of receiving personal exhortation from the clergy, he resolved to do that duty which early intimacy and as pastor in the college for a long period, made fit. He did so, and found Mr. Webster not only kindly disposed but even anticipating him in the free communication of his personal religious feelings. "I found his views of Christian doctrine and the claims of Christian duty perfectly coincident with my own." The other speakers paid deserved tribute to Mr. Webster's great services to his Alma Mater, in the greatest extremity she ever experienced; when in the Supreme Court of the United States he was emphatically her Savior.

ANOTHER REVOLUTIONARY SOLDIER GONE.—The N. H. Daily Patriot records the death of Deacon Eleazar Blake, aged 95 years and 6 months. He died at Rindge, Sept. 27th.—He was a Revolutionary Soldier, who marched from Wrentham, Mass., his native town, on the evening of the battle of Lexington, April 19th, 1775, with the militia under the command of Col. Sheppard—served ten months in the Massachuseits line, and on the day of the battle of Bunker Hill was stationed with a party entrenching on Dorchester Heights.

In Februrary, 1776, he enlisted in the Continental Army during the war, the last year of which he was honored with the appointment of Sergeant and Quarter-Master of Brigade. He was present in the executing guards of Major Andre, and heard his last dying words, and saw, with hundreds of others, the traitor Arnold start from West Point and go on board the British man-of-war; and was drawn in the last reinforcement in the capture of Gen. Burgoyne. His whole term of service for his country was 7 years, 3 months and 29 days.

A LONG CHAPTER OF LIFE.—Mrs. Martha Cummings died at Canaan, N. H., on the 8th inst., aged 101 years, five months and eleven days. She was the step-mother of the late Ben Johnson, of N. H. and was the step-grandmother of G. W. Johnson Esq., of New York cito. She was born April 28, 1851, over a century ago, and was the eighth of a family of twelve children of whom Hannah, widow of Col. Hutchins, Montpelier, Vt., four years her elder, is still living at Sanbornton, N. H: or was a short time ago, in possession of all her faculties.

Mrs. Cummings's first husband was Jonathan Webster, Esq., a very respectable merchant of Haverhill, Mass., whom she married in her twentieth year; her second, Jesse Johnson Esq., one of the pioneers of Northern New England, whom she married in her thirty-eighth year, and her third and last, William Cummings Esq., Hebron, N. H., whom she married in her fifty-second year, and survived twenty two years.

ANTI TEMPERANCE REMEDY.—We presume the most rabid teetotaller would not object to the application of the vinous poison in the manner following as described by the Paris journal:

Mr. H——, who dwells in the country, on awakening in the night, heard some one attempting to force the blind of his parlor window. Mr. H—— was unarmed, but his presence of mind did not forsake him. He took a bottle of champagne, cut the wire, and retaining the cork with his thumb, and calmly awaiting till the burglar having forced the blind and introuced his head into the room when Mr. H—— let the cork fly in his face. The report was loud, and the burglar alarmed by it, and supposing the champagne which covered his face was his own blood, fell to the ground crying for mercy. Mr. H—— having assured himself that the robber was alone, sprang from the window, bound him, carried him to the village and delivered him to the constable.

DAILY

Morning Chronicle.

PORTSMOUTH:

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 1, 1852.

POLITICAL TABLE.—A valuable Table of Votes, for comparison, will be found on our fourth page to-day.

THE ELECTION TO-MORROW.

To-Morrow is to be the day, "big with the fate of Cæsar and of Rome," when the Highest Prize in the great Quadriennial National Lottery will fall into the lap of Frank Pierce or Winfield Scott, and the second prize will be allotted to King or Graham. These capital prizes will also determine the distribution of a hundred thousand minor prizes, which are to be scattered over the land in a sort of combination lottery scheme, which will send joy and grief in about equal proportions into every city and village into the land.

The prizes are offices of trust, honor and profit, from that of President to that of tide-waiter and porter and messenger. To attain these prizes, much zeal and effort are necessary,—and these we have seen put forth, in various forms. One mode in which the struggle for office is carried on, is a comparison between the candidates. Such a comparison, if fairly made, would be a guide to public sentiment, which would always secure the election of good men, if not absolutely of the best. But the circumstances in which the high officers are nominated, almost preclude the idea of fair comparison.

Some managing spirits in each party, invent or exaggerate stories against the candidate of their opponents. Thus we saw in one paper last week half a column of matter designed to show that Scott had no great merit as an officer in Mexico or at the Canada line —and another to prove Frank Pierce to be a drunkard.

The last card of this kind we hope has been played, the last of such words spoken,—and we were going to say the last gun fired. But no: there is something yet behind, that puts us in mind of some Dutch soldiers who are described in Knickerbocker's New York. They used to prime and load in true military style—then listen to the words Ready! Aim! —and obey them—then shut their eyes—and when the awful word Fire! was given, pull trigger and blaze away. They could not bear to look at the awful devastation they were going to make—but when the smoke was gone and they looked round, there was nobody killed and nobody hurt.

So it is in this political battle. Mammoth newspapers, like Paixhan guns, are charged to the muzzle with slander of good and great men who happen to be of an opposite party—or with most Apocryphal accounts of the virtues and exploits of men who have little claim to be considered either good or great.

These dangerous engines are now levelled, and to-morrow the people generally will shut their eyes and touch off. The explosion will shatter the windows and jar down the kettles, perhaps,—but when the smoke is cleared off, there will be no great harm done, after all. The Union will be preserved either way—and all the offices filled without fail.

If Pierce is elected, Scott will be Major General still. And if Scott is elected, Pierce will still be the same eminent civilian as he is now.

The country—and the world—will go on very much the same after the election, as before.

Edward Douglass has obtained a verdict in Rome, New York, against the Buffalo & Rochester railroad company, of $1813, for damages sustained by being thrown out of a buggy by the sudden wheeling of his horse in consequence of being frightened by a train of cars on the company's road.

We know so little of the case, that we can hardly pronounce the verdict unjust—but it certainly has a very strange appearance. We cannot see why a railroad should pay for damages done by a skittish horse who was frightened by a noise, any more than a farmer should pay for similar damage done by another such horse who was afraid of a stone post by his barn yard.

☞ The funeral services of Mr. Webster at Marshfield on Friday were attended by some thousands of people—and the solemnity seems to have been noticed in every direction, even at great distances. A telegraphic despatch of Oct. 23, at St. Stevens, N. B., says:

"100 minute guns and other public demonstrations of regret show the kindred feeling excited here in the minds of our citizens at the loss of the great American Statesman, Daniel Webster. America is not alone in her grief."

☞ Edward Everett and Levi Lincoln come out with letters in favor of voting for Scott, which were published on Saturday last in the Boston Daily Advertiser. Mr. Everett's letter speaks in high terms of Scott's [illegible] and expresses great confidence

FORGERS.—Two daring fellows calling their names Sturdivant and Brown, were apprehended in Boston on Friday, at the the Winthrop House, for forgery of checks.—They are accomplished swindlers, but not the best chirographers.

BERMUDA AND PORTO RICO.—There has been a heavy gale at Bermuda, and there is reported a flood on the South side of Porto Rico, by which 300 lives are said to have been lost.

☞ Rev. Mr. Lovejoy of Cambridge, and Mathew Hale Smith Esq. are "stumping" around Massachusetts against the Liquor Law.

DEATH OF MR. BAYLIES.—The New Bedford Mercury announces the death at Taunton on Thursday of the Hon. Francis Baylies at an advanced age. He was a member of the 17th, 18th and 19th Congresses from the old Bristol district. In the Presidential contest which finally ended in the choice of John Q. Adams, he threw for Andrew Jackson the only electoral vote he received in New England. He was appointed minister to Brazil soon afterwards, but almost immediately recalled.

Mr. Baylies, if we remember rightly, was a distinguished Federalist.

A HUMBUG SHIPWRECK.—The following paragraph will show a new phase in humbug and begging.

The Providence papers say that no such schooner as the Lucy is either bound from that port to Mobile, or insured in Providence, as stated by a person who represented himself to be Capt. Southwick, owner of sch Lucy; that his vessel had been lost, the boat upset in the breakers, three men drowned, himself and another saving themselves upon the bottom, &c. The people of Barnegat are said to have "taken the sufferers in charge, and were not slow in affording the necessary aid." There can be little doubt that some imposters have abused the sympathy of these good people.

COL. ISAAC WAYNE, the only son of Major General Anthony Wayne of the Revolutionary War, died on Monday last at his residence in Chester county, in the 83d year of his age. Col. Wayne was an excellent citizen and well worthy of the distinguished name he bore. In early times he took a prominent part in the politics of the State and was formerly in the State Senate, besides holding other offices. He was also candidate for Governor, of the Federal party in 1814, in opposition to Gov. Snyder.—Philadelphia Bulletin.

A VALUABLE CONSIDERATION.—We understand that two millions of dollars have been offered by one of our wealthiest citizens to the Common Council, through the Special Committee having that matter in charge, as a bonus for the right of constructing a Railroad in Broadway.—N. Y. Cour. and Enq.

NAVAL.—U. S. steamer Walker, Commander McBlair, from a surveying cruise, arrived at Boston on Friday.

During the week ending Oct. 23, the Postmaster General established thirty-three new Post Offices, discontinued twelve, and changed the names of four.

The Saugus Branch Railroad will be regularly opened for public travel to-day.

ADVERTISEMENT EXTRAORDINARY.—We find the following singular warning in the Eastern Journal, published at Biddeford, Me.:

"NOTICE.—The subscriber forbids any Rumseller in Saco or Biddeford, selling him any Intoxicating Liquors, as he will prosecute them for the same. E. H. RIDLON.

"Oct. 26, 1852."

NOT A SUSPECTING MAN.

During one of the intervening nights of the recent State Fair in New Hampshire, the cars were leaving at certain hours through the whole night, so great was the crowd pressing for passage north and south. About midnight we had occasion with a friend to visit the depot. Our friend carried a lantern in his hand, and as we were elbowing our way through the crowd of five hundred or more, he was accosted by an elderly farmer-looking man with a very civilly-put request, for a few minutes' use of his "light." The crowd readily gave back as the honest old fellow moved about among them with his lantern, and commenced an eager survey of the ground, where they had been swaying back and forth for the last half dozen hours.

We ventured an inquiry as to the object of the search, and were told by the old gentleman that he had lost his Pocket Book. We ventured the suggestion that the artic'e might rather have passed to another pocket, than to the ground. The clever old soul had no belief in such depravity—and turning upon us a look of rebuke that we shall never forget, with a few words of astonishment that we should harbor the idea of so wicked and unkind an act on the part of any fellow mortal, continued his search, wondering "how the thing could have got so kicked out of sight." He is one of those, we suppose, who have "faith in man."—Biddeford Journal.

JOHN ADAMS'S CRITIQUE.—In the last number of the "Record of the Boston Stage," published in the Gazette, allusion is made to Burke's play of "Bunker Hill," and the following anecdote is related:

"The play of Bunker Hill was also performed in New York. President Adams being in the city, was invited to attend, and at the conclusion of the piece he was conducted by the managers and leading actors to his carriage, with considerable pomp and show. Mr. Barrett, who had performed Gen. Warren, ventured to express the hope that the President had been pleased. 'Sir,' replied Mr. Adams, "my friend Gen. Warren was a scholar and a gentleman, but your author has made him a bully and a blackguard.' Mr. Adams's critique was at once concise and cor-

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

GRANITE CLUB AND MR. WEBSTER.—At the meeting of the Granite Club, in Portsmouth, on Tuesday evening last, Albert R. Hatch, Esq., after a brief speech, alluding to the decease of the Hon. Daniel Webster, offered the following resolution:

"Resolved, That we have learned with deep emotion and regret the decease of the Hon. DANIEL WEBSTER, and that we shall cherish the memory of his wonderful talents and his great public services, while we forget the acts and opinions which have placed us in political opposition to him."

Which, after some opposition, was adopted by a large majority.

Mr. Hatch offered a further resolution, to the effect that our flag be dressed in mourning, on the occasion of Mr. Webster's funeral, but after some debate, in which the resolution was opposed by Augustus Jenkins, Gideon H. Randlett, and Joseph L. Locke, Esquires, and advocated by Mr. Hatch and others, the resolution was laid on the table, by the casting vote of the presiding officer, Nehemiah Moses, Esq.—N. H. Gazette.

TO TEMPERANCE VOTERS.

At a meeting of the friends of Temperance, at the Temple on Saturday evening last, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That we regard the action of the Senate at the late June session, in laying on the table and postponing to the adjourned session in November, the bill entitled "An Act for the suppression of drinking houses and tippling shops," after the same had, by a very large majority, and in accordance with the prayer of the unprecedented number of petitioners, been passed by the House of Representatives,—as an evasion of their constitutional duties and responsibilities.

Resolved, That we earnestly recommend and advise that no action whatever be taken by the friends of Temperance in this city, at the coming election on Tuesday next, on the question proposed by the Senate of this State in June last, viz. "Is it expedient that the bill entitled 'an Act for the suppression of drinking houses and tippling shops,' be enacted into a law?"

JAMES NOWELL, Chairman.
J. P. PAYSON, Secretary.

TORCH LIGHT PROCESSION.—There will be a grand torch-light procession of the Democrats of this city, together with those of Kittery, Eliot and Newcastle, this evening.—Hon. Moses McDonald of Maine, and others, are expected to address the gathering.

The Procession will be formed at the Granite Club Room, opposite the Post Office, at half-past 6 o'clock, and after marching through the principal part of the city will proceed to the Temple, where the addresses will be made.

RAILROAD CHANGES.—Passengers going to Concord, or elsewhere on the Concord Railroad, will please to take notice of the change of hours on the road, as advertised to take place this day.

The London Daily News, in view of the rapid depopulation of Ireland, and the decrease of laborers in factories, suggests that it may become necessary to encourage the immigration of laborers from Germany, France and Belgium. There are already, it says, 20,000 Germans in London, employed in the lower class of labor, and if necessity requires, millions more will rush into the Empire, ready to take the vacant places of those emigrating to the gold fields of Australia and to America.

PATENT STREET-SWEEPER.—The Scientific American says that Mr. Joseph Sawyer of Boston, has taken measures to secure a patent for an improved machine for sweeping streets. Three brush-wheels are attached to a carriage—two being placed at the front, and one at the back part. The front brush-wheels are placed horizontally under the carriage, one at each side, and as they rotate, they sweep the dirt into the centre underneath the machine, and at intervals they are made to rise and step, as it were, over the heap of dirt gathered to the centre. The brush wheel on the back of the machine is vertical, and is placed on a line to the central heaps of dirt, and sweeps them up as the machine moves along up a short inclined shute into a proper receptacle. The work of sweeping the dirt into heaps, and up into the receptacle, is carried on until there is a full load in the receptacle.

MUSIC HALL IN BOSTON.

Dwight's Journal of Music states that the new music hall will be inaugurated on the evening of Saturday, Nov. 20th, by a brilliant concert. Mme. Alboni has been engaged for that occasion at an expense of $1200. She will sing three times, in music of her three great countrymen, Rossini, Bellini and Donizetti. The four great German Oratoria composers, Handel, Haydn, Becthoven and Mendelssohn, are to be represented in a chorus each, including of course the sublime "Hallelujah;" performed by the oratorio societies. Overtures of Mozart and Weber, parts of Symphonies by Becthoven and Mozart, by the Musical Fund orchestra; German part singing by the "Liedertafel," under Mr. Kreissmann, and other items, will add to the variety, and the whole feast will illustrate a goodly number of the greater lights among composers, as well as bring out the force of all our principal societies.

The staging from the inside of the Hall is taken down, and the effect to the eye has been one of unexampled harmony of form and color. A trial of its acoustic virtues by a few voices with piano has shown that it is easy to sing in, and that sounds come out with great richness and fulness; but the reverberation between floor and ceiling, unavoidable in all large empty halls, without seats, made this of

COOKING STOVE,

FOR WOOD OR COAL.

TO ALL IN WANT OF COOK STOVES.

As there can be but one best kind of Cooking Stove, and that having been satisfactorily proved to be the Roger Williams, by the working of some twenty-seven in use in and near by in New England,—the subscriber now offers for sale 6 sizes of this beautiful pattern for wood or coal. It is believed that this stove combines all the useful improvements that skill can invent, and is by far the most perfect cooking stove ever sold in Portsmouth.

And although its price is somewhat higher than some stoves offered in this market of late, it is believed to be much the cheapest in the end. It is a beautiful model, with fine smooth Providence castings, fitted together in the most substantial manner. Every stove is warranted for twelve months, and if its operation is not satisfactory, the money will be refunded.

Also for sale, a variety of PARLOR, OFFICE and SHOP STOVES, which are offered low.

Terms Cash, invariably. J. E. CHAPMAN,
No. 18 Daniel st., Sign of the Big Coffee Pot

Parlor Stoves.

LADIES and Gentlemen in pursuit of PARLOR STOVES, are invited to examine our assortment, before purchasing elsewhere, consisting in part of the following, viz: the

PERSIAN,	ALBUM,
GEM,	SUFFOLK,
RISING SUN,	JENNY LIND,
LADY FRANKLIN,	BRIDE OF THE NORTH.
CHANDELIER,	REVERE,
SENA,	IMPERIAL,
VENETIAN,	McGREGOR,

Hot Air, Oven, COAL Grates;
" " WOOD Stoves; the largest oven Stove ever manufactured,—together with a great variety of Cast Iron Base, Pyramid and other styles COAL STOVES—all of which will be sold at a small advance from cost, at

o5 MORRISON'S, 15 Daniel st.

Wholesale and Retail Warehouse.

THE IMPROVED

EMPIRE STATE STOVE.

THIS justly celebrated COOKING STOVE having been improved in every way it could be to make its operations more complete, and its plates beautifully ornamented—no expense, time or trouble having been spared to make this the most complete Cooking Stove ever brought before the public—the subscriber feels assured in warranting the IMPROVED EMPIRE STATE superior to any stove in the market, as hundreds can testify who have used them for the past year.

This Stove has a very LARGE OVEN, which makes it desirable on account of doing more cooking with the same amount of fuel than can be done in any other stove. The flues are large, which insures a good draft in all cases. The castings are very heavy and smooth, and those parts that come next the fire are extra thick, making it very durable. It is adapted to the use of either coal or wood, and we warrant them to operate as well with one as the other. We furnish them with the very best appanatus; and, altogether, it is the MOST DURABLE, ECONOMICAL and CONVENIENT COOKING STOVE ever made—complete in every respect. We ask the attention of all persons intending to purchase a new, or exchange their old stove, to an examination of the Improved Empire State.

We have also on hand a variety of other Cooking Stoves, called the "Banner of the States," "King of the States," "Bay State," "Anglo Saxon," "Pearl of Troy," &c.; with a large lot of PARLOR STOVES, such as the Revere Air-Tight, Star, Revere Parlor Cook, Lady Franklin, for Wood or Coal; Shop, Office and Air-Tight Stoves, of different sizes and prices for either wood or coal.

Also an extensive assortment of HOUSEKEEPING GOODS; Wooden, Willow, Glass, Britannia, Japan, Tin, Hard, Enamel, and Brass Ware; Copper, Cast Iron, and Chain Pumps; Window-Shade, Table Oil-cloths, &c.

All the above goods will be sold lower than can be bought elsewhere in this vicinity.

WHAT-CHEER STOVE.

THE WHAT-CHEER COAL COOKING STOVE, now offered for sale by the subscribers, is acknowledged by all who have examined it to be the best and most economical Coal Stove ever offered to the public.

The castings are heavy, smooth, and very handsome. The Broiling apparatus is a great improvement over all other Stoves, being constructed in such a manner as to prevent the steam from escaping into the room, as in other stoves.

All persons willing to purchase a COAL COOKING STOVE, are respectfully requested to call and examine the same. Every Stove warranted to work well or no sale.

We have also a large assortment of COOKING, PARLOR and STORE STOVES, &c.—for sale cheap for Cash at our Store.

The Bay State Stove,

FOR WOOD OR COAL.

THE subscriber, in offering this favorite Stove to the public at the present season, would state that a new covered Broiling Apparatus has been added, the flues enlarged for burning anthracite coal, and the Stove otherwise improved—and is now out in the market as in the world. The castings are heavier, more beautiful and durable; the stove has a larger oven, will bake better and with less fuel, than any other stove in use.

These stoves are made from pure metal and are not liable to crack; and we furnish every stove with the best of apparatus—Copper Boiler, &c., and warrant them a year; and if any part proves defective it will be made good without charge.

Persons wishing to obtain a good Stove, will do well to buy a BAY STATE. They have been in operation in this city for four years past, and have given perfect satisfaction. For sale at the Store of the subscribers, where may be found a large assortment of COOKING, PARLOR AND OFFICE STOVES, TIN WARE, FUNNEL, &c. for sale cheap for cash. E. A. STEVENS.

WEARING SUSPENDERS.

Fowler's Phrenological Journal for November presents the following sensible and well-timed remarks upon the subject:—

"It is the prevailing fashion, especially in cities, for men to dispense with suspenders, and support their pantaloons by having them made to button tightly around the person, above the hips. It is our settled conviction, that this practice is decidedly detrimental to health. Much has been justly said against tight-lacing, as applied to females; and of suspending heavy skirts to the hips, by fastening them tightly around the waist or loins, where there are no ribs or other bony framework to resist the compressive power; but who ever thought of sounding the alarm to men against a similar practice in respect to their own dress?

We admit that half a dozen skirts weighing many pounds, are worse for the constitution of the wearer than the drawers and pantaloons as worn by men, but worse only because the quantity is greater, and the pressure necessary to sustain them is more. The principle is the same. Females should support their skirts mainly by their shoulders.

The hips of boys and men are constitutionally narrower than those of the female; and therefore, the clothing thus worn requires to be tighter, to prevent slipping down.

But, say the ladies, "Our dresses do not feel tight." Neither would a ring placed on a child's finger, and allowed to remain there until the child was full grown; but there would be a groove in that finger, and in the very bone within it, so that there would be room between the ring and the bone, for the flesh and for the circulation of the blood.

But say boys and men, "We suffer no inconvenience from wearing our pants tight around our hips." To this I reply as above. They say, too, that "They feel more free in action without than with suspenders." So they may around the shoulders, but let the pantaloons be loose enough to move as the person bends, and let the suspenders be made elastic, and no special want of freedom will be experienced.

Around the waist and hips, the very place where freedom of action and expansion should of all the other parts of the trunk, be enjoyed, there is tightness, compression and a destructive lack of freedom. If it be not felt as a serious physical inconvenience, it is because custom, like the taste of tobacco to its user, has made it a second nature. Its functional effects on growth, digestion and health, however, are not the less real.

The animal economy, from head to foot, should never be dressed in such a manner as in the least degree to cramp the freedom of any action of the body or limbs. Let this be the rule with all, and one-half of our doctors might be spared to cultivate the soil."

AMUSING INCIDENT.—On Sunday morning last, a monkey who had escaped from his master traversed the streets playing all sorts of pranks, and at last reached the Church De Mercede, and having entered during morning service, quietly found his way to the altar.—He posted himself thereupon, and immediately proceeded to mimic the priest with the most alert promptness and an exact precision,—which was exceedingly ludicrous. The whole scene was ridiculous in the extreme, and entirely precluded solemnity in the service, until the monkey was tired of being worried and chased about, and at last desisted from his imitation of the priest.—Panama Echo.

INFLUENCE OF A NEWSPAPER.

A school teacher who has been engaged a long time in his profession, and witnessed the influence of a newspaper upon the minds of a family of children, writes to the editor of the Ogdensburg Sentinel as follows:

"I have found it to be a universal fact without exception, that those scholars of both sexes and of all ages, who have had access to newspapers at home, when compared with those who do not, are

1. Better readers, excelling in pronunciation and emphasis, and consequently read more understandingly.

2. They are better spellers, and define words with greater ease and accuracy.

3. They obtain a practical knowledge of geography, in about half the time it requires others, as the newspaper has made them familiar with the location of the important places, nations, their governments and doings on the globe.

4. They are better grammarians, for having become so familiar with every variety of style, in the newspapers, from the common-place advertisement to the finished and classical oration of the statesman, they more readily comprehend the meaning of the text, and consequently analyze its construction with accuracy.

5. They write better compositions, using better language, containing more thoughts, more clearly and connectedly expressed.

6. Those young men who have for years been readers of the newspapers, are always taking the lead in the debating society, exhibiting a more extensive knowledge upon a greater variety of subjects, and expressing their views with greater fluency, clearness and correctness in their use of languages.

DAILY

Morning Chronicle.

PORTSMOUTH:

TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 2, 1852.

ELECTION RETURNS.

We have made all arrangements possible to procure the earliest returns from all parts of the country—by mail, express and telegraph. We expect to be able to give to-morrow morning, nearly all the general results in States that the Boston morning papers will contain.

ELECTION.

This day will nullify many predictions, and put a stop to a torrent of abusive small talk against candidates and partisans. There is this time a possibility that there may be a tie vote. The Boston Courier of yesterday, deems the prospect of both candidates "very misty." The Courier, as is well known, has been a constant, unwavering opponent of Scott. It states the whole a mere lottery—giving Pierce the most certain votes,—but leaving the grand result in utter uncertainty.

We shall not speculate on it—but advise every voter to deposit his ballot seasonably, for the candidate whom he prefers, or the party which he favors;—and then wait for the result with all calmness and patience.

Such are the facilities, now, for transmitting and receiving intelligence, that in twenty-four hours after voting, most electors will read the aggregate of millions, in which they themselves were only units.

The New York and Boston papers have arrangements for receiving and publishing returns, and we expect to receive and publish an abstract of their return, in to-morrow morning's Chronicle.

SOBER OFFICERS.

It is highly important that the commanders of all ships of war should be sober men. One of the New York Railroads has just adopted a rule to discharge from its employ every man on the trains who uses intoxicating drinks. Passengers will say that is right. And is not the case of officers in command of national ships quite as important? By doing too little or too much, such officers may involve two great nations in war.

The correspondent of the Boston Atlas, at Belfast, Me. says:—

"Capt. Michaels, of schooner Mazurka, from Bay St. Lawrence, reports that the officers of the cutters and steamers are very overbearing and insolent to the fishermen, detaining them in the harbors, and abusing the skippers under the most trivial pretexts. Three vessels have left the bay without their papers, having been taken from them by the officers of the cutters, and sent to Halifax. He represents the captain of the Devastation as being drunk every day after 10 o'clock, and a perfect tiger, and that the under officers try to imitate their commander."

Here we have a key which unlocks a great mystery. Her Majesty the Queen has sent a drunken set of officers to enforce her laws among the Yankee fishermen; and our old acquaintance, the steamer Devastation, is commanded by a man who wears a brick in his hat.

The Nova Scotia fishermen would do well to memorialize Victoria to remove the intemperate captain to some station where his unfortunate habit would not be so ruinous to others, even if he ruined himself.

And our own government, long ago, ought to have sent a good steamer, commanded by one of our best officers, upon the fishing ground, accompanied by two or three small vessels, all officered by temperate, judicious men. These vessels should have been kept there as long as the fishermen remained there. No naval service is more important than this.

☞ The Lowell Daily News contains a brief report of twelve liquor cases, which came up before the Court in Middlesex County, by appeals from different justices.

Two of the cases are retained by the judges for consideration and decision; but the other ten complaints were dismissed in a summary manner, for the most glaring defects. The men who drew up the complaints must be green hands at the business, to do it so badly. They will never get a decision on the law, or even reach the merits of a case, if they do their technical business so badly as this.

PICTORIAL CARPET BAG.—Mrs. Partington has just issued her pictorial ridicule for the season. It contains wit, satire, humor, pathos. Sold, we believe, for six cents—but can't exactly say—for the old lady prizes it at 'a few coppers."

☞ Rufus Choate, of Massachusetts, came out yesterday with a letter in the Boston papers, announcing his intention to vote for Scott and Graham.

Small change is so scarce that the Richmond Whig says:

Petitions are in circulation, and have been very numerously signed, urging the Council to issue Corporation notes, to supply the actual and pressing necessities of our citizens and business men.

SEEDLING POTATOES.

We are glad to perceive that one farmer in New England has been trying to raise a new stock of Potatoes from the seed, and that he is apparently successful.

The editor of the Newburyport Herald noticed at the farm of Mr. George Thurlow, in West Newbury, a few days since, another lot of the "Bradstreet Seedling Potatoes," which well sustained their good reputation for quality and productiveness. Mr. Thurlow planted two and a half bushels on a gravelly knoll, but moderately dressed, which yielded ninety-five bushels. After reserving a sufficiency for next spring's planting, he will dispose of the balance in parcels not exceeding five bushels each, to such as may wish to plant them, and at the very reasonable price fifty cents per bushel, in order that they may be generally introduced, and as Mr. T. thinks, the potato crop rendered as safe as formerly.

POLITICS AND RAINSTORMS.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 30.—A large democratic meeting convened in Independence Square was held this evening, but in consequence of the rain, the meeting adjourned to the court house, and was continued there by portions of the assemblage, the remainder being scattered in groups under awnings, halls and passages of the court house, &c. Not less than 3000 to 4000 persons were present.

The whig indignation meeting, appointed for this evening, was postponed on account of the drenching rain.—Telegraph.

The first part of this we can understand very well, but what can be meant by the whig indignation meeting? Against whom, or for what, they should be indignant, we cannot say. But whatever it was, it got pretty cool by getting wet on Saturday night, and soaking over Sunday.

Probably it was not indignation at all, but something else.

PRIVATE AND CONFIDENTIAL.—A paragraph has been going the rounds in the papers since Mr. Webster's death, stating that "Messrs. Harper & Brothers will, in a few days, publish an authentic account of the private life of the late Hon. Daniel Webster, from the pen of Charles Lanman, Esq., who has for two years been his private Secretary and confidential friend."

On which the Boston Transcript remarks:

"We were under the impression that Mr. Everett's eloquent biographical memoir of Mr. Webster was an "authentic" one. We shall await with interest, however, the disclosures of the "private Secretary and confidential friend."

A curious genius, who styles himself "the apostolic forerunner," is stumping it in New Jersey. His dress and appearance are said to be of the most unque style. On his hat he wears a large metalic spread eagle, and around his neck he carries suspended a curious brass horn, which he sounds when he wants to draw an audience. He claims, under the constitution, a right to blow his horn.

RAIROAD ACCIDENT.

On Saturday afternoon the express train from New York for Boston while passing over the canal, at Windsor Locks, (Connecticut,) the back passenger car was precipitated into the water, owing to the breaking of one of the rails.

The train left New Haven with four passenger cars, and had just passed the village, approaching the bridge over the canal, (the track it is known is bad on its bank,) when the fourth or last car was disconnected and thrown off from the third car, and rolled over into the canal, right side up, some fifteen feet from the bank. The third car was thrown from the track by the sudden jerk, and truck turned round under the car. The last truck of the second car was also torn off, and brought back under the third car. The train thus progressed and passed the bridge, leaving not a sleeper or a rail on the bridge which was not thrown out of its location.

The train had gone fifty feet, and when it stopped the third car was so tipped towards the canal that another revolution of the engine must have thrown that car, with its whole load of passengers, into the canal also.

Two men, named Daniel and James Billington were killed by the fall or drowned, and were taken out of the car dead. They were returning from California to their homes in Kingston, Rhode Island.

Rev. Mr. Ellis of Charlestown was a passenger by the train, and was in the car thrown into the water. He states that he was partially asleep at the moment, and was aroused by the falling of the car into the water. He immediately made his way to the door, the water at the time rapidly rising. Before he reached the door, he was seized by several persons, and for a time his fate was uncertain, but he managed to extricate himself and reached the land. In the same car was the Rev. Mr. Clark, Unitarian minister of Uxbridge, Mass., who was considerably injured, and was left at Springfield. It is thought the brothers Billington were killed by bodily injuries received. The water did not reach the top of the car. Had it done so every person would have been drowned. Mrs. Whitney, wife of Mr. Joseph Whitney of Boston, was on board with her son H. A. Whitney, Esq., and had her arm broke. Her son was also hurt.

Mr. Richard Makin of New York, was so badly hurt internally that he cannot be removed from Windsor at present. Gen. Palmer of New Haven, was seriously injured, and he also remains at Windsor. He is a civil engineer, on the Air Line Railroad, and was on his way to Boston at the time on business connected with that road. R. S. Munn of Monson, had his collar bone broken, and he was otherwise injured.

The train was detained an hour and a half. It seems to us that there is no excuse for this accident. If a track is known to be bad, it ought to be repaired forthwith.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

TORCH-LIGHT PROCESSION.

The Democratic Torch Light Procession, last evening, made the streets lively for a time. We counted 78 lights, and saw an abundance of flags, banners and mottos.—They had a band of music, drums, fifes, &c., and were in high glee, and apparently in good numbers.

Having marched round the city, they repaired to the Temple, where they were addressed by Nehemiah Moses and Samson B. Lord, Esqs. Frequent cheers were given for Pierce & King. Mr. McDonald, who was advertised to address the meeting, did not appear on account of domestic afflictions.

The Granite Club Room was illuminated, as well as the houses and stores of some prominent members of the democratic party.

WHIG MEETING LAST EVENING.

The Whigs of Portsmouth met in Jefferson Hall last evening, in pretty good numbers, and in very good spirits. Samuel Storer, Esq., presided, and briefly addressed the assembly as he took the chair; and was followed by Marcellus Bufford, Ichabod Goodwir, and others. They alluded to the death of Mr. Webster, to the former unsparing censure of him, by men and presses who now laud him; and by various considerations urged the Whigs to renewed activity in the election.

NAVAL.—Capt. Joseph Smoot yesterday assumed the command of the Navy Yard at this place, vice Capt. Thomas W. Wyman, whose term of service expired.

The usual salutes were fired on the reception and departure of the new and old Commandants.

TEACHERS' INSTITUTE.—The Teachers' Institute for this county, which commenced its Fall session at Exeter, on Monday of last week, under the direction of Mr. Hoyt, County Commissioner of Schools, closed on Saturday at 4 o'clock P. M. We learn that it was deemed by those in attendance as one of the most profitable and interesting Institutes ever held in the State. Over 100 young ladies and gentlemen availed themselves of the rare opportunity thus offered, for improvement in the profession of teaching. A Catalogue is in course of publication, which we will notice hereafter.

☞ The following resolutions on the liquor bill are republished to-day by special request.

Resolved, That we regard the action of the Senate at the late June session, in laying on the table and postponing to the adjourned session in November, the bill entitled "An Act for the suppression of drinking houses and tippling shops," after the same had, by a very large majority, and in accordance with the prayer of the unprecedented number of petitioners, been passed by the House of Representatives,—as an evasion of their constitutional duties and responsibilities.

Resolved, That we earnestly recommend and advise that no action whatever be taken by the friends of Temperance in this city, at the coming election on Tuesday next, on the question proposed by the Senate of this State in June last, viz: "Is it expedient that the bill entitled 'an Act for the suppression of drinking houses and tippling shops,' be enacted into a law?"

JAMES NOWELL, Chairman.

J. P. PAYSON, Secretary.

GREAT FALLS AND CONWAY RAILROAD.—The Great Falls Journal contains the proceedings of the annual meeting. Daniel G. Rollins is President.

The report of the Directors shows a great increase of business over the road; leaving the nett earnings of the year nearly six thousand dollars. Exceeding that of the preceding year by more than fifty per cent.

SECRETARY OF STATE.—We learn that President Fillmore shortly after receiving the intelligence of the decease of the late Secretary of State, addressed a letter to the Hon. Edward Everett, inviting him to fill the place thus unhappily vacated. Mr. Everett having held the subject two or three days under consideration, on Saturday gave an answer of acceptance.—Boston Daily Advertiser.

MISS BREMER.—It having been stated lately that Miss Bremer, the distinguished writer, had come into the possession of property by the death of her sister, we are requested to state that the report is wholly incorrect.—Boston Transcript.

A REMARKABLE FOOT RACE.—In the town of Malden lives an elderly man somewhat addicted to his glass, but who managed, nevertheless, to accumulate about $1300, of which he owed about $400 to his brother, that he exhibited no disposition to pay. A short time since, he told his wife, a woman of considerable energy, that he would give her his money, and she might pay his debts. She accepted the proposition, and deposited the money in a bank. The brother hearing of this, trusteed the bank and obtained his debt. The wife then drew the money from the bank, and deposited it in the house. The husband hearing of this, and as is supposed repenting of his act in putting his money out of his own possession, managed by a stratagem, a night or two since, to get his wife out of the house, and ransacked it until he found the money.—His wife returned just as he was leaving the house, and on ascertaining what he had done, started in pursuit, along the main road to Charlestown, and followed him for a distance of four miles, when he was arrested by a watchman, and kept in the watch house for the night.

The wife, who had lost her shoes soon after she started from the house, thus running the long distance in her stocking feet, was put into a chaise and taken back to her home.—The husband was also released in the morning and returned to his usual avocations.—Traveller.

LATEST NEWS!

IMPORTANT FROM HAVANA.

New Orleans, Oct. 31.—The Picayune learns that the steamship Black Warrior, from New York via Havana, arrived at Mobile this evening after a run from Havana of forty-nine hours.

The U. S. sloop-of-war Powhattan, from New York, having on board Judge Conklin, the newly appointed Minister to Mexico, had arrived at Havana.

Judge Conklin, soon after his arrival, had an interview with the Captain General in relation to the recent trouble between the two Governments, when the difficulties were so arranged that the Crescent City will hereafter be allowed to land her mails and passengers, but Mr. Smith the purser would not be permitted to come ashore.

The Captain General also had acknowledged to Commander Newton of the Powhattan, that he had acted too harshly, and was willing to make a suitable apology to the American Government, but in no case would he allow Mr. Smith to land on the island.

FROM THE ISTHMUS.

The latest dates from Panama are to the 16th inst. A military force has been organized under the direction of Paez, which is of great benefit to passengers crossing the isthmus. The natives are not allowed to carry arms of any description.

The boatmen on the Chagres river threatened to destroy the railroad bridge, because it interfered with their business. No government force exists between Panama and Aspinwall. The railroad company have to defend themselves.

FROM OREGON.

The latest dates from Oregon are to the 18th.

Coal has been found in large quantities at Puget Sound.

FROM BUENOS AYRES.—By the steamship Niagara, we have accounts from Buenos Ayres to Sept. 4th, one month later. The only item of intelligence is that the great rivers Parana and Uruguay are to be opened to the flags of all nations, an event of marked importance to the future prosperity of that great country.

FROM EUROPE.

Steamer Pacific arrived at New York on Monday at 8 o'clock, with four days later news from Liverpool.

The Cotton market was without material change. Sales for three days, 33,000 bales; New Orleans fair 6 1-2; middling fair 6 1-2; for fair Upland and Mobile 6 1-4.

Flour was without material change and in less demand. The supply of Wheat was good, and the market scarcely so firm. Corn unchanged. Consols 100 1-2 a 100 5-8. Sugar at London advanced 6d, and plantation Coffee 1 a 2s.

The funeral of the Duke of Wellington will take place about the 17th of November.

The Convention of the Church of England is exciting the religious world.

Hon. J. R. Ingersoll had an audience with the Queen on Saturday, 16th, and presented his credentials as Minister of the U. States.

Considerable remittances of gold are again being made from London to the continent, caused by the recent increase of produce, and from the late rise in prices.

Abdel Kader, the Arab chief, has been liberated, and is to receive a pension from the French Government.

The entrance of Louis Napoleon into Paris on the 16th, was celebrated with the greatest eclat.

The Paris correspondent of the Globe says that Louis Napoleon's marriage with the Princess Vasa is a settled fact, and will be solemnized prior to his coronation.

The speculation mania in Paris continues to increase. In some cases, interest at the rate of 110 per cent. has actually been paid to carry on transactions from one settlement to another.

ILLNESS OF MACAULAY, THE HISTORIAN. The Toronto Pilot, of the first inst., fears that the following information, which it takes from the Toronto Leader, is too true, and justly remarks that it will excite a feeling of the deepest sorrow throughout every part of the civilized world:—

"We have private intelligence that Macaulay, the historian, is in a dying condition. It is said that he intends to resign the representation of Edinburgh."

DENTISTRY.

ABBOTT LAWRENCE IN ENGLAND.—The London Army Despatch pays the following handsome tribute to our recently returned Minister to England.

"America and England both owe Mr. Lawrence a deep debt of gratitude. He has done more, perhaps, than any American living, to unite the two countries in the bonds of friendship. Was this a prostitution of his vast resources? No, we say, that had Mr. Lawrence spent a million in building some great hospital, or endowing some mighty charity, if he had constructed at his own cost a bridge or railway, if he had tunnelled a river or a mountain for the benefit of commerce, or appeared as a public benefactor in any more apparently solid and tangible manner than he has done, he could not deserve a tithe of the gratitude he now merits from his country. If he have mixed with our aristocracy, he has but taught them to respect the greatness of America.—Let it be remembered that he has equally addressed himself to our middle and working classes.

Let not his visit to Ireland be forgotten, where he played no agitator's part, but in fulfilling the mission of his country, contrived, as few others would or could have done, to do kindly service at the same time to England.—We believe that this last act was, by conduct at once decided and friendly, but by stepping something beyond the usual rules of frigid and diplomatic etiquette, to save England and America from the great curse of a rupture.—We have reason to know that his active and timely remonstrance and warning induced the British government to stay a rash hand and curb an ill-advised measure. When Mr. Lawrence goes, he will deserve the regrets of one country and the welcome of another; and whatever may occur, both as a statesman and an individual, he merits amply the thanks and suffrages of all good men to waft him from our shores."

THE ROGER WILLIAMS
COOKING STOVE,
FOR WOOD OR COAL.

TO ALL IN WANT OF COOK STOVES.
As there can be but one best kind of Cooking Stove, and that having been satisfactorily proved to be the Roger Williams, by the working of some twenty-seven hundred now in use in New England,—the subscriber now offers for sale 6 sizes of this beautiful pattern for wood or coal. It is believed what this stove combines all the useful improvements that skill can invent, and is by far the most perfect cooking stove ever sold in Portsmouth.
And although its price is somewhat higher than some stoves offered in this market of late, it is believed to be much the cheapest in the end. It is a beautiful model, with fine smooth Providence castings, fitted together in the most substantial manner. Every stove is warranted for twelve months, and if its operation is not satisfactory, the money will be refunded.
Also for sale, a variety of PARLOR, OFFICE and SHOP STOVES, which are offered low.
Terms Cash, invariably. J. E. CHAPMAN.

Wholesale and Retail Warehouse.

THE IMPROVED
EMPIRE STATE STOVE.

THIS justly celebrated COOKING STOVE having been improved in every way it could be to make its operations more complete, and its plates beautifully ornamented—no expense, time or trouble having been spared to make this the most complete Cooking Stove ever brought before the public—the subscriber feels assured in warranting the IMPROVED EMPIRE STATE superior to any stove in the market, as hundreds can testify who have used them for the past year.
This Stove has a very LARGE OVEN, which makes it desirable on account of doing more cooking with the same amount of fuel than can be done in any other stove. The flues are large, which ensures a good draft in all cases. The castings are very heavy and smooth, and those parts that come next the fire are extra thick, making it very durable. It is adapted to the use of either coal or wood, and we warrant them to operate as well with one as the other. We furnish them with the very best appanatus; and, altogether, it is the MOST POPULAR, ECONOMICAL and CONVENIENT COOKING STOVE ever made—complete in every respect. We ask the attention of all persons intending to purchase a new, or exchange their old stove, to an examination of the Improved Empire State.
We have also on hand a variety of other Cooking Stoves, called the "Banner;" "Belle of the States," "King of the States," "Bay State," "Angelo Stove," "Stove of Troy," &c.; with a large lot of PARLOR STOVES, such as the Revere Air-Tight, Star, Revere Parlor Cook, Lady Franklin, for Wood or Coal; Shop, Office and Air-Tight Stoves, of different sizes and prices for either wood or coal.
Also an extensive assortment of HOUSEKEEPING GOODS; Wooden, Willow, Glass, Britannia, Japan, Tin, Hard, Enamel, and Brass Ware; Copper, Cast Iron, and Chain Pumps; Window-Shades, Table Oil-cloth, &c.
All the above goods will be sold lower than can be bought elsewhere in this vicinity.
HIRAM JONES, 61 Market street,
a27 Portsmouth, N. H.

WHAT-CHEER STOVE.

THE WHAT-CHEER COAL COOKING STOVE, now offered for sale by the subscribers, is acknowledged by all who have examined it to be the best and most economical Coal Stove ever offered to the public.
The castings are heavy, smooth, and very handsome. The Broiling apparatus is a great improvement over all other Stoves, being constructed in such a manner as to prevent the steam from escaping into the room when cooking.
All persons wishing to purchase a COAL COOKING STOVE, are respectfully requested to call and examine the same. Every Stove warranted to work well, or no sale.
We have also a large assortment of COOKING, PARLOR and STORE STOVES, &c.—for sale cheap for Cash at our Store,
Corner of State and Water streets,
a27 ANDERSON & EMERY.

The Bay State Stove,
FOR WOOD OR COAL.

THE subscriber, in offering this favorite Stove to the public, would respectfully state that a new covered Broiling Apparatus has been added, the flues enlarged for burning anthracite coal, and the Stove otherwise improved—and is now put into the market as in the world. The castings are heavier, more beautiful and durable; the stove has a larger oven, will bake better and with less fuel, than any other stove in use.
These stoves are made from pure metal and are not liable to crack; and we furnish every stove with the best of apparatus—Copper Boiler, &c., and warrant them a year; and if any part proves defective it will be done good at short charge.
Persons wishing to obtain a good Stove, will do well to buy a BAY STATE. They have been in operation in this city for four years past, and have given perfect satisfaction. For sale at the Store of the subscriber, where may be found a large assortment of COOKING, PARLOR AND OFFICE STOVES, TIN WARE, FUNNEL, &c., for sale cheap for cash. E. A. STEVENS.

THE JONES FAMILY;

OR, AN ESTIMATE OF MONEY.

It is sheer nonsense to contend that money does nothing towards raising a man's respectability in the world. Enough of this theory was verified in the Jones family. Jacob Jones, was a poor, thriftless man, with a large family, who were put to great straits to get along decently, and everybody knew it; yet nobody ever knew anything against them but their poverty. He was a sensible man, well versed in politics, and could make as handsome a speech as Squire Driver, in any town meeting in Freehold; but then it was only Jake Jones, the man who wan't worth a cent in the world. He might have held important offices in the militia, or been one of the selectmen, but he was so poor, he was entirely overlooked.

Besides, this poverty was a great disadvantage to the family. The girls were always held below par in consequence of their being brought up in an obscure way, and Mrs. Jones, their mother, never attained to any office in the sewing circle or any charitable fair, simply because she could not mingle with aristocracy. Yet she was acknowledged to be a sensible woman, and every one pitied her because she was so poor.

The Jones girls never had a fair position in society, or they would have appeared as well as many others. They were rather marked as slab-sided, gawky girls, with whom mothers prefered their daughters should have but little intercourse, and they more especially feared lest their sons should be attracted by their faces, for they were pretty, notwithstanding their poverty; and Mrs. Driver herself declared, "if they only had money, they would appear as well as any ladies in town," but, as it was, they were only known as "Jake Jones" daughters, who lived in the small red house under the hill.

But Mrs. Jones was descended from an English stock. She used to say if she only had money to travel, she had no doubt but she could find out her pedigree; but this all went for "smart talk," until one day the public journal announced that the heirs of Lucretia Selden, and her mother's name was Lucretia—if so, a property of two hundred thousand dollars was their due from a bachelor uncle as a bequest to the heir of his sister; and Mrs. Jones was her only child. It was hers, without mistake.

It would have been a curious chapter to have noted down the sayings of their old acquaintances when it was noised abroad that the Jones's had such a fortune. Mrs. Smith said, she always thought there was something above the commonalty in Mrs. Jones, for her part, she had always been social with her, and treated her lady-like. "But mother," said Sophia, "you did warn me against associating with her daughters. You know you said they were awkwaid, uncouth girls? "But my dear, it is not so—they are in reality very genteel, accomplished young ladies, and I have no objection at all to your visiting them, especially as such a good fortune has happened to them.

Jacob Jones soon set up a princely style of living. He built an elegant house, kept his carriage, hired servants received a commission from the Governor as Justice of the Peace;—the next year was first selectman in the town; and Dr. Bond urged his claims as Representative to our General Court, affirming, with great emphasis, that "he knew no man in town better calculated to represent its interest than 'Squire Jones." This was the same man who bolted out of meeting, rather than hear old Jake Jones talk, a little more than a year ago!

And how the society of the Misses Jones was courted! Thomas, Richard, Henry, the mother used to say, if you are going to a concert or to a lecture, why don't you invite Carry or Sophia Jones to go with you? They are sweet pretty girls, and you would do well if you could push your way there. The 'Squire they say is worth full two hundred thousand, and that devided, makes every child entirely independent.

They were no longer the slab sided greenies, but the tall, graceful, handsome girls, who were dressed beautifully and conversed as sensibly. Didn't the Jones' laugh behind the door as they contrasted the present with the past! Then there was Micajah Jones who used to play the big fiddle in the Church,—known only in those days as "Cage, the fiddler;" but since he had procured a handsome course house organ and he contributed a large sum for one in the church, he had assumed the cognomen of Mr. Jones, our exquisite performer and organist—son of 'Squire Jones the gentleman who received such a large property from England. The girls were all ready to sit in the choir now, without crying—the organist was a noble-hearted fellow and wasn't it a treat to borrow his quizzing glass to look at the strangers who happened to enter into church.

By and by, there was a new event talked about, for the affairs of the Jones's was the all-engrossing topic. Sophia was thought to be engaged to Mr. Tymphony, the village store keeper. Nobody was certain of the fact, yet every one knew it would come out an engagement; and it was thought his variety store was enlarged with that view of the Squire's purse, when suddenly Mr. Pinker from the South, a wealthy cotton planter, carried her away at ten days notice, where slaves come at her beck and call, to do as she bids.

Another was soon after married to a speculator, who lived like a nabob, gave large entertainments, bought a summer residence in Freehold, and made it a perfect paradise.—Every one of the daughters married well, as the phrase is, and never wanted for the warmest friends and admirers.

The Squire and his lady now occupy the broad aisle of the Episcopal church, and the bishop and rector always consult with him respecting church matters. He is father of the town, and marries more couples than the minister, because people are pleased to have the knot tied in such elegant drawing-rooms; and Mrs. Jones invariably orders a glass of wine and a basket of cake at the ceremony.

Cloyes, the barber, lives rent free in the small red house they occupied in the days of their poverty.

The Squire remembers he used to shave him for nothing when his pockets were empty and he follows the golden rule. Mrs. Jones has made several donations to her former milliner, and a poor woman who used to help her, spring and fall, in her sewing; and not one of the family have assumed a purse proud air since they came in possession of their property, consequently they are deservedly respected; and this shows plainly that they have common sense as a regulating medium, since they cast no reflections upon the former inattentions of people in their days of poverty, which is an infallible method to make them feel that although money changed them in the estimate of others, the genuine merit in themselves remains unchanged. Yet, all the while, they are as conscious as others that money alone gave them their present position in society.

PORTSMOUTH:
WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 3, 1852.

OUR RETURNS.

We expected to be able to present to our readers this morning, returns altogether more full and definite. What we were able to procure up to 1 o'clock this morning, (at which time our Boston reporter stated that he should have nothing more,) must "speak for themselves." They look a little one-sided, —and the democrats seem satisfied—certain.

THE ROCKINGHAM FAIR.

Pursuant to notice a meeting was held at the Town Hall in Exeter, for the purpose of forming a County Agricultural Society, on Thursday the 28th day of October.

The object of the society is the improvement of Agriculture, Horticulture, and the Mechanical arts in this County.

Members shall be admitted, on such terms as shall be, from time to time, prescribed, and the society may assess such members not exceeding one dollar a year each.

Any member paying five dollars at one time to the Treasurer, shall be a Life member, and shall not be liable to assessment for five years.

The officers chosen are—

Henry F. French, of Exeter, President.
Joseph T. Gilman, of Exeter, Secretary.
James Pickering, of Newington, Josiah Bartlett, of Stratham, Moses Eaton, Jr., S. Hampton, David Currier, Derry, } Vice Presidents.
W. H. Dudley, of Brentwood, Thomas J. Melvin, of Chester, John M. Weare, of Seabrook, } Trustees.

After this organization, the Chairman gave notice that he had received the names of seventeen gentlemen from Exeter, who desired to become life-members, under the 9th Article of the Constitution, and gave their names. Two other citizens of Exeter, added theirs on the spot, when gentlemen of other towns followed the example, until fifty-three members had subscribed, thus raising a fund at once of $265.

A suggestion was made that measures be taken forthwith, to raise a fund of $5,000, by the admission of Life Members, to place the Society beyond the chance of failure. The whole matter was left with the Executive Board.

It was voted that the publishers of all papers in the County and also of the Granite Farmer, be requested to publish the proceedings of the meeting, and the meeting adjourned without day.

At a meeting of the Executive Board in the Evening, Retire H. Parker, of Exeter, was appointed Treasurer.

The following list of the members who have already joined the Society, as life members, has been made in part from memory. The whole number is eighty-three.

Exeter.—J. T. Gilman, H. F. French, Nath'l Gilman, Jeremiah Robinson, Retire H. Parker, Nath'l Gordon, Jos G. Hoyt, Isaac Flagg, D. W. Gorham, John Hoyt, Orin Head, Daniel Melcher, Wm. P. Moulton, Wm. Conner, Geo. G. Smith, J. W. Odlin, R. F. Goodwin, J. H. Shapley, Amos Tuck, John F. Could, Sam'l B. Clarke, S. W. Leavitt, A. F. Blake, Abner Merrill, Wm. Wadleigh, Charles D. Towle, Jos. B. Flagg, A. S. Thayer, A. W. Lovering, Charles Conner, Thomas Conner, John F. P. Kelly, E. S. Durgin, Geo. Gardner, Asa Jewell, Wm. B. Morrill, S. W. Dearborn, J. C. Long, John Sullivan, E. H. Valentine, Jos. L. Culley, John Dodge, C. T. Bunker, Samuel H. Stevens, Timothy Tilton, S. H. Piper, Joshua Getchell, Jacob Carlisle, Jewett Conner, Daniel F. Hayes, Edmund Elliot.

Stratham.—Josiah Bartlett, J. H. Diman, Franklin Clark, J. B Wiggin, John E. Wiggin, Geo. Wingate.

Kingston.—Gideon Webster, William Webster, J. M. Bartlett.

Danville.—Wm. Hoyt.

South Hampton.—Moses Eaton, Jr.

Newmarket.—B. B Tuttle.

East Kingston.—James M. Sanborn, R. W. Currier.

Plaistow.—Levi B. Tucker, Wm. H. Hills.

Kensington.—Joseph Brown, Stephen Brown.

Chester.—Thos. J. Melvin, S. F. Leonard.

Derry.—David Currier, Richard Melvin.

Brentwood.—Winthrop H. Dudley, T. S. Robinson, Frederick Robinson.

Hampton Falls.—G. H. Dodge, John W. Dodge, Wells W. Healey, John Weare, Jos. H. Weare, J. Cram.

Hampton.—Robert F. Williams.

From the above list of life-members, it would seem that the Rockingham Fair must become an Institution. No farmer need be afraid to join it, when such men lead off.

TWO READINGS.

Sometimes a different rendering of a single word will change the sense of an important passage, and make or mar a whole discourse. In yesterday's Chronicle we noticed the sad disaster on the railroad near Windsor, Conn. We read, in the paper whence we copied, "the track it is known was bad on its bank," that is, the bank of the canal. We added the remark that such carelessness was inexcusable—and stated that a piece of track known to be bad ought to be repaired forthwith. There was just one word wrong in the telegraphic despatch, (most probably mistaken by a transcriber or compositor,) which made a different sense from what the writer intended. In some other papers the same story read, "The track it is known was laid on the bank!" This alters the case materially—and only shows now, how the train should happen to fall overboard when it was thrown off the track, but does not give us the least idea of the reason why it was thrown off. One paper says the train was going at great speed.

GREAT CORN.—Frederick Robinson, of Brentwood, has given several ears of corn to the editor of the Exeter News Letter, as a specimen of the product of his farm. One ear contained 750 kernels, and the average number on the others was 650 each.

THEATRE.—The New National Theatre in Boston, was opened on Monday night. The genteel theatre proposed there soon after the old National burnt down, is not yet buil , nor is it likely to be, at present.

INDUSTRIAL EXHIBITIONS 'are all the go,' now-a-days. The last International Journal contains a handsome View of the Building at Frederickton, erected for the New Brunswick Industrial Exhibition, held October, 1852, with plans for the conduct of that exhibition.

THE RAILROAD ACCIDENT AT WINDSOR LOCKS.—The New Haven Journal states that the brothers Billington who were killed at Windsor Locks, belonged to Natick, Mass.

On the other hand the New Haven Palladium says:

"From an examination of the papers on the persons of the deceased, it is supposed that they are returned Californians—that their names are James Billington and Daniel Billington, and that the home of the former is at North Kingston, R. I. One of them has been a sailor. In the pocket book of James Billington were bills of Exchange amounting to $12000. They had tickets for Worcester."

A NEW KIND OF HUMBUG.—An advertisement in the Boston papers informs us, that—

"The Veiled Vocalist, accompanied by her sister and guardian, and pianist, arrived in this city yesterday afternoon. She is stopping at the Revere House, but receives no calls.—The singular manner in which this person is presented to the public, very naturally excites much curiosity which can only be satisfied in part by hearing her sing. Her proposed scheme of benevolence; her manner of carrying it out; the manner of travelling (having the safe-guards of family with her) her face veiled from the public gaze; inspires the audience at once with confidence, and they are compelled to award to her that delicacy of mind which ever accompanies real merit, and which is the brightest jewel that can adorn the brow of woman. We understand that her concerts will prove to be purely chaste, if not highly interesting."

Here is affected, assumed mystery enough to insure one full house in every large place visited by the veiled vocalist. The singing may be good, bad or indifferent—but the expedient is worthy of Dodge or Barnum.

LEVEE.—Mayor Seaver, of Boston, gave a great levee at the Revere House on Monday evening. The Courier says:

It was one of the most brilliant assemblages of men that we ever remember to have seen collected in Boston. Stern Whigs, ardent Democrats, impulsive Free Soilers, and Webster men, met on this occasion—divested of their political differences—and entered freely into social converse. The austere Orthodox man and the sincere Catholic—the Methodist and the Baptist—the Unitarian and the Universalist—the man of faith and the man of doubt, for once suspended argument and joined hands in a common feast. There was no difference of opinion, and everything seemed as harmonious as the creation. Among the distinguished men present, we noticed Hon. Edward Everett, Hon Abbott Lawrence, Hon. Rufus Choate, Hon. Caleb Cushing, and Rt. Rev. Dr. Fitzpatrick. Taken as a whole, it was a splendid banquet, and no doubt will do much towards allaying those unfortunate asperities so common at this season.

MAN BURNT UP IN A WAGON.—As Mr. C. Sabin, of South Bristol, was returning home from the city last Monday, just before he reached the toll gate, on the plank roa , smoke was seen issuing from his wagon. He had been smoking, and had by some means set the hay on fire in his wagon. He was observed endeavoring to put out the fire with his hand. As his horses turned the corner to go south, his wagon was upset and he was thrown out. The neighbors ran to him and took the clothes from him and carried him into the toll house, where his burns were dressed. He was too drunk to help himself, and was awfully burned. He has since died. —Kenosha Telegraph.

ANOTHER RAILROAD FATALITY.—At Oakdale, on Saturday afternoon, as one of the freight trains from this city was on its way to Fitchburg, a Mr. Wright, one of the brakemen, while assisting in arranging some portion of the train, accidentally fell between the cars, the wheels of several of which passed over his stomach killing him almost instantly. Mr. Wright was 22 years of age and resided in Fitchburg.—Worcester Transcript.

TREASURE FOUND.—In room No. 47 State street, formerly occupied by the Eagle Bank, Boston, a broker, the present occupant, discovered lately while rumaging in one corner of a safe set into the wall of the room, a small bag containing twenty doubloons and some small coin. The bag was marked D. Draper, 20 doubloons and one half sovereign; 3 doubloons out, June 29.

Upon investigation it appeared that some six or seven years ago, Daniel Draper made a special deposite of this amount; that upon calling for his funds they could not by found; and the matter was compromised by each party paying half the loss. The bag had accidentally fallen into an obscure corner of the safe, and had there lain undetected for seven years.

"Can you tell us, Jim, where they get so much corn from to manufacture into whisky?" "No, sir, but I can tell very well where the corn comes from after the whiskey is made."

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

LIQUOR LAW.—In the 2d and 3d wards of this city, yesterday forenoon, the article for taking the sense of the meeting on the liquor bill was indefinitely postponed.

In the first ward, the question was taken by ballot, at 4 o'clock P. M.—and the result was 32 yeas, in favor of passing the law, and 17 nays, against it.

AGRICULTURE IN ROCKINGHAM.—We are glad to see some motion toward establishing an agricultural fair in this county, some account of which we copy from the Exeter News Letter. We hope to see active perseverance in this matter, crowned with entire success.

RESIGNATION.—Rev. James French, has resigned the pastorship of the Baptist Church in Exeter, and preached his farewell sermon last Sabbath.

SHIP NEWS.—We yesterday reported a ship Danube, Capt. Chase, at Genoa. But we are informed that the ship Danube, Capt. Chase, of Portsmouth, is at New York loading for San Francisco.

We copied our report from the news by a late steamer—and therefore must suppose there are two ships named the Danube, and that each is commanded by a Capt. Chase.

CHARLES D. CATER.—Perhaps no one of our fellow citizens who has died in the land of gold, has had his death recorded in a greater variety of forms, and all wrong.—When we first saw in the California news the death of Dr. Decatur of Portsmouth, we supposed it to mean Mr. Charles D. Cater, who, though a cordwainer by trade, had sometimes administered vegetable medicines. This was several weeks since. Now by the late arrivals, we have a list of deaths; and among them, "In San Francisco, Sept. 17, Dr. D. C. Cater, of Portsmouth, N. H." One paper has it, "Dr. D. C. Gates, of Portsmouth."—We have no Dr. or Mr. Gates here, and no other name that could well be mistaken for that which stands at the head of this article.

PARRICIDE.—A man named Dewey, of Pawtucket, R. I., murdered his father by striking him with a gun, after an ineffectual attempt to shoot him. He has been lodged it Riverhead jail for trial.

The receipts of the Fair of the American Institute in New York, just closed, reached about $25,000—considerably exceeding those of last year. It is estimated that it had 200,000 visitors.

COINAGE AT THE U. S. MINT.—The following is a statement of the coinage at the U. S. Mint in Philadelphia, for October: Total number of pieces 3,637,614, valued at $3,787,192 60; gold deposits $4,743,584; silver, $34,500.

THE LIQUOR LAW IN RHODE ISLAND.—The House of Representatives of Rhode Island has rejected, by a vote of 40 to 14, a bill to repeal the Maine Liquor Law, passed at the last session.

The citizens of Nantucket held a town meeting on Friday, to see what could be done to stop the boys from playing foot ball in that town!

JOHN HEATHWOOD.—John Heathwood, a notorious burglar, whose name has repeatedly appeared in connection with records of crime, died a few days since in Albany. An indictment against him was pending at the time of his death, in the Municipal Court of Boston.

SINGULAR AFFAIR.—In Belvidere, N. J., Wilson Davis was attacked and worried by his dog, which he had called off from chasing chickens. The dog did not release his hold until he was killed. The flesh was torn in several places on Mr. Davis's arms, and he was otherwise wounded. His recovery is doubtful.

FISHING ESTABLISHMENTS AT GLOUCESTER.—There are at Gloucester twenty fishing firms, fitting out three hundred fishing schooners, manned by some three thousand men.—Some of these concerns carry on a large business, and at their commodious and spacious wharves manage the fisheries on a very extensive scale. Messrs. S. Wonson & Son fit out this year forty-five schooners. This is probably the largest concern engaged in this business in New England. About 450 men are employed by this enterprising firm in the cod and mackerel fisheries.—Boston Traveller.

LIBERAL DONATION TO DARTMOUTH COLLEGE.—George C. Shattuck, M. D., of Boston has given $7000 to Dartmouth College, for the erection of an observatory, on condition that the trustees of the College will raise the further sum of $3000 for the purchase of instruments.

ORDINATION.—The Rev. R. T. Robinson was ordained as Pastor of the Society in Winchester, Mass., on Wednesday last. The sermon was preached by Rev. E. N. Kirk, of Boston; ordaining prayer by Rev. Mr. Fitz, of Ipswich; charge by Rev. E. Beecher, of Boston; right hand of fellowship by Rev. Jonathan Edwards, of Woburn; address to the people by Wm. T. Eustis, Jr., of New Haven.

CONSECRATION OF A BISHOP.—The consecration of the Rev. Dr. Wainwright, the provisional Bishop elect of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the diocese of New York, will take place on the 10th inst.

The Rev. Dr. Berrian, rector of the Trinity Church, New York, has refused the use of that building for a religious service on the day of the funeral of the Duke of Wellington.

Nashville	233	196	42
Bow	140	12	27

The 11 towns in Rockingham county heard from foot up as follows:

Pierce 1750 Scott 926 Hale 294

The vote for Governor, last March, in the same towns was:

Martin 1567 Sawyer 1283 Atwood 385

making a net gain for Pierce, over the democratic vote of last March, of 631.

MAINE

	Pierce	Scott	Hale
Kittery	356	74	7

Pierce is said to have 120 plurality in Portland.

TELEGRAPHIC DESPATCHES

TO THE MORNING CHRONICLE.

VERMONT.

BOSTON, 10½ o'clock.

The returns from Vermont are favorable to a con iderable plurality for Scott in this State.

MASSACHUSETTS.

Returns from 75 towns in this State, show a gain for Pierce of nearly 7000 over Taylor's plurality of 25,000 in 1848.

The city of Charlestown gives Pierce 500 plurality. In 1848 Taylor had nearly 500.

The city of Roxbury gives Pierce 85 plurality. Taylor had 700.

Returns from the western part of the State are not so decisive, and it is thought Scott may have in the State 5000 plurality.

Democrats are displaying fireworks, and marching with music about the city.

BOSTON.—We learn by Jackson & Co.'s Express, that Pierce & King had a plurality of 500 votes over Scott in Boston.

NEW YORK.

New York city gives 7000 majority for Pierce.

MARYLAND.

The city of Baltimore gives 4000 majority for Pierce.

PENNSYLVANIA.

Philadelphia city and county gives Pierce 1000 majority. Berks county 5000 majority for Pierce.

A private despatch from Philadelphia claims Pennsylvania for Pierce, by 20,000 majority.

RHODE ISLAND.

A despatch claims Rhode Island for Pierce, by from 500 to 800 majority.

MICHIGAN.

Detroit is said to have given 5000 majority for Pierce.

VIRGINIA.

Virginia has gone for Pierce, by increased majority,

NEW JERSEY.

New Jersey has probably gone for Pierce.

DELAWARE.

Delaware doubtful,—Democratic gains so far as received.

OHIO.

But few scattering returns received from Ohio. Lucas county gives Scott a small majority.

GALE.—At New Orleans on Wednesday night last a violent storm of wind and rain occurred, causing considerable injury to steamboats and buildings.

FROM MONTEVIDEO AND BUENOS AYRES.—Dates to Sept. 4 received. The opening of the rivers Parana and Uruguay to the commerce of all nations is confirmed. There is no political news of importance. At Buenos Ayres commercial credit and confidence were buoyant. Money market satisfactory. Exchange from 67s to 69s per ounce. The British Packet publishes a decree by Urquiza, which declares confiscation of property for political or criminal offences, treason against the State. Another decree abolishes the punishment of death for political offences, except in the case of offenders who have taken up arms against the authorities and government.

Belcher Kay, described as "the pugilist and San Francisco robber," was at Montevideo on the 20th of August. He came overland from Valparaiso to Buenos Ayres, where he was a lion, until recognized by two California gentlemen. Thence he fled to Montevideo.

Mr. Schenck, U. S. minister to Brazil, has completed an advantageous treaty with Montevideo. Urquiza treated our minister with great consideration. [The report that a treaty had been ratified with Brazil probably arose out of the above.]

MR. WEBSTER'S WILL.—It is reported that the will of Mr. Webster gives the Marshfield property to the widow during her life time, and then transfers it to Fletcher Webster—the only living child of the deceased statesman—whose son, Daniel, succeds to the inheritance. He did not forget his numerous friends and relatives, but left to very many of them little marks of his favor, and memorials of the dead.

MAMMOTH THISTLES.—Bayard Taylor, in his last letter from Asia Minor, says the thistles on the plains of Cilicia are so large as to resemble young palm trees.

This explains the question of our Savior when he asked—"Do men gather figs from thistles?"

The New Orleans Picayune styles Mrs. Stowe's novel, "Uncle Tom's Cabin," "essentially a string of shocking calumnies!" "a revolting picture of the domestic lives and morals of the southern people, inflaming against them the minds of one half the nation, and libelling them in Europe.
